

It's fireworks time. And it got off to a heck of a start last Thursday with the Supreme Court's decision on Health Care.

City fogging for mosquitos

Mosquito season is approaching once again. The City will continue efforts to control the mosquito population utilizing an Ultra Low Volume fogging machine. This method requires a very small amount of chemical to cover a large area. Fogging the community will begin after June 14 and continue as needed through September.

Mosquitoes become most active one hour before and after sunset and sunrise. Weather permitting, evenings will be the preferred time to fog the community. The anticipated start time will be about one hour before sunset and require approximately four hours for completion. The frequency of applications will be determined by the mosquito population encountered during evening activities.

Although the City will be using a very safe chemical at a very low rate, you should take

FCHS ALUMNI REUNION '12

The 50-year class of 1962 was honored at the annual reunion of the Falls City High School Alumni Association Sunday, June 24, at Prichard Auditorium.

Approximately 250 persons attended. A coffee-and-doughnut session began at 9:30 and the meal which followed was prepared by the Band Parents and served by band members.

Elizabeth Steinman Huettner, class of 1963, emceed the program. The invocation was given by Mary-Ellen Gaither Marburger of the class of 1960.

In her welcoming presentation, Mrs. Huettner told her audience, "Your interest in the Alumni Association and attendance at the banquet is what keeps the organization vibrant. When you exited the halls of that grand 'ole school house at 14th and Fulton Streets on graduation day you took with you the memories of our high school days and the confidence to set out on your own to make a difference in the world and in the lives of so many others. Wherever that road led you, whether out of Falls City, or here in this area, or beyond our shores, I hope each of you found your calling and happiness and success pursued your decisions.

"A topic that may have surfaced in your discussions this weekend is how Falls City hasn't changed much throughout recent years. Then I would like to invite you to stay awhile, explore the town and discover the many significant and positive improvements that have been achieved and several of them through the efforts of community-minded citizens, both residents and former residents, who have donated generously and worked hard to make these improvements happen.

"Thank you for coming today. I hope every aspect of your visit has been a pleasant and fun experience."

Making the response was David Martin of Omaha, a member of the 50-year Class.

"Thank you, Falls City," he said in opening, "for helping to raise this class of boys and girls to become men and women. The saying, 'It takes a village to raise a child,' could never be truer, when thinking of the class of 1962. Gratitude is an attitude, and this reception holds a special place in our hearts. Falls City is where we came from, and our memories of growing up here stayed with us, no matter where we went. When we graduated, most of us were 18 years old, footloose and fancy free. We thought we knew what being a senior meant, then. We had a long future in front of us, faced an open road, and had many adventures to live. Now, we return 50 years later and we are still 'seniors,' but the word has taken on a different understanding."

Martin recalled the now unbelievable prices of 1962, such as a can of pork and beans for 10 cents and two loaves of bread

David M. Nieves, Herpetologist, originally from Bellevue, Nebraska, presented his "REPTILES, UP CLOSE AND PERSONAL" program to a packed house at the Falls City Library and Arts Center last Thursday afternoon.

The program was a fun, fast-paced romp through the realm of reptiles and writing. Nieves brought along four reptile friends - one of whom was a 15-foot, 75-pound Burmese Python - which grabbed the attention of the throng of kids and parents. The audience learned how humans are different from reptiles, what we share with them and why we need them around. He also discussed his work, his travels, the creation of his books, his reasons for writing them and how books and reading have influenced his life in a positive way.

Nieves has devoted himself to the field of herpetology and created Reptile Education and Research in 1990, a facility dedicated to the study of reptiles and amphibians from around the world. His two books - Reptiles Up Close and More Reptiles Up Close - are available for check-out at the Library.

Chief Justice John Roberts sure stirred things up by agreeing with the progressive side of the Supreme Court and finding the Affordable Care Act, President Obama's signature piece of legislation, constitutional. House and Senate Republicans are vowing to repeal "Obamacare," while some right-leaning governors say they will fight participation in their states. Mitt Romney, who implemented a nearly identical plan while he was governor of Massachusetts, says that if elected President his first order of business would be to dump the healthcare/ insurance program, stressing the words "repeal and replace." I haven't seen anything definitive about what he would replace it with. Last week's Supreme Court decision dealt solely with the legislation's constitutionality, not whether the Justices agreed with the new law that is gradually being introduced and should be fully in place in 2014.

I've read that upwards of 30 million Americans who don't have it could obtain health insurance as a result of the legislation. Supporters claim that insurance costs will decrease and coverage increase, and general health improve because of an emphasis on preventive care. They say the measure will have debt-reducing and job-creating dynamics.

Critics say just about the opposite. The law will increase costs and the deficit while adding to jobless numbers, they maintain. They also argue that this is another example of governmental expansion and needless involvement in states' rights and people's rights.

A major component in all of this hubbub is that the Obama Administration did a terrible job of explaining the legislation to the public. Most of us know some components, but few know them all. It is very confusing.

I've written before that the Journal would like nothing more than to provide health insurance for its employees. We've never been able to afford it. When I say "employees," I'm talking about all of us here, myself included. Will Obamacare enable very small businesses like ours to find affordable health care packages? I don't know. But I hope so.

A former excellent Journal employee, who had a pre-existing condition, told me on more than one occasion that the vast majority of her monthly income was spent on health care insurance, which was increasingly expensive. Another person I know, who used to work in this office, said she had to stay in the workforce in order to continue a policy that is provided through her present employment. I'm sure that's the case with many, many people.

Certainly, some of the people who will soon have health insurance are not employed. That may be a personal choice or because of no fault of their own. Where do the uninsured go when they need medical care? In many cases, they seek care in an emergency room, where the costs are considerably higher than a doctor's office visit would be. One of the reasons medical care is so expensive is because of these emergency room visits. So, in essence, those who now have health insurance are paying for those visits because their treatment costs increase. Insurance costs rise as treatment costs rise. Kind of a vicious circle.

I'm not trying to change opinions. What you believe about the Affordable Care Act is likely molded by your personal philosophy, your place on the economic spectrum, or a general hatred for this president.

The question that seems to me to be the key in this national argument? Is healthcare a privilege or a right? I think it is a right and that all Americans should be insured so that they can receive the care that a wealthier American would take for granted. Quality healthcare should not be based on income or the ability to pay for insurance.

A recent, personal involvement with our healthcare system can be used as an example. Because of circumstances that I will not go into, I found myself paying for two health policies, one my own. Financially (none of us is getting wealthy in this office) I simply could not afford to pay both. So I dropped mine and kept my fingers crossed. When that second payment was no longer my responsibility, I signed onto a new insurance program, one that would provide in case of a major health program, such as cancer or diabetes. Then I broke my leg and was basically uncovered for that type of accident. The insurer had noted a "pre-existing condition" in denying that coverage. The insurer did, however, negotiate costs, resulting in a significant reduction in my leg-related costs. Still, the one-day stay in an out-of-town hospital cost me over $16,000 in funds that were to be used for retirement. The bill for surgery was about $4,000. Various and sundry other costs exceeded $5,000. The bills are still arriving.

Less than a year and I qualify for Medicare. Never did I imagine how eager I'd be to hit age 65.

Decision means little change for Nebraskans - for now

Nebraska health care consumers will undergo minimal changes between now and 2014, but the state's largest health insurance company will continue on its current path of preparing for the implementation of health insurance exchanges, after the Supreme Court announced Thursday that it narrowly upheld a provision in health care legislation that requires every person to purchase health insurance.

"We'll continue the work that we started in 2011, preparing to help Nebraskans every way we can to navigate a new health insurance market," said Steven S. Martin, President and Chief Executive Officer of Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Nebraska. "We're pleased that the Court left the door open for every person to get coverage regardless of pre-existing conditions."

"The individual health insurance market continues to grow, and we will be ready to help Nebraskans through the changes as that market expands exponentially in 2014."

Martin added that while BCB-SNE has been working operationally for nearly two years to participate on a health insurance exchange and guide Nebraskans through the process, Thursday's Supreme Court ruling will send a strong message to state governments and federal agencies that the clock is ticking.

"There are massive government systems that have to be put in place and ready to go in a little over a year," Martin said. "The state of Nebraska and other states have at least undergone analysis of how they will handle the coming exchange. Some states haven't even started."

At issue before the Court was whether a provision in the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act violated the U.S. Constitution by requiring all individuals to purchase health care coverage. The Supreme Court took up the case as the law was challenged by 26 states, including Nebraska, and could have struck down the law in its entirety or in part.

Instead, it upheld the legislation by terming the individual mandate a "tax" on individuals; plans for individuals to purchase health insurance on an "exchange" will move forward for 2014. "We were just in Washington, and we had indications that the vote might go the other way and strike down the mandate," Martin said.

Either way, Martin said BCB-SNE's stance hasn't changed since the Affordable Care Act was signed into law in 2011. The company will continue implementation of the law, and will work with policymakers to "fix provisions that will increase costs, such as the health insurance tax that will add hundreds of dollars to families' premiums each year," Martin said.

"On behalf of the 700,000 Nebraskans we serve, Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Nebraska will continue to lead efforts in our local communities—partnering with doctors, nurses, hospitals and others to reduce health care costs, improve quality, help people stay well and better manage their care when they need it."

precaution to eliminate direct contact with the chemical when fogging crews are in your area. Within a few minutes after the fogger passes, the mist will dissipate and you can then continue your outdoor activities.

You can help control the mosquito population by eliminating any objects in your yard that hold standing water. Objects that hold water such as old tires, tin cans, and gutters are a few examples. Another recommendation is changing your pet's water and bird baths often as these are ideal areas mosquitoes lay their eggs.

The operator will take precautions and shut down fogging when he observes people outside. Please keep in mind though, it is dark and he is also watching for traffic and monitoring equipment, so he may not see everyone. Also, please do not follow close behind the fogger as it makes it hard to see application drift and puts you in direct contact with the chemical.

Your cooperation will be greatly appreciated.

Federal health care law - today and tomorrow

The Supreme Court upheld the 2010 federal health care law, dismissing the challenge by states to the law's requirement that individuals get insurance. The justices, however, did give states the right to opt out of a critical provision requiring them to expand Medicaid programs for the poor and disabled.

The decision will have sweeping ramifications for consumers, state officials, employers and health care providers, including hospitals and doctors.

While some of the key features don't kick in until 2014, the still-controversial law has already altered the health care industry and established a number of consumer benefits.

Here's a FAQ about some of the law's provisions that are already up and running as well as major features of what's to come.

I don't have health insurance. Under the law, will I have to buy it and what happens if I don't?

Right now, you are not required to have health insurance. But beginning in 2014, most people will have to have it or pay a fine. For individuals, the penalty would start at $95 a year, or up to 1 percent of income, whichever is greater, and rise to $695, or 2.5 percent of income, by 2016.

For families the penalty would be $2,085 or 2.5 percent of household income, whichever is greater by 2016 and beyond. The requirement to have coverage can be waived for several reasons, including financial hardship or religious beliefs.

Millions of additional people will qualify for Medicaid or federal subsidies to buy insurance under the law.

I get my health coverage at work and I'd like to keep my current plan. Will I be able to do that? How will my plan be affected by the health law?

If you get insurance through your job, it is likely to stay that way. But, just as before the law was passed, your employer is not obligated to keep the current plan and may change premiums, deductibles, co-pays and network coverage.

You may have seen some law-related changes already. For example, most plans now ban lifetime coverage limits and include a guarantee that an adult child up to age 26 who can't get health insurance at a job can stay on her parents' health plan.

What are some other parts of the law that are now in place?

You are likely to be eligible for preventive services with no out-of-pocket costs, such as breast cancer screenings and cholesterol tests.

Health plans can't cancel your coverage once you get sick - a practice known as "rescission" - unless you committed fraud when you applied for coverage.

Children with pre-existing conditions cannot be denied coverage. This will apply to adults in 2014.

Insurers will have to provide rebates to consumers if they spend less than 80 to 85 percent of premium dollars on medical care.

Some existing plans, if they haven't changed significantly since passage of the law, do not have to abide by certain parts of the law. For example, these "grandfathered" plans can still charge beneficiaries part of the cost for preventive services.

If you're currently in one of these plans, and your employer makes significant changes, such as raising your out-of-pocket costs, the plan would then have to abide by all aspects of the health law.

I want health insurance but I can't afford it. What will I do?

Depending on your income, you might be eligible for Medicaid. Currently, in most states nonelderly adults without minor children don't qualify for Medicaid. But beginning in 2014, the federal government is offering to pay the cost of an expansion in the programs so that anyone with an income at or lower than 133 percent of the federal poverty level, (which based on current guidelines would be $14,856 for an individual or $30,656 for a family of four) will be eligible for Medicaid. The Supreme Court said that states cannot be forced to make that change.

What if I make too much money for Medicaid but still can't afford to buy insurance?

You might be eligible for government subsidies to help you pay for private insurance sold in the state-based insurance marketplaces, called exchanges, slated to begin operation in 2014. Exchanges will sell insurance plans to individuals and small businesses.

These premium subsidies will be available for individuals and families with incomes between 133 percent and 400 percent of the poverty level, or $14,856 to $44,680 for individuals and $30,656 to $92,200 for a family of four (based on current poverty guidelines).

Will it be easier for me to get coverage even if I have health problems?

Insurers will be barred from rejecting applicants based on health status once the exchanges are operating in 2014.

I own a small business. Will I have to buy health insurance for my workers?

No employer is required to provide insurance. But starting in 2014, businesses with 50 or more employees that don't provide health care coverage and have at least one full-time worker who receives subsidized coverage in the health insurance exchange will have to pay a fee of $2,000 per full-time employee. The firm's first 30 workers would be excluded from the fee.

However, if you have a firm with 50 or fewer people you won't face any penalties.

In addition, if you own a small business, the health law offers a tax credit to help cover the cost. Employers with 25 or fewer full-time workers who earn an average yearly salary of $50,000 or less today can get tax credits of up to 35 percent of the cost of premiums. The credit increases to 50 percent in 2014.

I'm over 65. How does the legislation affect seniors?

The law is narrowing a gap in the Medicare Part D prescription drug plan known as the "doughnut hole." That's when seniors who have paid a certain initial amount in prescription costs have to pay for all of their drug costs until they spend a total of $4,700 for the year. Then the plan coverage begins again.

That coverage gap will be closed entirely by 2020. Seniors will still be responsible for 25 percent of their prescription drug costs.

The law also has expanded Medicare's coverage of preventive services, such as screenings for colon, prostate and breast cancer, which are now free to beneficiaries. Medicare will also pay for an annual wellness visit to the doctor.

The health law reduced the federal government's payments to Medicare Advantage plans, run by private insurers as an alternative to the traditional Medicare. Medicare Advantage costs more per beneficiary than traditional Medicare. Critics of those payment cuts say that could mean the private plans may not offer many extra benefits, such as free eyeglasses, hearing aids and gym memberships that they now provide.

Will I have to pay more for my health care because of the law?

No one knows for sure. Even supporters of the law acknowledge its steps to control health costs, such as incentives to coordinate care better, may take a while to show significant savings. Opponents say the law's additional coverage requirements will make health insurance more expensive for individuals and for the government.

That said, there are some new taxes and fees. For example, starting in 2013, individuals with earnings above $200,000 and married couples making more than $250,000 will pay a Medicare payroll tax of 2.35 percent, up from the current

1.45 percent, on income over those thresholds. In addition, higher-income people will face a 3.8 percent tax on unearned income, such as dividends and interest.

Starting in 2018, the law will also impose a 40 percent excise tax on the portion of most employer-sponsored health coverage (excluding dental and vision) that exceeds $10,200 a year and $27,500 for families. The tax has been dubbed a "Cadillac" tax because it hits the most generous plans.

Has the law hit some bumps in the road?

Some aspects have not worked out as well as its authors intended.

For example, the law created high-risk insurance pools to help people purchase health insurance. But enrollment in the pools has been less than expected. As of March 31, 61,619 people had signed up for the high-risk pools, but the program, which began in June 2009, was initially expected to enroll between 200,000 to 400,000 people. The cost and the requirements have been difficult for some to meet.

For example, applicants must be uninsured for six months because of a pre-existing medical condition before they can join a pool. And because participants are sicker than the general population, the premiums are higher.

Enrollment has increased since the summer, after the premiums were lowered in some states by as much as 40 percent and some states stepped up advertising.

A long-term care provision of the law is dead for now. The CLASS Act was designed for people to buy federally guaranteed insurance that would have helped consumers eventually cover some long-term-care costs. But last fall, federal officials effectively suspended the program even before it was slated to begin, saying they could not find a way to make it work financially.

The Dodge brand and Armbruster Motor Company will team up with the Sacred Heart Booster Club for a Dodge Booster Club Fundraiser on Saturday, July 14, from 9 a.m. to noon at Sacred Heart. Everyone in the community is invited to come out to test drive the 2012 Dodge Durango, Journey and Grand Caravan, and Dodge will donate money to the Sacred Heart Booster Club. For each person who takes a brief test drive at the event, Dodge will donate $25 to the booster club.

With the cooperation of local dealers like Armbruster Motor Co. in Falls City, the Dodge brand supports local schools and student enrichment programs in communities across the country. Last year, Dodge donated nearly $467,000 to local high school booster clubs through the Dodge Booster Club Fundraiser.

More families eligible for WIC program

Effective immediately, the income guidelines to qualify for the WIC program have expanded, allowing more families eligibility to be on the program.

In October 2009, the Nebraska Women, Infants and Children Nutrition Program (WIC) expanded its food packages to include more healthful foods. The revised food packages boost WIC's effort to promote optimal nutrition breastfeeding, and better accommodate participants with cultural preferences. The new expanded food package includes fresh fruit and vegetable vouchers, 100% whole grain bread, brown rice, canned beans, dairy alternative soy products, tuna and salmon, tortillas and jarred baby food.

Additionally, breastfeeding women will receive enhanced food packages and more food for their infants over six months of age. They will continue to receive breastfeeding support and counseling, health-care referrals and access to breast pumps.

WIC provides health food at no cost and nutrition information to help pregnant women, infants and children under five healthy and strong.

You are eligible if you live in Nebraska, are pregnant, post partum or breastfeeding woman, an infant or child under five years of age. Fathers, guardians or foster parents may apply for WIC for their children. You may qualify if you are within income guidelines; however, you automatically qualify for WIC if you currently receive ADC, Food Stamps, Kids Connection or Medicaid.

Family Health Services, Inc. WIC program provides service monthly in Auburn, Beatrice, Falls City, Fairbury, Hebron, Nebraska City, Plattsmouth, Table Rock and Tecumseh.

To schedule an appointment or to obtain more information on how to qualify for WIC, call 1-402-335-2988.

Dog Days of Summer

Hot, sticky days that make us sweat! Days when nothing seems to be happening...dog days of summer! Dog days are here when the Dog Star, Sirius, appears over the horizon just before sunrise. At one time, people who were superstitious thought Sirius drove dogs mad in the heat of the summer. Sirius shines with a bluish-white light. It is the brightest star in our universe besides our sun. Sirius is in the constellation Canis Major, the Great Dog. Try to keep cool!

Did you know that dogs don't sweat the way humans do? Although dogs have a few sweat glands, they cool off mainly by panting.

Where I live we have hot summers. We are used to the heat, but lately it's been too hot. I've been feeling as sick as a dog. Woof!

Tips to Keep Cool:

- drink lots of water
- visit an air-conditioned library or mall
- slow down
- keep shades drawn
- use fans
- wear light-colored clothing

The hottest days of the year are here and...

1. _____ are tossing and turning, trying to sleep.
2. pesky _____ are buzzing and biting.
3. _____ are wilting from lack of rain.
4. air conditioners hum and _____ whirl.
5. garbage and trash _____ are smelling bad!
6. _____ is parched because there is a drought.
7. chocolate _____ are melting.
8. _____ is protecting our skin from the sun's rays.
9. bicycle _____ are sinking into heated tar.
10. our _____ is running overtime to keep food cold.
11. our bare _____ are cooling on the green grass.
12. our _____ is sweating to cool our bodies.

A.L.A. Unit #102

A.L.A. Unit #102 met at the Legion Club at 1 p.m. on June 25.

The meeting was opened with the Flag Salute, the preamble, an opening prayer and a silent prayer for deceased members.

President Charlene Schuetz opened the business meeting, roll was taken and the treasurer's report given. Among the bills paid was $500 sent to the State Auxiliary and postage for coupons sent to the Armed Forces. The District 13 vice president informed the unit that it did not have enough members who voted to disband the Auxiliary so it will be an inactive unit for one year with two meetings a year. Dues will be the same in 2013.

The unit will fulfill its commitment for 225 trays and favors and 25 centerpieces for Western Nebraska Vets and tray favors to the Omaha Medical Center for Labor Day. A work day is scheduled for July 16 at Charlene Schuetz's home to do centerpieces and tray favors.

Seniors' champs of SENBC Tournament

Falls City's American Legion Seniors made it two in a row in the Southern Division of the Southeast Nebraska Baseball Conference with a win Friday night over No. 1 seed Nebraska City, but more importantly they kept the momentum going and defeated Syracuse 10-0 Saturday to claim the SENBC league championship.

Josh Stoller picked up his fourth win of the season Saturday pitching all five innings. Stoller allowed no runs on just five hits and struck out five. He got himself out a jam in the third inning when Syracuse's Jayce Cameron and Shane Keslar started the inning with back-to-back singles, then Stoller walked the third batter to load the bases. Stoller settled down by striking out two of the next three batters and forcing Tim Parde to fly out to second base.

Stoller also helped himself at the plate by going 2-3 with two RBIs at the plate. Left fielder Tyler DiGiacomo went 2-2 with two RBIs. Falls City's first seven batters had at least one RBI.

Logan Faller pitched a gem Friday to knock off Nebraska City. Faller went the distance and allowed only two earned runs and six hits, while also striking out six to record his fourth victory of the season.

Trevor and Mitchell Harling each had a pair of hits for Falls City. Mitchell also scored twice, while Trevor, Kenny Frederick and Wade Witt each drove in a run.

With the game all nodded up at 3-3 in the top half of the fifth, Frederick and DiGiacomo both earned walks and Frederick eventually came around to score on an error during a pickoff play when Nebraska City's third baseman Bill Breazile let the ball get by him. DiGiacomo would also cross the plate in the fifth and that would be all Falls City would need.

The Seniors defeated No. 2 seed Tecumseh 5-1 in the first round Wednesday night. Lane Scheitel improved to 6-1 on the season pitching four shutout innings. Scheitel struck out six and allowed just two hits. Josh Stoller relieved Scheitel in the fifth and allowed just three hits striking out four to help preserve the victory.

Chaz Dunn led Falls City at the plate going 3-4 with an RBI as well as swiping two bases and scoring two runs. Scheitel, Wade Witt and Trevor and Mitchell Harling each add an RBI.

Falls City travels to Doniphan,

KS, tonight. The Juniors will play at 6 p.m., followed by the Seniors at 8.

Falls City's Juniors dropped their final two games in the SENBC Conference Tournament to finish fourth.

Falls City fell to Nebraska City in an 8-7 heartbreaker last Thursday night. Then, were easily defeated 11-3 by Lincoln's Teckmeyer Financial Sunday in the third-place game.

Falls City scored all seven runs in the first three innings against Nebraska City, but Nebraska City rallied for two runs in the bottom of the fifth and one in the sixth to come back for the victory.

Brandt Vice and Tyler DiGiacomo each had a pair of hits for Falls City and Jordy Stoller and Austin Malone each drove in two runs.

In last Tuesday night's first round game, the Juniors rolled through Tecumseh with a 13-6 victory.

Aided by four Tecumseh errors, Falls City blew the game open in the bottom of the fourth when they put six runs on the board to take a 10-4 lead.

Vice (3-4, 2B, 3B, 6 RBIs) and second baseman DiGiacomo (4 RBIs) had huge games for Falls City. Malone and right fielder Reese Hogue each scored three runs, while DiGiacomo, starting pitcher Logan Scheitel and Stoller each crossed the plate twice for Falls City.

Scheitel tossed five innings for Falls City to earn the victory. Scheitel allowed just three hits and two earned while striking out four Tecumseh batters.

Local bowlers raise $138,000 for Big Brothers Big Sisters

In April, more than 700 bowlers took to the lanes to raise $138,000 for Heartland Big Brothers Big Sisters.

Heartland Big Brothers Big Sisters has been providing youth with Big Brother and Big Sister mentors in Johnson, Nemaha, Richardson and Pawnee counties since 2009. Over $3,500 was raised from donors in the four county area and three bowling teams participated at the event held in Lincoln.

"We had an amazing group of donors representing the four county area," said Dana Berger, Program Director. "I have had the opportunity to meet so many great supporters and friends over the last four years. There were groups who hosted fundraisers and people who generously gave from their hearts to support the Big Brothers Big Sisters program in Johnson, Nemaha, Richardson and Pawnee counties."

A big thank you was expressed to the following Richardson County donors and contributors: True Value Hardware; Kim Maddox; Al's Barber Shop; Stella's Hitch N Post; Wilma Werner; Home Lumber Company; Farm & City Supply; Deckinger Body Shop; Sapp Brothers 66; Gary Wenz; Farmers Repair and Machine Shop LLC; Vice Propane; Goodfellas Enterprises; Deb Haveman; and Denny and Sara Stiers.

CLASS of 1948

Eight members of the Falls City High School Class of 1948 met at A&G Restaurant Saturday evening, June 23, for the 64th reunion of the class.

Those present were: Elaine Solt Hall and Jim, Overland Park, KS; Dave Brooks, Platte City, MO, and Marlan and Maria Downey, Dallas, TX.

Paul and Mary Jane Weintert, Rex and Virginia Jones, Norma Lee Constantine Duerfeldt and Marvin, Bob and Lee Ferguson, Joan Hilgenfeld Zoeller and Ken, all of Falls City.

Plans were discussed for their 65th-year reunion in 2013.

Artist Allan Tubach added to FCHS Wall of Fame

Allan Tubach was inducted into the Falls City School Systems Wall of Fame at the FCHS Alumni Association dinner Sunday, June 24, at Prichard Auditorium.

Allan is a native of Falls City and graduated from FC High with the Class of 1957. He and his wife, Dorothy Picton Tubach, FCHS Class of 1959, live and work in Omaha, where she is an attorney.

His paintings are represented in more than 500 individual, corporate and public collections nationwide, including the Joslyn Art Museum in Omaha, the Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery in Lincoln and the Museum of Nebraska Art in Kearney.

His work also is on display at Villanova University, R. R. Donnelley & Sons, Inc., Chicago, Chapman University, the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City, the Holland Performing Arts Center in Omaha and the Nebraska Governor's residence. Since 1964 Allan has exhibited his work in galleries and museums both nationally and internationally with representations in Japan, Paris and Poland.

Much of his work has reflected his eastern Nebraska roots with the people, places and architecture as a focus. He was described by National Geographic in 1974 as "one of the Midwest's outstanding young painters who explore the essence of life on the great American prairie."

Allan has traveled extensively and has created over 950 paintings exploring the United States and the diverse cultures in 22 countries; 350 of his works represent Nebraska with over 75 set in Richardson County.

He intertwines history, culture and architecture into the fabric of his paintings. Many works have been created for cultural institutions like the Omaha Symphony, Opera Omaha, Joslyn Art Museum, United Arts Omaha and Brownville Concert Series.

In 1988, Allan was the recipient of a Nebraska Governor's Arts Award.

His 2004 book, "Allen Tubach Paintings, Allegories & Artifacts," spans his more than 40 years as an artist.

In addition to his two decades with the Omaha World-Herald where he was Art Director, he also served as a member of Joslyn's Board of Governors and was chairman of the Omaha Public Art Commission. Other public service has included Landmark's Inc., United Arts Omaha, Heritage Nebraska and Omaha by Design.

for 33 cents.

He focused on public schools. "We are fortunate to have always had them in our lives, but too many people in the world do not have this opportunity," he said, and cited examples. "Here our schools are not perfect. Our teachers remain human and fallible, but I would prefer nowhere else to relive my childhood, and I believe in the power of public education to teach every student who comes through the front door as much as possible."

Martin continued, "I want to honor our teachers" and he did so, naming a number of them in the Falls City school system who had a great influence on his life. Plus interesting incidents concerning them.

He told of the fund drive, through the years, of the class of 1962, culminated on June 18 when a check for $20,000 was given to the Falls City Ed Foundation "with the intention that the money will be used by the School Board in the best way it sees fit for capital improvements in this school district....This donation honors the 17 deceased classmates who cannot be present to celebrate our 50th class reunion."

Martin paused during his presentation while Marilyn Jilek Stadler, a member of the '62 class, raised a toast to a deceased member of the class, Bill Carlson, who had always done so at class gatherings.

Rex Jones and Bob Ferguson of the class of 1948, inducted Allan Tubach, renowned Omaha artist, class of 1957, into the Falls City Public Schools System Wall of Fame. Photos and bios of those who have been inducted into the Wall of Fame are opposite the main entrance to FCHS. In response, Allan congratulated Falls City on the way it has progressed in recent years. He noted that he has created over 75 of his paintings in Richardson County and looks forward to doing many more. A photo and story highlighting his distinguished career appear on an inside page of the Journal.

Mel Harmon, president of the Ed Foundation, reported that donations from FCHS alumni this year total over $16,000 and 21 scholarships amounting to $19,950 were awarded. He said that the Foundation now has 20 scholarships that are funded each year from endowment funds that total over $520,000. A listing of the scholarships appears elsewhere in today's Journal.

He announced three new scholarships. Donald Baker, York, and his brother, Charles, Minola, TX, have funded a $3,000 scholarship in memory of their parents, Ralph and Erna Baker. Mr. Baker was a long-time Missouri Pacific Railroad employee. Don also has established a $2,000 scholarship in memory of Doug and Dave Brenner. Doug was a much-decorated Air Force pilot who flew with the famous Thunderbirds, flew combat in the Korean and Vietnam Wars and rose to the rank of colonel. Dave was a Navy pilot who flew combat in the Korean War and then became a United Airlines captain.

Another new scholarship, the Delpha Yoder Findley Memorial Scholarship, has been established by Mrs. Findley's son, Steve Yoder, Carnation, WA, and his sister, Kim Yoder Goff, Falls City. Mrs. Findley was a former director of nursing at Falls City Community Hospital and Northview Care Center.

Members of the 50-year class were introduced by Richard Zentner. Huettner introduced alumni who graduated in the 1930s and later members of all classes in attendance. Margaret Steinbrink Koester, FC, class of 1934, won "the oldest" title. Huettner also recognized members of the Alumni Board, which plans and runs off the reunion--a monumental job.

FCHS CLASS of 1952

By Carolyn Little Meinzer

Friday evening started the weekend off with a few people gathering at the Elks Club for dinner and conversation.

Gray hair, added pounds and bifocals were the main focal points at the 40th reunion but canes, walkers and arthritic strides came along 20 years later when they met at the home of Paul and Carolyn Meinzer on Saturday morning for coffee. The morning was spent telling of their families and sharing pictures.

Saturday evening brought 16 classmates, 11 spouses and one guest to the Richardson County Historical Museum for dinner. The meal was catered by Anne M's Catering. The tables were covered with black tablecloths and an orange table runner down the center. Each matching black napkin was beautifully tied with orange and black ribbon and placed on a gold charger plate. This also was done by the catering service.

A memory table was decorated with orange and black carnations placed in a tall bud vase for the 25 deceased members. There were 74 in our graduating class and we were able to contact 47 of them.

Dick Schock of Huntsville, AL, came the longest distance. He also acted as master of ceremonies by reading letters from classmates who could not attend and convinced everyone to enter into conversation about the many fun times at dear old Falls City High.

Those attending most, if not all, of the activities included: Bill and Dot Dorste and Arleta Falloon, Omaha; Keith and Corene Griffiths Herbster, Lincoln; Ken and Shirley Sailors, Dunlap, IA; Mary H. Krueger Nussbaum and Myron, Rulo; Velda Vogt Hughes, Bellevue; Eileen Hullman Stalder and Stanley, Humboldt; Dick Schock, Huntsville, AL; Tommie Townsend, Birmingham, AL.

Pat Richmond Scheitel and Marv, Bob and Viv Zeigler, Merle and Karen Joy, Norma Runyan Eckwert and Ed, Carolyn Little Meinzer and Paul, John and Barb Parrish, Marlin Peck, Donna Preusse Fallner and Cecil, all of Falls City.

CLASS of 1947

By Marie Niemeyer Pupkes

Members of the Falls City High School class of 1947 celebrated their 65th class reunion the weekend of June 23 and 24.

Thirty-one classmates, spouses and guests attended the reunion Saturday evening at the High School Commons Area and the Alumni Association dinner Sunday at Prichard Auditorium. The Saturday evening dinner of chicken breasts and smothered steak was catered by Ann Smith and granddaughter, Rachel Adams, and arranged by Leon Joy.

Darlene Rieschick Tisdell cut the cake made by Susan Rieger. Table decorations and floral arrangements were provided by Carolyn Joy, Marjorie Boatman Noa, Delila Krause Vice and Beverly Sefried Kimmel.

Leon Joy, emcee, introduced Delila Krause Vice, who gave the welcome and the invocation. The class pictures were taken by Bob Dunn and each classmate introduced themselves. Letters from classmates who were unable to attend were read by Marie Niemeyer Pupkes. Readings appropriate for the occasion were read by Beverly Se-fried Kimmel. Prizes were won by Delbert Falsken for traveling the longest distance and Mary Lou Eickhoff Johnson for the most children and grandchildren.

Leon thanked all who helped to make the reunion a success. The rest of the evening was spent reminiscing.

Those in attendance were: Jim Budeit and daughter, Dina, North Potomac, MD; Delbert and Ann Falsken, Seal Beach, CA; Norman and Dorothy Last and Bob Dunn, Lincoln; Rose Marie Weber Hinde, Troy, KS; Clara Lamiller Coonce, Humboldt; Evelyn Gruber Auxier and daughter, Ruth, Beatrice; Irene Duerfeldt McDowell, Desoto, KS; Mari Lee Zentner Tanner, Pioneer, CA, and guest, Dennis Heinzelman.

From Falls City: Don and Joetta Shaw, Beverly Sefried Kimmel, Darlene Rieschick Tisdell, John and Donna Meyer, Marjorie Boatman Noa, Norma Kanady Furnas and guest, Howard Vice, Betty Holbert Waddle, Mary Lou Eickhoff Johnson, Leon and Carolyn Joy, Delila Krause Vice, Marie Niemeyer Pupkes and guests, Bill (Duane) and Gail Pupkes, Jefferson City, MO.

CLASS of 1962

By Della Meyer, Ph.D.

Members of the FCHS Class of 1962 celebrated their 50th reunion, which was hosted by their very own caterer, Violet McTaggart, at Shades of Violet. Burma Shave Signs, which read '50 years!—Can this be true?—Welcome Class of 1962!' led classmates to the backyard paradise of hanging floral baskets and tables adorned with linen and china. In this magical setting, classmates discovered that the dreams of youth are woven with threads of memory to create the gold of joy, laughter, and life-long friendships.

Class members received button badges of their 1962 annual pictures and memory books with addresses, member biographies and picture collages, and obituaries of deceased members. A memorial board of pictures above white gardenias commemorated deceased members.

Honored guests on Friday night were Leon and Carolyn Joy. Tables were draped with class colors of green and white. On Saturday night, floral arrangements of orange tiger lilies and roses centered tables draped with black linen tablecloths and orange napkins with records for napkin rings. Music of the 1960's set the mood for dining. Guest Bobbie McTaggart emceed a 1962 Trivia Contest in which classmates searched their memory banks to vie for prizes, which ranged from toy cars to magnetic paper dolls.

Thinking of dollars and banking, what was the cost of gasoline in 1962? It was 28 cents a gallon. What a difference 50 years makes!

Citizen questions property reviews

Members of the Richardson County Board of Commissioners met with Alvin Simon during their June 26 regular meeting.

Simon expressed concerns about an advertisement from the County Assessor notifying property owners of the review of residential property in Falls City. Simon said he is concerned about photos being taken and citizens' privacy rights. Approximately six people were present for the discussion.

Board members Dave Sickel, Bill Ely and Jim Davidson explained that the inspections are being done at this time as required by Nebraska Statutes and that photos of the exteriors of properties will be taken. Interior photos will not be taken. In addition, property owners are not required to allow the interior inspection of their properties.

In their weekly meeting with Highway Supt. Scott Huppert, the board reviewed recently received bids: 13.2 miles of county road, armor coat, $323,621; 6 miles of county road, asphaltic overlay, $160,000; and for the purchase of a crane. No formal action was taken and further consideration will be made at today's meeting.

In other developments, the board:

—Met with County Treasurer Connie Kennedy to discuss the possibility of utilizing software programs from the Multi-County Information and Programming Systems (MIPS). Mrs. Kennedy said she would begin to use the MIPS programs July 1 and gradually convert the software programming within the next two years.

—Approved the sub grant agreement between the county and the Department of Health and Human Services Child Support Enforcement Program with the Clerk of the District Court, Pam Scott.

—Met as a Board of Equalization and reviewed 48 property valuation protests and approved a tax exemption application for Christ Church of Falls City.

—Adopted a resolution regarding the finance of expenses over the FY 2011-12 budgeted amounts in the County Assessor, County Sheriff, County Jail and Veterans Service Office to be financed from the unencumbered cash balance of the County General Fund.

—Approved an agreement presented by County Sheriff Randy Houser for the rental of space to be utilized by Snaks 4-U of Wetmore, KS, for the placement of vending machines in the lobby of the third floor Sheriff's Office/Jail for $5 per month.

—Received notification from the International Union of Operating Engineers Local 571 that representation for the employees of the Sheriff's Department and Jail would expire at the end of the current Collective Bargaining Agreement, June 30, 2012.

—Allowed all claims, including those held from the previous week to Jim Gerweck, which were held for further review and justification as they were submitted over the 90-day time period.
