North School Principal Ernie Valentine is monitoring the junior high students who work out on the same days from 9-10 a.m.

Also, six coaches were certified in the BFS program – Rech, Darwin Palmer, Don and Terri Hogue, Kory Huppert and Michael Huettner. The coaches were given a 102-question test and had to score above 90 percent – each coach surpassed 95 percent.

The BFS Total Program is a “training program that allows every athlete to make great gains and break many personal weight lifting and performance records each week.”

Each athlete is given their own daily program to follow, which includes a well-rounded set of exercises focusing on all the aspects of attaining top, physical condition. Separately there are “in season” and “off season” workouts for the athletes to follow, which ultimately allow for enough rest and are designed to prevent injuries.

Something unique to the BFS program is the “Dot Drill,” which had many of the athletes feeling they had their shoes tied together during the first few attempts. The “Dot Drill” takes place on a rubber mat consisting of five dots – two at the ends and one in the middle – and requires the athlete to complete five sets of jumps using both feet in some and the right or left in others. The goal is to increase quickness and strengthen ankles and calves by improving accuracy and time on the drill.

All in all, the new training program paired with the new weight room have many Orange and Black supporters excited for what’s to come.

LINCOLN – In Fourteen Hundred and 92, Columbus sailed the ocean blue. Chances are pretty good that you may have used that little rhyme as you prepped for a social studies test in a Nebraska school during your childhood.

Names and dates, once deemed as important as knowing the circumstances surrounding a particular historical event, are losing popularity in the classroom. The rote memory of facts is becoming passé as the Nebraska Department of Education revises its social studies standards for the first time in decades.

The early draft of the new standards directs teachers who teach to expose students instead to broad concepts and analytical skills. Teachers are encouraged to go beyond the textbook and look at newspaper editorials and personal correspondence from the people involved in events.

“It’s involving kids in the process of history,” says Nebraska Wesleyan University assistant history professor Kevin Bowers. He directs a grant-funded historical studies program that has helped more than 150 Lincoln Public Schools teachers earn master’s degrees.

Teachers are learning that multiple perspectives are important. Students need to explore the impacts of documents and events by determining people groups that would have been afected the most and the least. It’s creating problems that students can work through in the classroom, says LPS social studies curriculum specialist Randy Ernst.

“Research shows us over and over that kids remember better when they process it more deeply,” Ernst said. He admits that giving teachers the freedom to do just that does come with a cost. With social studies instruction time already severely challenged by the need to teach for high stakes reading and math tests, the question in creating new standards is: What do you include and what do you leave out?

Nebraska’s social studies standards were last revised in the 1990s. Ernst believes the urgent need for revision is to allow teachers to teach the skills students need to be able to evaluate sources in an information – saturated world.

Bowers says good teaching and good standards are a combination of content and skills. They are not totally separate but are “inextricably intertwined.” Thus, there is still room for names, dates and facts.

Meghan McNeal, an LPS elementary teacher who is currently enrolled in the Wesleyan master’s program, likes the challenge. “We are learning to teach students to think like historians and to be able to fit the facts together and know why they go together,” she said.

Affordable health care at risk

By Senator Ben Nelson

Many Nebraskans have contacted me to talk about the health care reform law that the U.S. Supreme Court is expected to rule on sometime this month. Officially, it's the Affordable Care Act, because that's what it's supposed to do — make health care affordable and available to all, but it is at risk.

There is a fear that this is an activist Supreme Court and it will overturn all or part of the law, which the Congressional Budget Office says could raise insurance premiums by 15 to 20 percent, making it unaffordable and causing more people to go without insurance.

Nebraskans I've talked with like portions of the law, but not the mandate that requires people to have insurance. The mandate is necessary in order for the entire package to work.

Personal Responsibility

The mandate requires everyone to have insurance, which helps pay for the bill and makes them responsible for their own health care if they get sick or injured. No longer will the millions of uninsured Americans be able to rely on the vast majority of taxpayers who have health insurance and pay extra to take care of them.

The estimated cost for those who have insurance to cover the costs of the uninsured is $78.5 billion. Last year this uncompensated care cost responsible Nebraskans a total of $431 million.

Affordable Care Act Helps Children

The full law doesn't take effect until 2014, but parts of it are already being implemented. In Nebraska, 15,000 young adults have been allowed to stay on their parents' insurance policy up to the age of 26, which is important during a weak economy.

If the high court throws out the law it could also jeopardize coverage for the 61,000 Nebraska children who have a pre-existing condition like asthma or diabetes who are now insured for the first time.

Affordable Care Act Benefits Seniors

Senior Citizens will pay more for prescriptions if the law is thrown out. It has already begun closing the "donut hole," meaning lower prescription costs for seniors. More than 24,000 Nebraskans on Medicare have already seen their prescription prices fall, saving each person on average more than $600 last year. If the law is ruled unconstitutional it will also impact the ability of seniors to receive preventive services with no deductibles or co-pays. Last year, more than 197,000 Nebraskans on Medicare received free colonoscopies or a free wellness visit with their doctor. If the law is overturned, insurance companies will no longer be banned from limiting lifetime coverage for chronic diseases which last year affected 701,000 residents in our state.

Critics Should Offer Alternatives

If the activist Supreme Court rules as expected and tosses out the law, the Tea Party wing and other critics will then be obligated to stop these grave consequences that will hurt thousands of Nebraskans by finally offering alternatives they've avoided putting forward for two years.

Should they fail, we'll know all along they were just playing politics with the lives of children, seniors, small business owners and families.

May 30-31 blood drive one of FC's biggest

The two-day blood drive held at Prichard Auditorium on May 30 and 31 was a huge success. All together, 137 units were collected for one of Falls City's biggest drives. The drive wouldn't have been possible without the donations of food and time from these generous people: Excel Meat Corp., courtesy of Robert Stuckemeyer; cookies by the First Christian Church; canteen supplies by The Rotary Club; drinks by Sun Mart; bread by First United Methodist Church; and the canteen run by the ladies of the Christ Lutheran Church.

Thanks to Karen, Brent and Derek Maze for setting up tables and chairs, Marcia and Elaine Schwartz and Peggy Vaughn for calling for appointments, Lee Ferguson, Kathy Rieschick and Josie Riggs for helping at the registration table, Rod Knaup for posters, the Life Skills class for the table tents and Patty Kiekhaefer, Jannie McNeely and Nancy Kelley for setting up drinks. Escorts were Joann Stone, Norma Wintz, Norma Roland, Delilia Vice, Ramona Godemann, Mary Lee Weinert, Karen Simon and Bernice Burgett. Historical Society

By Richard Zentner

At one of the recent jam sessions of the Richardson County Historical Society, John Bowers told how his father sold the cattle that he had fattened.

This was in the days before refrigeration. The large number of cattle were driven down the road to the Verdon railroad depot's livestock pens and loaded into several cars. Mr. Bowers and a broker then boarded the train which traveled eastward at 30 mph at the highest speed. The cattle would have to be unloaded periodically for exercise, feeding and watering.

The train proceeded to an eastern city packing plant after the broker made arrangements for their sale. Then the men returned home on a lot faster train. When the refrigerated cars became available, the animals could be sent to closer packing plants like Armour in North Kansas City or the Omaha stockyards.

Also, some accounts of the earliest pioneers in the county were given and some stories by Charles Nutter of his memories of the 1920s were read.

The next session will be at 7:30 Monday, June 25, at the Historical Museum. Everyone is welcome.

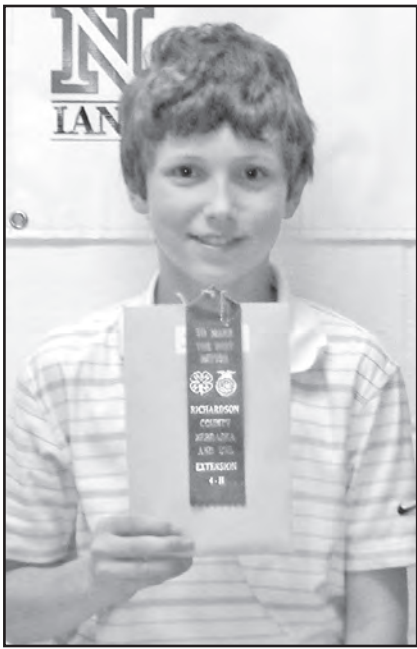

Humboldt Eastern Star #234

Fifteen members met June 7 for a stated meeting of the Humboldt Chapter #234 Order of the Eastern Star at 7:30 p.m. Worthy Matron Elizabeth Ketner presided in the East and led the members in the Pledge of Allegiance. The opening ode, "Praise Him! Praise Him!", was sung.

The regular order of business followed with the approval of the minutes and treasurer's report. Trudy Fankhauser gave a report on the plans for the chapter's 100th celebration on July 14. Registration will begin at 11 a.m. with a light lunch served at 11:30 followed with a program and entertainment. Communication was received from Wymore chapter who will be hosting the Area 4 Entertaining Grand Officers meeting on June 23. It will be held in the Blue Springs Firemen's Memorial Hall with registration beginning at 5 p.m. Items from the Nebraska OES News were reviewed and a thank you letter from the Nebraska Masonic-Eastern Star Home for Children for a donation to the 2011 4-H program. A thank you was received from the Luella Fankhauser family for the memorial gift sent to the Nebraska Masonic Home Foundation at Plattsmouth. Worthy Grand Matron Judy Wehrbein and Worthy Grand Patron's "The Spirit of the Star" grand session will be held in Kearney May 14-16, 2013. Their special projects during the year will be the three Youth groups, International Order of the Rainbow for Girls, Jobs Daughters and DeMolay International. Mrs. Ketner thanked those helping with the bingo games at Colonial Acres Nursing Home recently. Carolyn Bredemeier reported on the "Let There Be Light" Grand OES session held in Lincoln at Pershing Auditorium in May. Others members attending were Mrs. Ketner, Bob and Ann Berggren and Donna Monnette. The Landmarks were read by members. Sickness and distress reports were given.

Six members indicated their wish to attend the Area 4 Grand Officers event in Blue Spring.

The chapter closed in form with prayer and singing of the closing ode, "Find Us Faithful." Following the retiring march, refreshments were served by Marcella Niedfeldt and Catherine Mendenhall.

Joe Bieker, left, and Lizzie Schuetz earned medals at the annual 4-H Music Contest held last month at the Methodist Church in Falls City.

St. Paul's LWML

St. Paul's Lutheran Church, six miles north, LWML ladies met June 6 at 9 a.m. for a brunch served by Jan Huebner and Joann Niedfeldt.

The meeting opened with a meditation from Apples for the Soul—Ephesians 4:32—and read by Janice Boden. Joann Niedfeldt, Christian Life leader, read from Vantage Point of the Lutheran Tape Ministries. Her devotion was "Spending Time."

Janice Boden, president, called the meeting to order. Reports were read and approved. Committees were heard from and the Remembrance committee reported on a party for Elva Eickhoff and flowers given to Evelyn Milburn. The ladies of the Sew 'n Sews are looking for women to sew. Give Norma or Dorothy a call. Norma Roland and Kathy Niedfeldt will look into getting a new fridge for the kitchen. Two delegates are needed for the convention in September. Janice Boden is one and another is needed. Two alternates would be nice, also. The convention will be held Sept. 14 and 15 in North Platte. Ingathering items needed are quilts and blankets, school items and supplies and decorative pillow cases. LWML will send $50 to Camp Luther and $50 to Mission Central. Norma will check into

Get creative! Art is cool

Youth in grades 6-12 are invited to attend an art program entitled “Expressive Community” at the Falls City Library & Arts Center from 4-6 p.m. Tuesday, June 26.

The program will be directed by Falls City native Andrea Jenkins, a 2012 graduate from UNL with an Art Education Endorsement for grades K-12. She has studied in Italy, New York City and Koelzer’s Salvage in Rulo, and also with Pat Steinman. Last year she directed a much-loved program in which Falls City youth recycled plastic bottles into flowers.

Participants will begin the program by looking at architecture and the ways that buildings can impact the feeling of a community. They will also look at the work of artists that create “green” artwork out of cardboard. Participants will then create a preliminary drawing using oil pastel. After finishing the drawing, they will build a 3D structure out of cardboard. These structures will be displayed together at the library to create a miniature “expressive” city.

This is the fifth program in a series of nine that is made possible by the 2012 Youth Grant for Excellence from the Nebraska Library Commission. Be looking for information on more programs to come!

This project was supported in part by state aid funding appropriated by the Nebraska Legislature, granted and administered by the Nebraska Library Commission and the Friends of the Library.

Sapp Bros. pledges $500,000 to Oak Bowl

Peru State College announced that Bill and Lee Sapp of Sapp Bros. Travel Centers and Petroleum have pledged $500,000 to the college’s Oak Bowl Project, the largest single non-estate gift in the institution’s history.

Lee and Bill Sapp are donating the funds to honor their mother, Emilie Hubka Sapp, and sisters Veloura Sapp Barnard and Zelma Sapp Drake, all of whom attended PSC and taught in Nebraska country schools.

“Our family understands the importance of education,” Bill Sapp said. “During the Great Depression, our father, a cattle feeder, lost everything. Our mother, being a very positive person, encouraged her children to go to college as an education is something no one can ever take away. We are making this gift to honor our mother and sisters who spent their lives educating others.”

Earlier this year, the Nebraska Legislature appropriated $7.5 million toward the Oak Bowl’s renovation. Total costs for the Oak Bowl project, including a Fieldhouse, are estimated at $14 million. To complete the project in its entirety the college is working to generate private gifts and donations.

Creatures of Our Seas!

Do you think a “new,” giant creature will be found during your lifetime?

If it is, how do you think it will look and live?

There are so many fascinating creatures that live in our seas and oceans. Scientists today are diving to the deepest parts of the oceans to explore and photograph sea life that no humans have ever seen before.

Almost everything in the sea is food for something else.

This is a giant...

In some parts of the world, people consider me (a puffer fish) a special and rare treat. But, my poisonous parts and spines keep almost everything else from eating me.

Un-oil!

electric eel

sea star

Can you read the clues and fill in the names of these 10 sea creatures?

Oops...I did it again!

This Sea Creature...

1. is really a fish that grows up to six feet long; it can be a shocking experience to meet it (2 words)
2. “gallops” through warm waters; when tired, it can use its tail to cling to seaweed (2 words)
3. has an arm, arm, arm, arm, arm, arm, arm, arm; can squirt black ink to trick an enemy
4. comes in many sizes; a giant one can have eyes up to 15 inches wide, the largest in the world; it has eight arms with suction cups and two tentacles for catching dinner
5. uses its “double-edged sword” to slash through a school of fish for food or to fight
6. is a mammal; it is easy to spot when it “blows off steam”
7. is loved by sailors for its friendliness and intelligence
8. swallows water to blow up into a large ball; its sharp spines discourage other fish from trying to eat it (2 words)
9. has no bones, looks like an umbrella; may have tentacles with poison in them to kill fish or harm enemies
10. usually has five arms; sometimes if one is lost, it can grow it back (2 words)

Ocean Harvest

All around the world (China, Japan, Canada, Iceland) people collect seaweed from the ocean and use it as a vegetable or make it into snacks. In coastal areas of the U.S. like Maine you can find Dulse, a reddish-brown seaweed that is popular to eat.

Can you find and circle these sea items people eat or drink?

STATE RECORD!

Jeremy Waggoner Jr., 14 (left), of Hiawatha, KS, pulled this trophy short-nosed gar out of the Nemaha River Saturday night south of Falls City, using a live frog on his rod and reel. The gar weighed a Nebraska state record 7.32 pounds, easily eclipsing the previous record of 6.14 ounces. It was 32 inches long. Jeremy was fishing with his dad, Jeremy Waggoner Sr. (right).

Carson Bredemeier sets five new pool records

Eight-year-old Carson Bredemeier broke five pool records at the Falls City swim meet on Saturday. Carson set new records in the 8 & under division in the backstroke (25.72), freestyle (19.53), and the individual medley (2:10.89). Carson also moved up an age group to help Braden Oliver, Delbert Casteel, and Kade Bredemeier set a new pool record in the 9-10 boys medley relay (1:36.94) and to help Kade Bredemeier and Sloan Lenard break the pool record in the 9-10 boys freestyle relay (1:15.65). Kade, who swam twice in the record breaking freestyle relay, also broke the 9-10 boys freestyle record (17.38).

The competition was fierce on Saturday because swimmers from Marysville broke eight pool records of their own. Marysville won the lightning-shortened swim meet with 819 points. Falls City finished second with 755 points, but the team was making a strong push towards passing Marysville for the lead in the last event before the swim meet was canceled. Seneca finished third with 424 points. Falls City will travel to Hiawatha this Saturday to take on the host team and Marysville again.

Dad’s late-round eagle secures 2nd Annual Father Son/Daughter for Thomas, Dick Gist

Dick Gist eagled the par-5 third hole Sunday by himself to earn he and son Thomas the championship flight crown of the 2nd Annual Father Son/Daughter scramble at the Falls City Country Club. Thomas had to leave for work with two holes remaining – three and the par-4 fourth – so dad picked him up by chipping in for a “3” on three to hold off the second-place team of Dennis and Lee Hullman, who shot 33.

In the “A” flight, the team of Mike and Jake Simon finished first with a 36 and there was a four-way tie for first in the “B” flight – Ron and Zack Jordening, Dave Borg and Bryce Ebel, Adam and Max Froeschl and Mike and Cassie Gilmore – all shot 41 to share the title.

A large turnout of 25 teams competed, up from 10 a year ago.

Be prepared for anything in your crops, landscapes

By Gary Lesoing

With the extremely early spring and summer conditions and erratic weather patterns, we have seen a number of different insect pests, some weird looking plants affected from diseases, insects, environmental conditions or possible spray drift. It is important to be prepared for anything this year in your crops, gardens and landscape. The very warm, dry conditions we experienced the past 6 weeks have led to some infestations of two-spotted spider mites in soybean fields. This is 4-6 weeks earlier than we usually see these pests in soybeans. The dry conditions only magnified issues with rootless corn that was seen around the region more this year than normal.

A large portion of the region received some excellent rains last week that really improved growing conditions for crops. With the hot conditions we are seeing this week, significant rainfall will be needed the remainder of the summer to produce a crop. It is important to check fields to determine if an insect pest or disease is in your field that may require treatment. In continuous corn fields, corn rootworm have emerged way ahead of schedule. Continuous corn fields should be checked to determine if you have a problem and an insecticide needs to be applied.

There have also been reports of frogeye leaf spot in soybeans. There have been reports of Goss's Wilt in south central Nebraska. This disease enters the corn plant after it has been damaged by hail, winds or blowing sand. Remember this is a bacterial wilt, so treatment with a fungicide is not effective. It is important to get a positive identification of a disease before any treatment is applied. You can contact me at (402) 274-4755 or your local Extension office if you have questions. UNL Plant Diagnostic Clinic can provide this service.

As far as problems with plants, trees and flowers in landscapes this year, there have been a number of calls on different issues. There have been spruce spider mites on spruce and cedar trees earlier this spring, but with hot, dry conditions, be prepared to see the two-spotted spider mites on other trees and shrubs this summer. If the needles or leaves of trees are turning brown or yellow, you may want to check for spider mites. If you hold a piece of white paper underneath the needles or leaves in a branch of a tree or shrub and shake, you may find several small specks on the paper. If after a short time they start moving, you probably have spider mites. If populations are not too great and you have a small tree or shrub, you may be able to knock the spider mites off with water. There also may be natural predators that will keep the populations in check. There are horticultural soaps, oils or miticides that can also be used to control this pest. There have also been a number of calls about aphids on trees. Control of aphids is similar to the spider mites, except there are also a number of insecticides that can be used for control. Unless you have trees that have been infected every year by aphids and are under stress, treatment usually isn't required. The important thing is to help reduce stress on trees by keeping them well watered, especially during the heat of the summer.

Another insect people are concerned about is bagworms. While I have not seen any bagworms yet, it is important to keep a watch out for this pest. They have caused considerable damage to coniferous trees and shrubs in the area for many years. With the warm temperatures, they should have hatched already. They are much easier to control when they are small.

If you have other questions about crop or horticultural pests, feel free to contact me at (402) 274-4755.

Reavis-Ashley DAR

The Reavis-Ashley Chapter DAR, Falls City, met Friday, June 9, at the Cornerstone Coffee Haus in Seneca.

Lola Droge called the meeting to order. Anne Moser read the President General's message on renovations at Constitution Hall. Lola Droge gave the National Defense report on a letter from Jeff Steinlage in Afghanistan. Marcia Philbrick installed the 2012-13 officers. The new State Regent's project is "Forgotten Patriots—honoring our patriots of yesterday by recognizing their service today and preserving their memory forever."

Joann Freeborn presented the program on the history of women's voting. Alice Stokes Paul was an American activist who led a successful campaign for women's suffrage that resulted in the passage of the 19th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution in 1920. Her father started Swarthmore College in Pennsylvania, one of the earliest coeducational colleges in the U.S. After receiving a degree at Swarthmore and Pennsylvania University she moved to England where she was imprisoned three times for her belief that women were equal in society. In 1910 she moved back to the U.S. and became involved in the struggle for obtaining the right for women to vote. In 1918, President Woodrow Wilson announced that women's suffrage was "greatly needed as a war message" during World War I, but the passage took until 1920. Alice continued her battle for civil rights and is credited with drafting the Equal Rights Amendment, which was passed by the Senate in 1972. Currently, there is a bill in Congress to award Alice Paul the Congressional Gold Medal for advancement of equal rights for women.

The next meeting is Oct. 12 at the home of Lola Droge in rural Bern.

The staff and administration of Falls City High School have announced the May Students of the Month, from left: Jeff Cornell, junior son of Jeremy and Lisa Cornell, Courtney Chapple, junior daughter of Todd and Martha Chapple, Baylee Vrtiska, freshman daughter of Kim and Kris Vrtiska, and Brandon Gibson, freshman son of Richard Gibson and Lori Owens. The students were nominated by high school staff on their academic achievements, attitude, classroom contributions and work ethic. Each of the students was praised in nomination comments for "academic excellence, going above and beyond what was asked of them, their helpfulness, and their leadership, and serving as excellent role models for their peers," according to high school principal Gale Dunkhas.

St. Mark's Lutheran Women

Mrs. Delila Vice served as hostess when the St. Mark's Lutheran Church Women met Thursday afternoon in the church social room. Mrs. Edwin Werner presented the lesson, "Travels with Jacob," taken from the book of Genesis 28. The lesson period closed with prayer.

Mrs. Vice conducted the business meeting with members responding to roll call with a Bible verse. Reports of the secretary and treasurer were given. Plans were made for a potluck dinner following the morning worship services on June 24. A baby shower for Magdalene Alena Sipf, daughter of Pastor John and Rebecca Sipf, will be held after the dinner.

A thanks offering and regular offering were taken. There will be no meetings in the months of July or August.

HIGHWAY PROJECT

INFORMATION

Richardson County Department of Roads is seeking comment on the proposed bridge replacement of an existing single span steel truss bridge to a triple-span 125-foot continuous concrete bridge located near Verdon, Richardson County, Nebraska. The project is located approximately 1 mile north and 2 miles west of Verdon where County Road 713 crosses Spring Creek. This project is identified as BRO-7074(23) (CN 12666): Verdon Northwest.

The purpose of the bridge replacement project is to provide a modern and safe stream crossing by replacing the existing bridge with a new bridge, to improve the reliability of the transportation asset and perpetuate the mobility of the traveling public.

The new bridge will have a roadway width of 28 feet with approach guard-rail placed on all four corners of the bridge. Surfacing of the roadway will remain as gravel. Additionally, the project will include the temporary installation of a temporary access crossing (shoo-fly) during construction. The shoo-fly would be constructed with twin 72-inch culverts and will have a crushed rock surface. Upon completion of the work, the shoo-fly will be removed, and the stream banks will be restored and revegetated. Rock riprap will be placed along the channel banks through the bridge area to provide protection from erosion. A United States Army Corps of Engineers Section 404 Permit will be obtained for this project. This project would take approximately seventy-five (75) working days and is scheduled to begin in Spring 2013.

The public is being encouraged to make suggestions or express concerns regarding the proposed Verdon Northwest project. Comments will be collected through July 19, 2012. Written comments should be submitted to: Scott Huppert, Highway Superintendent, Richardson County Department of Roads, 65087 706 Trail, Falls City, NE 68355-1438; telephone: (402) 245-2614; email: rchighway@sentco.net

Scams that can result in financial ruin target people of all ages. But senior citizens should be especially cautious. Jenny Margrave of Falls City certainly was.

Jenny received a phone call last week from a woman purporting herself to be representing Medicare. She told Jenny that “new cards” were being issued and that certain information had to be certified — information that included Jenny’s bank account number.

After listening long enough, Jenny told the caller that “this sounds like a scam.” The caller promptly disconnected.

Jenny recognized the call for what it was and knew that no one from Medicare would request a bank account number via the telephone. The Journal has reported on many similar attempts at fraud, including supposed “sweepstakes” bonanzas.

The basic rule to remember is never, under any circumstances, provide personal banking information of any kind over the telephone. Legitimate callers would never ask for that type of information.

And while the call to Jenny was not of the “get rich quick” variety, it is smart to remember that anything that sounds too good to be true most likely is.

Lane Scheitel improved to 4-1 on the season, allowing just three hits in an 8-0 shutout victory over Hiawatha last Thursday.

FC sweeps Hiawatha

By Jim Langan

Lane Scheitel picked up a pair of wins last Thursday night, one a complete game and one in relief, Thursday night as Falls City improved to 9-4 by sweeping a pair of games from still winless Hiawatha at Dallas Jones Park. The Seniors won 8-0 and 10-8.

Scheitel, now 4-1 on the season, allowed just three hits and struck out four in the game one victory. Then in the second game, Scheitel came in to relieve starter Reese Hogue in the third inning and pitched shut-out baseball for the final three innings. Hogue pitched well enough - only two of the seven runs allowed while he was in were earned - but four walks and some errors behind him made it a short night.

Mitchell Harling had a big game first game going 3-4 at the plate with two runs scored, a RBI and three stolen bases. With Falls City ahead 7-0 in the bottom of the fifth and Chaz Dunn on second following a leadoff walk and stolen base, Harling doubled to score Dunn and the game was called due to the eight-runs after five innings rule. Kenny Frederick had a pair of RBIs to go along with two hits and increase his team-leading batting average to .333.

In the second game, Trevor Harling led Falls City with two hits. Scheitel and Logan Faller had a pair of RBIs and Faller and Frederick scored twice.

The Seniors’ Nebraska/Kansas Border battle was rained out Saturday. No make up date is scheduled.

Also worth noting, the 2012 Southeast Nebraska Baseball Conference All-Conference were announced over the weekend. Trevor Harling, Chaz Dunn and Lane Scheitel with the Seniors and Chase Thompson, Logan Scheitel and Tyler DiGiacomo with the Juniors made the team and Josh Stoller and Jordy Stoller were honorable mention.

The 2012 SENBC All-Star Game will be this Sunday, June 24, at Peru State College, with the Juniors playing at 2 p.m. and the Seniors at 4:30.

The Falls City Juniors traveled to Holton, KS, last night and easily defeated the host team in a both games of a doubleheader. Falls City shutout Holton, 11-0, in game one and then won 13-2 in the second game.

Brandt Vice picked up the win pitching two-hit ball while striking out nine without giving up a walk.

Austin Malone, Tyler DiGiacomo, Chase Thompson and Logan Scheitel each went 2-4 with a run batted in and Jordy Stoller was 1-4 with 4 RBIs. Sawyer Kean had a pair of RBIs for Falls City.

In the 13-2 win, Stoller picked up the win as he went the distance in the run rule shortened game. Stoller pitched four innings, allowed only a pair of hits and struck out a season-high 11 batters.

Stoller also helped himself at the plate by going 3-4 with 2 RBIs and two runs scored. DiGiacomo (1-3, 2B, 3 RBIs), Thompson (2-3, 2 R, RBI) and Vice (1-2, 2 R, 2 RBIs) also had big games at the plate for Falls City.

Falls City broke a three-game skid with the pair of road victories and improved to 11-4 on the season.
