Visit Krumme Arboretum this Saturday

The public is invited to an open house at the Krumme Memorial Arboretum from 1-3 p.m. Saturday, June 7.

Located near Stanton Lake at the end of West 25th Street, the Open House is a way to become acquainted with a theme of plants native to Nebraska and adjoining states.

There are four other good reasons to venture out to the arboretum:

- The Tribe of Mic-O-Say dancers, a Boy Scouts of America group, will perform at 1:30.

- Party Pets on Wheels of Omaha will bring 10 units for rides to amuse the very young to grandparents. There is no charge for these rides.

- Ice cream sundaes will be handed out on a first-come basis, courtesy of Southeast Nebraska Communications.

- And, the Richardson County Humane Society will be there to take pictures of people and their pets. So, bring your favorite animal pet to the arboretum.

The Krumme Arboretum is an asset of The Richardson Foundation. Take a virtual visit at arboretum.unl.edu.

Valuation protests

Richardson County Assessor Pam Vice said Monday that property owners have until June 30, 2014 to file valuation protests with the county.

Vice said Change of Value Notices mailed from the Richardson County Assessors Office last week were printed with an incorrect filing date in the instructions.

"The correct date to file protests by should be on or before 6/30/2014. Sorry for any inconvenience," she said.

Falter Museum nears construction phase goal of $100,000

Barb Hemphill to open Falter Review June 21 at library

Barbara Hemphill, a 1964 graduate of Falls City High School, will share her story of the impact growing up in Falls City has on her life and her business, and to celebrate the power of "Together We Are Better" with the opening of the John Philip Falter Art Review Saturday, June 21, at the Stalder Art Gallery in the FC Library & Arts Center.

Barb is the daughter of the late Everett and Doris Frost. She will also be in Falls City the weekend of June 21 to celebrate the FCHS Alumni Weekend with the 50-year Class of 1964.

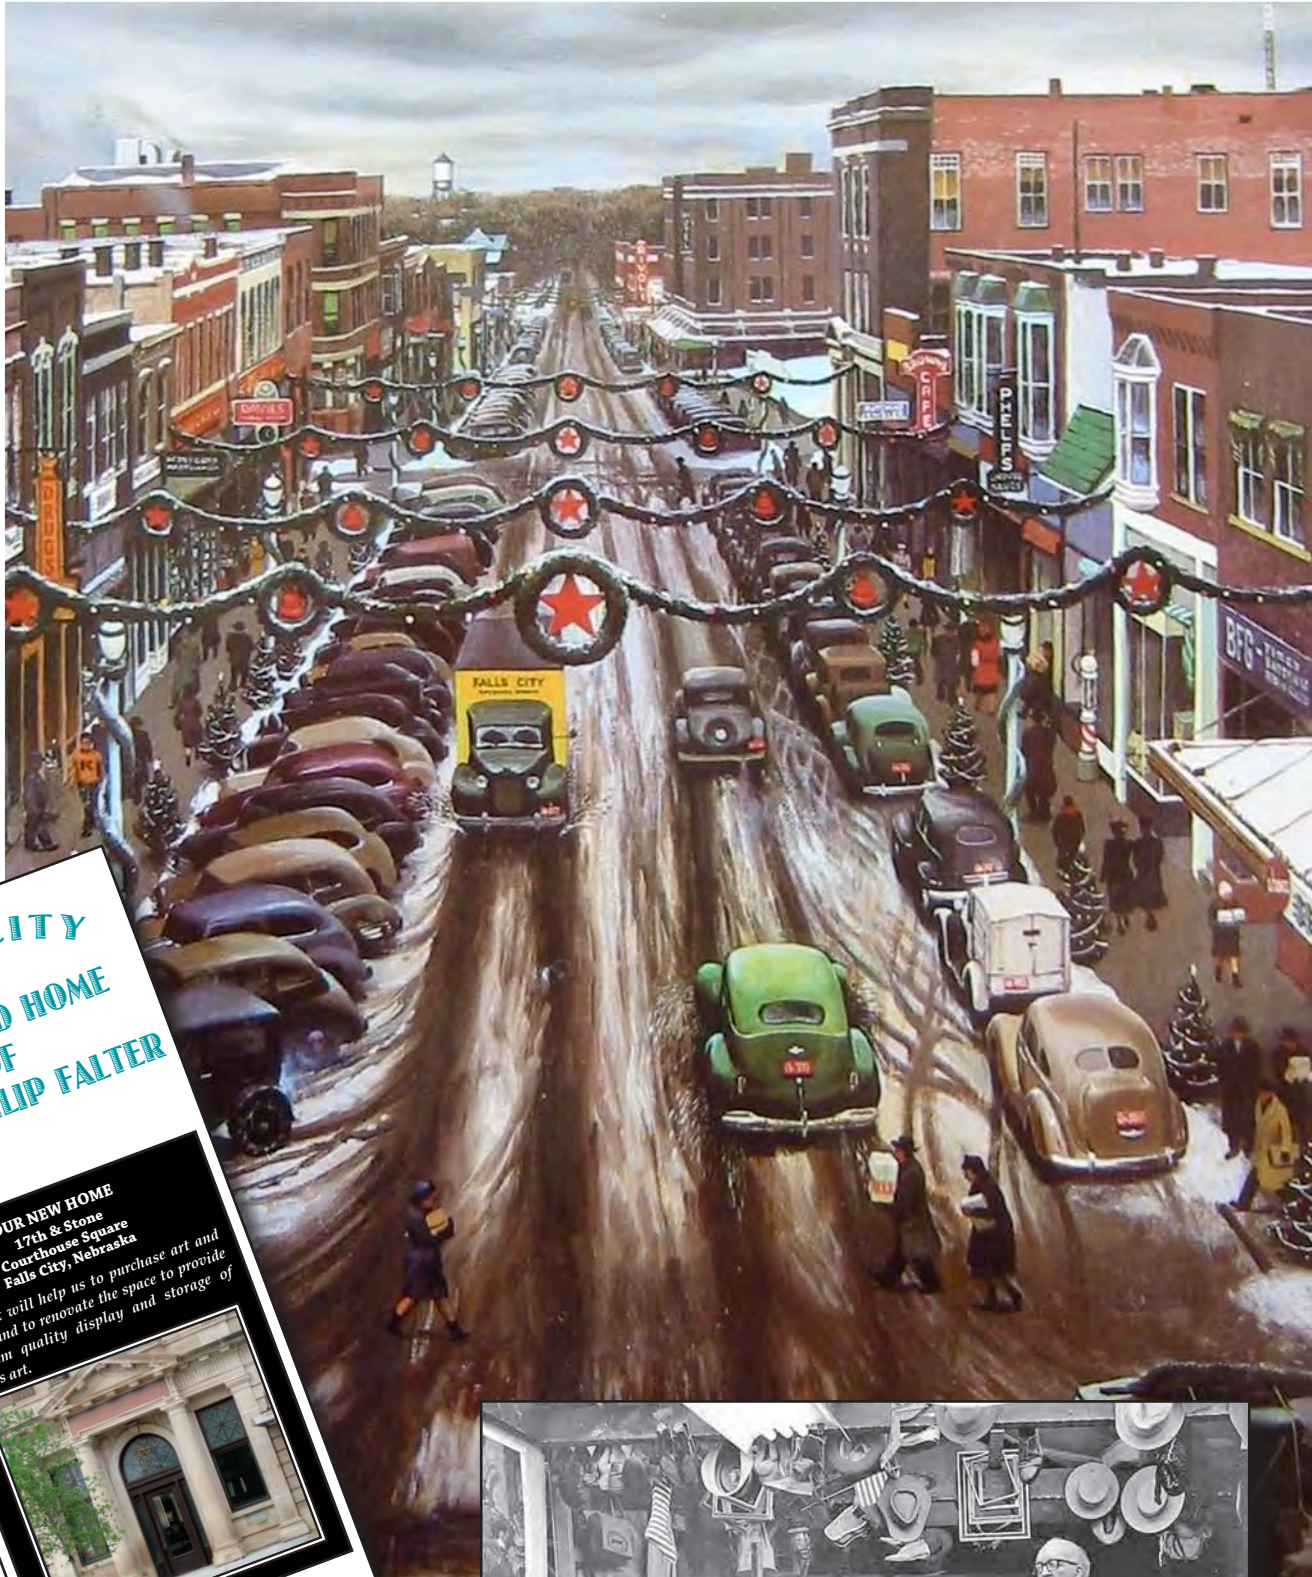

The library opens at 9 a.m., Barbara speaks at 10 and then follows with a tour of the Falter artwork. Cookies and lemonade will be served.

"My intention for the presentation would be as a 'Thank you' for the people who have already contributed to the John Philip Falter Museum thus far, and to encourage others to do the same," Hemphill said.

The John Philip Falter Museum, to be located in the lobby of the former Richardson County Bank building at 17th and Stone Streets, is still in its fundraising stage, Chairperson Dobeys Haws said, but with $80,000 donated as of June 1, is edging closer to its construction goal of $100,000.

"$100,000 is needed to renovate the space to museum standards and we hope to have $125,000 to cover operating costs for each of our first five years ($25,000/per)," Haws said. "Our opening date is the Christmas window opening downtown (Friday, Nov. 28)."

The project is certainly fortunate to have Barbara Hemphill's enthusiastic support. Frequently

Firefighters stay busy late last week

Three fire calls kept the Falls City Fire Dept. busy last week. Fire Chief Ken Simpson reported on two of the fires. On Thursday morning at 5:02 a.m., the fire department received a call at 923 Fulton St. and was on the scene at 5:05 a.m. The Fire Marshall is calling the cause undetermined at this time.

At least $25,000 in interior damage was done to the home. In fact, the blaze caused a bedroom floor to fall through to the basement. Thirteen city firemen and seven rural firemen were on the scene to extinguish the flames.

At approximately 4:20 p.m. the fire reignited. Simpson stated that a spark could have caused the reignition. Thirteen city firemen returned

Pool opens, but leak still unsolved

The Falls City Aquatic Center opened its doors last Friday to many excited children, but the source of a major leak that pushed back the opening date by nearly a week remains a mystery.

City Administrator Gary Jorn, who last week told The Journal that a meeting was to be held with an engineer from Schemmer and Associates, of Lincoln, yesterday said representatives from Schemmer are scheduled to inspect the pool June 12.

Schemmer was the architect that designed the Aquatic Center.

Neither Jorn or Pool Manager Roger Lampe would say how much water was leaking from the pool, other than calling it a "considerable" amount.

It's officially summer! The kids are out and everyone is ready to go on that summer vacation. Our family is a family of travelers. Days after Alex was born we loaded him in the car for a trip and never looked back. Our little family of three has quite the adventurous spirit. We were all born to go. The problem with our wanderlust is lack of funds. Luckily we have found some creative and fun ways to get out of town on a budget. We take mini-trips. We go somewhere we have never been before and spend the night. We try to limit our destination to about 6 hours away or less. Last year on a whim we decided to travel the 5.5 hours east to Springfield, IL.

We woke up bright and early at 4:45 a.m. on a Saturday morning. We hit the interstate and stopped for breakfast in St. Joe. From there on out we rarely stopped. We were on a mission. We had to hit the Brickhouse before the lunch rush. A long time ago, my friend Tom Giffie had mentioned the beauty of "The Horse Shoe" a Springfield staple. I had thought about it for so long, I knew this is what we had to eat for lunch. We pulled into town around 11:15 am and made our way downtown. I walked in, confident in my decision. I didn't even have to open a menu, I knew. I ordered the Buffalo Chicken Horseshoe. The famous Horseshoe consists of, A Fried Chicken Patty, Buffalo Wing sauce, Bleu Cheese, French Fries all placed on warm Texas Toast and their special cheese sauce over the top of it all. Here is where I am at a loss for words. What can you say about utter food perfection? It was like they took all of my very favorite things and put them into one work of art. The Mona Lisa of food if you will. I savored, devoured and nearly cried at its amazingness. I suggest you take the drive over to Springfield just for this alone. It was worth the trip. I declare Springfield's specialty my ideal last meal if I had to choose one.

After lunch we decided to walk the downtown area. Nearly everything you need to see (or eat) in Springfield is within a 6 block radius. We wanted to hit the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Museum first since it closed at 5:00 p.m. and we really didn't know how long we would be in there. We walked in and Alex was handed a History Detective Kit. He was on a mission to find out as much as he could about President Lincoln. This was a wonderful idea, because he had to pay attention to everything he saw and heard. Our first stop was a 3D film about "Ghosts of the Library." Then we hit the White House section. This museum had all kinds of amazing things that surprised me. Many of Lincoln's own personal items, books, and documents. It took us about 2.5 hours to hit everything we felt we had to see. Alex really enjoyed it and was encouraged to touch things, a good thing for any kid!

Our next stop was the Old Capitol Building a few blocks away. They had tents set up outside and men and women were dressed up in Civil War era outfits. They are there many weekends for the tourists. We went inside and found an Abraham Lincoln impersonator. Alex was beyond impressed and followed him around for an uncomfortable about of time (for the man, not Alex). We were able to speak with him and get Alex's photo taken with him before he left for the day. We then decided to hit up some shops and take things a little bit slower. Downtown Springfield is full of Abe Lincoln themed shops and antique stores. It was great to just bounce from store to store.

The hotel we had planned to stay in was downtown in the same area. They had an outdoor concert that night and I thought we would all enjoy it but after being in the area all day we decided to venture to a quieter more kid friendly area for the night. Leaving downtown we stopped at the new State Capitol building. This was hands down my favorite place. I am not sure what it was, the architecture, the history or the quiet beauty but find me a state or Nation's Capital and I am happy as a clown for hours. There were fountains, gardens and beautiful buildings all around. We watched wedding photos taken, tourists come and go and the building close all while we just roamed around. After hours of people and building watching it was time to hit our final stop on this whirlwind Lincoln tour, Lincoln's Tomb. This ended up being Brian's favorite part. The tomb was really interesting, yet hard to explain. The most interesting part of the entire thing was the spot back behind where Lincoln rested before the tomb was built. It was a marker covered in pennies. Walking all day left us a bit tired so we were finally off to our hotel. We found a nice place on the south west side of town. It was near all kinds of shopping centers and eateries. We checked in and went off to find some food and spend the rest of the evening swimming. We were able to spend a full Saturday exploring as a family. We laughed, we learned and we loved everything we did.

At that time it costs us a total of $85.00 in gas to drive there and back. $32.00 for the Lincoln Museum, It was pricey but totally worth it. $60.00 for Food & Misc. snacks. Our hotel would have cost us around $85.00 but I use a travel site that lets you build up points towards free nights in a hotel of your choice. At that time I had saved enough for a few nights so our hotel was free. We spent roughly $177.00 for a quick weekend away from it all. I know that is easy for me to say it was cheap and simple because I have one child but many of the attractions were free and had we packed snacks and water in a cooler we could have saved more. On the way home we were able to stop in Hannibal, MO and watch the tugboats and barges come and go. It was a beautiful town reminiscent of Brownville. We didn't do anything spectacular or monumental, we just went. We had no plan, no schedule but we had a blast. It was one of our best road trips to date. One of my favorite quotes of all time is something I try to live by "I wish I'd done everything on earth with you." Hopefully by the end of our crazy lives I can look over at Brian and say, "I am so happy I was able to do everything on earth with you." I am shooting for this one crazy adventure at a time.

Is there a lesson to be learned from botched execution?

Capitol View
By J.L. Schmidt
Statehouse Correspondent
Nebraska Press Association

Count me among those people who have changed their mind about the death penalty.

Sure, the recent bungled execution of Clayton Lockett in Oklahoma had something to do with it. Sure, listening - repeatedly - to the arguments against the death penalty by Senator Ernie Chambers of Omaha had something to do with it.

Sitting through two days of Pardon's Board testimony about Willy Otey in the summer of 1994 had something to do with it. He was executed. Spending time at the Governor's Mansion with Ben Nelson and a couple reporters in July 1996 awaiting word that John Joubert had been executed played a part.

Narrowly missing an assignment to witness the execution of Robert E. Williams in December 1997 and report my observations to the world had a giant impact. But having my first-born son incarcerated for three years, and the in-depth look at the criminal justice system that gave, me probably turned the corner for me.

Researching the death penalty in Nebraska about a year ago gave me the final push when I ran across the story about the hanging death of William Jackson Marion back in 1887. He was convicted and executed for the murder of John Cameron. However, Cameron turned up alive in 1891. Marion received a posthumous pardon by Nebraska Governor Bob Kerrey on the 100th anniversary of his execution.

You don't have to be a reporter to pause and wonder if Marion was the first and only mistake in Nebraska among the 37 executions in Nebraska's history and how many others there might be in a year in the United States. But when you get to know the system, you understand that we are all humans, and humans make mistakes.

I reported on the crimes and the trials and the convictions and the executions of the last three in the 90s. I know that the bodies of the victims were found. We can assume, based on extensive reporting, that the same holds true for the 11 men currently on death row.

In 2008, the Supreme Court ruled that death by electrocution in Nebraska was cruel and unusual punishment. The Legislature approved death by lethal injection in 2009. Capital punishment remains on the books in Nebraska, but the supply of the execution drug sodium thiopental ran out in December. The drug is nearly impossible to buy because like most drugs used in executions, it's produced by European-based companies that are prohibited from exporting drugs used for capital punishment.

There are those, some of them death penalty proponents, who believe that there will never be another execution in Nebraska. While they believe the punishment is appropriate for the most heinous crimes, they understand that the constant legal challenges to the method and the appeals process for the convicted are just too costly.

Couple that with the fact that government has yet to prove that it's up to the task of administering the death penalty fairly and constitutionally, and one can make a strong case for locking them up and throwing away the key.

Governor Dave Heineman has said that the botched Oklahoma execution was unfortunate but threatened to overshadow the woman who was murdered.

Chambers has fought for decades to abolish the death penalty. Lawmakers passed his repeal in 1979, but then-Governor Charles Thone vetoed it. A similar proposal didn't get past first-round debate this year.

Life in prison without parole would limit the length and expense of the appeals and remove the false hope of victim's families. It would also take the pressure off a system that struggles, at best, to do some things right. In the end, life in prison without parole is probably the most humane for all concerned.

The Board of Directors of the Richardson County Historical Society met May 17, with 12 members present. President Richard Meinzer opened the business meeting at 9 a.m. Secretary Gary Nelson read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were approved as corrected. Treasurer Jo Ann Auxier presented the treasurer's report, which was accepted and placed on file.

Under old business, members were informed that the first annual Spring Tea had made $695. The food and Falls City Journal advertising were donated by Ann Meinzer, radio advertising was donated by Jo Ann Auxier, program expense was donated by Jo Ann Auxier and Ann Meinzer, candles and candy were donated by The Flower Cart, and flowers were donated by Dunn's Greenery.

Jo Ann Auxier reported that Gene Thomsen had spoken at Boone Berry's Court of Honor about the good job three Eagle Scouts had done renovating the Iron Monument site. JoAnn Koso moved and Gary Nelson seconded that the Society pay $120 as its portion of the cost of a privacy fence to be constructed between the museum and an adjoining property after an existing brick wall is removed. The motion carried.

Under new business, Ann Meinzer moved and June Bowers seconded that the Society pay $99 to have the museum included in the Travel

America Visitors Guide, which is distributed nationwide. The motion carried. The board discussed a possible quilt display at the museum on a weekend in July. Gary Nelson moved and Ann Meinzer seconded that the Society purchase a battery backup surge protector for the alarm system. The motion carried. Richard Meinzer suggested board members think about Society participation in Cobblestone in August.

The next meeting will be held at 9 a.m. Saturday, June 28, at the museum.

Shubert ALA Unit #222

The Shubert ALA Unit #222 met at the Shubert library on May 13, 2014. President Tana Brown called the meeting to order with seven members and one guest (Carter Meyerkorth) present. Members recited the Pledge of Allegiance and the ALA preamble, sang one verse of the National Anthem, and Linda Patchen gave the opening prayer. Vicki Beilke recorded minutes of the meeting as Elizabeth Ketner was out of town.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were given and approved by members. Expenditures included purchases of Easter candy, stamps, and the Memorial Day poppies.

President Brown presented information on the summer convention to be held at Kearney. She will see if Lindsay Harlow can attend a meeting and discuss her experience at Girls State. She also reported on the success of County Government Day held in April of this year. The students were respectful to county officers and sponsors.

The May 23 spaghetti dinner fundraiser for the Legion Building renovation was discussed with Linda Patchen and Dona Hall in charge of this event. Solicitations and donations have been requested. Posters were distributed within the community advertising the dinner. Linda Patchen made a quilt sampler to raffle at the event and the co-chairpersons asked that everyone possible volunteer to help with the event.

Hall and Patchen cleaned out old and unusable items from the Legion Building during the annual Shubert Clean-Up Day. Discussion continued on the remodeling needs of the building. An estimate from electrician Ben Howard for reconnecting electricity to the building was received. Additionally, some carpeting, wall repair, and siding are needed for the building to become usable.

Ceremonies for Memorial Day were next on the agenda. Poppies were distributed to members for placement on veteran's graves in these cemeteries at Nemaha, Prais-

HTRS National Honor Society

By Jacob Herr

The Humboldt-Table Rock-Steinauer High School National Honor Society conducts a large service project every year and this year the group choose to raise money for the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation.

For approximately two weeks in April, all HTRS grade levels were pitted against each other for a competition. Both the Humboldt and Table Rock sites had their own competitions. They were each working separately for two prizes, a pizza party and chance to get some “revenge” on their principals, both of whom were great sports about the whole thing and gave incredible support.

The school as a whole raised right around $2,000. The class that won the Table Rock Site competition was the Fifth Grade, who raised about $300. They won a pizza party and they got to put a pie in Mrs. Cover’s face. The Fifth Graders drew names out of a hat and the lucky student who got to pie the principal was Joe Stalder.

The Humboldt Site class that won was the First Grade, they raised about $1,000. They, too, won a pizza party and instead of pie, they got to tape their principal, Mrs. Othmer to a wall. All of the students got to put two stripes of tape on Mrs. Othmer, but River McNealy got to put a stripe over her mouth because he personally raised the most. River did an outstanding job for the First Grade class and raised $725 on his own.

The National Honor Society was incredibly happy with the results of this competition and wants to thank everyone who donated to the cause.

Blue Storm Seniors go 8-3 in May

Falls City Blue Storm Seniors built an early edge in Saturday’s “Fight for the Falls” Tournament at SNC Field, but the EMN Nationals roared back to steal a 4-3 victory.

Falls City, now 8-3, hosts Plattsmouth tonight, faces EMN again Wednesday in Nehawka, and travels to Lincoln Sunday for a night game with Wilmar Electric at Sherman Field. The team next plays at home June 11.

“Offensively we are playing really well,” Coach Kory Huppert said late last week, prior to Saturday’s tournament. “Through nine games we have stolen 69 bases, which is well above the pace to break the record of 171 set last year; a goal the team has set for themselves. We are also hitting the ball extremely well and hitting gaps, which is another goal we have set and practiced hard to do.

“Defensively our pitching is solid with three starters returning (Logan Scheitel, Derek Bippes, and Reese Hogue). We also have Derek McCann and Weston Witt who are throwing really well right now. The seniors have some things to clean up defensively and fine-tune before the district tournament because we are playing well but not well enough to beat most likely the best in the Class B if not all of the state (Norris). The positive is the players are all excited and in a baseball frame of mind. They have all worked hard up to this point and continue to work hard on our game,” Huppert said.

The Blue Storm opened the year with four victories, beating Hiawatha (9-8, 12-1), Sabetha (2-0) and Syracuse (7-4). The team lost twice to Nebraska City (5-1, 8-5) in three days, swept a doubleheader at Sabetha (9-2, 12-4) and took a 12-4 victory at Tecumseh last Thursday.

Saturday, in the championship game, FC took a 3-0 lead in the top of the first and, thanks in large to the pitching of Hogue, held that lead into the fourth. The EMN Nationals put one on the board in the fourth and, in the bottom of the sixth, capitalized on a two-run error and scored three to take a 4-3 lead. FC failed to send the game into the bottom of the seventh, as Chaz Dunn led off and reached on an error, advancing to second on a sac bunt off the bat of Tyler DiGiacomo. Dunn represented the tying run, but was stranded at second after back-to-back strikeouts.

The EMN Nationals managed just two hits off of Hogue, who allowed no earned runs, walked six and struck out six during his 3 2/3 innings of work. Logan Scheitel took the loss, allowing three runs in one and a third.

FC’s offense got off to a good start that could’ve been great. Lead-off man Witt reached on an error, Dunn walked on four pitches and DiGiacomo loaded the bases with a single to center. All three eventually came across as Chase Thompson drilled a 1-2 pitch to left field and Derek McCann also added an RBI single during the frame. The Storm managed to load the bases again, with just one out, but left them stranded after a popup and ground out.

FC put their lead-off hitters on base but failed to score in both the second and third innings, went down in order in the fourth and fifth, and again threatened in the sixth after singles by Scheitel (2-for-3) and Zach Jordening, but left them stranded.

Patrick Carlton got the win for the EMN Nationals. He allowed three runs over 5 2/3 innings. He struck out six, walked two and surrendered six hits.

The Blue Storm advanced to the title game with a 3-2 comeback win over Fairbury. Dunn collected three hits and two RBI, singling in the first and sixth and providing a game-winning walk-off RBI double in the bottom of the seventh. Witt was the starter and surrendered just one earned run in 5 2/3 innings, giving up no walks and six hits while striking out four. Scheitel pitched one shutout inning and got the victory.

In the seventh, Jordening singled and eventually advanced to third before Dunn, with two out, drilled the first pitch he saw to left field, ending the game.

Jerald A. Jones

Jerald Allen Jones (known as Jerry) was born Feb. 21, 1938 in the small town of Preston, NE. He lived in and around Falls City and southeast Nebraska for most of his life. He died peacefully at St. Ives Memory Care in Peachtree Corners, Georgia on May 31, 2014, with his loving wife Wanda, son and daughter by his side. Also, at his side, as always, was his loyal companion-Mik Jones, his loving dog.

He leaves to cherish the memories of his son, Kevin R. Jones and wife Joni, of West Des Moines, IA, and his daughter, Kimberly S. Jones Shaver, of Peachtree Corners, GA, and their families. Jerry is also survived by an uncle, Virgil M. Jones, and wife Joann, of Falls City, and their sons, Gary and Rick Jones. Also survived by four grandsons: Justin William Jones – 16, Austin Allen Shaver – 15, Jared Stephen Jones – 14 and Benjamin Eston Jones – 12.

Preceded in death by his father, William M. Jones; mother, Alma Lock-Jones-Adams; grandparents, Eston and Ida Zimmerman Jones; and two uncles, Ernest Jones and Everet Jones.

Jerry was an only son of his family and primarily raised by his grandparents Eston and Ida and had a strong desire to always do the right thing the way his grandfather taught him. He was a man of great character, deep faith, and loving spirit. At an early age drove farm equipment in the fields and learned to love the land. During high school he served with the National Guard. After high school he joined the United States Air Force and was stationed at Fuji Far East Headquarters near Tokyo, Japan. He became a weatherman, mapping and doing mechanical drawings of daily weather information for the pilots.

After being honorably discharged from service, he obtained a position with the United States Weather Bureau in Kansas City, MO. There he met and married the love of his life, Wanda Jackson and on this coming June 2nd, two days shy of joyfully celebrating 53 anniversaries. He then returned to Falls City to help his father with the farms. During slow times on the farm he began on the ground floor of Cable Television, moving up to an engineer and into management, retiring after 37 years with Time Warner Cable. His work was challenging. All the while continuing his interest in farming.

He always appreciated the outdoors especially boating, skiing, along his place on the river. He loved to feel the wind in his face as he cruised around on his royal blue Gold Wing and soaring the skies in his little Cessna airplane. But he really enjoyed traveling the tributaries, whether by boat, tugboat, canoe or the big Steamboats – he loved 'em all. His twinkling blue eyes, laughed and smiled easily, told hilarious stories, and remained the eternal optimist, lifting up all who knew him.

He will be greatly missed but not forgotten.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, June 7, 2014 at First United Methodist Church with Revs. Lyle Schoen and Paul Weinert officiating. Interment will be in Steele Cemetery. Military graveside honors by Falls City Ceremonial Honor Guard.

The family will receive friends from 6-8 p.m. Friday at Dorr and Clark Funeral Home in Falls City.

The Nebraska State Council of the North Central Association and AdvancED recently presented an award to Falls City High School in Celebration of 100 years (1911-2011) of continuous membership. FCHS was the 19th high school in Nebraska to become accredited. NCA started in Nebraska in 1896, and the first accredited school was in 1904. FCHS representatives photographed here, from left: Social studies teacher Lori Rech, Principal Gale Dunkhas, Guidance Counselor Sara Barker and social studies teacher Lee Kurpgewit.

Superintendent's Year-End Report

By School District #56 Supt. Tim Heckenlively

The School Board meeting was preceded by a budget hearing since the board took action during the regular part of the meeting to adopt the amended budget. The hearing and emending of the district budget is required by state statute anytime expenditures in any part of the budget exceed the original budget projections. In a nutshell, back in January of this fiscal year, the district had the opportunity to refinance $1.6 million in outstanding school construction bonds from the high school remodel project back in the year 2000.

The old interest rate we have been paying was 3.355% and the new interest rate is 1.09%, for a total savings to the district/property tax payers of $82,751 in the bond fund. Whenever a transaction like this takes place, a municipal bonds company, D.A. Davidson in this case, must pay off the old bonds to the original investors, and then market the new bonds to investors. As these bonds only have 5 years remaining until maturity, they were appealing bonds to investors, thus helping us achieve the favorable interest rate. Because of the refunding transaction, the budget has to be amended. It's also important to note that there is absolutely no impact to the current bond fund tax levy because of the transaction and budget amendment. The refunding and purchasing of new bonds is a wash, but the interest payment in the next five years will be reduced.

Student Report: Alex Olson, our high school foreign exchange student from Norway, and host parent Kim Goff were in attendance at the meeting and provided a great presentation on the Foreign Exchange Student Program. Kim Goff spoke of the requirements and her family's experiences in hosting six foreign exchange students over the past six years, and Alex discussed his experiences in our community and school, and made comparisons to life/school/cultures in Norway. This was an excellent and informative presentation and we express our gratitude to Lonnie and Kim Goff for their contribution of a global experience for our school.

AdvancED School Improvement and District Goals: The Nebraska State Council of the North Central Association and AdvancED recently presented an award to Falls City High School in Celebration of 100 years (1911-2011) of continuous membership. Falls City High School was the 19th High School in the State of Nebraska to become accredited. NCA started in Nebraska in 1896, and the first accredited school was in 1904.

High Impact Instruction Partnership - FCPS will be partnering with ESU4 in 2014-2015 in the delivery of professional development for the instructional faculty as it relates to the Art and Science of Teaching Framework by Robert Marzano. We believe this partnership offers teachers professional development on an ongoing basis and will meet their specific needs.

The focus of the professional development will be the implementation of research-based practices and strategies to improve learning experiences. The role of the administrative team will be to monitor progress on the goals established by the faculty. The role of the Falls City instructional faculty will be to implement research-based practices and strategies to support goals identified from the Art & Science of Teaching Framework. The role of the ESU4 team will be to offer support and resources to assist teachers in meeting their identified goals. The ESU4 team will meet either individually or in small groups with every teacher, six times during the 2014-2015 school year.

Recognition and Retirements: Best wishes are expressed to those leaving the district after this year including Ernie Valentine, Laurel Valentine, Synneve Yoder, and Rietta Francis. And our gratitude to this year's retirees for all their dedication and commitment to FCPS over the years: Darwin Palmer, Tom Weinert, Marilyn Scholz, Karen Flynn, Judi Carter, Carol Zimmerman, and Cindy Santo. These individuals have a combined 190 years of dedicated service to our school.

Welcome New Faculty & Employment Contracts Approved: For the 2014-2015 school year includes the following: 1) Breanna Scholl, Elementary Teacher; 2) Laura Simon, Elementary Teacher; 3) Emily Hutfles, Elementary Teacher; 4) Nick Kraft, Middle School Physical Education; 5) Shelly Leyden, Curriculum Coordinator. 6) Sandra McNeely - high school/middle school library paraeducator.

School Enrichment Program: FCPS will again be partnering with the University of Nebraska-Lincoln the upcoming school year. The 2014-2015 partnership commitment will be 13 percent with an approximate cost of $6,239. Jamie Ankrom is the School Enrichment teacher.

On April 28, Falls City native Kristi Lyons Guinn set out for an 8-hour deep-sea fishing trip in Cabo, Mexico. She had always wanted to go deep-sea fishing and couldn't pass up the opportunity. She was five long hours into the trip and hadn't hooked a single fish. It was piping hot and Kristi felt like she "wanted to jump overboard." Her guide (left) took her out 12 miles farther into the sea because there had been word of others catching Marlin in the area. In just 10 minutes Kristi hooked this 141- pound Marlin. It took around 50 minutes and a strenuous struggle to land the enormous fish.

Cards of Thanks

A Great Big "Thank You"

The Haralabidis family would like to take this opportunity to thank so many people for making our son Yianni a great education and a great senior year at Sacred Heart School.

First off, we would like to thank all of the coaches for the many hours and the effort that they continuously put forth for the sake of our boys and girls. Thank you to all the teachers and helpers, for all their kindness, patience, time, and all of the other millions of things that they do. Thank you to the class of 2014, who were in large part responsible for our son's great time at Sacred Heart. What an amazing class of such fun, talented, respectful, and loving kids. Thank you for all of our amazing priests now and in the past years. You have guided, and advised, and cared so deeply for our children. For Cathy O'Grady, the best secretary who always has gone above and beyond her duties at Sacred Heart. Thank you to all the parents of the students who gave so much of their time volunteering and their donations and just supporting Sacred Heart in all of its endeavors. For the lunch ladies who kept our kids fed. A big thank you to Jenny and Joe Dunn, Janice and Doug Goltz, and Julie and Francis Fiegener who helped make a super great graduation party. And lastly, a huge thank you to so many of you friends and family who have helped support Sacred Heart. Thank you for the cards, and gifts of money that you have given Yianni. You have been so generous. He will be putting all of it toward school at Doane College.

Once again, thank you to everyone. Sacred Heart is a great school with amazing ethics. We are so proud to say that we have a Sacred Heart graduate.

Sincerely,
Costas and Lee Ann Haralabidis
PS: Congratulations Class of 2014 and the best of luck in all that you do!

Big Lake residents urged to boil water

A precautionary boil advisory was issued for portions of Big Lake, MO last Thursday.

Residents are asked to boil water for at least three minutes before using it to cook for cooking or drinking. Continue boiling water until the cause of the contamination has been corrected. Water for bathing does not need to be boiled.

The advisory is in effect for residents on the northwest side of the Village including all of Mobile lane, Alpine, Richards Lane, Beach Drive, Fairlane Drive, and Stanton Drive. The advisory was issued following a loss of water pressure.

Big Lake officials will contact residents when the order is lifted. For now the boil advisory will remain in effect until further notice.

Construction crew cuts fiber, phones disrupted

Saturday morning - between 7 and 9 a.m. - a highway construction crew outside of Brownville cut a main fiber optic phone line located directly under the highway, disrupting phone service throughout southeast Nebraska. The fiber optic line is a direct link for Windstream and Southeast Nebraska Communications.

Phone calls get routed from the area to Lincoln in a matter of nanoseconds; with this line cut, calls were unable to make that connection. SNC Vice President and General Manager Ray Joy said that within an hour SNC was able to reroute landline 911 services directly to the Falls City police station.

All Windstream and cellular services were unable to reach 911 throughout the day Saturday, until a new line was placed at 9:38 p.m.

Brian Dixon of the Richardson Emergency Management Agency said, "All fire stations were manned and extra sheriff's patrol personnel came in to man roads and use public safety radio's to connect to one another." Residents were told if there was an emergency and they were unable to contact 911, to visit their local fire station via Facebook.

Weather radio service at Shubert was also cut and the NOAA Weather Radio service was down as well.

Had there been the possibility of a major weather event, Dixon said as many citizens as possible would've been notified in person by local police and fire departments, but otherwise communication, for some 12 hours, was largely reduced to the "word of mouth" medium of yesteryear.
