Out of the 8th seed, an 8th title

By Brian McKim

On a crisp Monday morning in Lincoln in front of 1,800 estimated fans at Memorial Stadium, the FC Sacred Heart Irish earned a third come-from-behind playoff win of this fall and in doing so, captured the program's eighth state football championship, beating Twin Loup 44-28.

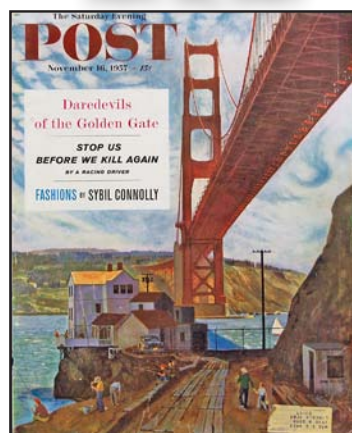

Sacred Heart, the eighth seed in the East bracket entering this year's playoffs, went through top-seeded Osceola with an implausible 34-28 road win in the second round, then traveled way north and hammered fifth-seeded Bloomfield 46-12 before finally returning home to face No. 1-ranked and second-seeded BDS in a dramatic rematch of a 36-12 Irish loss back on Oct. 7. Sacred Heart's thrilling 16-12 upset, with the winning drive mounted capped with 14 seconds left on the clock, secured a return trip to Lincoln's Memorial Stadium for the D2 title game, against the No. 1 seed in the West.

(Please turn to Page 7)

FCSH Coach Doug Goltz might have wanted to grab lineman Bryant Jorn and shake him on occasion the past four years, but in the end it was the bear doing the hugging after the Irish's 44-28 D2 State Title win over Twin Loup. It couldn't rankle the reserved Hall of Famer too much, considering the moment; and it didn't - the massive 320-pounder, whose physical bigness gets dwarfed only by his gigantic personality, avoided reprimand. He doesn't owe his football coach a single wind sprint. No word from his basketball coach.

'Fishing Under the Golden Gate'

Nov. 16, 1957

FCPS health insurance rates spike 8 percent

Health insurance rates for Falls City Public Schools will rise by 7.99 percent next year, District 56 Supt. Tim Heckenlively reported last Monday, Nov. 14, at the regular monthly Board of Education meeting held at the Central Office in FC Middle School.

The Educators Health Alliance, a consortium of three statewide public school education groups that manages the plan, approved the rate. The increase applies to all EHA medical and dental plan options. Rate increases in the previous three years were 4.9 percent, 1.91 percent; and 2.30 percent. By comparison, the State of Nebraska employee health plan saw increases of 8, 11 and 10 percent.

Dental benefits in the 2017-18 plan have been updated and the new benefits provide greater emphasis on preventative care and, in order to keep the plan's cost neutral, add limited co-payments for other services.

In other news from the meeting:

-District officials are considering new bleachers in the high school gym and expanded parking at the high school. The high school welding and industrial technology shop and classroom areas remain to be a priority in future facility planning efforts, Heckenlively said.

The FCHS alumni Class of 1966 will donate $10,700 towards an outdoor sitting area at FCHS. The project is currently in its early design stage.

Thanksgiving is this week and I couldn’t be happier about it. We are sliding into my favorite time of the year. Granny’s oyster stuffing, mom’s bevy of decadent desserts and buttered rolls like Aunt Mayree used to make. Is there anything better?

For the past two weeks I have been in a whirlwind of group texts making sure every detail of Thanksgiving week is perfect, cleaning my house top to bottom and food planning. Alex has been assisting me in the kitchen lately and will be helping me bake seven pies, dozens of rolls and home-made mashed potatoes. We’ve slowly been working on how things work in the kitchen and tonight, as several of you get this paper, we will be working like crazy to start our Thanksgiving preparations.

After we’ve all devoured far too much food, my favorite part of the entire year starts. Black Friday shopping. For my sister, cousin and me, the conversation started months ago. Who would drive what, who will bring the stack of coupons from the Thanksgiving day paper to dinner and a countdown of how many days we have until we get to literally shop until we drop. We put a lot into our all night girls trip, and its almost better than Christmas in my book.

Before the food, family, shopping and fun, Brian and I took Alex and a friend to Lincoln this last weekend for the Husker game. I chose not to attend, but instead had an entirely different day all together. In an effort to save money for Christmas, I didn’t want to do a lot of shopping or anything too expensive. I walked with the guys down to the stadium just so I could get some exercise and enjoy the sights and sounds of Lincoln on a game day. I watched them rush in with only a few minutes before kick-off and started my day.

I wandered around downtown Lincoln for a while lost in my own thoughts. I examined each man hole cover, tree and storefront I passed. I popped into Starbucks for some coffee before I decided to see a movie. Before the River Twin closed here in Falls City, I would walk to the theater and see a film by myself. I have always loved going to a movie alone. I can choose anything I’d like to see, stretch out and laugh and cry as loud or as much as I want. There is something very freeing and calming about it. On this particular day in Lincoln during the Husker game, I walked into an empty theater, purchased one ticket to a Christmas movie that I knew Brian wouldn’t see, and stretched out in the center of the theater. For ten minutes I checked my email and sent some texts before the film started. I was shocked and thrilled when the lights went low and I was still all alone. I had my own private showing of a movie that made me cry-several times. I didn’t worry about anyone judging me as I bawled and bawled. I loved every moment of it too. After, I walked to a doughnut shop and sat alone on the front steps eating a Fruit Loop covered doughnut. I watched people walk by, heard their conversations and studied the hustle and bustle of Lincoln

I haven’t thought of work, politics, cleaning my house or money in hours and I felt really good for the first time in a long time. It was the first time in years that I wasn’t in my own head worrying about a dozen things that I can’t control. I could feel myself smiling as I watched people walk by. I must have looked like a fool, but I didn’t care. A man who appeared to be homeless passed by and asked for a dollar. I offered him a doughnut. Well, that didn’t go over well. He asked me what he would do with a doughnut. I lowered my head, almost ashamed at how dumb I must have sounded. A younger man who had witnessed the entire thing walked by. The man who had asked me for a dollar asked this young man for a dollar. The young man told him no, he had been rude to me. I wanted to explain that I didn’t have cash on me, and my purse was tucked in under my large coat, and a million other excuses.

I picked up my box of doughnuts and started the long walk back to the car. As I walked I encountered several other gentlemen who held signs asking for money. I didn’t make eye contact and ignored their pleas. I felt terrible with each man I passed-and got angrier the longer I walked. Who was this man to make me feel bad for not having money to give him? Why did I owe him an explanation? Why did I let him make me feel like a bad person for offering him food? I was ashamed at myself for ignoring other people who may have needed that food. I was having such a carefree day and wanted to share my happiness with someone else, especially during this week of Thanksgiving. I wanted to give back, even if it was something as simple as a doughnut.

As I made it back to my car I decided that I can’t let one bad seed get me down. Not everyone will appreciate what you have to offer. Not everyone will appreciate that you are willing to give so much of yourself to them. Not everyone will appreciate something as small as a doughnut, but keep trying. Keep giving much of yourself to others and try to hand them that doughnut, because one day someone is going to need that food and one honest thank-you will make up for every person who has said, ‘What am I supposed to do with a doughnut?’ Also, find time to go to the movies alone. It’s magnificent.

The Nebraska Legislature: It’s a family affair

Capitol View

Like father, like son. Like mother, like son. Like mother, like daughter. Like uncle, like nephew. Like son, like father.

The Legislature has often been a family affair. This year’s election of Steve Erdman of Bayard as the new state senator from District 47 in the Nebraska Panhandle, throws an interesting twist to the familial pattern. His son, Phil, served two terms from 2001-2009.

The more traditional father-son relationship started in the very first year of the Nebraska Unicameral when the late Charles Warner of Waverly served from 1937 to 1939 when he was the first Speaker of the Legislature. He had served in the Nebraska House from 1901 to 1907 and had served in the Nebraska Senate from 1919 to 1936. He also managed to serve four terms as Lieutenant Governor.

Warner’s son Jerome (Jerry) Warner served from 1963 until his death in 1997. He was Speaker from 1969-1971 and was the longest serving chairman of the powerful nine-member Appropriations Committee. He was a champion of Nebraska’s Department of Roads and the stretch of Nebraska Highway 2 from Lincoln to Nebraska City is named the Jerome and Betty Warner Expressway. The late Betty Warner was a former newspaper reporter who later worked for the roads department as the writer of many of the state’s annual road plans.

Jerry Warner had a tendency to speak rather quickly and sometimes mumble during floor debate when he explained facets of the state budget. But, when he addressed a serious matter, he spoke slowly and enunciated every word. As reporters, we quickly learned that if we understood what he was saying, it was important and we should be writing down every word.

Another father-son combo was Stanley Matzke Sr. who served from 1940 to 1942 and again from 1964 to 1966. It was during that later term that he was the champion for making the technical school at Milford (in his district) a part of the Southeast Community College system. His son Gerald Matzke served District 47 from 1993 to 2000 and, like his father, was statesmanlike in his demeanor.

Senator Maurice Kremer of Aurora served in the Legislature from 1963 to 1983. He was best known for helping establish groundwater laws and earned the nickname, “Mr. Water.” He was chair of the Agriculture and Public Works committees. He also later served on the board of trustees for the Nebraska Groundwater Foundation. His son Bob served from 1999 through 2006. The younger Kremer served on the Natural Resources Committee and was, like his father, chair of the Agriculture Committee.

Senator Carol Pirsch of Omaha, a member of one of the first large classes of new senators, served from 1979 to 1997. Her son Pete followed in her footsteps and served from 2007 to 2015. Carol Pirsch spent time on the Judiciary Committee. Pete was on the Banking and Revenue Committees.

Omaha Senator Gwen Howard served from 2005-2012. She was a member of the Legislature’s Education and Health and Human Services Committees. After being term-limited, she was replaced by her daughter Sarah Howard in 2013. Like her mother, she has served on the Health and Human Services Committee as well as the Banking and Finance Committee. She was recently elected to her second term.

Senator Ray Janssen of Hooper was elected to the Legislature in 1993 and served until 2008. A grocer, Janssen was a member of the Urban Affairs and Revenue Committees and also served as Chairman of the Revenue Committee. He was replaced by his nephew, Charlie Janssen of Fremont, who ran and served from 2009 to 2014 when he resigned to run for state Auditor, a post to which he was elected. The younger Janssen also served on the Government and Transportation Committees during his legislative tenure.

Now we have a father following in his son’s footsteps. An interesting twist in the halls of the State Capitol.

What you need to know when choosing insurance

“Thinking About Health,” is part of the Nebraska Press Association’s partnership with Rural Health News Service, which will provide Nebraskans with unbiased health-related information, designed to help better understand the health issues facing our communities, state and nation.

By Trudy Lieberman, Rural Health News Service

Even though the election is over and Republicans are in a position to repeal and replace Obamacare as they’ve been vowing to do for several years, that doesn’t mean you should avoid signing up for 2017 insurance coverage.

If you’re eligible and need insurance, the state shopping exchanges are open for business even if options this year are limited in many counties, particularly in rural areas. More than 40 percent of the counties where residents can buy an Obamacare policy have just one insurer selling them. That’s not a lot of choice, and policies that are offered are likely to have high premiums and limited options for doctors and hospitals.

Still, some careful shopping is in order to minimize any surprise bills. After the election, White House Press Secretary Josh Earnest urged Americans to sign up and announced “the vast majority” of eligible consumers would be able to buy insurance for a monthly premium of $75 or less, which has been the administration’s sales pitch.

Assuming the White House math is correct, that doesn’t mean the vast majority should automatically buy a policy with a $75 premium. That strategy can mean expensive trouble later on. Reviewing the basics before wading into the Obamacare marketplace this year is essential.

For starters, recall that platinum policies, generally the most costly, cover 90 percent of someone’s medical costs; gold plans cover 80 percent; silver plans pay 70 percent; and the bronze variety pays the least – only 60 percent of a patient’s healthcare expenses. Silver plans have been the most popular, largely because those who buy them and have family incomes below $60,750 get extra government subsidies to help pay their deductibles, copays and coinsurance.

Bronze policies are popular, too, because they have low premiums, but people buying those policies won’t get the extra subsidies, a point that’s worth remembering. Those subsidies can be a big help if you need a lot of medical services. Both bronze and silver policies generally come with lower monthly premiums, but that doesn’t mean they are cheaper in the long run.

Here’s where comparison-shopping gets tricky. It’s possible a bronze policy and maybe a silver one could end up costing more than a gold one with a higher premium if you get sick. That’s because of the relationship between the premium, copays, coinsurance and deductibles. Insurers mix and match these features to fit their marketing strategy.

In general, a lower premium means higher deductibles and higher other out-of-pocket expenses. A policy with a higher premium often means lower out-of-pocket costs.

For 2017 the maximum amount a family would have to pay out-of-pocket for copays, coinsurance and deductibles is $14,300. That’s a lot of money and enough to deter some people from signing up. Many people say paying that much before insurance pays isn’t really insurance. It’s also high enough to keep people from seeking medical care even when they need it. If people go to the doctor less, the country’s national health expenditures will drop - at least that’s the rationale for the high out-of-pocket limit.

An Indiana couple I’ve written about before in this column recently sent an email updating me on the family’s insurance options for next year. Their carrier had increased their $836 monthly premium to about $1,300; their cost even after an Obamacare tax subsidy was applied. What’s more, the reader said, the insurer had raised the amount of coinsurance for hospitalizations from 20 percent to 50 percent.

Given how much a hospital stay costs, they worried they’d be on the hook for a lot of money until they reached the $14,300 out-of-pocket maximum. It was a risk they weren’t willing to take, and they shopped until they found new coverage for only $700 a month with their subsidy.

Choosing an Obamacare policy or any other insurance coverage comes down to how much risk you want to assume. If you are reasonably certain you won’t need many medical services, you may want to take a chance and buy less expensive insurance that comes with high deductibles, copays, and coinsurance.

But if you’re like the Indiana couple, and afraid of high expenses for unexpected medical care, buy the best policy you can afford that reduces that risk.

Another thing to keep in mind! Beware of policies with really low premiums, prices that seem too good to be true. Consumers who bought insurance from the Obamacare co-ops learned that.

Almost all of the 23 co-ops authorized to compete with the big carriers have gone out of business. They priced their policies too low, and too many sick people signed up. Government regulators closed them down, sending thousands of people scrambling for new coverage – an unwelcome chore for anyone.

Meals on Wheels in Humboldt in need of volunteers

The Humboldt Meals on Wheels program is desperately in need of volunteers to help deliver noon meals.

The program provides a nutritional, low-cost meal for participating elderly or disabled residents, five days a week. Last year, SENCA meal programs provided 22,291 meals to residents in Johnson, Pawnee and Richardson Counties. The program allows participating individuals the opportunity to remain independent and in their own homes, however, the program cannot function without the help of local volunteers.

Volunteers pick up the meals at 11:30 a.m. from Colonial Acres Nursing Home and Assisted Living in Humboldt. Volunteers are asked to allow 30-60 minutes each day for delivery as the number of individuals receiving meals can vary. Once the meals have been delivered, the cooler or other items utilized to transport the meals are returned to Colonial Acres.

If interested in volunteering can contact SENCA in Humboldt 402-862-2411, ext. 108 and speak with Anita Kimpston, Data and Community Services Coordinator.

F&M Bank announces this months
Hometown Spirit Award winner

F&M Bank is excited to announce their November “You’ve Got the Hometown Spirit” award goes to Helping Hands! On November 10th, they presented Linda Kirkendall and all the Helping Hands volunteers and leaders with their “You’ve Got the Hometown Spirit” award certificate and $50 in Chamber bucks.

Helping Hands is a group of student volunteers from Falls City Sacred Heart. This group was started by Marcia Schwartz many years ago and after she retired was taken over by Linda Kirkendall. This group consists of 7th through 12th grade students that do volunteer work for their school, church and the community.

This group of volunteers has raked many lawns, helped individuals move, helped set up vendors at the Annual Craft Fair, and wrapped Christmas presents. They have cleaned up the stands at Prichard after a game, helped at the turkey bazaar and the Knights of Columbus fish fry. This group also helped with a few fun runs, golf tournaments and other events.

Even though the Helping Hands group does all of their work free of charge, they still receive donations throughout the year. The money donated has gone to different things for the school such as the purchase of televisions, DVD’s, books for the library, and treats for test weeks. Currently, the students are using all donations to purchase tables for the Roh Activity Center.

The volunteer work Helping Hands does for the community is remarkable! F&M Bank is proud to recognize all the Helping Hands volunteers and leaders for all their hard work!

Please join F&M Bank in congratulating their November “You’ve Got the Hometown Spirit” award recipient!

CMC receives National recognition for performance leadership in outcomes, patient satisfaction and financial strength

Community Medical Center today announced it has been recognized by iVantage Health Analytics and the National Organization of State Office of Rural Health (NOSORH) for overall excellence in Outcomes, Patient Satisfaction and Financial Strength reflecting top quartile performance among all rural acute care hospitals in the nation.

“Our doctors, practitioners and staff are absolutely committed to our patients and community. I am pleased to see their efforts recognized,” stated Ryan Larsen, CEO.

The rankings have been determined by the Hospital Strength INDEX®, the industry’s most comprehensive and objective assessment of rural hospital performance. In partnership with NOSORH, iVantage Health Analytics has developed a data-driven program designed to identify excellence across a broad spectrum of indicators relevant to hospital performance and patient care. The Hospital Strength INDEX captures performance metrics for all rural and Critical Access Hospitals. Leveraging data from public data sources, INDEX aggregates data from 66 individual metrics into three major categories and nine pillars to derive a single strength overall rating for each facility.

“These top quartile performers should take great pride in this recognition. It showcases their commitment to continuous performance analysis and improvement. On this occasion of National Rural Health Day (November 17), it’s an honor to celebrate their achievement as they continue to serve their communities despite the many market, regulatory and financial pressures they face,” said Michael Topchik, National Leader of the Chartis Center for Rural Health.

About NOSORH: The National Organization of State Offices of Rural Health (NOSORH) was established in 1995 to assist State Offices of Rural Health in their efforts to improve access to, and the quality of, health care for America’s 61 million rural citizens. NOSORH enhances the capacity of SORHs to do this by supporting the development of state and community rural health leaders; creating and facilitating state, regional and national partnerships that foster information sharing and spur rural health-related programs/activities; and enhancing access to quality healthcare services in rural communities

About iVantage Health Analytics: iVantage Health Analytics (iVantage) is a leading provider of healthcare analytic and performance management analytic tools. Health system and hospital leadership teams across the country rely on the company’s software and services to deliver customized insights on clinical and financial performance, strategic planning, market assessment and payment optimization. iVantage is part of The Chartis Group, a national advisory services firm dedicated to the healthcare industry. The Chartis Center for Rural Health (CCRH) was formed in 2016 to offer tailored services, performance management solutions, research and education to rural hospitals and facilities. Veterans Day program and lunch held

The Shubert American Legion Auxiliary held a Veterans Day Luncheon Friday, Nov. 11 for all Veterans and the community to honor our veterans. A crowd of 42 were served a turkey meal and pumpkin dessert.

Following lunch Robert Beckett and Jim Owings, Veterans and Legion Members of the Shubert American Legion, spoke of their trip which they were selected to go on with the Vietnam Honor Flight to Washington, D.C. June 6, 2016. Their day started leaving Eppley Airfield around 4 a.m. They got to visit the Memorial Wall, a drive-around tour to see the Capitol and White House, among a few other sites before stops at the World War II Memorial. Visit to the Arlington National Cemetery including the Changing of the Guard Ceremony at the Tomb of the Unknowns.

While the veterans were in D.C., their wives were enjoying the home front back in Nebraska. They got a tour of Memorial Stadium, lunch and an afternoon spent enjoying a tour of choices. They boarded a bus bound for Eppley Airfield to welcome their loved and beloved heroes home. Families with small children, and veterans of all ages greeted our veterans upon their return. Robert and Jim both were very grateful for the opportunity to attend and encouraged any one eligible to apply.

The Veterans Day Program was held by the Shubert American Legion Auxiliary, Table Rock Auxiliary and Humboldt Auxiliary at the HTRS School in Humboldt. The program was opened with the American Legion presenting the colors followed with the Pledge of Allegiance.

Shubert American Legion Auxiliary President, Tana Brown, gave the welcome and patriotic thoughts with Lindsay of the Humboldt Auxiliary. Poem “Symbols of our Country” was read by Shubert Auxiliary member Elizabeth Ketner and Sharla Cerra member of the Table Rock Auxiliary showed the children how to thank a Vet for their service. Veteran John Banks assisted the Boy Scouts in folding the flag while Veteran Robert Beckett read the meaning of each fold. Robert Beckett spoke of his duties during his service and Veteran Jim Owings spoke of the Vietnam Honor Flight which he and Robert Beckett were selected to go on this year. Colors were retired by the Legion Members. Patriotic Book markers were handed to the students as they left.

Again, and only fittingly, the Irish fell into a quick 14-0 hole only to climb out and emerge holding the shiny trophy. FCSH Coach Doug Goltz improves to 8-0 in state football championship games and the 2016 trophy will find its place alongside that garnered in 2013, 1994, 1993, 1992, 1991, 1990 and 1989. None of those seven teams overcame half the adversity this one did. After losing to BDS in the regular season, FCSH (fairly or otherwise) nearly tumbled completely out of the state rankings, emerging 10th that week in the Omaha World-Herald. This week? No. 1.

Sacred Heart came out of the gate slowly Monday. However in athletics we are often told its now how you start the race but how you finish it. The Irish kept fighting and clawing their way back into the game and kept their heads high after an early deficit, out-scoring the previously unbeaten Wolves 22-6 in the second half in front of a boisterous Irish fan base.

"I'm just happy for this team, they've been a good group all season long and they just got better each week, they really did," Goltz said. "From the BDS loss to now - just a real good improvement."

Twin Loup began their opening drive at their own 14-yard-line, and Irish senior end Michael Keithley immediately made his presence known, as he stopped the Wolves ball carrier dead in his tracks on the game's first play. Theo Rhorer followed that up by batting down a pass and Sacred Heart went on to force a three-and-out to begin the game. The ensuing punt gave FCSH great field position at midfield, but the Irish couldn't capitalize, turning it over on downs at the Wolves' 31.

Twin Loup moved the ball down the field quickly and took the early lead when running back Alex Horky rumbled in on a sweep from the three-yard-line. With 6:59 to play In the first quarter, it was 6-0 Twin Loup (the PAT was no good).

The Irish once again began with great field position after the Wolves had three straight penalties on the ensuing kickoff. They began the drive at their own 35-yard-line, but were forced to punt the ball away after just three plays. SH struggled early in getting the offense into a rhythm, missing blocks and overthrowing intended receivers.

"We had a really poor start," Goltz said. "There were a lot of breakdowns and mistakes and we got on our heels. The biggest thing was we couldn't run the ball early."

After forcing the Wolves to punt deep in their own territory, yet another Irish drive started with excellent field position, this time at the Loup 33. But on the first play from scrimmage, Braden Strohl scooped up an Irish fumble and took it to the house, 45 yards for a touchdown. With 3:43 to play in the opening quarter, Twin Loup's successful two-point conversion made it 14-0.

Another stalled Irish offensive series gave the ball back to Twin Loup, but with their heels touching the goal line after an excellent punt by Emerson Keithley. Just as it had against BDS, it was up to the defense to turn the tide. And, again, the defense delivered. A TL fumble was recovered by Austin Ahern at the five and the senior was rewarded, getting the handoff on the first play of the drive, pounding it in from the five-yard line. The conversion attempt was no good, making it a 14-6 game with 2:15 remaining in the half, but the blood was starting to warm up inside the heart of the Irish.

Their next drive was a 65-yard

(TOP) Emerson Keithley's 40-yard TD reception from QB Drew Bippes helped the Irish tie it at 22 entering halftime; the Bippes-to-Keithley 56-yarder in the third quarter truly turned the tide. (LEFT) Michael Keithley "decleats" Twin Loup QB Rowdy Oxford during Sacred Heart's state championship game win. Keithley made 10 tackles, half behind the line of scrimmage. (RIGHT) The Irish ground game and Sean Arnold were held mostly in check by the Wolves, but the Irish got it done through the air. Arnold caught three passes for 84 yards. His two-point conversion run in the third quarter gave the Irish, which had trailed 14-0 early, a two-score lead; his 33-yard scoring reception in the final period all but iced it.

match culminated with a five-yard TD run by sophomore quarterback Drew Bippes, who made big completions to Noah Keller and Sean Arnold on the drive. A Bippes keeper was good for the two-pointer and the game was tied with 8:25 left in the half.

"When we had time to throw it, they had a hard time covering us," Goltz said. "We ended up throwing the ball more than I thought we would have to."

With the help of a big fourth down conversion, the Wolves rebounded, driving the ball deep into Sacred Heart territory and taking back the lead on a keeper on fourth and goal at the two-yard line by QB Rowdy Oxford. The PAT was good and the Irish were down eight again, 22-14, with 3:06 to play in the half.

SH answered right back, with Bi-ppes hitting Emerson Keithley down the right sideline for a 40-yard touchdown pass just 30 seconds later. Bippes found Keller for the two-pointer and the teams were tied at 22 entering intermission, thanks to a big William Morehead interception that turned back a threatening Twin Loup drive in the final seconds before half.

The Sacred Heart offense began the second half at its own 18-yard line, and after a couple of nice completions they had the ball first and goal at the one. Two plays had them moving in the wrong direction, but on third and three, Bippes pitched the ball Arnold going right and he averted two tacklers and found the end zone, giving FCSH its first lead of the game. It was a lead they would never give back. Bippes added the two-point run to make it 30-22 fewer than four minutes into the second half.

The Wolves came right back, though, marching down the field and used an underhanded pass to convert a fourth down play into a 29-yard TD. The conversion, however, was thwarted by the Irish defense and Twin Loup was as close as they were going to get.

A Bippes-to-Emerson Keithley strike, coming on third-and-11, spanned 56 yards, put another six on the board and set off a wild celebration for the green-clad fans watching who could feel their team taking control. Arnold's conversion run made it a two-score game and only reinforced their optimism.

In the final period, a Bippes roll out, where he eluded tacklers and showed the same poise that helped engineer the game-winning drive against BDS, led to a strike to Arnold in the corner of the end zone for a 33-yard TD pass with 6:51 to play in the game. He threw a dart, but call it a dagger. Though the PAT was no good, FCSH's 44-28 lead was plenty safe.

The Wolves threatened on their ensuing drive, but then stalled on the FCSH 20, turning it over on downs. The Irish were then content to eat as much clock as possible before the celebration began. William Morehead had his number called and he was ready. The Irish were able to move the ball milk the clock thanks to some big runs by Morehead, who had 45 team-high yards rushing on just five carries.

Both teams finish the year at 12-1. Bippes led the Irish offense, going 11-of-21 passing for 267 yards and three touchdowns. Ahern rushed for 36 yards on 10 touches and Emerson Keithley led the receiving corps with three catches for 128 yards.

"I just tried to keep my legs moving and power through, my goal is to always try to find the end zone," Keithley said. Arnold added three grabs for 84 yards and Noah Keller had two for 37.

"We played an awfully good team and I'm not upset with our kids at all," Twin Loup coach Mike Kozeal said. "They put a lot more pressure on us with their pass rush. We had trouble holding them out."

That would be big No. 73 up front they couldn't block. He was seemingly everywhere Monday morning, finishing with 10 tackles, half of which came behind the Twin Loup line of scrimmage.

"I just know he was hurting at the end of the game," Keithley said, in reference to the Wolves signal-caller. Brandon Scheitel added 13 team-high tackles and the two linemen helped the Irish defense hold Horky, who entered the game with 1,920 rushing yards, to a grand total of 29 yards on 15 touches. Ahern and Tristan Keithley each recorded 10 stops apiece.

"I thought we did a pretty good job on him," Goltz said. "We had a lot of different guys step up and play well for us."

History of Macy’s Thanksgiving Parade

Thousands of people line the streets of midtown Manhattan every year to catch a glimpse of the balloons and performers marching in the Macy’s Thanksgiving Day Parade. Millions more will tune in to watch it on television. The Macy’s parade is intertwined with Thanksgiving, making it as much a part of the holiday as turkey and pumpkin pie.

The parade has evolved throughout the years, and the history of the parade is both interesting and informational.

Historians believe the parade was instituted by European immigrants who made up the majority of employees at the retail giant Macy’s. In the 1920s, employees who were now proud Americans wanted to celebrate with traditions that were similar to traditions in Europe. This included a parade down the streets. Animals were borrowed from the Central Park Zoo, bands played and marchers wore different costumes.

In 1927, concern for children lining the parade route led parade officials to replace live animals with the signature helium balloons people now know and love. A dragon and Felix the Cat were some of the first balloons. The festivities continued to grow during the 1930s, when Santa was added to the parade’s growing list of participants. 1933 was the only year that Santa led the parade rather than closed it.

During World War II, the parade was put on hiatus, as the rubber for the balloons and the helium was donated to the war effort. The parade resumed in 1945 and was televised only in New York.

The 1947 film “Miracle on 34th Street” made the parade even more popular. NBC televised the parade nationwide the following year, drawing viewers from all over the country.

Margaret (Harms) Holder

Margaret Irene (Harms) Holder, 88, of Humboldt, passed away on Sunday, Nov. 13, 2016 at the Colonial Acres Nursing Home in Humboldt. She was born in rural Humboldt on May 19, 1928 to George Herman and Violet Luella (Babcock) Harms.

In 1929, Violet’s brothers, Wayne and Robert Babcock, came to make their home with the Harms family after the death of their parents. Margaret attended grade school at District 105 and 9th through 11th grade at Bratton Union High School. In 1945, her father had a farm sale and she transferred to Humboldt High School, graduating with the Class of 1946. While finishing high school, Margaret lived in Humboldt with Goldie Ogle. After graduation, Margaret stayed with her parents on a farm near Verdon and helped with farm work as Wayne and Robert were drafted into the Army.

On April 25, 1950, Margaret was united in marriage to Donald Holder. To this union two sons Rodney and Scott were born. The couple started their married life farming northwest of Verdon. In July of 1952, Don was drafted into the Army. Margaret finished the farm year with the help of her dad. In May of 1954, the couple moved from Colorado Springs, CO, where Don had been stationed, back to Humboldt to make their home.

Margaret was a lifelong caretaker and mother. Whether it was helping on the farm or at home, she always put her family’s needs before her own. She enjoyed gardening, quilting, crocheting, embroidering and flowers. She worked with her son, Scott, in his greenhouse for 10 years and helped in the flower division of the Richardson County Fair for several years.

Margaret was a charter member of the V.F.W. Auxiliary, member of Rural Letter Carrier Auxiliary, worked on Ward II Election Board for several years, helped place and take down flags on Memorial Day, and was a long time member of The Humboldt Christian Church.

She was preceded in death by her parents; infant son, Rodney; sister, Luella Withers; and uncles, Wayne and Robert Babcock.

Margaret is survived by her loving husband of 66 years, Don Holder, of Humboldt; son, Scott (Nancy) Holder, of Fort Calhoun; granddaughters, Kristen and Kayla Holder, of Fort Calhoun; nephew, Roger (Glenna) Withers, of Stella; great-nephews, Lee and Lyn Withers, of Stella; and many relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held Friday, Nov. 18, 2016, at The Christian Church in Humboldt, with Pastor Howard Blecha officiating. Visitation was Nov. 17 at Wherry Mortuary in Humboldt. Interment was at the Humboldt Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be given to the family’s choice with a later designation.

Steve James

Steve James, 71, of Overland Park, KS, passed away peacefully in his sleep on July 19, 2016, after battling heart and lung disease.

Steve was born in Santa Barbara, CA, and as a baby moved with his parents, Don and Jane James, to Falls City, where he spent his entire childhood. After graduating from high school, he attended Peru State College, and Northwest Missouri State University in Maryville, MO. After college, he worked for Retail Credit Co. in Kansas City, MO. He loved the thrill of the chase in investigative work and could tell many stories of his adventures. Later, he turned his love of anything automotive into a career in the tire supply business, where he had many loyal sales customers before he retired in 2006.

Steve was a kind and sensitive soul who loved animals and people, especially his wife, Diane, his family, and his many friends. Nothing gave him more joy than spending an evening out with good friends. Growing up in Falls City, he was an avid Nebraska Cornhusker fan all his life. Marrying an avid Missouri fan led to much light-hearted bantering over their 43 years of marriage.

Steve is survived by his wife of 43 years, Diane James; his brother, Mark (Karen) James, of Granbury, TX, and two nephews, Mark James Jr. (Tara) and Matt James, both of Texas.

Steve will be greatly missed by his family and friends.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to Wayside Waifs, 3901 Martha Truman Rd., Kansas City, MO 64137.

History in the Making

President-elect Donald J. Trump and Charles W. Herbster

What a night! We were all part of history in the making. As I watched the election results stream in with the Trump team at the Hilton Hotel in New York City, we witnessed a turning point in America. As the map began to fill with red states representing millions of individual voices across the nation, we were humbled by the response. The map, to me, represented the bleeding hearts of U.S. citizens who are concerned for America, our future, our jobs, our families and our freedom. Core American values will now be upheld. It's time to bring back the pride in our country.

We are blessed as a country to have a man who loves and believes in America as our next president. I am so thankful for God's intervention in the election, and I pray for guidance and wisdom for President-elect Donald J. Trump as he serves this great country. I am confident he will surround himself with wise, competent leaders and will look to the Lord for guidance. It is time for Americans to take a stand.

I have given Mr. Trump and his campaign "my all" in this election for the presidency, realizing the America we know and love will be preserved by a win. Reaching past his years as president, the impact of this election will shape America far into the future. Mr. Trump's appointments to the Supreme Court and the decisions these justices will make will impact our children and our grandchildren. His policies will support small businesses; keeping them in operation and creating jobs our middle class so desperately need. Common sense will once again play a role in decision-making, and the country will be run like a successful business and spend your tax dollars with scrutiny. It is time to clean up state and national politics.

An important lesson learned from this campaign is to never give up on something in which you believe. Mr. Trump never gave up! He was attacked by Hillary Clinton, the news media and some of the established Republicans. Watching the forecasted polls, it appeared that Mr. Trump needed a miracle to be elected president. Never losing hope, Judy reminded me that miracles are never a "sure thing," because then they would not be miracles. Now it's time to celebrate the miracle.

Mr. Trump cannot make these changes alone. It will take the unity, time and effort of the entire nation. I challenge each of you to join me and do your part to make your voices heard.

Let's Make America Great Again!

Charles W. Herbster

Charles W. Herbster,
National Chairman of the Agricultural and Rural Advisory Committee for Donald J. Trump

Thanksgiving Day Quiz

It is once again time to talk turkey, stuffing and all of the trimmings. Thanksgiving is celebrated in both Canada and the United States with similar parades and fanfare. Thanksgiving is a time to be thankful for the blessings in one's life and enjoy the company of family and friends during a special meal.
