'Sandlot Home Run'

July 6, 1957

It looks from here, high up in the right field upper deck of the stadium, as if a baseball has been propelled beyond the flagpole into the middle of next week. If John Falter will get busy and switch the TV camera onto the ball--ah, yes, it's well tagged, fans; it could be trouble, fans; it--it--it's a HOME RUN!

Conceivably there may now be heard the musical tinkle of fall--inglass, for Falter has painted a neighborhood in Atchison, Kansas, which contains many vulnerable windowpanes. One day in John's youth, when he was striving to hit a home run, the pitcher heaved an exceedingly fast ball which thumped him right on the head. The victim, when he could think, quit baseball immediately, but he kept on with football, which features helmets--and a limper ball.

Wild Weekend

State officials to discuss plan
for Harlan/73

Meeting tonight, 4-6 p.m.

The Nebraska Dept. of Roads will host an Open House from 4-6 p.m. tonight (Tuesday, July 14) at the Falls City Senior Center and discuss a construction project that includes a nearly three-mile stretch of Highway 73, including Harlan Street through Falls City. The plan will reduce much of Harlan Street from four lanes to three.

The public is encouraged to attend and ask questions regarding the project known as "In Falls City and North."

The proposed project will run from 7th Street north to a mile outside of the northern corporate limits of Falls City. The price tag is estimated to be around $1.6 million. The plan is to take the current four-lane portions of Hwy. 73 from 7th to 19th Streets make it a three-lane road with one northbound lane, one southbound lane and a milled left-hand turn lane.

State employees will be available to hear concerns and answer questions.

Wilderness Falls
Phase II scheduled to begin in August

Falls City Economic Development and Growth Enterprise has announced the Excel Development Group in August will begin construction on Phase II of the family housing project at a cost of nearly $3 million.

Preliminary work for the Wilderness Falls II project is currently underway. This year-long construction project, which includes seven duplexes, will consist of four (4) two-bedroom units, eight (8) three-bedroom units and two (2) four-bedroom units that will rent for $475, $515 and $560 per month, respectively.

The Wilderness Falls II housing development will be all one level and include a zero entry design, patio and attached garage. Exterior features will include partial brick, shutters, landscaping, and lawn sprinklers with amenities such as a washer and dryer, dishwasher, refrigerator and microwave in each unit. Tenants will also enjoy a maintenance-free living environment and a shared community garden which will be developed as part of the project.

"Every community needs choices when it comes to senior and family living facilities," EDGE Executive Director Beckie Cromer said.

"Excel Development Group continues to build a waiting list of individuals looking to live in their units and I'm sure this is welcome news for the many who have been waiting years for the opportunity to live at Wilderness Falls. Excel Development Group has a proven reputation and we thank them for their investment in Falls City."

This project addresses a direct need as outlined in the 2010 Falls City Housing study.

Falls City may never again be as bustling as it was this past weekend - it certainly won't be as loud. In addition to the Tanner Shelby Merz Foundation Memorial Cruise, which hosted some 150 riders — and raised an amazing $11,000 (Sara Ruiz and her son, Silas, will be meeting with Royalty, in case you were wondering), the Chamber's second annual "Sauce & Cycles" event welcomed 17 backyard grillers and 31 sanctioned professionals, including the legendary Big Moe Cason, as well as nearly 70 entries in Saturday's motorcycle contest. Moreover, the Falls City Travelers softball program hosted 17 teams and their families for the Class C 10 & Under State Tournament Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Fiedler Family Ball Complex. There was a whole lot of screeching going on, that's for sure.

By Nikki McKim

The second annual Sauce and Cycles Backyard Grillers Barbecue competition got off to hot start Friday night, as the clouds parted and the cobblestones began to really heat up.

Local "Backyard Grillers" and "Professional Grillers from all over the country started arriving in Falls City early Friday morning to take a shot at winning a portion of some $20,000 in prize money.

This year's event was slightly different than last year's inaugural Sauce and Cycles. The public was encouraged to come out on Friday night and vote for the best ribs in the "People Choice" contest. With the purchase of a $10 wristband, patrons were allowed to sample a box of six ribs and vote for their favorite. This year's winner of the "People's Choice" award was Corey Rush, aka "Smokey Bear," of Omaha, who took home $700. Curt Kretzinger, aka "Grandpa Smokey's", of St. Joseph, MO, was second and took home $500; and home town hero Andy Dean placed third and pocketed $300. Cookers in the "People's Choice" portion came from as far away as New Mexico, Oklahoma and South Dakota. The Chamber supplied the ribs and approximately 150 people dined on the deliciousness of flame-

One of the many teams competing was last year's husband and wife team "Crome's Smoke." During their first competition last year Matt and Danelle Cromer placed

Falls City native Chris Suedmeier and his wife Rachelle drove their choppers from Des Moines, IA, but who drove back with bragging rights remains unknown. Chris' Chopper won first place - and his wife, second - in the Choppers Division; but in the People's Choice Category, The Misses finished second while Chris settled for third. Chuck Ferris, of Falls City, won that Division and earned prizes in two others. WASP made and donated 54 trophies for the Sauce and Cycles event.

Today when you sit down and read this paper, I will be an aunt to my second nephew. I am writing this column ahead of time because I have done the unthinkable and taken most of Monday off work to be in Lincoln to meet my newest nephew and my sisters third and final baby, Henry.

When my niece Olive was born, I penned a letter to her the night before she arrived. I wanted to share with her my ‘words of wisdom’ which may just be crazy ramblings but I always wanted her to have advice to look to from her aunt Kiki. I wanted it to be there for her always so when I wasn’t around she still had some of my ‘wisdom.’ I believe it pertains to all my nieces and nephews and especially my son so I wanted to share some those words with you today.

-There is no greater feeling in life than helping someone in need. I know, it’s a little “hippy” sounding but, seriously its amazing. The rewards far outweigh the work or effort you put in to help someone who truly needs it.

-Laugh, laugh, laugh. My teachers were always annoyed at my laugh and said they could hear it clear down the hallway. You know what? I hope you find my laugh to be something you always remember. Laughing is the greatest thing. Laugh at yourself, laugh at your sister, laugh at Alex, laugh at your parents, just laugh. This is very important, and when you feel especially down, throw in the Three Stooges and laugh. This always works, and always lifts you up when you feel down. When in doubt there is nothing Curly, Larry and Moe can’t fix.

-Be kind to your parents, please. As a teenager, you will be hormonal, and hate the world. Remember, they are your biggest fans, they love you more than anyone and would die before letting you feel one ounce of pain. When you hit your 20’s you will realize, you can’t live without them. Spare them the pain and grief of your teenage years and go easy on them. You can never take back your words and they cut like a knife. Remember, your parents greatest gift to you is your life, the second is the perfect mix of themselves they will instill in you.

-I will always, always, always be here for you. Always. I will always give you anything you want (within reason) I will always cheer you on, I will always listen to you complain about your parents. But, I will never buy you beer while you’re underage. I’m sorry that will be a deal breaker.

-Your heart will break a million times. It is a sad truth. That boy or girl in high school will mean the world to you and maybe things will work out like they did with my aunt and uncle, but if they don’t, just remember the good ‘ole Garth Brooks line “Some of God’s greatest gifts are unanswered prayers” That is some cold hard truth. If my prayers were answered, Alex wouldn’t be here and I may not live within an hour of you.

-Be You, be you, be you! Never be afraid to be exactly who you are. I guarantee YOU will be one of the greatest people I have ever known. Be strong, don’t ever let anyone tear you down. Believe in yourself, your opinion and your faith. We will all love you no matter what. If you are silly, serious, or opinionated, we will be proud of you. And if you decide to be a banker, doctor, writer, wrestler, artist, photographer or whatever. As long as you are being you and doing what you love we won’t mind.

-Just make sure you go to college. Seriously.

-Life is hard and it is unfair. It will go on. I promise.

-Find your faith. Pray. I know this is a little odd coming from me who is not a devout church attendee but, God hears you and will bless you. Talk to him when you need to. Never be ashamed or embarrassed to pray.

-Have fun. When your small play outside. Don’t get caught up in the technology. Some of my best memories are playing outside with my sister in the mud. Get dirty. Play Barbies, play with cars and play house. Use your imagination. As an adult, travel when you can. See this amazing country of ours and be brave enough to see the world. There is no greater gift you can give yourself than the gift of adventure.

-And lastly, remember your family. When I’m gone and uncle Brian is gone, stay close to Alex. He will always be there for you and be a brother when you need him to be. He will always love you unconditionally. Cousins are so terribly important, or at least they are to me. They are some of your best friends and greatest allies. Remember that when Mimi/Nana gets a little goofy, you can discuss it with your cousins because nobody will know how grandma embarrasses you better than your cousins! I worry that because Alex doesn’t have any siblings, he won’t have much family, please always be his family. If I was to die tomorrow, this is all I ask of all of my nieces and nephews, always be close to Alex. It is so important to always have your family.

I love you to moon and back little ones and I already feel so lucky to be your aunt.
Love, Aunt Kiki

Death and taxes, a certain thing in the interim

Capitol View
By J.L. Schmidt
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

Ben Franklin is credited with saying “In this world nothing can be said to be certain, except death and taxes.” The same holds true for the interim of the 104th Legislature, that awkward time between adjournment of the first session and the start of the University of Nebraska football season.

The matter of taxes still rests on the plate of the Legislature, with at least four interim studies scheduled by the Revenue Committee to narrow the focus of the on-going discussion of tax relief. Gov. Pete Ricketts has promoted property tax relief as the panacea. Lawmakers say they want to look at all tax categories and many want to focus on funding formulas for Nebraska schools.

Overshadowing the entire debate is the catastrophe in Kansas where vigorous tax relief efforts the past few years have created a $279 million shortfall and forced state government to make some tough decisions. Independent analysts say that the state faces a $384 million tax increase in 2016 while revenue will still lag behind spending by a tenuous amount. Many state programs have constricted budgets and state employees have gone several years without even a cost of living raise.

So much for taxes. The death issue comes in the form of the Legislature’s override of Ricketts’ veto of a bill that would ban executions. That decisive action was followed with the formation of Nebraskans for the Death Penalty, a group that is using paid petition circulators to obtain 115,000 valid signatures of registered voters to put the matter to a vote of the people in the 2016 general election. Organizers will need at least 150,000 signatures to have enough valid ones.

By the end of August, getting 5 percent of the state’s registered voters to sign up will put the issue on the ballot, but to suspend the death penalty ban from becoming law, those in favor of it will need 10 percent of Nebraska voters to sign their petition.

Ricketts and Attorney General Doug Peterson are hoping for the latter. Ricketts has announced that the state has already purchased the necessary chemicals to carry out executions of the 10 men on Death Row. Opponents of the death penalty say the state faces protracted appeals from those 10 if the state wants to carry through with its effort before letting voters decide the matter. The two men have repeatedly said the death penalty remains an important tool for Nebraska’s prosecutors when seeking punishment for the most heinous crimes.

So serious is the effort that Ricketts and his father, Joe Ricketts, have each contributed $100,000 to fund the organization. That’s $200,000 of the $240,000-plus raised so far.

Adding to the drama is the formation of a group opposing the death penalty and the referendum. The new coalition, called Nebraskans for Public Safety, has secured $400,000 through a grant made possible by the ACLU of Nebraska. The group includes members of Nebraskans for Alternatives to the Death Penalty, the Nebraska Innocence Project, the ACLU of Nebraska, faith leaders, conservative leaders, and the Nebraska Criminal Defense Attorneys Association. The group says it will focus on public education efforts showing that the death penalty is broken beyond repair and noting the state has been unable to carry out an execution since 1997.

It is interesting to note that the dissenters in a recent Supreme Court of the United States opinion on a lethal injection execution appeal from Oklahoma also called the death penalty, nationwide, a broken system. The dissent called for someone to present the constitutionality of the death penalty as a whole for consideration by the high court. That would be a welcome discussion.

Nebraska’s property taxes ranked 13th highest in the nation, according to a ranking by the Tax Foundation, based on 2012 figures. Agriculture’s portion of the total state property tax bill has grown from 19 percent in 2004 to 29 percent in 2014. Farmers have to pay the property tax whether they have a good year or a bad year.

The governor, as did his predecessor, has pushed for more property tax relief. But, to avoid the debacle of Kansas, that loss in property tax revenue will have to be offset by increases in other taxes and fees or more budget cutting. Not an easy solution any way you slice it. Let’s hope that clear heads prevail in this situation.

Ricketts: Jobs plan ‘represents paradigm shift for unemployment’

Growing Nebraska will not happen by accident – it takes careful planning. Connecting Nebraskans to good jobs is one way we can ensure that our state continues to grow, and it is something that I have directed members of my team to work on in their agencies across all of state government. For job creators, this is particularly important in light of our state’s lowest-in-the-nation unemployment rate of 2.6 percent. At the Department of Labor, growing job opportunities means looking for new ways to help unemployed Nebraskans expeditiously reenter the workforce by finding good jobs that fit their skills and experience.

This week, my administration announced the launch of Nebraska’s new reemployment system aimed at helping unemployment claimants reenter the workforce and making it easier to find a good job. Our state’s program developed by the Nebraska Department of Labor is the first of its kind of any state in the nation, and has won approval from the U.S. Department of Labor. The goal of the program is to utilize personal one-on-one assistance to connect the approximately 10,000 Nebraskans looking for work and applying for unemployment benefits with some of the over 50,000 jobs in the state’s job opening database.

Our state’s reemployment program is unique to other states for a couple reasons. First, nearly all jobseekers who receive unemployment benefits will be required to enroll in an individualized reemployment plan to remain eligible for benefits. Department of Labor staff will meet with each worker to develop their individualized reemployment plan shortly after an application is submitted for unemployment benefits. Second, the reemployment program leverages cutting edge software that requires jobseekers to create a resume searchable by potential employers who can make queries for skill inventory, find resumes with the right experience, and proactively reach out to potential applicants. Previously, the department successfully utilized a limited version of this program for jobseekers with a high probability of exhausting their benefits.

Nebraska’s new reemployment program has several components that will ensure that jobseekers in our state have the best resources on hand as they look for their next job. For example, not only will jobseekers work with agency staff to develop individual employment plans, but they will also help them to identify goals and objectives and determine the appropriate combination of services for the participant to meet their employment goals. These plans are designed to help engage the individuals and provide them with a clear understanding of where they are going.

Additionally, all participants will be required to create an account on the state’s employment website, NEworks. This account will allow individuals access to employment tools and resources, such as a resume builder, a messaging center to communicate with employers and workforce staff, free online learning resources, job search options including a virtual recruiter to identify personalized employment opportunities, and access to their individual employment plan.

Finally, this reemployment program will use assessments to provide data-driven opportunities to jobseekers. The assessments will cover career interests, skills confidence, and work values. The results will be reviewed with the jobseeker to ensure they represent an accurate picture of the individual and to identify areas of knowledge, skill, and ability that they can leverage as productive members of the workforce. The assessments will then be used in conjunction with labor market information and previous work experience to determine options and opportunities that exist in the current job market.

The formal launch of this program in October represents a paradigm shift for our unemployment system. By focusing on reemployment, we can help Nebraskans reenter the workforce more quickly and ensure that they are meeting their career goals, while connecting our state’s job creators with talent across our state. If you have any feedback or questions about the program or anything on your mind, please send me your thoughts at pete.ricketts@nebraska.gov or call my office at 402-471-2244.

FC Public named a finalist for America’s Farmers Grow Rural Education grant Falls City Public Schools has been announced as a finalist in this year’s America’s Farmers Grow Rural Education program, sponsored by the Monsanto Fund. Falls City Public Schools is among the top districts in Nebraska in the running for grants of $10,000 and $25,000.

Earlier this year, farmers nominated their local public school districts to apply for Grow Rural Education grants. Once nominated, school districts were eligible to complete applications requesting funding for a specific math or science project that will enhance curriculum in their district. This year’s applications were again very competitive. A panel of math and science educators evaluated all of the applications and selected the strongest submissions as finalists.

“Making it to this stage of the process is a great accomplishment that requires a lot time and effort,” said Michelle Insko, Monsanto Fund program officer. “There is still more to do before we announce our winning school districts, but this year’s finalists submitted impressive applications. The Monsanto Fund is grateful for their focus on improving math and science opportunities for their students.”

Next, finalist applications will be reviewed by the Grow Rural Education Farmer Advisory Council. The Advisory Council, made up of farmers from across the U.S., will select this year’s winners, who will be announced in early August.

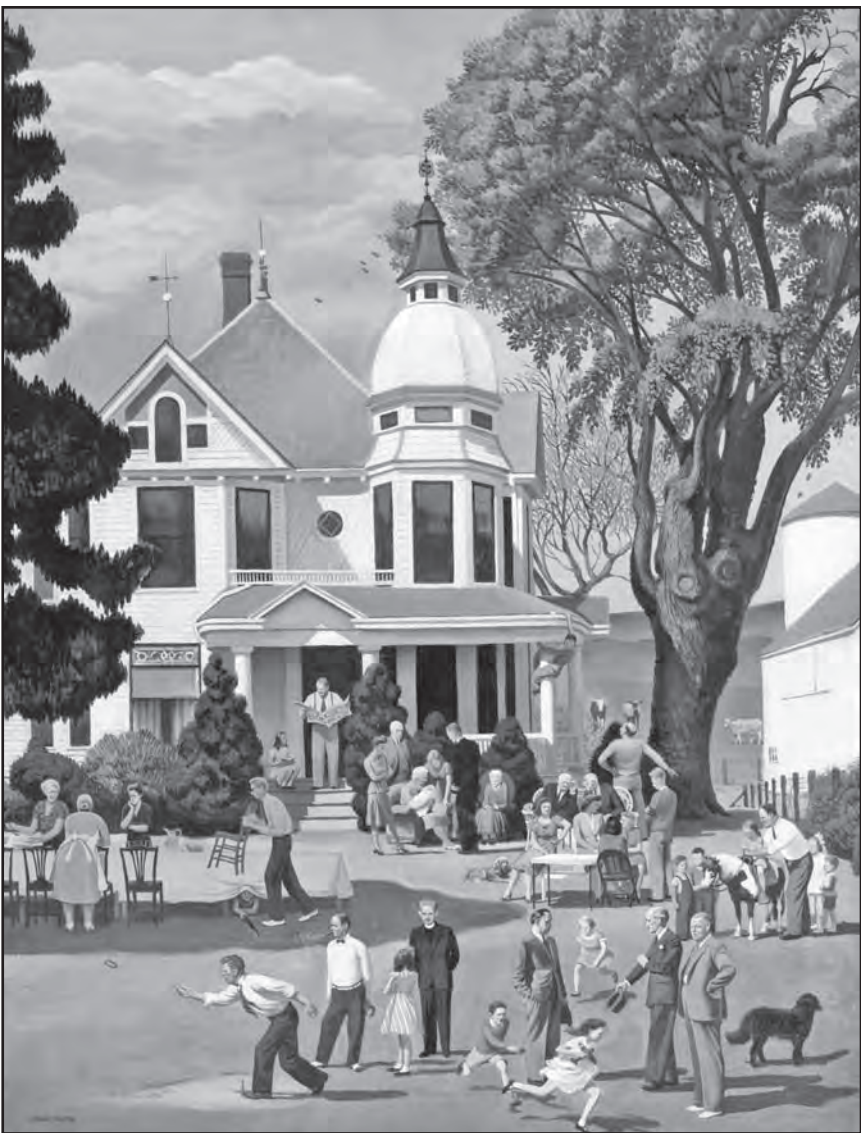

Last year, Grow Rural Education awarded over $170,000 in public school districts across Nebraska to improve math and science curriculums. Since 2012, Nebraska school districts have received $420,000 through the program.

Projects funded over the last four years have helped school districts across the U.S. upgrade technology and scientific lab equipment, build greenhouses and outdoor classroom learning environments, update teacher and curriculum development and other math and science related initiatives.

For a complete list of the 2015 America’s Farmers Grow Rural Education finalists and past grant winners, please visit www.AmericasFarmers.com. America’s Farmers Grow Rural Education is part of the America’s Farmers initiative. Since 2010, the America’s Farmers campaign and programs have advocated on behalf of farmers and their efforts to meet society’s needs through agriculture. Today, consumers are more interested than ever in agriculture and how food is grown. Farmers and others in the industry are joining in on the conversation to help raise awareness about agriculture and share their stories with their communities. Learn more at cfiengage.org.

This John Philip Falter illustration, titled “Sunday Picnic, Troy, KS”, appeared on the cover of the former Saturday Evening Post magazine on Oct. 20, 1945. The Kansas Chief in June reported that a Troy couple had auctioned the original painting on eBay and it fetched $190,000. Dobey Haws said several Falter family members are depicted in the illustration, including Dobey’s parents, John C. (in the Navy uniform) and Harriet, as well as her newborn baby brother, Jeff.

Falter picture brings big bucks

A John Philip Falter painting, which portrayed a Sunday family picnic in Troy, KS, was recently reportedly sold during an auction on eBay for a whopping $190,000, according The Kansas Chief, which featured the story and painting on the front page of it’s June 11, 2015 edition.

The illustration had appeared on the cover of the former Saturday Evening Post magazine on Oct. 20, 1945.

The information was provided to The Chief by subscriber Mary Winder, of Troy, who told reporter Paul Stewart her husband found the painting, titled “Sunday Picnic, Troy, KS” and decided to sell it on eBay.

“Even though the painting has ‘Troy, KS’ in its title, the house is apparently located between Troy and Atchison, north of Atchison, on Highway 7, on the west side of the highway. The house looks like its in need of some TLC currently,” Winder is quoted by Stewart as saying.

According to Janet “Dobey” (Falter) Haws, a cousin of the famous artist and curator of the newly created John Philip Falter Museum in Falls City, several Falter family members are depicted in the painting.

“George and John W. Falter are conversing in the foreground; Jeff is the baby near the porch in Mattie Rudolph’s arms with John C. (in the Navy uniform) and Harriet Falter looking on,” Dobey said.

“Kate Falter is setting the picnic table, with some of her famous potato salad, no doubt! Butch and I have driven by the house on Hwy.

7 north of Atchison several times. “It’s nice to see that John’s works are selling well.”

Both Norman Rockwell and John Falter painted ‘covers’ for the Post. They both also painted (sometimes) humorous depictions of American life.

“It’s not every day that a painting of an area home sells for $190,000. And, I expect people would be interested to learn that the painting was on the cover of The Post,” Winder said.

Other area towns painted by Falter during his career include: “A Windy Day in Atchison”; “Falls City, NE at Christmas” and the “Country Club Plaza in Kansas”. Other memorable illustrations on Post covers include: Yankee Stadium, on April 19, 1947; Michigan Avenue in Chicago, on Oct. 15, 1960, and Park Street in Boston, on Jan. 1, 1961.

“It is wonderful to be able to help my hometown meet some of their housing needs,” Paula (Benitz) Rhian, Development Director for Excel, and a 1989 graduate of Falls City High School, said.

“With all of the business expansions and new jobs coming to town we are excited to get this project underway!”

Wilderness Falls II is a great project that includes capital investment, infrastructure improvement, increased tax base, job creation, and quality of life improvements, all of which are components of economic development, Cromer said.

Excel will let bids at the end of July and local contractors are encouraged to submit proposals for this project. Construction will begin in August with plans to be ready for occupants by the summer of 2016. A ground-breaking ceremony will be held soon so watch for more information as details are finalized.

For more information or to obtain a pre-application for Wilderness Falls please contact Cromer at 402-245-2105 or via e-mail: director@fallscityedge.com

FC kid takes deep breaths, gets personal

By Allie Bierman

By clicking “send” and taking a chance on social media, Chase Thompson, of Falls City, may have changed the path of his future in an instant.

Thompson, a UNL sophomore-to-be, was scrolling through Twitter when he saw a tweet from Mat Kerekes, a member of the Midwest band “Citizen”. Kerekes was looking for some new music and Thompson had just that - the two were soon exchanging messages via Twitter about their shared passion, music.

Formed in 2009 while its members were still in high school, Citizen released its first feature album in 2013 titled Youth. Late last month came the second full-length album, Everybody is Going to Heave. The album charted at number two on the Billboard Vinyl Albums list.

“I told him I had some music; if he would like to mix and master it- he said he would,” Thompson said.

“He (Kerekes) thought it was awesome so he recorded it and ever since then we’ve kept in touch.

So upon the end of the spring

The other four songs on the EP will be made available soon, Thompson said.

semester, Chase and his family, along with band mate and recent FCHS graduate Vince Dean, were off to Toledo, OH, for a week to record in Kerekes' home studio. Thompson had more material than one single, but not enough to create a full-length album, so he made a five-song EP in Kerekes' home studio, self-titled Everything Breathes. A music video for the debut single “Crawl” stars Dean and was directed, shot and edited by Falls City native and UNL film student Brent Scott Maze. It was posted to YouTube Monday (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zRoGCQgeEyk&feature=youtu> be) Everything Breathes has a Facebook page, as well.

Basically, everything Everything Breathes, at least on this EP, is Chase Thompson.

“I recorded most of it, but Vince plays some leads on the record and he plays the ukulele and also does back up vocals,” Thompson said.

A web site is currently in the works - once it's up, the other four songs on the record will be available.

“We are going to release teasers and eventually release the whole thing for everyone to hear,” Thompson said.

Thompson has played acoustic solo shows under his name, but decided it wasn't the path he wanted to take. He wanted to have a full band and that's when Everything Breathes was officially born. In addition to Dean, Maze also joins the ensemble, as does another of Thompson's college friends.

“We are still looking for a bassist but eventually we'll find one. I'll sing and everyone will sing a little bit, but it will mostly be me,” Thompson said.

Maze and Thompson have been playing music together for many years. Dean joined in four years ago and the boys have been making music ever since.

Thompson writes all of the songs and sends them to the other members to listen and see if they like them “Everything Breathes plays alternative rock — or just really ‘personal’ rock,” Thompson said.

Eventually the band plans to send its music to other labels and hopefully get picked up. For now, they will just keep playing music with Kerekes and record a full-length record when they get enough songs and enough support.

“It (the music) gives people a look at things that you normally wouldn't share, but it's the only way to come to terms with some things,” Thompson said.

“After my shows in Lincoln, people would come up to me and say that they really related to one of my songs. That's the coolest thing ever when you kind of help someone for a moment.”

Currently no shows are scheduled, but Thompson and Kerekes have tossed around the idea of an acoustic tour covering the Midwest. If they would get a good turnout, maybe they would tour on the coasts.

The band plans to use its own money to tour but is planning on making the money back during the tour by selling T-shirts and other merchandise. They don't expect to make a profit just yet, but they are hoping to get their name out there.

For Thompson, this is the dream come true.

“For the kids of Falls City, if music is something you enjoy, or anything in life, just work hard and go for it; there's no such thing as limits when it comes to doing something special to you or that you're passionate about. People can't tell you ‘no’,” he said.

$3.5 million granted to UNMC researchers to study failure of stents in treating PAD

Researchers at the University of Nebraska Medical Center have received a five-year, $3.5 million grant funded by the National Institutes of Health to find out why stents don't work well for treating peripheral artery disease.

In the last decade, there's been an explosion in treating PAD using angioplasty and stenting – a minimally invasive procedure in which the patient is awake and usually leaves the hospital the next day.

Stents, small tubular metal devices that doctors put in diseased arteries to keep them open, work well in the heart, but often fail miserably in the leg arteries. Though peripheral artery disease stents may generally work for many patients, there is significant room for improvement as many patients require repeat procedures in as little as one or two years, said Jason MacTaggart, M.D. A national study estimated the cost at $21 billion a year.

Dr. MacTaggart, a vascular surgeon, and Alexey Kamenskiy, Ph.D., a biomedical engineer, both assistant professors in the UNMC Dept. of Surgery, are co-principal investigators of the research study.

“There are several ways to treat PAD, but none of them are really very good,” Dr. MacTaggart said.

“It's frustrating for doctors and patients. Everybody is trying to build a better mouse trap, but nobody really has. With the support of the UNMC department of surgery and our team of collaborators, we are taking a rational approach to figure out why stents don't work very well in the legs.”

Researchers will study donor cadavers and arteries of various ages and stages of disease to gain accurate information to design computer models that would be used to determine which stent is best to use in individual patients. The computer predictions will be verified in PAD patients receiving stents at NE Medicine, UNMC's hospital partner, and the VA Medical Center.

“Our goal is to help make better stents and to personalize PAD interventions,” Dr. Kamenskiy said. “Right now there's a lot of art to using stents in PAD. We are trying to do less art and more science.”

PAD reduces or completely cuts off blood flow in the leg arteries. This results in pain, numbness of the feet, inability to walk, wounds that won't heal, and, in worse case scenarios, amputation of the toes, feet or legs. The risk factors include diabetes, smoking, high blood pressure, high cholesterol and obesity.

FSA reminds of reporting deadline

Richardson County USDA Farm Service Agency Executive Director Shawna Mitchell reminds producers of the July 15 acreage reporting deadline for spring seeded crops and CRP.

"In order to comply with FSA program eligibility requirements and avoid late file fees, all producers are encouraged to visit the Richardson County FSA office to file an accurate, timely crop certification report," said Mitchell.

The following acreage reporting dates apply for producers in Richardson County:

July 15, 2015: Spring seeded crops, CRP, and all other crops for the 2015 crop year.

Nov. 16, 2015: Fall seeded crops and perennial forage for the 2016 crop year.

The following exceptions apply to the above acreage reporting dates:

- If the crop has not been planted by the acreage reporting date, then the acreage must be reported no later than 15 calendar days after planting is completed.
- If a producer acquires additional acreage after the acreage reporting date, then the acreage must be reported no later than 30 calendars days after purchase or acquiring the lease. Appropriate documentation must be provided to the county office.
- If a perennial forage crop is reported with the intended use of "cover only," "green manure," "left standing," or "seed" then the acreage must be reported by July 15.

According to Mitchell, filing timely acreage certifications with FSA establishes eligibility for programs including: Marketing Assistance Loans, Loan Deficiency Payments, Conservation Reserve Program, Agriculture Risk Coverage and Price Loss Coverage, Non-insured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP) and others.

If a weather related event has caused the inability to plant an intended crop or has caused a planted crop to fail, it is important to report these claims to both FSA and your crop insurance provider timely.

For NAP policy holders, the acreage reporting date for NAP covered crops is the earlier of the dates listed above or 15 calendar days before grazing or harvesting of the crop begins.

For questions regarding crop certification and crop loss reports, please contact the Richardson County FSA office at 402.245.2401.

SOCIETY

Tri-State Corners Genealogical Society

Members of the Tri-State Corners Genealogical Society met in the Pioneer Plaza meeting room on Thursday, July 2, with eleven present. Norma Thompson called the meeting to order, Jorene Herr took roll call and read the minutes, and Richard Zentner gave the treasurer's report.

The archivist mentioned that she had added the article about Miles Ranch. An acting coordinator for the Nebraska GenWeb project is in position. The necrologies are ready for proofing, then the next volume can be published, the last year's obituaries have been clipped and are ready to file, and there were no changes in the cemetery project.

Correspondence included the Brown Co. (Kansas) newsletter, and queries for the Steadman/Gibson, Nickel, Morris, Sieckman, Duncan, and Marsh families, and about the Rulo Bridge opening (1939), the Lassiter Building, the Caton family cemetery, and horse-shoe tournaments. One upcoming event was cancelled—the Land Records Symposium in Beatrice.

In old business, Norma has obtained a copy of the Maple Cemetery (Salem) directory. Bob Ferguson made the motion to make copies for the libraries in Falls City and Humboldt. Carolyn Zentner seconded, and the motion carried. There was no new business or program.

Following a show-and-tell time the meeting was adjourned. The next meeting will be at 7:30 on Thursday, August 6, in the Pioneer Plaza meeting room.

TODAY IN HISTORY

On this day in 1985, the final game of the USFL was played. The league folded less than one year after New Jersey Generals owner Donald Trump convinced the league to move its games from spring to fall. Not his last bad idea.

Bond between grandparents and grandkids benefits both

What used to be the “golden years” of life for seniors is now turning into any opportunity to spend even more time with their youngest family members. Nowadays, a growing number of grandparents are called on to provide child care for their grandkids, many of whom are growing up in two-income households. Others are helping to raise grandkids while providing financial assistance for adult children who may not be able to live on their own.

This trend has been corroborated in a few recent studies. Information from the Pew Research Center showed 7.7 million children in the United States were living in the same household as one of their grandparents in 2011. A University of Chicago analysis of a decade of data based on interviews with 13,614 grandparents, ages 50 and older, found that 61 percent of grandparents provided at least 50 hours of care for their grandchildren during any given year between 1998 and 2008. And an April 2012 study for the MetLife Mature Market Institute and the nonprofit Generations United, an intergenerational policy group, found that 74 percent of respondents provided weekly child care or babysitting service for grandkids.

Grandparents often cite helping their own children financially as well as staying in touch with grandchildren as motivating factors behind providing care. According to Generations United, staying in touch with grandkids can give seniors a feeling of self-worth and improve their overall health.

When spending so much time together, grandparents may develop special relationships with their grandchildren, who may benefit from the knowledge and wisdom offered by their elders. The following are some lessons grandparents can share with youngsters.

* Empathy: By sharing stories of how things were when they were younger, when opportunities may have been more scarce, grandparents can help teach grandchildren empathy. Grandchildren may learn to be grateful for the things they have and the people around them, rather than taking what they have for granted.

* Family history: Grandparents can tell grandchildren about family members, including youngsters’ own parents, and shed light on the generations that came before them. Looking through photos or watching old movies can provide the avenue by which to start conversations about family history and give children opportunities to ask questions.

* Interests: Children may be excited about learning new skills or hobbies taught to them by their grandparents. Anything from gardening to woodworking can be shared.

* Respect: Children who grow up respecting their grandparents may have an increased tendency to respect authority figures outside their homes, which may help kids grow up to be more courteous and kind.

Grandchildren also offer benefits to their grandparents. Companionship, new experiences and conversation can help keep grandparents’ minds sharp and bodies active well into their golden years.

...meet at the park to play games!

Kids: color stuff in!

Careful, Petal!

Do you like to play games? Children and adults all over the world enjoy games. If you were to visit different countries and play games with the people who live there you would find games similar to those you play at home with your family and friends. The name of the game might seem strange. The rules and materials used to play the game might vary from what you would use, but the idea of the game would basically be the same.

Some adults think kids don't know how to play many games anymore. Well, sharpen your pencil and get ready to find out what you really do know.

Match the games to skills used while playing them:

1. ball games	A. singing, acting
2. thinking games	B. hopping, skipping
3. jumping games	C. catching, throwing
4. party games	D. judging, remembering

Hold a game day!

Ask your Mom or Dad if it's okay to invite a few friends to join in!

second in the Professional competition in the brisket category, upsetting the nationally ranked “Iowa’s Smokey D’s.” Cromer, who had considered not competing this year, said he changed his mind last minute.

“I enjoy barbecue and coming out and seeing everyone and I’d be happy to get in the top ten, I just hope for the best,” said Cromer.

Starting at 11 a.m. Friday with his nephew, Ryan Bauman, Cromer recognized this year’s more experienced competition, “It’s going to be tough,” he said.

Tough it was for “Crome’s Smoke” — the team placed 30th overall, 11th in chicken, 20th in pork ribs, 31st in pork and 30th in brisket.

Parked next to “Crome’s Smoke” was five-year veteran Gary Jones and his team “Buck Snort BBQ.”

Jones, who came from North Platte for the competition, has been doing this for a while.

“Normally I do four or five of these events a year but this year, this is only my second,” he said.

“Buck Snort BBQ” also had success in last year’s first annual Sauce and Cycles event, placing second in ribs. When asked what “Buck Snort’s” specialty was, without hesitation, “ribs” said Jones. He said the long drive from North Platte is worth it.

“It’s fun seeing people and down here we have a lot of family here,” Jones said, referring (at least) to his brother Jim.

Jones had nothing but praise for Falls City Chamber Director David Branch, the founder, director and heat shield for FC’s Sauce and Cycles.

“This is a good one, and I’d say it’s right up there. I mean I’ve been to some that aren’t very organized but this one is well organized and ran well and the money is good,” Jones said.

Branch, too, was happy for the most part with the 2015 version of Sauce & Cycles.

“I was very happy with the number of cooks, but even more happy with our volunteers. Penny Caudle deserves so much credit. She set up the meetings and all the volunteers really knew what they were doing,” Branch said. He estimated 25 volunteers pitched in Friday and 50 people overall performed a collective 300 volunteer hours Friday and Saturday.

Like Cromer, Jones also realized that competition would be stiff this year. “Buck Snort BBQ” placed 17th over all, 12th in chicken, 24th in ribs, 18th in pork and 11th in brisket.

In the Backyard Grillers competition, last year’s overall winner, husband and wife team “Limp Brisket” (Mitch and Julie Sailors) did well again, placing 3rd overall, 2nd in backyard pork, and 4th in backyard ribs. The big winner in the Backyard Grillers was the “Farmhouse Firestarters” team, who placed first in all events.

The KC Barbecue Society was on hand again - 45 strong - to judge the professional cooks, followed by the Backyard Grillers. After the BBQ awards were presented, the motorcycles were judged on seven different categories. Barbecue was available for purchase from the cooks with the purchase of a $10 wristband. Along with the Sauce & Cycles event the Chamber hosted an outdoor showing of Wild Hogs on Friday night and the High Heel Band performed Saturday night.

“All in all, there were a few missteps, but mostly behind the scenes, and we’ll make some changes and try and make it bigger and better next year,” Branch said.

NRD Board votes to increase fund allowance

The Nemaha NRD Board of Directors last Thursday, July 9, examined a proposed budget for the new fiscal year, and unanimously voted to increase the restricted fund allowance by an additional one percent. This action will not result in more property taxes collected but does ensure the opportunity for future use of the funds. A 75 percent positive vote was required, and the board approved the increase unanimously.

Major projects for 2016 include the Duck Creek dam construction and associated road work near Peru, and Steamboat Trace surface/drainage improvements. Next month the board will take a final look at its revenues and expenditures.

Freeman, now Huskers' top golfer, leads Aitken, Miller-Monroe to title at 5th annual CMC event

The team of Bob Aitken/Miller-Monroe, comprised of Aitken, Bill Simon, Ron Kelley and University of Nebraska No. 1 golfer Calvin Freeman, a Humboldt-TR-S graduate, shot 11-under 59 to win the Championship Flight of the fifth annual Community Medical Center Charity Golf Outing held at the Falls City Golf Club.

Other notable "celebrity" players included former Husker and NFL linemen Brenden Stai and Aaron Graham, NU All-American and Kansas City Chief Hall of Famer Neil Smith, and former Husker All-America quarterbacks Tommie Frazier and Steve Taylor.

Freeman, the son of Barb and Randy Freeman, of Table Rock, is a history major at UNL and last spring used up his final year of eligibility. He now has set his sights on joining the professional ranks.

Freeman, a four-time state medalist, graduated from HTRS in 2011, finishing runner-up in Class C State (after losing a playoff) for the second year in a row. In the spring of 2010, as a high school junior, Freeman earned statewide acclaim with a remarkable 7-under-par 64 (33-31) at the Tecumseh Country Club.

After high school, he first went to SCC in Beatrice for two years — earning first team NJCAA All-America honors both seasons. Freeman tied for second at nationals as a sophomore after a sixth-place finish as a freshman. He also won the Region IX and SCC Spring Invite individual titles during his time in junior college.

After transferring to UNL, Freeman quickly made his way to the front of the line for the Huskers, starting 11 tournaments and playing to a 74.9 stroke average in 31 rounds as a junior. At the Desert Shootout in the spring of 2014, Freeman opened with 68 before rounds of 72 and 71 en route to a 5-under-par 211 total, his best 54-hole score of the season. In his very next event, Freeman again fired 68, this time in the final round of the Hawkeye Invitational. The score marked the best by an individual among the 65-player field during the rainy final day. At the Oak Hill Intercollegiate, he was one of four Huskers to finish in the top 10, notching a tie for ninth at 12-over-par 222.

This past spring, Freeman was Nebraska's top player, leading the team with a 74.94 stroke average and firing a team-best seven subpar rounds of golf. At the Mark Simpson Invite, the college senior opened with another 68, and also earned his best career finish with a tie for 3rd place at 5-under-par. His lowest 54-hole score of the season came at the Denver Desert Shootout, where he fired a one-under-par 215 and finished tied for 32nd.

In May, Freeman nearly advanced to the second of two qualifying rounds for the U.S. Open, shooting 73 at the Omaha Country Club and finishing in a four-way tie for the fifth and final spot. Pro Ryan Vermeer, of Omaha, birdied the first playoff hole to move on.

A couple weeks prior to making his appearance in Falls City, Freeman competed in the Nebraska Match Play Championship at Valentine. After qualifying with the No. 4 seed, Freeman was upset by Timothy Davis of Cozad in the opening round after 21 holes. Earlier this summer, he finished runner-up at the Fremont Invitational, shooting 70-68, four strokes back from champion Carson Schaake, and tied for fifth (with rounds of 73-73) at the Homesteader held at the Beatrice Country Club. He finished just two strokes from a three-man playoff between Lance Lawson, Greg Stanek and Ross Dickson.

Through three events, he is currently 10th in the Nebraska Golf Association point standings. The NGA ranked Freeman as the 15th-best player in Nebraska last winter (the rankings are updated annually on the first day of January).

The team of Dr. David Borg and his wife, Joyce, Matt Simpson and Jim Hoy shot 10-under to finish second, followed by Miller-Monroe (63), Dickey's BBQ (63), F&M Bank (64) and Dr. Charles James, Jr. (64).

Hullman's Ford, with Taylor, Ben Hullman, Marty Froeschl and Ron Jordening, finished first in the "A" Flight with a round of 65, winning by handicap over a four-way tie with the Southeast Communications team of Dorothy Towle, Chuck Whitney, Mark Hodge and Bob Ivey, which placed second. The Tanner Shelby Merz Foundation Team was third, followed by the Travis Morgan Team in fourth. Both the Ed and Sandra Hartman and the Richardson County Bank & Trust teams each shot 66; and the Jim Hill's/Animal Health Center team shot 68.

The Godemann Family/Southeast Nebraska Insurance Agency team of Ted, Todd and Travor Godemann, and Dan Jones, shot 70 to win the "B" Flight, winning by tiebreaker over the American National Bank team of Neil Smith, CMC Administrator Ryan Larsen, Ed Finan and Adrian Breen. The Falls City Journal (Brian and Nikki McKim, Rhonda Harmon and Graham) was third with 71. PTRS/Nachtigal was fourth (72), followed by Sampson Construction (74), Halbert, Dunn & Halbert (74), Julie Rush Team (74) and Cedar Hollow Foods (76).

Farmers urged to get vocal

EPA proposal would slash amount of biofuels in fuel supply

The Nebraska Corn Board and Nebraska Corn Growers Association are issuing an urgent call to action to Nebraska farmers to once again get vocal about recent action by the Environmental Protection Agency that would reduce the nation's commitment to renewable fuels.

Nebraska Corn strongly encourages Nebraska farmers to submit comments to the EPA expressing their displeasure with the proposed renewable fuels reduction. The comment period will close on Monday, July 27.

A portal has been established on the Nebraska Corn Board website at NebraskaCorn.org and the Nebraska Corn Growers Association website at NeCGA.org, under the icon "Don't Mess with the RFS."

This icon links directly to a comment submission form and suggested verbiage on the National Corn Growers Association's website.

In a statement, Nebraska Corn leaders expressed great disappointment and concern regarding the recent proposal from the EPA to slash the required amount of conventional biofuels in the nation's fuel supply for 2015 and 2016. EPA proposes to adjust the conventional biofuel requirement that is mandated in the Renewable Fuel Standard passed by Congress, downward by nearly 2.6 billion gallons.

"Agriculture was once again placed in an unstable position by EPA when they released their long overdue RFS proposal," said Tim Scheer, farmer from St. Paul, Nebraska and Chairman of the Nebraska Corn Board. "It is absolutely imperative that farmers get engaged in the comment period if we have any prayer of getting EPA to increase the proposed figures to the original congressional statue of 15 billion gallons for 2015 and 2016. All the work and investment that Nebraska corn farmers have put into building the ethanol industry is at risk. We've already seen corn prices drift downward to the cost of production."

"This proposal plays right into the hands of the oil industry, which has been pulling out all the stops to prevent loss of market share to renewable fuels such as ethanol. American farmers and consumers were promised the opportunity to utilize an American-made, cleaner, renewable alternative to oil. This proposal not only ignores that agreement, but diminishes the cost-saving options that ethanol provides in the marketplace for consumers," NE Corn Growers Assoc. President Larry Mussack, of Decatur, said.

Methodist Church Bible School July 26

The First United Methodist Church in Falls City invites children entering kindergarten through sixth grade to gear up for vacation Bible School, "Workshop of Wonders: Imagine and Build with God."

Children will be encouraged to explore how the ordinary becomes the extraordinary as they use their talents for God. The event runs nightly from 6-8 p.m., beginning Sunday, July 26 and running through Thursday, July 30. A short program for families will be presented at the conclusion Thursday.

"The Workshop of Wonders" includes exciting music, puppetry, dramatized Bible stories, science lessons, crafts and delicious snacks. The emphasis for the week will be the SENCA Food Pantry. To pre-register, call 402-245-3281.

"We welcome all children of the community," Pastor John Hogue said. "We promise a week full of learning and fun."

(TOP) Chaz, left, and Joe Dunn teamed up to fire a three-under par 9-hole round of 32 to beat three other father-son teams by a single stroke at the annual Falls City Golf Club Father's Day Tournament. The Dunsns were one birdie better than Brandon and Gary Liberty, Marty and Lucas Froeschl and Mike and Steve Simon in the Championship Flight. (MIDDLE) Charlie and Erik McNeely tied with (BOTTOM) first in the A Flight, shooting two-over 37s. Tournament Director Steve Simon reported 16 teams competed.

Singer-songwriter Ronny Cox to Brownville stage July 24-26

The Brownville Concert Series is thrilled to present singer-songwriter, Ronny Cox. His show, “Songs, Stories, and Out & Out Lies” is sure to be a performance you won’t want to miss. He will perform in cabaret Friday and Saturday, July 24 and 25 at 7:30 p.m. and in concert on Sunday, July 26 at 2 p.m. We give special thanks to Jan Wright in memory of Rodney Vandeberg, Carson National Bank, and David and Nicole Kaufman for helping to sponsor these concerts.

Ronny Cox is a superbly talented singer-songwriter, musician, and actor who has been consistently active in the music world and Hollywood for over 40 years. Ronny’s music is eclectic, a woven tapestry of songs and stories with an over-all arc that eventually comes together and tells something about “the human condition”. Scores of fans and promoters will attest that attending one of his performances is one of the greatest evenings to experience. With the gift of a consummate storyteller, he shares funny, sad and tender moments. His loyal band of listeners are blessed, if only for a while, to spend time with a truly remarkable man. Enhancing these great stories is the music provided by Ronny and his band of world-class, virtuoso musicians.

A look of familiarity has helped make Cox one of Hollywood’s most versatile character actors. His first time in front of a camera featured him playing the guitar in the Dueling Banjos scene in Deliverance, creating one of the most iconic moments in the history of moviemaking. He has also appeared in films like Beverly Hills Cop, Total Recall, Taps, Bound For Glory, The Onion Field, all told over 125 movies and television appearances.

He’s an artist who wears a variety of hats...but his first love is music. He’s released eight CDs, including the audio version of his book. According to Cox “The truly great thing about music is that it’s like a double-edged sword. Songs can be frivolous or sad, but they can trigger an almost overwhelming emotion...immediately. What I have found is that if I open up to my audience, they not only accept that, they also help me get through it. It is that sharing...of silliness, or sadness, or mutual understanding that I find to be very compelling.”

He was the third of five children, born in Cloudcroft, NM in 1938, and grew up in Portales, NM. Ronny met his wife, Mary, when in high school, and they married in 1960. He graduated from Eastern N.M. University in 1963 with a double major in theater and speech correction. Mary passed away in 2006 — 50 years to the day of their first date. Ronny often talks about her during his music performances. A father to two sons, he brings an extraordinary view of life into a magnetic, likable onstage persona.

Cabaret tickets are $25, concert tickets are $19 ($15 for students). To purchase tickets online, goto www.brownvilleconcertseries.com or call 402-825-3331. Stay overnight at the River Inn Resort and get a 10 percent discount on tickets. Eat dinner at the Lyceum before the show. This Series is a program of the Brownville Fine Arts Association. The Nebraska Arts Council (www.nebraskaartscouncil.org), a state agency, supports this program through a matching grant funded by the Nebraska Legislature, the National Endowment for the Arts and the Nebraska Cultural Endowment

NEW CLEARWELL

Bid Schedule No. 1 is for construction of a New Reinforced Concrete Clearwell (62 foot by 39 foot by 13 foot depth) at the existing Water Treatment Plant located south of Rulo, Nebraska including: construction of related piping and valve connections to existing clearwells; new clearwell drain piping; site grading; concrete operational sidewalks and access pads; on-site access drive and access area modifications with aggregate surfacing; project signs; site seeding; clearwell level sensing equipment, electrical service and control instrumentation wiring and equipment; connections to existing SCADA monitoring system; furnishing and installation of residual chlorine analyzer and related equipment, and related miscellaneous ancillary work as shown on drawings and as specified for a complete and operable new clearwell system.

BID SCHEDULE NO. 2
NEW 13.8 KV UNDERGROUND PRIMARY ELECTRICAL SERVICE

Bid Schedule No. 2 is for construction of approximately 3,300 LF of new 13.8 KV Underground Primary Electrical Service Power Line from the existing Water Treatment Plant to existing the wellfield to provide electrical service to the New Radial Horizontal Collector Well and existing wells at the wellfield including: construction and installation of electrical splice boxes; installation of new utility transformer provided by the Owner at the New Collector Well Pump Station; related electrical work for: connecting and terminating new electrical service line to existing water treatment plant electrical service and existing electrical standby generator, new collector well pump station building and existing overhead power lines to existing wells; clearing and grubbing; tree removal; site grading and seeding of disturbed areas along construction route for the electrical line; and miscellaneous ancillary work as shown on the drawings and as specified for a complete and operable primary electrical power services.

BID SCHEDULE NO. 3

TURBIDITY MONITORING SYSTEM

Bid Schedule No. 3 is for the furnishing and installation of five (5) new turbidity measuring and monitoring units to continuously monitor the filtered water produced by the operation of the existing four (4) water treatment plant filters and the combined effluent from the existing four (4) filters including, related instrumentations controllers and sample pumping, piping and connections equipment, electrical service and all required and necessary and miscellaneous ancillary work as shown on the drawings and as specified for a complete and operable turbidity measurement and monitoring system.

BID SCHEDULE NO. 4
COLLECTOR WELL PUMP STATION AND WATER TRANSMISSION MAIN

Bid Schedule No. 4 is for construction of the collector pump station on top of the collector well caisson at the existing wellfield including: three (3) vertical turbine well pumps; related pump suction and discharge piping; installation of approximately 500 LF of new 20-inch diameter raw water transmission piping from collector well pump station discharge piping to connection with an existing 20-inch diameter water transmission main at the wellfield; collector well pump station building and access stairs; electrical and instrumentation controls; site security and monitoring system; installation of new utility electrical transformer provided by the Owner at collector well pump station; site grading, site seeding, electrical and control / instrumentation connections and all necessary and miscellaneous ancillary work as shown on the drawings and as specified for complete and operable new water supply well, pumping system and water transmission main.

All work called for in the specifications and drawings for Contract No. 1 and Contract No. 2 shall be furnished in strict accordance with the plans and specifications prepared by Kirkham Michael, Special Engineers of the City of Falls City, Nebraska and now on file in the office of the City Clerk, City of Falls City, Nebraska.

The separate proposals for Contract No. 1 and Contract No. 2 shall be made on the forms furnished for each specific contract by Kirkham Michael, and must be accompanied by a certified check on a bank whose deposits are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or a bid bond in the amount of 5% of bid for the specific contracts made payable to the City of Falls City, Nebraska, which shall be considered as liquidated damages and shall be forfeited to the City of Falls City, Nebraska, if said proposal or bid is accepted and the bidder fails to execute the contract and file the required bonds and insurance certificate as provided in the Contract Documents within ten days from award.

The successful bidder for each contract of the project, Contract No. 1 and Contract No. 2 will be required to furnish a Performance Bond and a Labor and Material Payment Bond on the form included in the Contract Documents and each in an amount equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the contract price for each separate contract, said bonds to be executed by a responsible corporate surety approved by the City of Falls City, Nebraska, and shall guarantee the faithful performance of the contract for Contract No. 1 and Contract No. 2 and the terms and conditions therein contained and shall guarantee payment for all labor and materials used in connection with the work for each contract.

This project is funded in part by a State of Nebraska Drinking Water State Revolving Fund (SRF) Loan which requires Bidders to comply with the following additional State and Federal Assurance Requirements and Certifications.

1. DAVIS BACON ACT WAGE DETERMINATIONS

Contractors and subcontractors on USEPA federally assisted construction projects are required to pay their laborers and mechanics wages not less than those established by the U.S. Department of Labor. A current wage decision containing the appropriate building and/or heavy type rates is included in the specifications for bidding purposes.

2.DEBARMENT AND SUSPENSION

The prospective participants must certify by submittal of EPA Form 5700-49, Certification Regarding Debarment, Suspension and Other Responsibility Matters, that to the best of its knowledge and belief that it and its principals are not presently debarred, suspended, proposed for debarment, declared ineligible, or voluntarily excluded from covered transactions by any federal department or agency.

3. NONDISCRIMINATION IN EMPLOYMENT

Bidders on this work will be required to comply with the President's Executive Order No. 11246. Requirements for bidders and contractors under this order are explained in the specifications.

4.DISADVANTAGED BUSINESS ENTERPRISE (DBE)

Each bidder must fully comply with the requirements, terms and conditions of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) requirements, including the fair share objectives for disadvantaged business participation during the performance of this contract. The bidder commits itself to the fair share objective for disadvantaged business participation contained herein and all other requirements, terms and conditions of these bid conditions by submitting a properly signed bid.

5. BUY AMERICAN IRON AND STEEL PRODUCTS

On January 17, 2014, H.R. 3547, "Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2014," was enacted. Section 436 of the Act requires that none of the appropriated funds may be used for the construction, alteration, maintenance, or repair of a public water system or treatment works unless all of the iron and steel products used in the project are produced in the United States and unless a waiver is provided to the recipient by EPA. Conditions for the waiver are found under the Information for Bidders. The term "iron and steel products" means the following products made primarily of iron or steel: lined or unlined pipes and fittings, manhole covers and other municipal castings, hydrants, tanks, flanges, pipe clamps and restraints, valves, structural steel, reinforced precast concrete, and construction materials."

Contract Documents including Drawings and Specifications may be examined at the office of the City Clerk, City of Falls City, Nebraska, and may be procured from the office of the Engineer, Kirkham Michael, 12700 West Dodge Road, Omaha, Nebraska 68154, upon the payment of $125.00 of which none will be refunded.

The City of Falls City, Nebraska, reserves the right to waive informalities and to reject any or all bids.

Dated this 8th day of July, 2015.

Huppert will be reviewing this problem with the contractor, Constructor's Inc., to get corrected. The Verdon NW bridge project was also reviewed.

SHERIFF POUNDS

The Board requested to meet with Sheriff Pounds to discuss the current budget of expenditures for the Jail and the Humboldt Law Contract budgets. The Jail budget of expenditures will be exceeding the allotted budget amount for this fiscal year and a discussion was held on the expenses that were incurred that exceeded the budget amount which included outside boarding of prisoners who required special detention and an overage on the inmates needs for medical attention. The budget will be approximately $64,500.00 over for the fiscal year. The County Board noted that it is difficult to predict the expenses in the Jail as the population of the jail changes from day to day. The Humboldt Law Enforcement Contract budget is over approximately $1,825.00. These expenses must be covered by the unencumbered budget amounts of those departments who did not exceed the budgeted allotment for this fiscal year and approved by a resolution adopted by the County Board.

VERDON MINUTES
REGULAR MEETING - JULY 1, 2015
7:30 P.M.- VILLAGE HALL

Chairperson Denise Koso informed the room at large that the Open Meetings Act was posted on the wall. The meeting was called to order by Chairperson Denise Koso at 7:30 p.m. ZNEZ

ROLL CALL: Present were: Gary Cochran, James Cockerham, Denise Koso, Brenda Streit and Shannon Weinmann. Absent: None.

GUESTS: Clerk Brenda Daniels, Utilities Supt. Tammie Bents, Keith Eickhoff, Kim Griffiths,Bill Guilliams and Dawn Bennett.

MINUTES: Motion by Koso, seconded by Streit to approve, all the Trustees present voted YEA.

AGENDA: Motion by Koso, second by Weinmann to approve, all Trustees present voted YEA.

TREASURER'S REPORT: Motion by Cockerham, second by Weinmann to approve, with all the Trustees present voting YEA.

JULY, 2015 CLAIMS: Motion by Cochran, second by Koso to pay the claims, all the Trustees present voting YEA.

COMMUNICATIONS:

1. The July, 2015 shut-off notices were reviewed by the Trustees and all have been paid.

2. Time cards and daily work sheets for June, 2015 were reviewed by the Trustees and initiated.

3. Keith Eickhoff was present to inquire about the weed notice he was sent. He had some questions and comments and the Chairperson and some of the Board told him they would try and work with him and maybe help to get the property weeded and mowed.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS:

1. Committee reports: all were okay. 2. Tammie Bents gave update reports on the lagoons, wells and streets. 3. The Village is still waiting on answers to who actually owns the property north of the ballfield. 4. Fourteen weed/grass noxious were sent to residents and some of them responded and took care of the problem but some others did not. They will be sent another notice that specifies exactly what area is the problem and will have until July 16, 2015 to comply. 5. The median between the highway and 1st Street still hasn't been completely mowed. There are complaints that it is a danger for drivers pulling out onto the highway when they can't see if traffic is coming. Calls will be made and a letter sent from the Village if necessary to try and get this settled. 6. Motion was made by Streit with second by Cockerham to have R. Bennett Tree Business cut down and clean up the tree in the ballpark area that is a safety hazard. All voted YEA except Weinmann who abstained. Motion carried. 7. Motion was made by Cockerham, second by Koso with all voting YEA to accept the proposal from Don Stevens and Mezger Construction to do the drainage tube repairs on 3rd and 4th and Pine Streets. When work is in progress, the streets will be closed and truck route will be re-routed until repairs are completed

NEW BUSINESS:

1. A question about who was responsible for a tube on 7th Street was discussed and the Board determined the Village was responsible for it. Tammie will try and get it unplugged. 2. The Budget Planning Meeting was set for Aug. 5, 2015 at 7 p.m. at the Village Hall. 3. Motion made by Koso, second by Weinmann to allow part of Cherry Street to be closed on Aug. 8 for J.T. Farm Service Customer Appreciation Day. All the Trustees voted YEA. Motion carried. 4. U.S. Postal Service asked for a renewal of five years with option for an additional five-year term if it is needed for a Ground Lease Agreement. First term is from 11-1-2016 - 10-31-2021 and if renewed, from 11-1-2021- 10-31-2026. After review and discussion, a motion was made by Koso, second by Weinmann to approve the agreement. All the Trustees voted YEA. Motion carried. 5. A Building Permit for Howard and Kim Griffiths was approved with a motion by Koso and second by Weinmann with all

Plaintiff,
Vs.
Josh Smith and Danna Smith,
Husband and wife, et al.,
Defendants.
CASE No. C115-67
NOTICE OF SUIT

TO: John Doe, No. 1, and Mary Doe, No. 1, husband and wife, tenants in possession, real names unknown;

The heirs, devisees, legatees, personal representatives, and all other persons interested in the estate of any of the aforesaid Defendants who may be deceased, real names unknown;

All persons, having or claiming any interest in and to:

Lots 11, 12 and the North 2 ½ feet of Lot 13, Block 15, all in Hagadorn's Addition, Village of Dawson, Richardson County, Nebraska, Defendants.

You and each of you are hereby notified that on the 7th day of April, 2015 the County of Richardson, a political subdivision of the State of Nebraska, as Plaintiff, filed its Petition in the District Court of Richardson County, Nebraska, against you and each of you and others; the hope and prayer of said Petition being to foreclose tax sale certificates and subsequent taxes on the above described real estate and that an accounting be had by the Court of the amount due the Plaintiff from the Defendants in the several and separate causes of action therein and that in default of the payment of such sums to be found due the Plaintiff, within twenty days from the entry of the decree therein, said separate and several parcels of real estate described therein be sold as upon execution, as provided by law, to satisfy the separate and several liens against said real estate and that out of the proceeds of said sale, Plaintiff be paid the sum found to be due and owing, with interest and attorney's fee, to be taxed as costs, together with the costs of this action; that the right, title, interest, lien and claim of the Defendants and each of them be determined, found and decreed to be subsequent, junior, and inferior to the liens of this Plaintiff; that the purchaser of each of said premises at said sale be put in possession thereof; that the Defendants, and each of them, be foreclosed of all right, title, interest, lien, and equity of redemption in and to said real estate and for such other and further relief as may be just and equitable in the premises.

You are required to answer said Petition on or before the 27th day of August, 2015.

Time to prepare for Cobblestone

Falls City just finished an exciting weekend, and now it's time to think about another one—Cobblestone! Cobblestone is rapidly approaching, so start planning your entry for the parade now!

The parade is scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 22, at 11 a.m. The theme is "The Best is Yet to Come!" Falls City's parade takes all comers, so whether you have a ball team, horse-drawn carriage, patriotic entry, political candidate, or decorated float, we want to see you in the parade! The route will once again be down Harlan Street.

The Falls City Cobblestone parade committee is now accepting nominations for the honored position of Grand Marshal of the 2015 Cobblestone parade. Nominees can be a person, couple, or group that has given to the Falls City community, either monetarily, or as a volunteer/leader.

Nominators should send a letter to the selection committee detailing the reasons why his or her candidate deserves to be honored. Include specific information about the candidate's accomplishments and leadership. Send letters to Lori Gottula, 2703 Abbott St., or via email: gottula@sentco.net.
