FCHS students learn health care industry is where the jobs are

By Jason Schock

In 2008, according to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, 14.3 million jobs for wage and salary workers were held in the health care industry. That's expected to grow, due to rapid growth in the elderly population, to nearly 18 million by 2018.

In response, ESU 4, a host of area schools, including Falls City High School, local businesses and Community Medical Center are engaged in a partnership to prepare local young people to fill those positions.

At Monday night's regular meeting of the District 56 Board of Education, held at the Central Office in FC Middle School, high school instructors Kris Simon and Noala Fritz gave a run-down on the High School Health Science Academy, which gives students an early opportunity to explore those ever-expanding career possibilities. In attendance were Supt. Tim Heckenlively and BOE members Ed Harris, Kathy Bartek, John Martin, Teresa Olberding and Scott Huppert. Scott Hollens was absent.

Simon, who teaches Introduction to Health Science Technology at FCFS, said eight of her nine students - all juniors and seniors - are learning the competencies needed for getting started, plan to study medicine in college and then someday enter the high-demand field of health care. Fritz, who teaches a class in medical terminology (one that will soon be available for college credit through SE Community College), said all six of her students plan to work in medicine.

"This is really unique for a small high school," Fritz said. "Our kids saw medical careers as just doctors and nurses - Kris is giving them a great opportunity to explore many different careers."

ESU 4 in 2008 developed a Career Academy initiative with the Carl D. Perkins Vocational and Technical Education Act. Health Science was the first implemented. FCFS, Auburn, Humboldt-TR-S, Johnson-Brock, Johnson CC, Lewiston, Nebraska City, Palmyra, Pawnee City, Sterling and Syracuse participate in the program. Community Medical Center is the primary facilitating hospital. Also locally, Family Practice, Careage Estates, FC Care Center, Dr. Chick James, Dr. Alan Tramp and attorney Mike Dunn are involved.

Students learn about employability skills, legal and ethics responsibilities, college planning and career outlook, CPR and first aid, and all become HIPAA trained and certified. Concussion training will soon be added.

"The program is an awesome opportunity for our kids,"

'Giving Tree' finds permanent home

By Jason Schock

Brady Cromer, 16-year-old son of Nick and Beckie Cromer, of Falls City, officially unveiled his Eagle Scout project - the construction of a stone structure to display and protect the original "Giving Tree" - at a dedication ceremony Sunday at the Itha Krumme Memorial Arboretum, west 25th Street (Koso-Baldwin Drive). Brady and his grandfather, Floyd Lenard, spent 95 hours building the encased structure this past summer.

"The Giving Tree" consists of a metal tree with leaves designating the initial financial supporters of the arboretum. The encased structure is located near the north shelter and is a very attractive addition and point of interest for visitors to the site.

During the dedication, Arboretum Curator Gerald Hopp gave a history of the tree, which was originally built around 1999 by Junior Strasil. The display case was built by Bob Kohles in 2000 and for a decade remained in storage, until Brady and Floyd commenced on building the stone display in May. For some six weeks, the construction team started its workdays at 6 a.m. and endured a fair share of warm mornings before the project was completed July 26. The Falls City Sacred Heart junior juggled time working on the project with his duties as an Aquatic Center lifeguard and

Postal Service to meet with citizens about office closures

In what is described as an attempt to tighten its budget, the U.S. Postal Service is proposing the closure of post offices in many small-town communities.

Those closures would impact life in a number of area towns and villages, including several in Richardson County.

Citizens of those towns will have an opportunity to express their thoughts during scheduled meetings with Postal Service representatives.

A schedule of those meetings follows:

Brownville, Wednesday, Oct. 19, 7-9 p.m.

Shubert, Thursday, Oct. 20, 6-8 p.m.

Verdon, Monday, Oct. 24, 6-8 p.m.

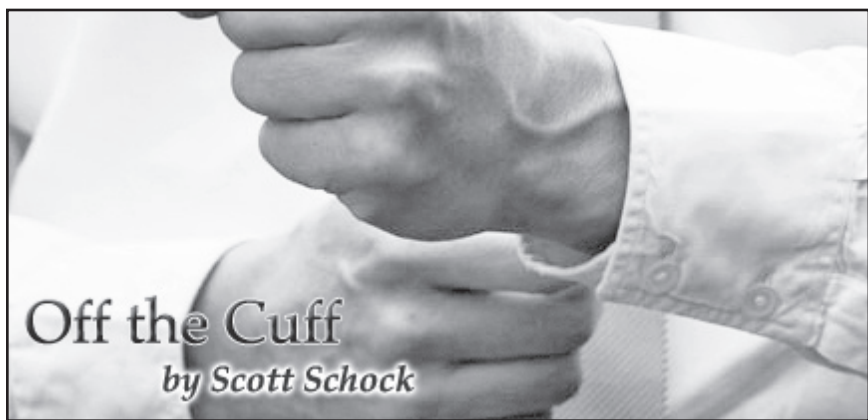

Stella, Tuesday, Oct. 25, 7-9 p.m.

Dawson, Thursday, Oct. 27, 7-9 p.m.

Elk Creek, Thursday, Oct. 27, 7-9 p.m.

DuBois, Tuesday, Nov. 15, 7-9 p.m.

A meeting was held in Table Rock earlier this week.

Between several versions of the burning wallet trick and the greatest comeback in Husker football history, my friends and I took a Saturday afternoon walk through the University of Nebraska campus to the North Stadium. Our goal was to see the new Heisman display, billed as the Nebraska Experience Room. We saw the room alright, but the video program was not available on a football Saturday a few hours before kickoff.

What we did see was a guy who should have won the Heisman a couple of years ago. As John, Bob, Ron and I rounded the stadium walk, we noticed a very long, very orange Ford F350 stretch limo parked at the bottom of the steps that lead to and from the Osborne Complex doors. Standing outside was a really big guy dressed in black that seemed to be the center of attention for a number of fans.

Ndamukong Suh's Detroit Lions were scheduled to play Monday night, so he and teammate Dominic Raiola, also a former Husker, organized a trip to Lincoln for Nebraska's Big Ten home opener against Ohio State. Fly to Lincoln, see the Saturday night game, fly back to Detroit. Beat the Bears Monday night.

We couldn't tell if Raiola or anyone else was in the waiting limo because of the shaded windows. But we had a good view of Suh as he completed talking with fans, posing for photos and signing autographs. Then he hustled down the steps as the limo driver opened the back door. He slipped inside and the driver closed the door. A pair of fans surprised the limo driver and opened Suh's door part way. But that's as far as they got. I'd say they were lucky to be rebuffed by the driver and not by the passenger.

Suh and company made a brief appearance on the sidelines toward the end of the game. Greeted by the famous "Suuuuuuuh-hhhhh" chant, the NFL star threw the bones to the delight of the already delirious student section at Memorial Stadium.

I've experienced some ups and downs while watching the Huskers play, both in person and at home on TV. Saturday night's game had all the look and feel of a downer. By halftime, and certainly by early in the third quarter, it appeared Nebraska was going to go 0-2 in their new conference. I was sitting with Butch and Dobey and Ron and we were a pretty quiet foursome. Then Lavonte David, by far NU's best defensive player, made a huge steal. Taylor Martinez began to look like a quarterback and Rex Burkhead took over. The defense started to look familiar. Emotions in the stands went from as low as it gets to delirious. Beating Ohio State, when all seemed lost, may just have saved this season for the Huskers.

Earlier, I mentioned the burning wallet trick. Flaming wallet is a better description. And who else to play it than Bob Mullins, who always has something unique up his sleeve — in this case, in his back pocket.

The thing that amazes all of us is that he comes up with a funny idea, then searches the Internet until he finds some company that shares his weird sense of humor. Bob envisioned the wallet, then found just what he was looking for online.

He set it up beautifully, saying he'd come into some extra money that was burning a hole in his pocket. Everything would be on him! Then he'd get out this normal appearing wallet, open it and actual flames would burst out. The people at Misty's didn't know what to think.

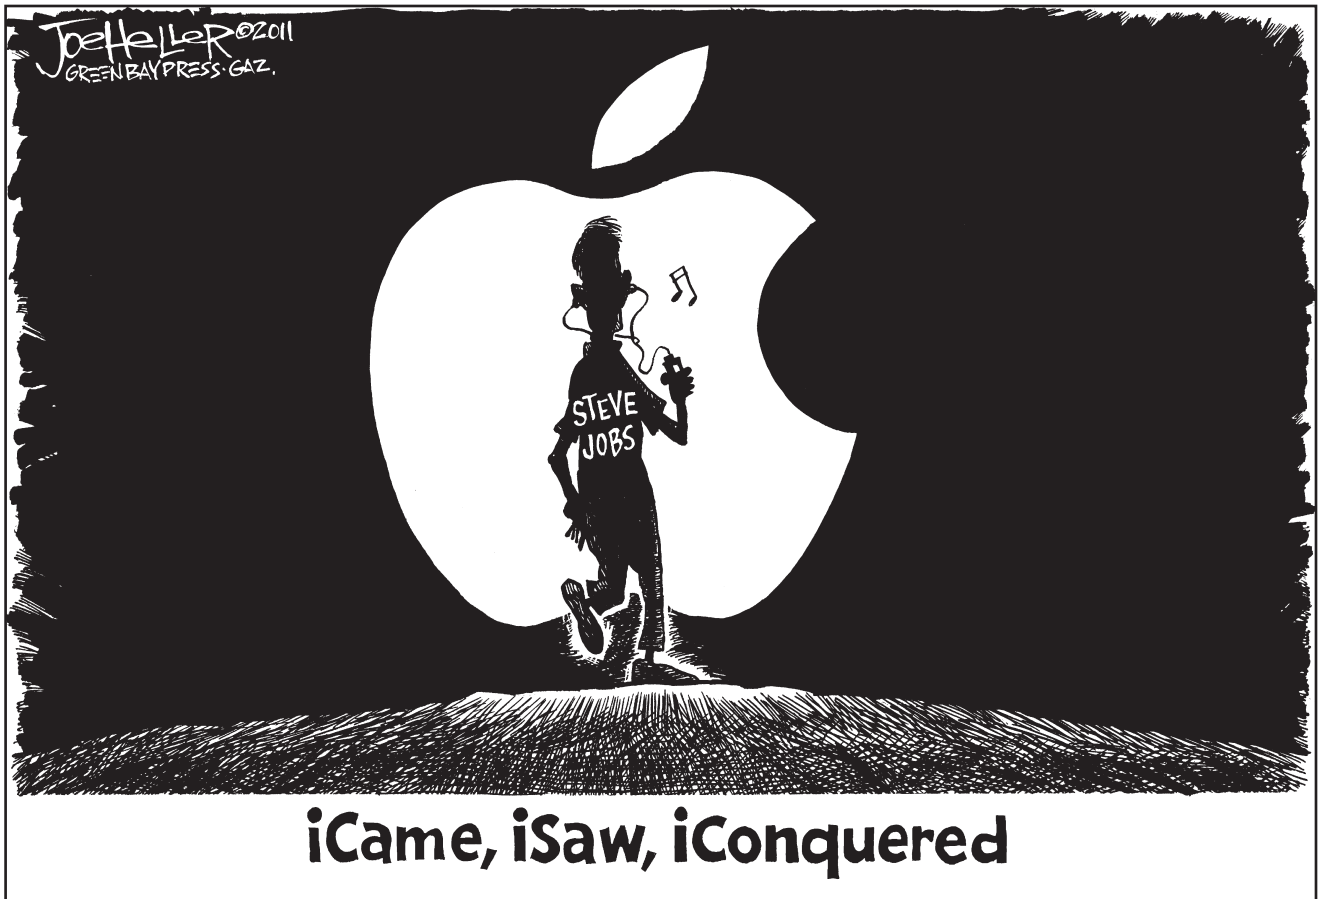

Inside the wallet was a small cell that contained lighter fluid. And alongside was a flint mechanism. As Bob opened the wallet, he struck the flint and the lighter fluid ignited. There had to be 500 people in Misty's Saturday afternoon. If he missed playing the trick on any of them, I'd be surprised.

We should have sent him to the NU sideline during the first half of the game to light a fire under the Huskers.

Rulo bridge remains closed to public

According to Nebraska Department of Roads officials, some local traffic is being allowed to use the Missouri River bridge at Rulo and an access road built by railroad workers on the Missouri side. The Missouri Department of Transportation has allowed local property and landowners this access. Highway 159 in Missouri remains closed and inaccessible. The temporary road is not built to standards and is not intended for two-way traffic, nor for the use of the general driving public.

Several treatments can relieve hammertoe pain

By Anthony L. Komaroff, M.D.

DEAR DOCTOR K: I am a 57-year-old woman with hammertoes, which can make walking or standing painful. The worst part is that I like to walk for exercise, so this problem is cutting into my health regimen. What's the best way to deal with this problem?

DEAR READER: Ah, the toes. They're a small part of our bodies, but crucial to keeping our balance and walking or running well. And as you now know, woes with your toes -- and hammertoes are among the most common -- can take away the simple pleasure of walking.

Hammertoes are toes that get "stuck" in a bent position because the tendons and ligaments in the toes have been pulled tight. They're called hammertoes because they look like the little pieces inside a piano called hammers.

In many cases, the culprit is fashion. If you are fond of high heels (particularly ones with pointed toes), and wear them a lot, that could have contributed to your problem. We know that supportive, flat-soled shoes are better for your feet (and can be quite fashionable these days).

Constantly squeezing toes into narrow shoes forces them into an unnatural position. Women are four times as likely as men to develop hammertoes. The shoes women often wear are the main reason that women more often have woes with their toes than men do.

But today's shoe trends don't get us off the hook completely when it comes to hammertoe risk. The flip-flops I see all over campus in the summer can cause hammertoes, too. Why? Because in order to keep them on, wearers often grip with their toes as they walk -- and all the extra gripping trains the toes to assume that position.

How do hammertoes make your feet hurt? They can shift the position of the fat pads that normally protect the balls of your feet. Adding insoles to your shoes could make a big difference. Many patients tell me they like the ones made out of neoprene, the same synthetic rubber used to make wet suits.

If your hammertoes are still flexible, you can buy little "crest" pads that push the toes down when you're wearing shoes. There are also splints and pads designed to straighten crooked toes. Hot soaks can help with joint flexibility, and applying ice may help reduce swelling and inflammation.

Once a hammertoe stiffens, no amount of retraining is going to help. The goal then shifts to accommodating the toe with roomy shoes and preventing friction. You can have your hammertoes made straighter with surgery. Most of my patients, however, get enough relief with other treatments that they don't need to consider surgery.

Hammertoes, bunions, fallen arches and other miseries of the feet are not on any doctor's list of major medical problems. Yet one of the healthiest things that we human beings can do for ourselves is walk -- regularly and briskly, for at least 30 minutes, at least five times a week. When "minor" miseries of the feet rob us of the health and pleasure of walking, I'd call that a major problem.

I-29 now open

Interstate 29 from Rock Port, MO (exit 110) to U.S. Highway 34 (exit 32) near Pacific Junction, IA, is now open to traffic after nearly four months of closure due to flooding.

The 15 miles of Missouri interstate closed on June 15 when flood waters forced Iowa to close I-29 near the border.

Except for a few days at the height of the flooding when water did cross the interstate at the states' border, the Missouri portion of I-29 remained undamaged, making it easy for MoDOT to reopen the interstate.

Temporary lane crossovers will be in place at mileposts 0.8 northbound and 3.2 southbound, near Hamburg, IA. Two-way traffic conditions will be present between the crossovers with vehicles diverted into the southbound lanes.

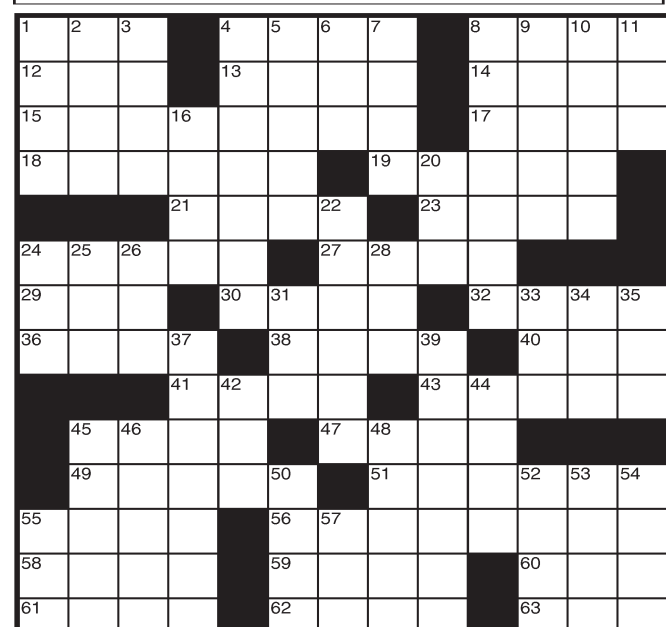

Exit 1, Iowa 333 to Hamburg, and exit 10, Iowa 2 to Nebraska City remain closed.

LINCOLN – It always has been absolute gospel in this corner that without the First and Fourth Amendments the remainder of the Bill of Rights would be useless, easily circumvented by a powerful central government. The First Amendment is the one usually referred to in conversational shorthand as that which guarantees the freedoms of speech, press and religion.

The Fourth Amendment is the one intended to protect the citizenry from unreasonable governmental search and seizures of persons, places and things. Places are usually thought of as homes, although others are included.

This piece is dedicated to the First, as well as a look at how complicated our society has become.

The Fremont Public Schools told a 12-year-old girl she couldn't wear a rosary-necklace because the school district had been warned by the cops that the rosary had become associated with some gang or gangs.

Importantly, the district acted after consultation with attorneys.

The American Civil Liberties Union, often the whipping child of religious and conservative interests, and sometimes of liberals, immediately came to the defense of the little girl.

So did the chancellor of the Catholic Archdiocese of Omaha.

Freedom of speech was involved, said ACLU Nebraska. And so was freedom of religion, said the archdiocese.

The view from here: Put yourself in the position of the Fremont Public Schools – which otherwise allows symbols and clothing expressive of religious faith – and it isn't that simple.

Concentrate on that part about the school district acting on information provided by police, and in light of advice from attorneys.

Let's say some miscreant gangster or wannabe does harm to a child, any child, wearing a rosary or something akin to it.

You can anticipate the outcry and the lawsuits.

The arguments would be that the school was negligent for not banning the gang-appropriated rosary symbol after having been warned, the by cops and attorneys, that not doing so could make the school district liable if someone was hurt or worse.

You don't really think some administrator decided to pick a fight with people of faith in general and the Catholic Church in particular, do you? And to do it in the face of a school policy that generally allows kids to wear objects and clothing expressive of religious faith?

The State Department's listening sessions, aimed solely at pacifying those adamantly for and against the Keystone XL oil pipeline, have come and gone, as Shakespeare put it in a different context, "... full of sound and fury, signifying nothing."

Indications are only indications, but there are mighty strong indications that President Obama will approve a construction permit for TransCanada to route the thing across a portion of the Sand Hills and the Ogallala Aquifer.

At this writing state legislators were talking among themselves about whether to meet in special session to assert its authority to have the state regulate the pipeline route.

And Gov. Dave Heineman was steadfast in his refusal to use his authority to bring the Unicameral to Lincoln to address the issue, although he has professed opposition to TransCanada's preferred route. The latter would also be the most direct and least expensive for the Canadian oil giant.

Over the past few years, you may have read several articles concerning our local Humane Society. But you might not be aware that Ardis Ramsey and others like Julie Phroper, have contributed countless hours feeding, watering and grooming the many dogs and cats at the Schuler shelter on East 14th Street near 4 Corners Supply.

The dogs in particular need daily exercising and that is why I am writing this letter. Ardis and her small core of volunteers need your help. For many, many years they have selflessly, and without fanfare, made sure that their canine charges were given the opportunity to stretch their legs and enjoy a brief bit of freedom from their confinement. They need this activity to maintain proper physical health as well.

The Humane Society would greatly appreciate your assistance with this daily undertaking. It would require as little as fifteen to thirty minutes once a week. (If there are enough volunteers, perhaps every other week.) You can even pick the day, however the time is restricted to after 4 p.m.

Many of you take daily walks that you could incorporate with your new four legged companions. For those of you who don't take daily walks, this might be a good time to get that workout you have been putting off. You could also walk in teams, if you prefer.

It is important for you to know that the Humane Society is not the same thing as the city pound. Not all dogs that are in the pound are adopted by the Humane Society. The ones that are meet strict requirements. The most important of those requirements is that the dogs be docile and non-aggressive. In addition, you will be provided with a special "pinch collar" that will enable you to better control the dog you have selected. If you feel uncomfortable with a dog you can return immediately and choose another if you like.

Ardis has not asked me to write this letter on her behalf. I have no doubt that she and Julie and the other volunteers would continue their very good work without complaint or a need for publicity. These are truly caring and decent people, who have been doing a lot of heavy lifting for a very long time now and could really use your help.

If you are interested, you can call Ardis at 402-245-2779. If you would rather work with cats, call Julie at 402-245-2338. Perhaps a social or fraternal organization, such as 4-H, would like to take on this project. However, you must be 16 or older to volunteer.

On behalf of the Humane Society, and its many furry friends who cannot speak for themselves.

Thanks
Scott Massin

School Board

Principal Gale Dunkhas said, "And it also provides more funding from the Perkins grant."

FCMS was one of the first schools to participate and in 2010 was the only academy to design and successfully implement an organ donation drive, in which 82 people in the community got on board for organ donation. FCMS students were also one of just three groups to earn CPR/First Aid certification.

Four FCMS students have witnessed actual surgeries and one FC Academy student, Jacob Gentry, is working as an EMT at the Lake of the Ozarks, Osage Beach. His career has accelerated due to his early training at FCMS, Simon said.

Both teachers thanked the BOE for its support of the program.

"I think we're doing a lot for kids going into health care," Fritz said.

In other news Monday:

— FC Middle School Principal Rick Johnson reported the closing of the FC TeamMates Chapter, due to lack of mentors a change in the program's philosophy.

The TeamMates Program began in 1991 with the vision of then-Nebraska Head Football Coach Tom Osborne and his wife Nancy. Twenty-two football players met with middle school students in the Lincoln Public Schools. Coach Osborne felt that the athletes in his program could make an impact on the middle school students.

In 1997, the program was expanded to include 160 volunteer mentors from the Lincoln community who met with a student for one hour a week in the school setting. It was believed that these students could benefit from another caring adult in their life. The TeamMates Mentoring Program was formalized as a state-wide program in 1998 with 12 chapters and 441 mentor/mentee matches. Today, TeamMates includes 100 chapters in over 120 communities serving more than 5,000 students in grades 4-12. The program matches a student with an adult volunteer mentor to provide one hour of individual mentoring each week during the school year. Activities during the mentoring hour range from homework assignments to sharing common interests to simply engaging in conversation.

"There have been some real successes with many mentor/mentee matches," Johnson said. "This has been a great program for both mentors and mentees and a 'thank you' is in order to everyone who took time to help a young person."

Current matches in place at FCMS and FCMS will stay through high school graduation, Johnson said, and the school system will continue with mentoring, possibly through Big Brothers Big Sisters. In addition, Johnson said more than $12,000 remains in an account for past and present mentee college scholarships.

— Johnson also reported that the 4th annual FCMS Chautauqua event will be held from 6-7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 8.

— Dunkhas recognized 11 Peers Always Learning Mentors: Ashley Sichel, Philip Doerr, Brandt Vice, Codie Witt, Tressa Chandler, Allyson Scholl, Reese Hogue, Anne Gifford, Elizabeth Eickhoff, Bethany Lampe and Wade Noll. Those students will be partnered with Life Skills students to help with social and academic transitions to high school.

— Dunkhas recognized six Drugs Abuse Resistance Education role models for 2011-12. Amber Stice, Erin Lyons, Victoria Roseberry, Sophia Weinert, Justin Elwonger and Josh Stoller will assist DARE trainer Wayne

Angel Investment Tax Credit
By Governor Dave Heineman

Dear Fellow Nebraskans:

Today, I am providing you an update on an exciting economic initiative whose purpose is to grow and attract new, technology-focused companies. The Talent and Innovation Initiative is designed to advance business innovation and workforce recruitment efforts in Nebraska and to enhance the level of business specialization and attract new, advanced companies to Nebraska. With this initiative, we can help the private sector grow and create new job opportunities, particularly in high-tech, research-driven fields.

Nebraska has consistently ranked low in the availability of capital resources for small businesses and early stage startups. To ease that burden, I worked with the Legislature to pass the Angel Investment Tax Credit program. The motivation for this initiative is to help advance the level of business specialization among existing companies and to attract new, advanced companies to our state. It will provide new tools for collaboration between business and education which is part of growing our innovation economy. This program is targeted at Nebraska investors that are willing to place their confidence and financial support behind early-stage, high-tech start-up companies.

Investors can earn 35% to 40% of refundable state income tax credits when they make a single investment of at least $25,000 in a high tech Nebraska startup company. Three or more investors can combine resources to create an angel fund. The qualified fund then must invest at least $50,000 to earn tax credits for the investors.

Eligible businesses must be headquartered in Nebraska, with fewer than 25 employees at the time an investment is made in their operation. Of those employees on the payroll, 51% must be employed in Nebraska and at least 51% of the total payroll must be paid or incurred in Nebraska. The tax credits went into effect on September 1st.

Some of Nebraska's fastest growing industries are information technology, insurance and financial services, advanced manufacturing and transportation logistics. Additionally, there are a wide variety of fields including aerospace, agriculture processing, renewable energy, energy efficiency and conservation, environmental engineering, food technology, cellulosic ethanol, information technology, materials science technology, nanotechnology, telecommunications, bio-solutions, medical device products, pharmaceuticals, diagnostics, biology, chemistry, and veterinary science that are qualified high-technology fields.

As of today, DED has allocated $528,000 in credits. Thirty four investors have filed applications for allocations of credits totaling $1,191,910, representing $2,979,775 investment in 10 Nebraska businesses.

We are focused on creating higher paying jobs and developing a highly educated workforce. We want our graduates and young professionals to be ready for high-skill jobs with dynamic companies doing business in Nebraska which will enhance Nebraska's momentum for continued growth.

That is one of the reasons why Nebraska is doing better than the rest of the country. We have the second lowest unemployment at 4.2%. We want to continue recruiting and developing business opportunities for Nebraskans.

To request more information on the Angel Investment Tax Credit, contact Lara Huskey at (402) 471-3759 or laura.huskey@nebraska.gov or go online at <http://neded.org/angelinvestmenttaxcredit>.

— Dunkhas reported the following John Baylor ACT Testing prep dates: Nov. 3, 8, 18 and 30; Dec. 6. The ACT Test will be given Saturday, Dec. 10. Students must register by Nov. 4.

— Dunkhas reported that 67 juniors and seniors participated in "dual credit" courses last year. FCMS partners with Peru State College and SCC to offer six college-credit classes: calculus, American history, college English, statistics and speech. A student can earn 23 college credit hours while still in high school.

— North School Principal Ernie Valentine reported that counselor Troy Nelson had completed the school's first food drive for the benefit of the local food pantry.

— The first quarter ends Oct. 18 and FC Public Schools parent-teacher conferences will be held Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 24-25.

— The next meeting of the BOE will be at 7 p.m. Monday, Nov. 14, in the Central Office at FCMS.

Nearly $2,000 of rock, concrete and other supplies went into the construction of the display.

"It is hoped this display case continues as a vital part of this arboretum's beauty and enjoyment for years and years to come," Hopp said. "Thanks to those of you who are part of the Giving Tree heritage and to Brady Cromer for making it so visible.

Brady's is the sixth Eagle Scout project from Troop 396 that is a permanent part of Krumme Arboretum. Nick Fischer installed identification posts in 1993, followed by additional posts by Coulton Martin in 2006. Matthew Goff installed the concrete sidewalk in 2007, Derek Rowan added benches in 2009 and last year Chris Yoesel built a storage shed. Additionally, Lisa Wilke, a member of Girl Scouts Troop 511, contributed the restoration of the wildflower and butterfly garden near the Salem Bell in 1999.

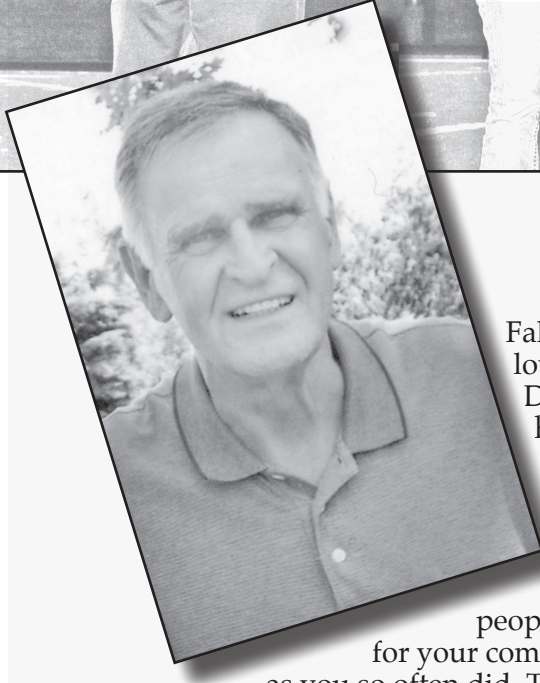

The first plants were placed at the Krumme Arboretum in April 1992. The Working Group at the time was Tom Aitken Sr., Donald Baldwin, Vern Borer, Janis Fischer, Hopp, Donald Koso, Harold Prichard, Roger Reichmuth, Francis Seid, Verna Mae White and Kenneth Zoeller.

The site is owned by The Richardson Foundation, with all operating and endowment money (not to mention labor) coming from private businesses and citizens. The current Working Group consists of Zoeller, Hopp, Baldwin, Neal Schatz, Mary Martineau, Darrel and Liz Huettner and Lonnie Goff.

Following Sunday's dedication, Southeast Nebraska Communications furnished refreshments for those attending.

'Don's Irish Pride was always in action'

Falls City Sacred Heart honored the late Don Coupe prior to Homecoming activities Friday following the Irish football game at Jug Brown Stadium. A member of the FCSH Class of 1958, Don gave countless hours as a volunteer to the Sacred Heart athletic program, coaching junior high football for 35 years, driving student-athletes to contests and preparing fields for games. School Superintendent Msgr. Robert Roh presented the Coupe family (shown here, from left, Danielle Nave, Laurie Scribner, Lynne Davis and Ty Noble, Mary Nave, Jeannie Coupe and Cole Noble) with a collage of Mr. Coupe that will hang in the school "where his legacy will continue with his great-grandchildren and all the students who enter the hallways of Sacred Heart." Over the public address system, Steve Kottich said, "It's volunteerism from special people like Don Coupe that makes Sacred Heart the wonderful family that it is. We thank you, Don, for your commitment to 40 years of Sacred Heart, and honor your memory by striving to give unto others as you so often did. Thank you."

Baptist pastor extradited on Tennessee warrant

Jacob Parker, 31, originally of White Pine, TN, and who was serving as Pastor of the First Baptist Church (21st and Valley Sts.) was taken into custody by officers with the Falls City Police Department on Sept. 26 after an arrest warrant was discovered by the Richardson County Sheriff's Office.

According to Sheriff Randy Houser, the sheriff's office discovered the warrant and because they knew Parker, they exercised the warrant.

Parker was extradited to Jefferson County, TN, last Sunday.

Parker was convicted in Jefferson County, TN, of aggravated burglary/theft on April 2, 2001 and was sentenced to four years of probation.

It was determined on Jan. 7, 2005 that Parker had violated his probation and the arrest warrant was issued.

Oct. 23, during the 10:50 a.m. worship service.

Saturday's concerts will be at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m.

The husband and wife team from Kansas City, MO, began singing gospel music full-time in 1996, but their ministry came to an abrupt halt Sunday afternoon, June 4, 2000, when the couple's van crashed into a bridge. Pam was thrown onto the roadside, suffering numerous injuries including a broken neck that left her completely paralyzed from the chest down. Top surgeons said she would never feel or move most of her body again.

Much to the doctors' amazement, feeling and movement began to gradually return to Pam's lifeless limbs. Over the period of a year she progressed from being wheelchair bound to walking unassisted. The Morgans attribute her healing to the power of God.

"When tragedy struck our family, God was the only One who got us through," Pam said. "My prayer is that through our story others will be motivated to walk with God everyday, no matter what life brings."

Might be time to sample soil

By Gary Lesoing
Nemaha County Extension

With harvest beginning, you may want to consider soil sampling fields for nutrients, especially if yields were either below expectations or if they were much better than expected. If some fields didn't yield as you expected, you may want to conduct a soil test to evaluate nutrient availability of your soil. I expect a wide variability of yields, much of what can be attributed to differences in amount and timing of rainfall. Other factors that influence crop yield include variety, planting date, disease and insects. If these did not appear to influence crop yields, it may be a good time to think about soil testing, particularly on fields that have not been sampled for several years. Nutrient deficiencies in soil can have a significant impact on yields of both corn and soybeans. Soil pH can have a real impact on nutrient availability and consequently reduce yields, particularly soybeans.

With good crop yields in most areas, several pounds of nutrients, such as nitrogen and phosphorus are being removed in the grain taken off at harvest. If your corn yielded 150 bushels per acre, on average you would remove about 120 pounds of nitrogen and 25 pounds of phosphorus or about 60 pounds of (P2O5) per acre. Soybeans that yielded 60 bushels per acre would remove about 220 pounds of nitrogen per acre, with about 100 pounds of this being fixed from nitrogen in the air by bacteria on the roots of soybeans. About 20-25 pounds of phosphorus or 50 pounds of (P2O5) per acre are also removed in a 60 bushel per acre soybean crop. In the fall following harvest, it is a good time to soil sample, especially fields where you believe nutrients such as lime, phosphorus (P) or potassium (K) may be yield limiting. Why should you soil sample? With today's high farm commodity prices and fertilizer costs, it is important to be as efficient as possible in crop production. The heavy removal of nutrients in the grain with high yields may increase fertilizer requirements in some fields for next year's crops. Soil sampling in the fall or winter also allows for more time in planning limestone and fertilizer programs for the coming year.

If you have questions on soil testing feel free to contact me at University of Nebraska Extension-Lincoln in Nemaha County at (402) 274-4755.

God's watchman

"When I bring the sword upon a land, and the people of the land take a man from their territory and make him their watchman, when he sees the sword coming upon the land, if he blows the trumpet and warns the people, then whoever hears the sound of the trumpet and does not take warning, if the sword comes and takes him away, his blood shall be on his own head. He heard the sound of the trumpet, but did not take warning; his blood shall be upon himself. But he who takes warning will save his life." (Ezekiel 33:2-5).

Ezekiel reminded Israel of the responsibilities of both the watchmen and the populace. The watchman must keep alert and blow the trumpet when danger comes. If he does not, he bears guilt. But, the population for whom he watches also has responsibility. If the watchman does his job, the response is up to the people. Only those who hear his warning and seek shelter, or take up their arms to meet the threat, will benefit from his alertness. The negligent will suffer.

This has obvious spiritual application. The Bible is filled with the sounds of trumpets, blowing warnings against the dangers of sin and temptation. We are warned of the great dangers of wickedness in general (Proverbs 4:14-17), and of such particular sins as drunkenness (Proverbs 20:1; 23:29-35), sexual immorality (Proverbs 7:6-27; 1 Corinthians 6:13-20), dishonesty (Ephesians 4:28), and evil speech (Ephesians 4:29-31), among many others.

These laws are not to prevent us from finding pleasure, but to help us avoid the things that will harm us. They warn us of the enemy who seeks to destroy us (Ephesians 6:11-12; 1 Peter 5:8). These warnings are plain. The "watchman" has done his job; but the response is up to us.

If we heed the watchmen we will be like the righteous man who "delights in the Law of the Lord," thriving as "a tree planted by the rivers of water, that brings forth its fruit in its season, whose leaf also shall not wither" (Psalm 1:2-3). The Psalmist assures us that whatever such a one does will prosper. But, if we neglect God's warnings and go on carelessly in spite of danger, we are like the ungodly of the Psalm. "They are like the chaff which the wind drives away" (Psalm 1:4). They "shall not stand in the judgment, nor . . . in the congregation of the righteous" (Psalm 1:5).

Sometimes it is not neglect of the warning that endangers us, but an inappropriate response. One day two young dogs were playing on the tracks in front of an on-coming train. When the engineer tried to warn them away by blowing the train's whistle the puppies panicked and turned straight down the tracks, trying to outrun the train. They heard the warning, but their wrong response could not save them. Their inappropriate response cost them their lives.

God's warnings teach us the right response to sin. Without his instructions we react with blind fear, or anger, or other wrongful attitudes. We try to protect ourselves without seeking shelter in his strength and wisdom.

When the enemy approached Israel, a single brave man could hardly hope to defend himself alone. He needed the company and assistance of others to meet the foreign army. So we, in the face of spiritual danger, must not seek to solve our problem alone, or with only human wisdom. Let us seek God's help and the company of faithful Christians, that we together might defeat our enemy.

Renee Kopf elected president of Educational Tech Association

Nebraska Educational Technology Association recently announced that their President for 2011-2012 is Renee Kopf of Falls City Public Schools.

Renee was elected and took office after the April Spring Convention. During the past year, she served as President-Elect.

In that capacity, she was in charge of arranging the schedule for sessions during the 2011 conference, communicating with all presenters, and attending all NETA board meetings and officer planning meetings.

As President of NETA, Renee presides over meetings and is also in charge of securing the keynote and featured speakers for the 2012 NETA Conference. She will also attend all NETA board meetings and officer planning meetings. The NETA Conference has over 2200 educators attending, so there are countless decisions for the President and board members to make throughout the year.

NETA exists for the purpose of providing leadership and promoting the application of technology to the educational process. Its span of interest includes all levels and aspects of education.

NETA's annual spring conference is a two-day event that brings in nationally recognized speakers, popular vendors, and showcases technology integration success stories from the classroom. The educators attending include teachers, technology coordinators, media specialists, administrators, regional consultants (ESU, Nebraska Department of Education), preservice teachers, and higher education representatives. A majority of the attendees come from a four state region: Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, and South Dakota.

The NETA Board of Directors is appreciative of Falls City Public Schools allowing Renee to serve as an officer, NETA Executive Director Sandy Blankenship said.

The 2011 edition of the Nebraska Cornhusker Marching Band has three Falls City High School graduates among its 289 members, from left: Clint Bartek (tuba), Rachel Stevens (tuba), and Willie Neubauer (trombone). The Band performs at every home football game at Memorial Stadium in Lincoln, before the game and at halftime, and UNL is planning for the entire band to travel to Ann Arbor, Michigan for the Nebraska vs. Michigan game on Nov. 19. Tourney to benefit vets groups

Golfers and all others who support U.S. veterans and their families are reminded of the "Early" Veterans Day Scramble golf tournament set for Saturday, Oct. 22, at the Country Club course.

This will be a 9-hole, 3-person scramble and all teams will play holes 1-4 and 14-18. A shotgun start is planned at 9:30 a.m. The rain date is Sunday, Oct. 23.

The entry fee is $25 per person or $75 per team. All proceeds will support the Wounded Warrior Project and A Veterans Voice Foundation.

Tournament chairmen are Terry Flynn, Dr. Chick James, Jim Hoy and Brian Walker. To enter or to make a tax deductible donation, contact Flynn at terry@aveteransvoice.org or Walker at the golf course.

The Journal provided details of the tournament in last week's edition. Today, we will take a closer look at A Veterans Voice, based in Austin, TX. A closer look at the Wounded Warrior Project will be provided next week.

A Veterans Voice was established in 2009 to provide military research and education for the public in order to help formulate policy as it relates to the military and veterans. It is one of the few organizations proactively engaging military and civilians to support the needs of the country.

Three programs make up A Veterans Voice: The Citizen; The Veteran; and The Healer. Each focuses on meeting a need within the veteran community.

The Citizen Program educates citizens on how the military is funded in Washington, how the military is supported in local levels and how to meet the needs of the military men and women of the U.S.

The Veteran Program focuses on providing opportunity for veterans to meet and share their stories with one another. The Veterans National, an annual golf tournament hosted by A Veterans Voice, provides this opportunity to veterans nationwide. The Veterans Program also works to ensure that veterans have proper information on the benefits and programs available to them.

The Healer Program works to provide community based veteran facilities manned by medical volunteers to meet the need for location-based care.

Flynn is an active member of the organization. For additional information visit the website: www.aveteransvoice.org.

Pulitzer Prize winners to Peru St.

Peru State College will welcome a humanitarian and two Pulitzer Prize winning journalists for the 2011-12 Distinguished Speaker Series. The public is encouraged to attend the presentations, which are offered at no cost.

Dr. Dennis Richardson, co-founder of the Bawa Health Initiative will kick-off the Series at 7 p.m. Monday, Nov. 7 in the College Theatre.

Richardson co-founded the Bawa Health Initiative (BHI) six years ago when a fellow parasitologist and Bawa, Cameroon, native challenged him with the comment that "for the price of what you spend on feeding your cat, you could save the lives of children in my village." The BHI exists to provide basic health care and improve the lives of the residents of Bawa and surrounding villages.

Richardson is a helminthologist and professor of biology at Quinnipiac University in Hamden, Conn. He has traveled many times to rural Cameroon where he and his team have pitched tents, dug latrines and shown villagers how to construct bio-sand water filters. They have also installed anti-malarial bed nets, distributed medicine to treat worm infections and comforted the parents of children suffering from a myriad of hardships.

Richardson's presentation, Malaria, Water and Worms: High-Impact Health Initiatives in Sub-Saharan Africa, is not just an account of public health interventions in the global community; it's a narrative about individual villagers and their lives.

By Jason Schock

Class D2 No. 7 Falls City Sacred Heart ran its record to a perfect 6-0 Friday night at Jug Brown Stadium, as the Irish celebrated Homecoming in electric fashion, outlasting rival Sterling in a 50-38 shootout.

FCSH rushed for a tremendous 519 yards, as senior back Garrett Harring and junior quarterback Lane Scheitel slashed and mashed, respectively, the now 3-3 Jets for a combined 396 rushing yards and six total scores (three apiece).

"We ran the ball well," Coach Doug Goltz understated. "Sometimes you could hear our crowd yell for guys to block, but Sterling stacks up the line with five or six guys. It's all or nothing with their scheme. We lost some yards when they got up-field or we missed a block, but most of the night we blocked it and got big chunks of yards. Our backs ran hard as well."

Big chunks indeed. Scheitel scored on a 30-yard run less than two minutes into the game and added a 57-yarder late in the opening half. And Harring, who's averaging 130 yards per game, had TD runs of 49 and 50 yards in the game. Harring added an eight-yard TD run late in the half and Scheitel also plunged in from the one-yard line late in the third quarter to give his team a 36-30 lead it would never relinquish.

Sacred Heart built a double-digit lead on Harring's eight-yard TD run (21-8) and missed some golden opportunities to put it away. In the second quarter alone, a sure TD pass was dropped and FCSH fumbled away an option after a 10-yard punt set them up in Jet territory and then failed to capitalize on a minus-one-yard Sterling punt put them on the Jet 22 in the waning seconds of the first half. Usually dependable sophomore kicker Yianni Haralabidis (a perfect 6-for-6 on extra points) missed a 29-yard field goal attempt as time expired. The Irish led 28-16 at half.

(TOP LEFT) FC Sacred Heart fullback Brandon Schawang gained 5.6 yards a pop on 12 carries Friday, but most importantly helped pave the way for quarterback Lane Scheitel (TOP RIGHT), who gained 183 yards and scored three TDs on 28 carries; and senior back Garrett Harring (BOTTOM), here busts through a pair of Sterling defenders on an 8-yard TD run in the second quarter. He rushed 18 times for 213 yards and three scores. Harring is averaging 130 yards per game at a whopping 8.2 yards per carry.

Goltz said.

Sterling opened the second half with a 65-yard TD drive, converted the two-point conversion, and then took advantage of an Irish fumble to score and take a 30-28 lead with 4:55 to play in the quarter.

That's when Scheitel really took over, engineering a nine-play, 61-yard drive. His number was called repeatedly and he capped it with a one-yard plunge and also added the two-point conversion. That made it 36-30 and FCSH never trailed again.

Scheitel completed a 17-yard TD pass to junior Clay Finck on the final play of the third quarter. Haralabidis' kick made it 43-30 Irish.

Harring seemingly sealed it by intercepting a pass on Sterling's ensuing drive and two plays later busting a 50-yard TD run. But with 10:22 remaining, a 20-point Irish lead wasn't yet secure.

Jet sophomore QB Chris Wenzl broke a 65-yard TD run on the first play of Sterling's next drive and then added a five-yarder with 7:35 to play to make it a four-point game: 50-46.

Harring had a 15-yard TD called back and Henry Arnold scored on two long kickoff returns - and had five total touchdowns - in the FC Sacred Heart junior high football team's 46-16 win over Johnson-Brock.

Arnold busted kick returns of 65 and 55 yards, added TD runs of 64 and 60 yards, and also caught an 18-yard TD pass to lead his team.

Noah Keller finished the scoring with a four-yard run in the fourth quarter. Converting two-point conversions were Bailey Witt (three), Austin Ahern and Cameron Jordan.

Steve Simon, Sole Survivor

Steve Simon took the first annual Sole Survivor golf tournament Oct. 1 at Falls City Country Club.

Twelve participants competed in the 11 holes of golf. Sole Survivor is a tournament that eliminates the highest scoring golfer after each hole of play until there is just one left. In the event of a tie for highest score on the hole, a chip off was held.

Simon edged Darin Davis on the 11th hole. After hitting his tee shot in the water, Davis took a drop and hit his third shot to about 100 yards out from the hole. Simon's tee shot was long and left and his second shot was just to the front left of the green. Davis hit his 4th shot to within 8 feet of the hole. Simon left his chip shot just a bit longer than Davis and 2-putted from there. Davis sank his eight footer to push the match into a tough chip off from just south of the green. Simon left his chip shot just under 4 feet from the hole and Davis, who had lived to move on in two previous chip offs, could not get his shot inside of Simon's.

Brian Walker was third, followed by Bob Meyer, Brian Daake, Jim Langan, Gary Hays, John McNeely, Erik McNeely, Joe Dunn, Bill Simon and Bob Aitken.

The Stoller Bros. - Jordy (top) and Josh - combine for a tackle Friday at Conestoga.

A solid defensive effort went by the wayside as the Falls City Tigers fell to 0-6 on the season. Conestoga clamped down on the Tigers en route to a 19-7 victory.

Falls City rushed 30 times for just 53 yards and threw the ball for just 13 more. The Tigers scored late in the first quarter on a run by junior running back Cord Huettner and after a successful extra point by Josh Stoller, led 7-0. Freshman Jordy Stoller helped set up the Tiger score with a good punt return that gave Falls City good field position near midfield.

The Tiger defense kept the orange and black in the ballgame for the duration, but the lack of offense doomed Falls City. Conestoga gained 258 yards on 54 plays, but they had to earn those yards. The Tigers managed to battle Conestoga and trailed only 12-7 late in the fourth quarter before the Indians took over with 5:45 remaining in the game. Conestoga put together a methodical, 80-yard scoring drive to put the game out of reach.

"They drove it 80 yards in about 10 or 12 plays," said Head Coach Don Hogue about Conestoga's final scoring drive. "We couldn't stop them."

Hogue said the defense has played better of late and did so again Friday night. "Defensively, we played well again, except on that last drive," said Hogue. "We didn't compete very well up front in the fourth quarter."

The Tigers will look to erase the goose egg from the win column tomorrow night against an average Syracuse team. The Rockets come to Falls City with a record of 2-4 and defeated Auburn last week, 27-13. In their four losses their opponent's combined records are 19-5 and in their two wins their opponents records are 4-8. Worth mentioning, star basketball player and solid football player Micah Buller tore his ACL in practice last week before the Auburn game and will miss the remainder of the football season. The Rockets are big up front and according to Hogue will look to impose their will.

"They're huge up front and want to run it right at you," said Hogue.

Kickoff for the Tigers and the Rockets is at 7 p.m. tomorrow night at Jug Brown Stadium.

'Thank You' from FCHS AD Palmer

Falls City High School Athletic Director Darwin Palmer has expressed another "big thank you" to everyone who helped out with last week's Tiger Cross Country meet at the Falls City Country Club. "Many cross country fans stepped up to help run this meet efficiently," said Palmer. "A special thanks to the FC Country Club for allowing their facility to be used for this event."

Palmer also thanked all those who helped with last week's volleyball tournaments. "Your work and dedication were greatly appreciated," he said. "Thirty-six matches in two gyms in three days take a team effort from our school and community. Thanks for stepping up to help out. You all did an outstanding job in running these three major tournaments in a smooth and organized fashion. Thanks again for a job well done!"

Irish Football

FCSH was stopped on downs on its next drive, giving Sterling a chance to steal this one. The Irish defense, though, stiffened. Sterling managed six yards on its next drive, turning it over on downs.

"I'm proud of how we hung in there after they started the third quarter with two scores to take the lead," Goltz said. "We didn't panic."

The Irish secondary got crispy on an early 57-yard TD strike from Wenzl to senior Levi McCartney and surrendered 122 yards through the air, but sophomore Chaz Dunn also picked off Wenzl three times and the Irish defense forced four three-and-outs before getting the fifth to clinch the win. Brandon Schawang made 12 stops and Haring and Brody Chandler each had 10 to lead the Irish defense.

Sacred Heart goes to Lewiston Friday to face the 3-3 Tigers, setting up a climactic Oct. 20 regular-season finale/District title game with unbeaten fifth-ranked Pawnee City in a game likely to resemble Friday's shootout. The Indians are the highest scoring team in D2 and have yet to be held to fewer than 50 points in a game. They hung 88 on Sterling, 74 on Lewiston, and 90 on Hanover, KS. The chilling part? Each of those teams came in with winning records.

Red-hot Lady Irish cool off at HTRS

Inconsistency has been the Falls City Sacred Heart volleyball teams Achilles Heel all season.

The Lady Irish dropped both games Tuesday night during a triangular with host Humboldt-TR-S and Johnson-Brock.

H-TR-S defeated Sacred Heart in two games, 25-17 and 25-10, then, the Lady Irish fell to J-B in two games, 19-25 and 17-25.

Kelly Schawang was 6/6 hitting with five kills against H-TR-S and Sara Landis led the Irish 12 kills on 15/20 hitting against J-B. Molly Chapple had 14 assists combined in the two games.

This coming after Sacred Heart had won five games in a row, including three last week.

The Lady Irish swept both games of a triangular last week defeating a tough Freeman team, 21-15, 25-18 and 26-24 in the first match. They then defeated Diller-Odell in two games, 25-23 and 25-15. Then, last Thursday Sacred Heart handled Wymore Southern easily in four games.

Against Freeman, Sacred Heart came back to win the second and third games after dropping the first.

Landis was a force in all three games at the net for the Lady Irish and finished the match with 21 kills on 33/37 hitting and seven blocks, unofficially. Chapple passed the ball 54 times with 18 assists and was a perfect 11/11 serving against Freeman with six points to lead Sacred Heart.

Against Diller-Odell, Landis led the Irish with 15/17 hitting, 11 kills and seven blocks. Janey Malcolm had four kills and three blocks.

Ashli Jordan was 13/13 serving with eight points and one ace along with leading the Irish with eight digs. Chapple was also perfect serving with 15/15 attempts and 10 points. She also had 22 sets with 12 assists.

The Lady Irish are now 11-8 on the season. They travel to Pawnee City tonight for a triangular with the host school and Mound City.

Lady Tigers grab pair of wins

There were a couple bright spots in another tough week of action for the FCHS Lady Tiger volleyball team, as they picked up their second and third wins of the season.

The Lady Tigers managed to hang on in a five set thriller Tuesday night at home against St. Joseph-Lafayette, MO, winning 25-13, 25-17, 20-25, 27-29 and 15-13.

Jacy Lewis had a huge game for Falls City serving 18 points on 23/24 attempts, as well as putting away nine kills. Tressa Chandler led FC with 13 kills on 28/32 hitting and also had five solo blocks. Bethany Lampe and Madi Olberding each picked up 26 assists. Setter Baylee Vrtiska was successful on 128/136 passes with 30 assists.

Their second win of the season came Saturday during the Falls City Invitational tournament when Falls City defeated Sidney, IA, 25-12 and 25-14.

Ashley Sickel served 11 points on 11/14 serves with five aces. Baylee Vrtiska and Madi Olberding each had eight digs. Vrtiska connected on 32/33 sets and 13 assists. Jacy Lewis led FC with six kills, while Sickel recorded five.

Bethany Lampe had a big game with 17 digs for the Lady Tigers. Baylee Vrtiska led FC with 16 assists on 54/57 sets and Ashley Sickel put away ten kills on 18/21 hitting.

Falls City lost their first two matches of the tournament to Pawnee City (22-25, 12-25) and Fairbury (20-25, 12-25).

Against Pawnee City, Maygan Ramsey served five points with two aces and also had two kills. Sickel led the Tigers at the net with 10 kills on 18/21 attempts. Bethany Lampe led FC with 17 digs and Vrtiska dished out 16 assists on 54/57 sets.

In the loss to Fairbury, Lewis had six kills, Sickel had five kills and nine digs and Vrtiska had 12 assists.

Early last week Falls City traveled to Syracuse and dropped two matches. The first to Syracuse (14-25, 17-25), then to Nebraska City Lourdes (15-25, 16-25).

Brownville Concert Series presents An Evening of Jazz

Cabaret tickets are $23, concert tickets are $17 ($12 for students). To purchase tickets online go to www.brownvilleconcertseries.com or call 402-825-3331. The Nebraska Arts Council (www.nebraskartscouncil.org), a state agency, supports this program through a matching grant funded by the Nebraska Legislature, the National Endowment for the Arts and the Nebraska Cultural Endowment. Mid-America Arts Alliance (www.maaa.org) was created to support and stimulate cultural activity in communities throughout Arkansas, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma, and Texas.

The Brownville Concerts series welcomes composer/pianist Michael Pagán, a dynamic artist and musical force in today's Jazz world, and welcomes back Millie Edwards ("The Wild Women of Kansas City") known as the tiny woman with the big voice for an unforgettable evening of Jazz in Cabaret Oct. 28 & 29 at 7:30 p.m. and in Concert Oct. 30 at 2 p.m.

As a jazz pianist Michael Pagán has performed for over thirty years throughout the United States and in Europe with many jazz greats including Greg Abate, Billy Hart, Claudio Sloan, Kenny Wheeler, Jiggs Whigham, and many more. He performs regularly at numerous venues in Kansas City as soloist and appears with his own trio, with vocalist Millie Edwards, and with Greg Carroll's Midnight Blue Jazz Quartet. "A fine pianist, [Pagán] is also, as this exceptional example of swinging big band jazz proves, a hugely talented composer arranger . . . he has the ability to conjure up scintillating lines, fondness for artful counterpoint, great attention to detail and clarity of focus." Ray Comiskey, The Irish Times. As a composer Pagán has written over 150 works, mostly in the jazz idiom.

Vocalist Millie Edwards is known around Kansas City as the little woman with the big voice. Her unique style and wide range, as well as her friendly professional manner have endeared her to Kansas City audiences over the years. She's been a regular on the Kansas City Jazz and blues circuit, frequently performing at some of the best clubs in town as well as radio and television spots. Edwards is a true vocal stylist with a distinctive and mature sound. She has appeared on numerous albums, including as a featured artist on Everette DeVan's latest release "East of the Sun" and Greg Meise's "First Impression". Pete Falico, of KUSP, Santa Cruz says of her performance on this album, "Millie's breathy voice sensually reaches into lyrics and pulls out new things from old, familiar words".

High winds raise risk of combine fires

Dry field conditions, high temperatures and wind gusts of 30 to 35 miles per hour are leading to an increased threat of field fires across most of the state.

On Wednesday the National Weather Service issued a Red Flag Warning for much of Nebraska: "Dry and breezy conditions this afternoon could lead to extreme fire behavior. Fires will start quickly, spread furiously, and burn intensely."

Conditions are expected to be similar today and possibly into tomorrow.

On Tuesday the village of Stapleton was evacuated due to a large fire that started in a soybean field and quickly burned out of control, according to an Oct. 5 North Platte Telegraph story. The National Weather Service at North Platte reported sustained winds of 30 miles per hour and gusts up to 41 in the area contributing to this and other fires.

In a short time Tuesday afternoon, volunteer firemen were called to three field fires in an area in eastern Nebraska between Waverly, Greenwood and Ashland, said Dave Morgan, UNL farm safety specialist.

This is likely typical of what the rest of the state is seeing. The State Fire Marshal's office reported major fires in northwest and central Nebraska and was aware of smaller fires in other areas. Widespread rain forecast for this weekend will lower the threat, but also stall harvest efforts.

Morgan recommends several steps producers can take to lower the risk of field fires and the resulting damage to combines and yield. These include:

- Keep equipment clean and in good repair. When done for the day, producers should take time to clean machinery thoroughly with an air compressor, power washer or even a broom to dislodge any crop residue or chaff from the combine.

- Fix any fuel, hydraulic or oil leaks. When it's this windy, vegetative matter breaks up into really fine material that readily accumulates on oil and fuel leaks, Morgan said. This creates a source of solid and liquid fuel. From there, it doesn't take much to start the fire -- a dry bearing or a slipping belt can quickly heat up or spark.

- Check fluid levels and carefully refill, being careful not to spill any oil or fuel on the equipment. But don't overfill fluid reservoirs. With high temperatures in the mid-80s, oil expands and may "burp" out the vent, creating another fuel source for fire.

- Carry at least one, preferable two, fully charged 10 pound ABC fire extinguishers on all equipment. (Be sure to have fire extinguishers inspected annually and refilled as necessary.)

"We recommend having a couple extra air pressure water extinguishers ready on the combine or in the pickup," Morgan said.

A dry chemical extinguisher will exclude air from the flame, but it doesn't cool the source of the fire, leaving hot, smoldering chaff, crop residue and dirt that could start another fire. A pressurized water extinguisher, with a tablespoon of dish soap added to improve spray, will cool and saturate the source.

"A five-gallon air pressured water extinguisher would weigh about 40 pounds and should be manageable. We recommend keeping one in a nearby pickup and on the combine, if possible," Morgan said.

If a field fire starts, call 911 first and then try to extinguish it. Aim the extinguisher nozzle at the base of the fire, sweeping it from side to side.

Under these unusually dry conditions, even with a clean combine, fires are going to occur and can quickly get out of hand, Morgan said.

Personal safety is always paramount, Morgan reminded growers.

One piece of good news, though, is "the fire danger should ease dramatically as we enter this weekend," said Al Dutcher, extension state climatologist. "A strong upper air trough is projected to move into the central U.S. by Oct. 7 and generate the potential for our most significant statewide moisture event in at least 30 days."

Weather models are indicating widespread precipitation of 1 or more inches for Nebraska this weekend, with some areas of central Nebraska possibly seeing 3 or more inches through October.

Models also indicate that a line of severe thunderstorms may develop the afternoon of Oct. 7 in central Nebraska and Oct. 8 in eastern Nebraska.

"If the weather models are correct, the fire danger would be significantly reduced or eliminated for much of next week," Dutcher said. "Dry weather is then forecast to return to the region for much of next week and should allow producers the opportunity to head back to combine activities after fields dry enough to tolerate the weight of heavy machinery."

Higher valuations mean lower levies

At their meeting Tuesday in the Courthouse, the Richardson County Commissioners certified tax levies for 2011. Because of increased valuations, those levies have decreased.

Thanks to County Clerk Mary Eickhoff, the Journal is able to provide the following tax levy information. All information is based on a property valued at $100,000.

City of Falls City: 2011, 2.226633, compared to 2.293743 in 2010, a decrease of .06711 or 3%. Taxes on a $100,000 value would be $2,226.63 for 2011; $2,293.74 for 2010. A decrease of $67.11 or 3%.

Rural Falls City Fire and School District 56: 2011, 1.781864; 2010, 1.82367. A decrease of .041806, or 2.3%. Taxes on a $100,000 property, $1,781.86 for 2011; for 2010, $1,823.67. Decrease of $41.81 or 2.3%.

Village of Stella: 2011, 1.988457; 2010, 2.034527, a decrease of .04607 or 2.3%. Taxes on $100,000 value: 2011, $1,988.46; 2010, $2,034.53. A decrease of $46.07 or 2.3%.

Rural Humboldt Fire and School District 70 with 37 Bond: 2011, 1.613553; 2010, 1.679722, a decrease of .066169 or 3.9%. Taxes on $100,000: $1,613.55 for 2011; $1,679.72 for 2010, a decrease of $66.17 or 3.9%.

On Oct. 4, the Falls City FFA Chapter took 21 members to the district land judging competition, landing seven members in the top 20. Levi Heineman finished 2nd, Kenny Frederick, 4th, Cord Huettner, 6th, Amie Wiltse, 10th, Zavon Kirkendall, 13th, Eli Kuker, 15th, and Lee Huettner, 17th. The Senior team of, from left, Frederick, Heineman, Kenny Frederick, Chris Yoesel and Kuker took first place and won a prized soil probe valued at $300, while the team of Huettner, Wiltse, Elizabeth Eickhoff and Cody Schawang took third place. The top three schools (FC, Palmyra and Diller-Odell) qualify for state land judging. Only one team per school can go, so FC's first place senior team will be going to state land judging on Nov. 2. Falls City FFA Advisor Mr. Miller said he was very pleased with the results this year and has high hopes for state.

Also, raffles will be held for a 21"x27" framed original photo print by a local artist titled "Team Work" and an adorable handmade doll, "Molly Mae."

These items can be seen from 7-11 p.m. Saturday.

There is still time if you want to want to enter chili or brownies in the competition. If you would like a booth, call 402-245-2338 to register.

Come out and join this "Zombie Fest." You'll have a howling ghoulish of a time and all proceeds go to help our homeless, furry friends.

16-12 Lady Tigers return 7 starters in '12

A disappointing one-run loss to Syracuse ended the Falls City Lady Tiger's softball season in extremely windy conditions last Thursday in Syracuse.

Falls City lost its first round game to Ashland-Greenwood, 11-1. Based on records alone, Falls City was probably the favorite to beat Ashland-Greenwood (A-G entered the game with a 11-14 record), but Ashland played a brutal schedule (opponents had a .715 winning percentage) and entered the district tournament on a four-game winning streak, including a victory over class B, 9th-ranked Gretna just a few days earlier. Ashland went on to win the District and is competing at the state tournament.

The Lady Tigers then bounced back with a decisive victory over Johnson County Central, 9-3, before falling to Syracuse, 5-4.

Falls City struggled offensively against Ashland-Greenwood, who got their number one pitcher and starting catcher back from injuries before the district tournament. Falls City only mustered three hits against the Lady Bluejays.

The bats came alive against JCC, though. Falls City smashed 15 hits on 32 at bats. Seniors Ashleigh Jordening (3-4, 2 R, 2 RBI) and Jayme Schwarting (3-3, 1 R, RBI) led FC offensively. Claire Poppe was also 3-4 with three runs scored and an RBI. Freshman second baseman Sydney Armbruster provided the most exciting moment of the day. In the bottom half of the fourth inning Armbruster ripped a pitch to left centerfield that cleared the fence for a two-run homerun.

Poppe picked up the win striking out a season-high nine JCC batters.

Falls City then battled Syracuse to a hard-to-swallow one-run loss. Poppe again pitched well striking out four on just six hits and two earned runs.

FCHS has high hopes for 2012, but the Lady Tigers will have a difficult time finding a replacement for senior catcher Jayme Schwarting. She hit a team-best .453 her senior year, with a team-high eight doubles. At districts, Schwarting went 3-for-3 with an RBI in a lopsided win over JCC, and had two hits in the final game, a one-run loss to Syracuse.

With junior ace Claire Poppe returning to the mound next fall, expectations will be high for the Lady Tigers. She carried a 2.46 ERA this past fall and also led the team at the plate, with 34 hits, 32 runs scored, eight doubles, five triples and a tremendous .655 slugging percentage.

Schwarting all had two hits for FC and Allyson Scholl recorded the Tigers only RBI.

Falls City finished the season with a 16-12 record.

"I'm so very proud of the way these girls fought," said Head Coach Joe Dunn about the 2011 Falls City Lady Tigers season. "They've been a joy to coach."

FCHS will enter 2012 with high expectations, having to replace just two positions.
