We see where you'll be able to ride to the moon for $750 million. Guess it's going to cost lots more to fall off the fiscal cliff.

Tim Hersh, Chuck Whitney with Towle Realty, City Council President Jerry Oliver, EDGE President Bart Keller and EDGE Executive Director Beckie Cromer.

Consolidated Grain breaks ground

By Jim Langan

Ground broke last Thursday on the new grain handling facility being constructed by Consolidated Grain and Barge Company, which will be located south of Falls City on the west side of Highway 73.

At a ceremony held at the site of the $23-million project, approximately 75 community members joined members of the city council, county commissioners board, EDGE Development Group, Mayor Tim Hersh and Eric Kresin of CGB, to mark the beginning construction phase of the project, which is scheduled to be operational next September.

Local businessman and EDGE President Bart Keller gave the opening remarks and thanked Ward Reesman Jr. and Corky Towle for selling the land back to the city, which made CGB’s investment in Falls City possible. Keller also thanked EDGE Executive Director Beckie Cromer and the entire EDGE board, as well as the support received from the city council and the county commissioners.

Kresin said CGB is excited to be part of the community of Falls City and he looks forward to working with the local producers.

“I want to thank the producers who are here,” Kresin said. “I know many of you, but look forward to meeting more of you as the project gets built. The idea is to meet your needs as a farming community.

“I’d also like to thank EDGE and Beckie and her staff,” Kresin said. “We’ve been doing these across the U.S. and I can say that this staff has been the best to work with. You are a pretty lucky community to have

Cromer was especially thankful for “community-oriented landowners” and said, “Without their willingness to sell the land, CGB’s Plan B or Plan C could have taken them to another community or state.”

Falls City Mayor Tim Hersh wrapped up the ceremony by thanking the “visionaries” of Falls City for having the foresight to see where this project would take the community.

“This is what I hoped would happen while I was Mayor,” Hersh said, “To see this city grow, to prosper and bring in other companies and new businesses and better employment for our families, friends and neighbors.”

Construction began Friday on the project.

Sheriff Randy Houser calls for dismissal of EMD Jim Gerweck

By Jason Schock

Citing “lack of responsiveness in support of emergency services, numerous failures to meet deadlines, and uncooperative attitude,” Richardson County Sheriff Randy Houser in a six-page letter to the County Board of Commissioners has asked for the removal of Jim Gerweck as Director of Emergency Management.

Both Houser and Gerweck appeared before Commissioners Jim Davidson, Bill Ely and David Sickel last Tuesday at the Courthouse during the Board’s regular weekly meeting.

In the letter, Houser details what he says is a lack of responsiveness from the Emergency Management Department to various requests he’s made since he took office nearly two years ago.

“Cooperation has been slim to none for the 22 months since I’ve been sheriff,” Houser said. “And I’ve brought this to the board over and over again. I’ve reached an end and something needs to be done.”

Houser said he has continually expressed concerns about the county’s radio communication system, particularly in the Humboldt area.

“In December 2010, before I took office, Mr. Gerweck asked me into his office for a meeting about needed improvements to the radio system,” Houser writes in the letter. “Mr. Gerweck told me at this meeting that he had refused to work to improve the county radio system because of his dislike for the former sheriff (Vernon Buckminster). Mr. Gerweck’s last comment was, ‘Randy, I promise you faithfully that within 60 to 90 days of you taking office, I’ll have the radio system improved to the point where it will no longer be a problem.’

“Almost two years later, the sheriff’s office continues to be plagued by the same radio issues that law enforcement has complained about for many years,” Houser writes.

“Have we had a disaster lately?,” Houser asked Tuesday. “Or is this just refusal to help?”

Council agenda

Mayor Tim Hersh and the City Council will discuss and take action on the two-hour parking limit within the Main Street area of Stone Street when they meet in regular session at 7 p.m. Monday, Dec. 17, in Council Chambers at City Hall.

The Council will also hear a fourth quarter Main Street report from Executive Director Eric Barr and will hear a request for a special designated liquor license at Prichard Auditorium for a Northwest Fight Club event on Jan. 12, 2013, by Spirit Shoppe.

Gerweck, who saw Houser’s letter for the first time at the meeting, said the radio contact in Humboldt is not as bad as Houser contends.

“I can sit on the south edge of Nebraska City and hear everybody fine,” Gerweck said. “It’s easy to want and need, but

No new trial in case of sexual assault

Michael Patnode, 46, of Falls City, as part of a plea agreement entered pleas of no contest to a pair of felony sexual assault charges in Richardson County District Court.

Patnode in November stood trial in November on charges of felony sexual assault of a child in the third degree and two felony charges of first degree sexual assault of a child. He stood accused of having sexual contact with a child less than 14 years of age on one count and two counts of subjecting a child between ages 12 and 16 to sexual penetration. The trial ended abruptly when Judge Daniel Bryan declared a mistrial after the first day of testimony. Court documents at the time did not specify a reason for the mistrial. A new jury trial was set for Jan. 8.

Patnode last week entered no contest pleas to a pair of class 1-C felony charges of sexual assault of a child in the third degree. Sentencing is scheduled for Jan. 29. Class 1-C felony charges are punishable by up to 50 years in prison with a minimum sentence of five years in prison.

Patnode served two years in the Nebraska Dept. of Corrections from 2001-03 for felony sexual assault on a child.

“The Greatest Rock and Roll Band in the World,” of course I’m talking about the Rolling Stones, will perform Saturday, Dec. 15, in a pay-per-view concert available locally on Time Warner, and I’m sure, other outlets. If you are a rock fan, I urge you to purchase this concert. Heck, have a party, invite your buds and enjoy a couple of hours of the best classic rock you’ll ever hear and see. They’ll sing it, but chances are “this could be ‘The Last Time.’”

I was a freshman in high school when the Stones came upon the scene. They were billed as the “anti-Beatles,” but that wasn’t really true. The band was steeped in blues and initially performed a bunch of black-inspired tunes that, according to guitarist Keith Richards, no one in the U.S. was listening to. I remember going to Omaha, in 1966, to see these guys perform. Since then, I’ve seen them in Kansas City and Ames, Iowa, as the concerts grew from simple shows to complex extravaganzas, with massive stages and productions. Loved every second of it.

But regardless of the venue, the draw is their music. Mick Jagger writes the lyrics, Richards provides the riffs and rockin’ music. No one is better. How many college football games have kicked off with “Start Me Up?” “Satisfaction” likely has played on the radio a jillion times. Their greatest songs? “Gimme Shelter” comes to mind, as well as “Brown Sugar,” “Jumpin’ Jack Flash,” “It’s All Over Now,” “Waitin’ on a Friend,” “Midnight Rambler” and one you may not be familiar with, “Can’t You Hear Me Knockin,” one of my favorites.

The Rolling Stones went from “bad guys” to “good guys” after years of drug and alcohol abuse. They’re clean now. And while they may be aging rock stars, they’re still the best ever. Don’t miss this concert. Jagger, Richards, the great Charlie Watts, Ronnie Wood and, hopefully, some guys who used to play with this band, including Mick Taylor and Bill Wyman, the original bass guitar player, will give you your money’s worth. Don’t call me Saturday night, please.

I’m so very proud of the piece Jason Schock wrote about Doug Goltz in our previous paper. My opinion, it may be his best work ever. Jason is a sportswriter at heart and, obviously, thinks highly of Coach Goltz. A beautifully written tribute to a very special guy. Nice, nice job, bud.

CGB broke ground last week on their massive grain handling business south of Falls City. This was, at least for some, a controversial development. No one wants to see established businesses get hurt. Yet, area farmers stood up for CGB because they realized this company would be good for them. The advertisement, again put together by Jason Schock (at the request of farm families), was maybe the most effective we’ve ever published. I know Beckie Cromer, EDGE Executive Director, took heat on this, just for doing her job. And she’s done that job very well. It’s not easy to attract industrial interests to a town like Falls City. Beckie and her staff, as well as EDGE president Bart Keller, have done an amazing job.

The Journal has tried to remain neutral in the CGB discussions. In fact, we, like all other local businesses, want to see Falls City grow. We believe that the CGB facility will lead to additional growth in south Falls City. Hopefully, that growth will translate into jobs and economic activity.

Posing and posturing begins for 2014 race

Capitol View
By J.L. Schmidt
Statehouse Correspondent
Nebraska Press Association

Let the posturing begin! With the 2012 election barely over, the buzz among the pundits – inside and outside the Capitol – is all about the 2014 gubernatorial contest.

Incumbent Republican Dave Heineman is term-limited. He has already said he supports his popular Lieutenant Governor, Rick Sheehy. But let’s remember how fickle such “early” endorsements can be. The Governor picked a successor state senator in District 2 last year only to throw him under the bus by encouraging the husband of his policy research head to run for the office and then throwing financial support and lip service toward the challenger who won.

State Sen. Mike Flood of Norfolk, the popular speaker of the Legislature, had announced but then withdrew after his wife, Mandi, was diagnosed with breast cancer. He said he needs to focus on being with his family right now and help his wife make a 100 percent recovery. Flood had led the charge to scuttle some of the Governor’s vetoes during the last session of the Legislature and apparently raised Heineman’s ire. Imagine lawmakers acting like they are a separate branch of government from the executive. It’s been awhile, but kudos to Flood who has also been touted as the master of compromise on some controversial issues.

Sheehy, 51, has traveled the state continually over the last few years, without a security detail or driver, and has run a Camry into the ground and is working on upwards of 300,000 miles on an Altima. A former Mayor of Hastings and a former Democrat, he is apparently well liked in various political circles. He is a quick study who can grasp difficult issues and develop a convincing banter either for or against with ease ... and stick to the message. He is puppy-dog-likeable, which often seems to play better with voters than a staunch stand on issues.

Flood, a 37-year-old radio station owner and attorney, was the first of what could be many other GOP candidates. Notice how the Republicans flock to the high profile races while the Democrats are scrambling to find a viable candidate? Names such as Fremont State Senator Charlie Janssen, Attorney General Jon Bruning and perennial – “I wanna be something other than what I am” – candidate State Treasurer Don Stenberg may also get in this race.

It’s not yet clear if Stenberg will view himself as a spoiler in this race based on his proven success in the Republican U.S. Senate primary where political observers noted that he drew enough votes to allow eventual winner Deb Fischer to defeat Bruning who was once seen as the frontrunner.

Surprisingly, the Democrats could have as many as three early contenders for governor: State Sen. Steve Lathrop of Omaha, Lincoln Mayor Chris Beutler and University of Nebraska Regent Chuck Hassebrook of Lyons have all been mentioned.

Lathrop and Hassebrook are seen as logical choices while Beutler could be a long shot at best. Lathrop and Hassebrook both toyed with the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate seat while the eventual candidate, former Senator and Governor Bob Kerrey, tried to make up his mind. Lathrop stepped aside and Hassebrook gave up his University of Nebraska Regent seat and stepped up to run. After Hassebrook’s name was on the ballot and there was no turning back, Kerrey declared his candidacy.

The head of the Center for Rural Affairs, Hassebrook, backed off. One could say that the Democratic Party owes Chuck Hassebrook, but he’d be the last person to claim that. If he does run, he’ll draw from a rural and statewide base that has benefitted from the policies and programs fostered by the popular CFRA for decades. Lathrop is more of a “big city” politician who finds his comfort in partisan areas of Omaha and brokering deals to benefit his specific constituents. But political observers say he would be a viable statewide candidate. They also think Beutler has his hands full with a new sports and entertainment arena and other pressing issues in the Capital City that could keep him out of the mix.

Any way you slice it, game on!

County Board

it's not so easy to wave a magic wand and make it happen. We've been busy with different things. I can't promise stuff I can't control and I guarantee you I haven't promised anything - I've promised to try."

Gerweck said most of the problem with the radio is related to lack of training on the part of Sheriff's Dept. personnel.

“Saying we don’t know how to use the system is insulting,” Houser said. I don’t believe that’s a true statement.”

Houser said the radio reception problem in Humboldt can be improved by relocating equipment to the Humboldt water tower at an estimated cost of $7,400. That was to be discussed further at this week's meeting.

Commissioners repeatedly told Houser and Gerweck during the 45-minute session to find ways to cooperate with one another.

Houser, in his letter, also complains about Gerweck's lack of cooperation regarding an electronically controlled lock and a keypad lock controlling access to the jail. He also argues that Emergency Management is taking up too much room at the armory and not allowing the Sheriff's Dept. to use the Mobile Emergency Management Command Center Trailer its had since 2007.

"I am asking for keys to the trailer and the hitch lock removed so that it is available for emergency uses," Houser said. "This trailer would be of tremendous benefit at crime scenes and major accidents."

On that point, Gerweck countered, "What if I want to borrow a patrol car, Randy?"

"I won't let you, Jim," Houser replied.

“This has been going on too long,” Sickel said, again urging both men to work together.

County Attorney Bob Meyer was on hand at the meeting and all the issues needed to be documented on paper, so they could be addressed one at a time.

“My main concern is public safety,” Meyer said.

Houser closed his letter by asking commissioners to either remove Gerweck from his position as the Director of Emergency Management, or remove him from control of the county radio system and courthouse security management.

"The basic problem is that Mr. Gerweck is only willing to 'cooperate' with emergency services on his terms, and only if he has control of every detail. He is unwilling to consider any ideas that are not his own. He inappropriately infers singular control of County property to the exclusion of other agencies.

“What good is all of this emergency equipment and an emergency management staff if it’s not available to assist emergency services on a day-to-day basis?” Houser writes.

In other developments, the Commissioners:

— Opened sealed bids for the purchase of tires for the road department vehicles. Bids were received from Cross Dillon Tire, Lincoln (two separate bids), and Koch's Auto Service, Dawson. The bids were accepted only for the purpose of review.

— Opened sealed bids for the purchase of steel materials. Bids were received from Midwest Service and Sales, Schuyler, and Husker Steel, Columbus. The bids were accepted only for review purposes.

— Received a request from Treasurer Austin Duerfeldt to waive interest on Tax Sale #182009. The board moved to waive the interest as requested.

— Approved a sub-division for Phyllis J. Reeves and Christopher Reeves and adopted the corresponding resolution.

I'm amusing myself today by looking back over the paying jobs I've had down through the ages. If you haven't anything else to do, come along. Then think about yours.

My initial employment was for my grandparents, who lived where Deb Lemerond now lives at 2312 Harlan. My family lived a couple of blocks south at 2109 Harlan. I was about 9 or 10. My granddad, a retired farmer, maintained his garden expertise and in the process raised potatoes by the bushel, then stored them for winters in a dark room in the basement (we called it a cellar). The job for me and "Spot," my somewhat collie, was to go to the cellar and sprout the spuds. It was a couple of times a winter employment and my grandmother gave me 50 cents a gig. It figured right at 20 cents an hour.

About the same time I gained entrepreneur status, selling subscriptions to the Country Gentleman and Better Homes and Gardens magazines. My principal customers were relatives who didn't see me coming. A year or so later I entered the field of journalism by carrying papers for The Daily News, with office and press located where the Richardson County Bank and Trust now stands. I could see there was no financial future in it for me when there were times payday was postponed a day or so. I mustn't forget lawn mowing for Mrs. Boose, Mr. Uhlig and my grandparents, all cash customers.

Skipping to high school, part of my junior year and all of my senior year, after football and basketball practice I worked from 6:30 to 9 at Ray Schaible's Texaco service station, now the location of Mike Castle's State Farm Insurance business. The pay was 75 cents per night and $1.50 for all-day on Saturday. Not all that shabby for a teen in the Great Depression days. You actually pumped gas, five gallons for a buck, wiped windshields front and rear, asked if you could check tires, water and oil levels, remarked about the weather and even thanked the customers.

Then it was off to college in Lincoln. I lucked out by waiting tables at my fraternity house one year and so got my meals free. Payment in kind. There were no men's dorms at NU in those days. We had a wonderful cook, Mrs. Williams, who called me just "Schock." When it was a steak dinner once a week she conveniently overlooked the three of us waiters keeping the best steaks for ourselves. Dishwashing became an art—once over quickly except for dried egg breakfast plates.

At different times during the summer breaks I earned spending money by being a car-hop at Barney's One Stop Café (a dime was a big tip and Barney Barnes' famous tenderloins were just two bits), mowing lawns and occasionally working on a couple of farms for $1.25 a day with a great noon meal. At one farm I also took home a large brown sack full of spuds since 1938 was a very good year for potatoes. In retrospect, no more than I knew about driving a tractor it's a wonder I didn't kill myself herding that one at times on some awfully hilly ground.

After graduating from NU in 1940 I became a cub reporter at the Journal, then gave that up when my-then girl friend coaxed her dad into giving me a minor job at Western Union in St. Louis while I could look around for something paying better. You see, her pop was the big cheese at the company's downtown regional complex there. My talents were utilized to the fullest at Western Union. On the vast third floor I donned roller skates and took messages from one operator to another, naturally, reading as many as I could while gliding along gracefully. I had a room with a nice family in University City. No wheels, but it only took an hour's ride on a bus to get to Western Union.

After several months, I could sense that I was never going to be a figure skater, and nobody else was hiring. I thanked Mr. Alger for hiring me, returned to my stomping grounds and went back on the Journal's payroll. Did I mention that the romance went the way of the roller skates?

Then war clouds became uglier, Congress decided in the fall of 1940 that they'd better get those of us young 'uns with an acceptable blood pressure in uniform and so passed the Draft. A year as a GI was forthcoming so I gave up my $12 a week job at the Journal and became an Army private at $21 a month with $6.60 taken out for GI insurance.

Five years and a few miracles later I earned World War II veteran status, beat it out of Texas, got off the train at the MoPac depot at the south end of Stone Street and swore (probably literally) I was never going to leave the city limits again. I became service officer for the newly established county veterans' service office in the Courthouse for a year. Taxpayers shelled out $150 a month. Then the Journal beckoned and on Dec. 1, 1946, I signed on as sports editor--66 years ago.

IN LOVING MEMORY
September 23, 1936 — December 6, 2002

Since Jan's passing ten years ago, I have frequently used the words . . . "time heals." And, while that is true, fortunately, one thing "time" will never change is our family's wonderful memories and love for a very special and beautiful lady named Jan Vandenberg, who now resides in a "much better place"!

I remember her so well; our family remembers her so well; and her countless friends remember her in the same positive way . . . and isn't it nice that, regardless of the "passing of time," these wonderful memories continue to live!!

Yes, Jan was a very special lady and her love of God, as well as her many constructive accomplishments, in the short time she was with us, made this earth a better place! Jan loved her family and everyone she met, and I never once heard this lady express a bad word about anyone!

And, to the countless numbers of you who have also lost special loved ones, my heart goes out to each of you, along with the stipulation that this memorial "IS ALSO FOR YOU" as, hopefully, it will bring back Many Wonderful Memories for you, too.

We Love You, Jan!

for check out at
FC Library & AC

There are more than books to check out at the Falls City Library & Arts Center. Patrons can also check out new Kindle Fires recently donated to the library.

Library Director Hope Schawang said they received a donation of 10 Kindle Fires, now available for check out.

Deb Mullen donated the Kindles in memory of her mother, Betty Mullen, formerly of Falls City and a champion of education. Schawang said the Kindles have been well used since they arrived earlier this fall.

Adults and children can check out the Kindles for four weeks at a time. Call the Library in advance to ensure one is available to check out. If one is not available, you'll be placed on a waiting list and Library staff will notify you when one is available.

Heartland Hospital

Eighteen students from Falls City and Humboldt-TR-S High Schools joined together for a unique, hands-on opportunity through the Northwest Missouri Area Health Education Center at Heartland Hospital in St. Joseph.

Students practiced giving medication with needles, met with various health care professionals and received a tour of the hospital, focusing on their career interest areas.

Holly Carr, of ESU #4, said this "rewarding experience would not have been possible without the generosity of Community Medical Center," which provided the registration fee for all the students who attended. "Thank you, Mr. Larson, and Community Medical Center," she said.

Those from the Falls City Health Academy who participated in the job shadow experience:

Noala Fritz, instructor, and students, Kirstyn Buchholz, Anisa Carter, Payshince Dawkins, David Frederick, Ryan Mount, Della Peek and Brooke Scheitel.

A WORLD OF

Thanks

THANK YOU!

How do I say thank you to an entire community of people who have gone above and beyond my wildest dreams to show support, concern and love for me and my family? I've asked myself that question countless times over the past eight months and never seem to find a good enough answer. I wish I could tell every person how much each gesture means to me, but the kindness I've received is so overwhelming, I'll have to rely on our Falls City Journal to carry this message on my behalf.

Please know that I appreciate every expression of compassion so very much. Whether you sent a card or gift, added me to a prayer list, brought food to the house, gave me a hug, bought an ALS T-shirt or any of the multitude of other things that have been done, you have let me know I'm not alone and not forgotten...that you care.

It was awesome to see the group of people - both young and old - that gathered in my honor to help raise awareness at the ALS Walk in Omaha. And I'm so grateful to the individuals and businesses that made donations to that worthy cause.

I am truly blessed to live in Falls City. If I have to travel this path, I'm glad that it's in a place where I am surrounded by so many wonderful people.

With sincere and heartfelt thanks,
Kathy Bartek

Primary care physician shortage

A University of Nebraska Medical Center study has found that Nebraska is woefully lacking in primary care physicians across the state. The shortage is even more dramatic in rural parts of the state.

“The number of primary care physicians in Nebraska is 30 percent lower than previously reported by the American Medical Association and rural areas are hit the hardest,” said Jim Stimpson, Ph.D., director of the Center for Health Policy in the UNMC College of Public Health and co-author of the report.

“This is alarming in light of the thousands of people who will be entering the system seeking care as a result of the health care reform law,” he said.

Dr. Stimpson said currently there are 1,410 primary care physicians in Nebraska. It’s anticipated that the state will need 1,685 primary care physicians to meet the increased demand resulting from health care reform by 2014.

The study, which compared national data from the AMA to that collected by the UNMC Health Professions Tracking Service, determined that there are 63 primary care physicians per 100,000 residents, as compared to 84 as reported by the AMA.

And of the 93 counties in Nebraska, 11 – all rural – do not have a primary care physician, Dr. Stimpson said.

Another alarming finding, he said, is the number of primary care physicians older than 65 has grown by 78 percent in the past five years. As these physicians start to retire, Dr. Stimpson said, it will add significantly to the overall shortage of primary care physicians in the state.

The study focused on primary care specialties in four categories: family medicine, internal medicine, pediatrics and obstetrics/gynecology.

“The HPTS data provides a very clear picture of the number of health care providers in the state, not just in the number of physicians working, but also in actual working hours and place of work,” Dr. Stimpson said. The HPTS has been tracking health professionals in the state for 17 years since it began in 1995.

While the AMA data might report a physician available in two rural counties, the reality is that more often than not one physician is covering both counties with a practice in one and satellite office in the other, he said.

“Policy makers need accurate and timely data on the current and projected supply of health care workers as they make decisions that affect the delivery of health care,” Dr. Stimpson said.

On a positive note, Dr. Stimpson said the study found that ethnic diversity among primary care physicians increased by seven percent in the past five years. Also, the ratio of women to men shifted over the past five years with women comprising an 11 percent higher share of the primary care physician workforce.

Do you know where the spices we use come from? How about the nuts and oils?

The holidays are full of wonder. One way people reach out to others is by decorating their yards, homes and hearths. Colored lights shine from the branches of trees. Garlands and wreaths grace our doors. Plants and flowers are brought inside to brighten and beautify our rooms. Delicious smells of baking cookies and breads from the kitchen are due to spices taken from plants and trees. Plants are an important part of holiday time celebrations.

Fill in this puzzle about the parts of plants that we use in our kitchens!

Plants at Holiday Time!

1. nuts from trees, used in making marzipan candy – a sweet paste that is shaped and colored to look like fruits, vegetables and toys

2. licorice gets its flavoring from this plant

3. these are buds from a bush; they have a spicy taste and scent; hang an orange from a ribbon and push these into it for a nicely scented decoration

4. this is from a bean in a pod on a vine, used in puddings

5. has a cool taste, used in candies; grows in U.S. and Canada

6. ground into flour; used for cookies, cakes, gravies

7. used in candy canes, tea; thought to help settle the stomach

8. comes from cane; used for icing, lollipops

9. these are in pods hanging on trees; in some places street vendors roast and sell these to eat warm

10. hard little seeds ground into powder - shake on eggnog

11. root with a spicy taste used for breads, cookies

12. used for scent and taste in stuffing and with meats

13. from the red-brown bark of a tree; ground into powder for drinks, cookies

14. reddish-purple fruits from tree; used in cakes, pudding

15. from the bean of cacao tree

Inside and Outside the House

Match these clues and plants!

1. a large one is cut and blessed; it is lighted and kept burning throughout the season

2. this favorite plant blooms at Christmas; it can be red, pink or white

3. green leaves, white berries; there is a custom that says people kiss under this

4. round, made from evergreen branches; decorated with red bows, pine cones

5. decorated with lights, ornaments, angel

6. placed as bedding in a manger or made into ornaments for the tree

Two Just Alike!

I want to find two wreaths that are just alike to decorate my two doors. Can you find and circle two identical wreaths for me?

Is it #3 and #7? Huh? Huh? Is it #6 and #8? Is it...

Irish guys lose late lead, game

Three days after the FC Sacred Heart boys' basketball team earned its coach career win No. 500 it suffered its first defeat of 2012-13, falling 49-47 to Freeman Friday at Prichard Auditorium.

FCSH, now 2-1, opened up a 9-0 lead right off the bat and then by six points entering the final quarter of play. But Freeman junior Derek Veerhusen scored eight of his game-high 20 points in the final period, allowing Freeman to steal a victory. They are now 4-0 on the season.

Sacred Heart honored 26-year coach Doug Goltz, who earned his 500th victory Tuesday at home, prior to the game and then came out firing on all cylinders, taking an 9-0 lead on baskets by Brady Cromer (team-high 14 points), Chaz Dunn, Matt Goltz (11 boards) and a three-pointer by Lane Barnhill (three three-pointers, 13 points).

Veerhusen and Freeman, however, got hot from behind the arc, hitting 8-of-14 for the FC Sacred Heart senior Brady Cromer (team-high 14 points) rejects Freeman senior Corey Haynes early in the Irish's 49-47 Friday night loss at Prichard Auditorium. FCSH, which entered the game 2-0, bolted out to a 9-0 lead and led by six entering the final quarter, but the Falcons' Derek Veerhusen went off down the stretch, scoring eight of his game-high 20 points in the final period. Freeman is 4-0.

game. Corey Haynes knocked down four threes and scored 12 and Veerhusen made a trio of threes. Isaac Frerichs was a perfect 6-for-6 at the line in the second half and finished with 12 points.

Sacred Heart traveled to Oregon, MO, to face South Holt last night and returns home tonight to face 4-0 Lewiston. They go to winless HTRS Friday and host Mound City next Tuesday.

Scoring

FCSH — Dunn, 7; Finck, 2; Goltz, 8; Barnhill, 13; Fiegenger, 3; Cromer, 14.

Freeman — Veerhusen, 20; Frerichs, 12; Shuster, 5; Haynes, 12.

FCSH 75
Wetmore, KS 43

Tuesday at Prichard, Goltz earned milestone victory No. 500, as junior guard Chaz Dunn hit four threes and scored a game-high 22 points, adding seven rebounds, four steals and three assists.

Three other Irish starters - Matt Goltz, Brady Cromer and Clay Finck - had 10 points apiece. Finck finished with six steals and six assists and Goltz led in the paint with 11 boards and a pair of blocks.

The Irish didn't shoot lights out, making just 4-of-18 threes and 30-of-70 overall from the floor, but made up for it by forcing 32 Wetmore turnovers. They used a 27-point second quarter to open the game wide open. Dunn had 10 in the period alone.

Scoring

FCSH — Niemeyer, 4; Dunn, 22; Froeschl, 2; Finck, 10; Goltz, 10; Barnhill, 9; La. Scheitel, 6; Fiegenger, 2; Cromer, 10.

Michael Huettner Academic All-America

By Jason Schock

Falls City High School graduate and Nebraska Wesleyan junior defensive back Michael Huettner was recently named to the First-Team of the 2012 Capital One Academic All-America College Division Football Team.

Huettner, Russell Walton, Kelby Vandenberg, Aaron Lorraine and Seth Wardyn were all awarded earned First-Team honors, and NWU's five awardees led the country in NAIA for the second consecutive season.

Huettner, the son of Jim and Mary Jo Huettner, of Verdon, has a 3.95 GPA in accounting and started all 10 games at safety for the 6-4 Prairie Wolves, recording 40 tackles and nine pass break-ups. The NWU defense set a school record this past fall, allowing just 66 yards rushing per game, breaking the previous record set in 1969.

"Our rush defense was also second in the entire nation behind another member of the GPAC, Morningside, which will play for the NAIA National Championship. This speaks a lot for our defense - we are moving in the right direction," he said.

The 5-10, 190-pounder has bulked up considerably since high school (he was listed at 160 at FCHS) and obviously recovered well from both a rare and serious arm injury he suffered the first week of practice in 2009, as well as an ankle injury that wiped out most of his freshman year at Wesleyan.

"Since I tore that tendon in my ankle my freshman year, my sophomore season was really the first full season I had played since my junior year in high school and more or less it was like my freshman season of college," he said.

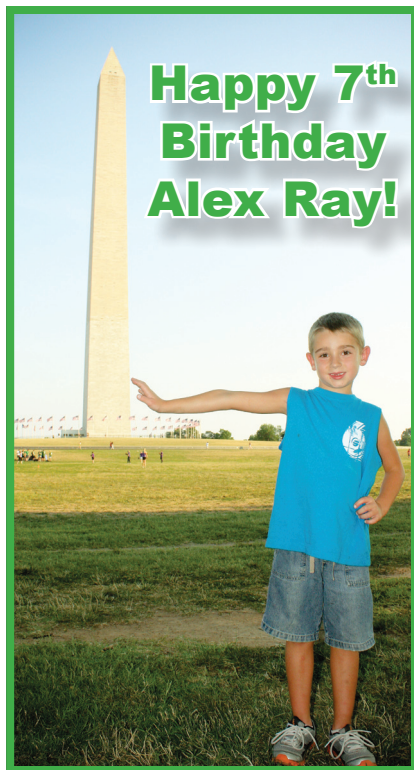

Previously, the Tigers' starting quarterback, punter and cornerback was lost for his entire senior football season when he underwent surgery for an avulsion fracture of his humerus bone. The surgeon with Nebraska Orthopaedics & Sports Medicine at the time said he saw the injury maybe once every five years. Huettner did heal in time for the 09-10 basketball season and started at point guard in leading FCHS to the state tournament for the first time in nearly a half-century.

"I am currently in the process of getting a medical redshirt for my freshman year," Huettner said. "It's not a guarantee that I will use the redshirt after I graduate but I just want it there so I can use if I want to because these past couple of years have been a blast playing football at Wesleyan. My shoulder surgery did not affect me when I first came in and it still doesn't. I will admit I was nervous and kind of favored it at the beginning but it definitely doesn't hurt or bother me."

Huettner earned his first varsity letter as a sophomore at NWU, playing in nine games at cornerback. He earned a Pflieger/Olson GPAC Scholar-Athlete Award that school year. And though he's gained some 30 pounds in college, Huettner has dropped his 40 time from 5.0 to 4.7 and increased his vertical from 33 inches as a freshman to 38.5 this fall.

The NWU football team now has had 32 players earn 44 Academic All-American awards which ranks among the top 10 of all football-playing schools in the country.

Student-athletes must meet four criteria to earn Capital One Academic All-America honors: 1) must have a cumulative GPA of 3.30 or better, 2) must have at least two terms of attendance at the institution, 3) must be at least a sophomore in athletic eligibility, 4) must be a starter or key reserve in their respective sport.

Lady Tigers put clamps on Auburn, improve to 3-1

By Jim Langan

The recent roller coaster with rival Auburn continued Friday night for the Lady Tigers. Falls City High, now 3-1 on the season, defeated the Lady Bulldogs, 35-28, at Auburn High School to even up FCHS Head Coach Max Milam’s record to 4-4 against the neighbors to the north.

After going 3-1 against Auburn in 2010-11, Milam’s first season as head coach of the Tigers, the Lady Tigers dropped all three contests a season ago before gutting out the road victory Friday.

Falls City fell behind 7-0 to start the game, but junior Brooke Scheitel put the Tigers on the board with a three-point basket at the three-minute mark of the first quarter. The three-pointer propelled an 8-2 FC run to end the first.

Falls City carried that momentum into the second quarter where they held the Lady Bulldogs to one field goal – a three from junior Hannah Brown with 6:30 remaining in the half. Brown was Auburn’s only real threat in the game and finished with 16 points, including 4-for-6 from downtown. All in all, FC outscored the Bulldogs 18-7 in the final 11-and-a-half minutes of the first half.

Defensively, the Lady Tigers recorded 11 steals and held Auburn to just 27 percent (10 of 37) shooting on the night.

FC’s largest lead came 15 seconds into the third quarter when sophomore Baylee Vrtiska knocked down a 10-footer to put the Tigers up 20-11. Auburn responded though and cut the lead to 24-21 with 1:45 left in the third, but that would be as close as they would get.

Senior Claire Poppe was 2-of-3 from behind the arc and 4-for-4 at the free-throw line to lead FC with 12 points. Poppe also led the Lady Tigers with four steals. Vrtiska was 5-of-12 from the floor with 10 points and senior Tressa Chandler led FC with eight rebounds and four assists.

Tigers make it sweet 16 against Bulldogs

By Jim Langan

Falls City came out firing on all cylinders and quickly made puppy chow out of the Bulldogs last Friday in Auburn. The Tigers used a 21-6 first quarter to put Auburn away early and earned their 16th straight victory over the Bulldogs dating back to January of 2005.

“We talked before the game about getting off to a fast start,” FCHS Head Coach Don Hogue said. “We got it.”

Sophomore guard Jordy Stoller had a big hand in that dominant first quarter, where he scored nine of his 10 points.

Auburn trailed 19-3 before they converted their first field goal – a three-pointer with less than 30 seconds remaining in the opening frame by sophomore Patrick Frary. That three-pointer would also be one of only two field goals surrendered by the Tiger defense in the first half.

FC started a little slower in the second quarter scoring only once in the first five minutes, but three-point buckets from junior Mitchell Harling and sophomore Jack Hartman in the final three minutes spurred a late Tiger run and extended the lead to 37-12 at the half.

Hogue has played nine guys almost interchangeably through the first four games. Although the competition has been somewhat inferior the first two weeks, the bench players have justified their minutes with quality play. Through four games, the bench is contributing 16.75 points, 13.75 rebounds, four assists, almost six steals and less than four turnovers per game.

Hogue said the team, both starters and bench players, worked really hard in the off-season and have continued that work ethic through the early part of this season.

“All these players have worked extremely hard in bettering themselves both on the court and in the weight room,”

Hogue said. “They know if you don’t put in the time during the off-season, then it isn’t going to happen for them during the season.”

Senior Wade Witt led the Tigers Friday with 12 points on 6-of-9 shooting. Stoller, Hartman and junior Reese Hogue led FC with four rebounds apiece, and Harling dished out five assists.

It was the best shooting performance of the early season for the Tigers, who converted 27-of-49 FG’s (55 percent), including 7-of-15 three pointers.

Caleb Nelson led the Bulldogs with 13 points. No other Auburn player had more than four and 11 of their 28 points came at the charity stripe.

Falls City will travel to St. Joe, Mo., tonight for a game with Bishop LeBlond. The junior varsity game will begin at 6 p.m., followed by the varsity boys.

Scoring
FCHS – Wa. Witt, 12; Stoller, 10; Hogue, 8; DiGiacomo, 8; Hartman, 7; Campbell, 7; Harling, 6; We. Witt, 3; Huettner, 2.
Aub – Nelson, 13; Halfjill, 4; Dael, 3; Wynn, 3; Frary, 3; Lambert, 2.

FCHS 61
Hiawatha, KS 49

Last Tuesday, the Tigers outlasted Hiawatha, 61-49, at McIntyre-Henderson Field House to pick up their third win of the season, despite shooting just 9-of-20 from the free throw line. Huettner led the way for FC with 22 points and 10 rebounds. Wade Witt chipped in 11 points and seven boards and Harling had a solid line with nine points, seven assists and two steals.

Scoring
FCHS – Huettner, 22; Wa. Witt, 11; Harling, 9; Hartman, 7; Stoller, 6; Campbell, 4; Hogue, 2.
Hia – Lee, 12; Bigham, 8; Chilcoat, 6; Hasenkamp, 6; Green, 6; Goodwin, 6; Williams, 3; Winters, 2.

FCSH Head Basketball Coach Doug Goltz was honored prior to last Friday’s game at Prichard Auditorium for earning career win No. 500. The milestone win also came on the home court, as FCSH defeated Wetmore, KS.

Lady Irish down Freeman for 1st win of 2012-13

The FCSH Lady Irish earned a much-needed and hard-fought first victory of 2012-13 Friday night, defeating Freeman 51-43 at Prichard Auditorium.

Sophomore Abby Magdanz (team-high 18 points, five assists) drained two huge three pointers in the final period and the Lady Irish went 9-of-10 at the free throw line in the final period to capture the victory and improve to 1-2 on the season. Junior Emma Schock hit 4-for-4 from the stripe and Magdanz and Ashli Jordan, too, were perfect from the line.

Elizabeth Magdanz (10 points) hit a three-pointer with three minutes remaining in the third period to give her team a six-point lead, 34-28. That lead vanished early in the final quarter on a pair of free throws by Kylie Trobee (12 points), but FCSH got it right back on two free throws from Schock. An Abby Magdanz three followed and FCSH never again trailed.

Freshman Maggie Goltz led FCSH in the paint with seven rebounds, followed by Schock, who grabbed five and also blocked three shots.

Freeman fell to 0-3 with the loss, but beat Johnson-Brock Saturday to get in the win column.

Scoring

FCSH — Jordan, 7; A. Magdanz, 18; Schock, 6; E. Magdanz, 10; Fouraker, 6; Goltz, 4.

Freeman — Meyer, 6; Rapp, 3; Lenner, 6; Mason, 2; Haynes, 7; Remmers, 7; Trobee, 12.

CONGRATULATIONS
& WELCOME!

There are times when my vocabulary is just not sufficient to express my true feelings, so it is nice that the professionals at the Journal are probably doing this today.

In any event, my subject is the decision just announced by Consolidated Grain and Barge Co. (CGB) to locate their new grain business in Falls City after many months of working on this project. They have, in fact, already had a ground breaking ceremony last Thursday and construction, in the form of dirt moving, has already begun!

So, for starters, “CONGRATULATIONS and WELCOME” to Falls City, CGB! Your future impact on this community is immeasurable, and we very much look forward to working with you!

Then there are the many folks in this great community who helped and assisted on this project in so many ways! And, while it goes without saying that your efforts are greatly appreciated, there are several individuals and groups that need to be recognized and thanked by name.

They are:

- 1) Mayor Tim Hersh and members of the Falls City City Council and the several City Committees involved in the project;
- 2) City Administrator, Gary Jorn, and Utilities Superintendent, Alan Romine;
- 3) Falls City EDGE President, Bart Keller, and Executive Director, Beckie Cromer;
- 4) The countless number of Falls City Area Farmers who stepped forward in an expression of their strong support; and
- 5) Finally, three outstanding lawyers who provided excellent legal services to the project from several fronts. Thank you Richard Halbert, Mike Dunn and Chris Halbert!

To each of the above, again a very special “THANK YOU” for your extraordinary efforts!

And, finally, congratulations to Falls City and our entire trade area, for we have just gained a fantastic new corporate citizen!

Respectfully,
Rod Vandenberg
Former Falls City Mayor

HTRS students tour ethanol plant

Humboldt Energy Academy students recently toured the eEnergy Adams Ethanol Plant as part of the ESU #4 Energy Academy course.

Students from Sterling, Humboldt and Nebraska City were able to get a first-hand look at the ethanol process and get an idea of careers available in the biofuels industry.

“Our plant is always in production,” said Bob Toth, plant manager, “so we need staff here 24/7.”

Students learned about how corn is used in ethanol production and that the plant returns one of the by-products from the production of ethanol back to the farmers as feed for livestock.

“The Energy Career Academy allows students to learn about the science, while being able to discover the many different careers associated with energy,” said Holly Carr, ESU #4 Career Academy coordinator, who arranged for the tour.

For more information about the Energy Academy, contact Ms. Carr at the ESU #4 office, 402-274-4354.

The concerning subject was activity on rural roads in the early hours of the morning. One of the major factors in recent rural thefts in the county is drug use.

The Sheriff also offered ideas on how to protect your property, what to do in case of suspicious activity and that such activity should be reported to his office immediately.

New Postmaster comes with 17 years experience

By Jim Langan

With the holiday season in full swing, many area residents may be seeing a new face behind the counter at the post office in Falls City.

Laddie Helms is the new Postmaster in Falls City and replaced Joyce Scholl, who moved onto the same position in Tecumseh in September.

Mrs. Helms first official day on the job was Oct. 6, but she helped out a few days in September while transitioning from her previous job as Postmaster in Verdon. Mrs. Helms brings 17 years experience to Falls City and noted her experience at the post office in Auburn as being a big help in the move to the larger office in Falls City.

“Working in Auburn helped me when I came to Falls City,” Helms said. “I know how busy a large office can be, so I’m getting back into the swing of things.”

Mrs. Helms said the employees here have helped make her adjustment to the new office an easy one.

“The employees here have been great,” Helms said. “They are a wonderful bunch of people to work with.”

The post office here in Falls City currently employs 10 employees, five of which are full-time, for its three city and three rural routes.

Mrs. Helms said she quickly

New Falls City Postmaster...Laddie Helms

learned the streets around town and is beginning to recognize faces, but urged customers to introduce themselves when they stop into the office.

“I want to let everyone know to come in, introduce themselves and eventually I’ll get to know everyone.”

Mrs. Helms is a life-long resident of the area and graduated from Southeast Consolidated. She resides in Auburn with her husband, Rick, and their 10-year-old daughter, Kolby. They also have a son, Scott, and a daughter Courtney, as well as two grandchildren.

Santa heading to Verdon!

FCMS, FCMS band soup supper Friday

Falls City Middle and High School musicians are rehearsing for the Christmas Soup Supper, which is set for Friday, Dec. 14, from 5-7 p.m. at Prichard Auditorium.

Tickets are available at the door and the band students are also selling them. Adult tickets are $5 and those for children 12 and under are $3.

Members of the Middle School Band will perform from 5-6 p.m. and the FCMS Band will be on stage from 6-7 p.m.

The FCMS Band started their 2012-13 year in July, with new band director Kent Stutheit, a graduate of Peru State College who previously taught in Mound City, MO, Johnson Brock and Rock Port, MO. Students met their new director at their summer band camp, an event that helps the incoming freshmen learn the basics of street marching and opens the door to their field marching. It also refreshes marching technique for the upper classmen.

The band was ready to march in the Cobblestone parade, which, unfortunately, was rained out. The next parade performance was in the Richardson County Fair at Humboldt.

The students diligently appeared every morning at 7 to practice their field marching, Stutheit said, as they prepared for home football games. They also performed in field marching competition.

Practice paid off as the band received an Excellent Award at Oxbow and at the NSBA competition. At Oxbow, the Flag Corps, under the direction of Susan Findlay, received the Best Flag Corps award.

Council members sworn in last week

Following the end of business for members of the previous City Council, the meeting on Monday, Dec. 3, was adjourned sine die and election winners were given the oath of office by Mayor Tim Hersh.

Sworn in were 1st Ward Councilman Mike Dougherty and 2nd Ward Council person Angie Nolte, both newcomers to the Council. Steve Scholl, 3rd Ward Councilman, and Jim Wisdom, 4th Ward Councilman, both won re-election and repeated the oath. The Dec. 3 meeting was the final one for Hal Sutter (1st Ward) and Mike Moore (2nd Ward) as neither sought re-election.

Before the new Council was seated, a piece of old business was acted upon. Members voted unanimously to remove the four trees located south of the parking lot at the Falls City Library and Arts Center. Councilman Don Ferguson said he had discussed the issue with Library board members and staff and, based on the severity of the bird droppings problem, recommended the trees be removed. Ferguson said some sort of replacement planting might be suggested and could be implemented in conjunction with Arbor Day.

The trees have attracted flocks of birds that, for lack of a better word, foul the entire terrace area, including the sidewalk. No credible method of dispersing the birds was determined.

Jerry Oliver was re-elected as Council President and Scholl was elected as Acting President.

In other business before the new Council, members:

— Voted to suspend the first and second readings of Ordinance 2012-109 and then unanimously approved the measure, which repeals the section regarding one-way streets in the downtown area on Stone and Chase Streets. Traffic is now two-way on those streets, part of the Main Street Falls City project.

— Approved requests for the use of Prichard Auditorium for two January events at which alcohol will be available. The Northwest Fight Club will host an event on Jan. 12 and Community Medical Center will host a holiday party on Jan. 18.

Thrivent event

Local charities benefited as a result of the “12 Championing Charities” event held Saturday morning at the new Thrivent Financial for Lutherans office at 109 East 16th Street.

Steve Stoller, FIC, from the local office, announced the three organizations that received the most donations and thus earned supplemental funds from the SE Nebraska Thrivent Financial for Lutherans Chapter.

Those organizations are:
First Place: Humane Society, donations of $572, with supplemental funds of $300 from the Chapter for a total of $872.

Second Place: Richardson County Cancer Fund, donations of $287, with supplemental funds from the Chapter of $200 for a total of $487.

Third Place: Friends of the Library, donations of $273, with supplemental funds from the Chapter of $100 for a total of $373.

“We thank the Thrivent Financial member-owners who make these types of events possible,” Stoller said. “We look forward to doing similar events like this again next year.”
