Cobblestone 2011: ‘One Magic Moment in Time’

Cobblestone 2011 is just around the corner, and longtime coordinator Lori Gottula is now accepting entries for the parade and nominations for the position of grand marshal. The parade is scheduled for 11 a.m. on Saturday, Aug. 27, and the theme is “One Magic Moment in Time.”

“I think last year was our longest parade ever,” Gottula said recently. She and the parade committee, many of whom have volunteered for more than a decade, hope that it just keeps growing.

Parade entry forms can be picked up at the Falls City Chamber office, or can be emailed by contacting Lori at gottula@sentco.net, or at (402) 245-5200. (All chamber members will receive an emailed entry form within the next week).

The contact information is the same for those who wish to nominate a candidate for the position of grand marshal.

According to Lori, the only requirement for the grand marshal is that he/she must have contributed significantly to the betterment of Falls City. The contribution can be financial, or it can be a contribution of voluntary time or talent.

“We have some very deserving nominees,” Gottula stated, “but the committee will only select one person, couple, or group, so detailed information about the nominee’s contribution is better for the nominee.”

For more information, contact Lori at gottula@sentco.net, or (402) 245-5200.

Jury trial set for FC woman

Amber Frenzel, 28, of Falls City plead not guilty Tuesday morning in District Court to the charge of theft by unlawful taking, a class III felony, which stemmed from an April 25 incident.

A jury trial has been scheduled for Aug. 24 in District Court.

Frenzel, along with Josh Nissen, also of Falls City, is being accused of stealing a vehicle

While water levels appear to be dropping, Missouri River flooding continues to cause problems for travelers, while dealing a severe blow to producers along the river who have seen their crops washed away.

Thousands of acres of farmland are under water, and the prospect is that they will continue to be for months. The releases from dams upriver continue to be very high due to, according to the Corps of Engineers, snowmelt and rainfall.

At Rulo, the river fell to 25.63 on Tuesday. Flood level is 17 feet. The reading at Brownville, where flood level is 33 feet, the level was at 42.15 feet. At Nebraska City, the flooding Missouri was at 25.29 feet (flood level 18 feet).

Highway 159 remains closed from Rulo into Missouri. Highway 136 is closed from Brownville east into Missouri after a levee was topped. And travelers cannot use Highway 2 from Nebraska City east into Iowa. Travelers are advised to avoid Highway 75 north because of construction projects.

I-80 across Nebraska is safe from flooding.

City crew to assist FC Jaycees

By Scott Schock

The future of the Falls City Area Jaycees received a significant boost Tuesday night when the City Council voted to authorize that city workers help in preparing the site south of Falls City for the annual Demolition Derby and Tractor Pull events.

A crew headed by Charlie Bentley will spend approximately two days setting six light poles and installing wiring and the lights. Jaycee members will assist with the work.

Jaycee President Shawn Fouraker represented the organization at the meeting.

Both the Derby and Pull were in jeopardy when the traditional site for the events became unavailable. Cory Snethen and his children stepped up to donate 8 1/2 acres of ground located just south of Falls City. But preparing that land for the events carried a price tag of approximately $77,500. Former Mayor Rod Vandeberg became involved in a fund-raising effort that is ongoing (see his article elsewhere in today’s Journal).

With City workers on the job, the Jaycees will realize noteworthy savings in what would have been a very costly part of the project. But very necessary, too. Both events are held at night, so lighting is a must.

Clerk Gary Jorm said he anticipated Bentley and his crew will work on the Jaycee project during regular hours and that this will not interfere with regular work schedules.

The Derby and Pull are the major fund-raising events sponsored by the local Jaycees. Proceeds from the events make possible the annual charitable contributions made by the Jaycees to community organizations.

Council members also authorized the use of City bleachers for the Jaycee events.

Mayor Tim Hersh said he has compiled a rather long list of names as he prepares to recommend someone to fill the Ward 4 Council seat that became vacant with the death of Phyllis Krause. He said he would have a recommendation by July 18. Council President Hal Sutter said the vacancy should be advertised in the Journal.

Sutter lamented the amount of time — and thus money — invested by the City in investigating nuisances. He said he had reviewed the past 12 months and found that approximately 770 man hours had been spent solely on nuisance investigations, most involving firemen, Falls City Police officers and some requiring time from attorneys. Sutter estimated the cost at between

Love of old tractors pulled him in

By Matt Barker

Gary Coulter has a hobby. It isn’t collecting stamps or baseball cards, but rather tractors.

He buys, restores, and sells vintage Ford tractors. Gary, who first started restoring vintage cars, started his work on tractors about 20 years ago. He began by restoring his old garden tractor, a T20 Ferguson. “It was a good little tractor,” he remembers.

After completing his first tractor, Gary began to work on the old Fords. The models he has worked on are the 9N, 2N and 8N, but he deals mostly with the 8N Ford. Gary purchases them from parts collectors in Southeast Nebraska. Although they are near complete when he buys them, there is still a lot of work that needs to be done to them. “They might need new transmission or breaks,” he says.

Mr. Coulter, who has around 20 tractors on hand, buys a couple at a time and uses parts from both to complete a tractor and fixes whatever needs repairs. He, with some help from his brother-in-law Roger Crawford, works all through the week disassembling, repairing and reassembling the Fords. On average, it takes about two months to finish a tractor and then sell it, with most of the profits going towards insurance for his garage. “It’s not a cheap hobby,” Gary says.

What started as a hobby seems to have turned into a full-time job for Gary, now retired. In the last 20 years, he has restored somewhere between 100 and 150 tractors.

“It’s probably closer to 150, though,” he says.

There used to be many like Mr. Coulter who restored tractors but there are fewer and fewer now. Gary thinks he will only keep doing his hobby for another year. “But I say that every year,” he says with a laugh.

Diagnosis might begin with a digital rectal exam so a physician can determine if the gland is enlarged or inflamed, blood and urine testing, cystoscopy or urodynamic testing. If a cystoscopy is performed, a urologist then inserts a camera into the bladder to rule out other possible causes for symptoms. Urodynamic tests can determine how easily a man can empty his bladder when he feels the urge to relieve himself.

CAPITOL VIEW
By Ed Howard
Statehouse Correspondent
The Nebraska Press Association

LINCOLN – Deb Fischer did it.

The two-term lawmaker / rancher from Valentine joined the race for the Republican nomination to the U.S. Senate.

Several Nebraska governors – Jim Exon, Bob Kerrey, incumbents Ben Nelson and Mike Johanns – have won Senate elections. State senators? Can’t recall any.

Leading GOP candidates already in the Nebraska GOP contest are State Treasurer Don Stenberg and Attorney General Jon Bruning.

All three must be encouraged by recent news from the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee. The DNCC says that if it doesn’t reach fundraising goals it won’t provide money to some campaigns, including that of U.S. Sen. Ben Nelson, the Nebraska incumbent.

Welfare Watchdogs

Nebraska’s Department of Health and Human Services remains No. 1 in the nation when it comes to policing the federal food stamp program, now known as SNAP.

In fiscal 2010 the state had a zero rate of error in denying food stamps to those who weren’t qualified for them.

That effort earned Nebraska bonus from the feds, in excess of $300,000.

Flooding and Football

It’s easy to understand the national and international attention draw by Nebraska’s two nuclear power plants as they ward off flooding on the Missouri River.

From Japan to Germany and around the globe, the citizenry has grown leery and weary of problems and potential problems associated with nuclear generation of electricity.

A central element of coverage and commentary has centered on the credibility of the federal government – via the Army Corps of Engineers – in keeping the public informed on the status of things at the Fort Calhoun nuclear power plant and the Cooper Nuclear Station.

The situation is remindful, to some, of the famous admonition from the late Robert Novak, who was among the most conservative of conservative national columnists: “Always love your country. Never trust your government.”

Some observers have always viewed Novak’s advice as absolutely sage. Others have seen it as reflective of a somewhat too cynical view.

The view from here: To paraphrase Ronald Reagan, “Verify before you trust!”

Will it matter?

In some states, Democratic candidates for the House and Senate are expected to enumerate and laud the projects, programs and jobs that resulted from the economic stimulus package pushed by President Obama and approved by Congress.

After all, lots of incumbents from both political parties took lots of bows, in person, when those things took effect in their territory. In Nebraska, the federal funds were used largely to balance the state’s budget, and thus saving Nebraskans from higher state tax rates.

In Nebraska, however, it might appear the stimulus in general had such negative political connotations among the electorate that it couldn’t serve as a political plus.

County Board
opens boiler bids

Bids for the Courthouse boiler project were opened when the Richardson County Commissioners met Tuesday, June 28.

Submitting sealed bids were Jones Air Conditioning, Inc., Falls City, Hooper Heating and Cooling, Hooper, Lamme Plumbing, Inc., Beatrice, and Snell Services, Inc., North Platte.

Commissioners Dave Sickel, Bill Ely and Jim Davidson accepted all bids only for the purpose of further review by the board and engineer.

The board moved to enter into an interlocal agreement with the City of Humboldt regarding ambulance service in and around the community.

Bill Cook, Executive Director of the Nebraska Concrete Paving Association and of Concrete Industries presented facts and figures about the use of concrete vs. asphalt on hard surfaced county roads, particularly for the Preston North and South project. Other concrete interests were also represented. Larry Lewis and Tim Farmer of Speece-Lewis Engineers were available for this discussion.

During the weekly meeting with Highway Supt. Scott Huppert, the board acted to prepare bids specs and advertise for sealed bids for the asphalt resurfacing on the county’s hard surfaced roads. The bids are to be received by Tuesday, July 26. A brief executive session to discuss personnel matters was held with Supt. Huppert.

In other developments, the board:

—Adopted a resolution regarding the transfer of fiscal year 2010-11 budget appropriations from the Miscellaneous General Fund to the Jail and County Assessor’s Budget.

—Moved to enter into an agreement with Region V Systems for Emergency Protective Custody Services effective July 1, 2011, through June 30, 2012.

—Adopted a resolution to change the mileage reimbursement rate from 51 cents a mile to 55.5 cents per mile. This is in accord with Nebraska Revised Statutes.

—Met with Extension Educator Lyndsay Chichester to review expense claims.

Jaycee drive gathering
momentum

By Rod Vandenberg

This article is a follow-up to my open letter to the community in last week’s Journal (Page 3) regarding the nice land gift received by the Falls City Area Jaycees from Cory Snethen and his children. As I explained, this will allow the Jaycees to continue their annual Tractor Pull and Demolition Derby, which are presently scheduled for August 5 and 6 (provided the chapter can get the necessary improvements completed by that time).

If you haven’t read my letter, I wish you would because it tells a nice story about our Falls City Area Jaycee Chapter and also explains their current challenges to complete the improvements mentioned above.

Besides being informative, my letter asked for community donations, which could be dropped off at either Jaycee

‘A Nebraskan’s View’

By Senator Ben Nelson

Here it is July and while Nebraskans are thinking about summer fun, family vacations, and record floods, in Washington, they’re thinking about record deficits. I had planned to visit American troops in Afghanistan, including the many Nebraskans serving there, as well as U.S. military leaders, over the 4th of July break.

I still hope to travel to these conflict areas at a later date. For now, the Senate has cancelled its July 4th weeklong break to address the national debt. I applaud that because this is a very serious issue that requires our full attention. The reward will be great because reducing the debt will improve the sluggish economy and get people back to work.

Debt and Deficit

There is no question that Congress must reduce spending, reduce the debt and stop running deficits each year. Washington is no stranger to deficits having balanced the budget only 3 times in the past 40 years.

At the current rate, it is estimated that the federal debt limit, or the debt ceiling, will be reached on August 2nd. Once the limit is reached, the U.S. can no longer borrow money by selling treasury bonds to meet its commitments.

Some people think Congress should just let this happen. Others think failure to raise the debt ceiling will result in a serious economic backlash that could permanently undermine U.S. credit around the world. They say it could push the economy back into recession.

What is clear is that Congress cannot simply continue raising the ceiling again and again. A broader solution is necessary -- one that forces us to spend within our means, to prioritize and make only strategic investments.

Congress is going to use the week following Independence Day to continue deliberating the best way to address these serious challenges. It is my hope that my colleagues will join me in emphasizing spending cuts throughout these discussions.

Washington Must Reduce Spending

The key to controlling the deficit is the leadership on both sides needs to get partisan politics out of the picture and make the hard decisions to cut government spending. The Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Admiral Mike Mullen, calls the debt the most significant threat to our national security because it affects the ability for our country to resource our military. This should be reason enough to force serious action on this issue.

Nebraskans know a thing or two about working together to live within their means. We are required to balance the state budget each year. As Governor, I worked closely with the Unicameral and balanced the budget 8 years in a row.

I will continue to work with Republicans, Democrats, Independents and everyone else committed to reducing the national debt.

Washington owes it to the American people to put the partisan games aside, keep moving forward, and continue to work responsibly to reduce government spending.

President Shawn Fouraker’s detailing business at 1724 Harlan Street or at First National Bank and, my friends, it is refreshing for me to tell you that, in spite of the long 4th of July weekend, several nice contributions have already been received!

To you who have responded so quickly, thank you very much! And to you who have not yet made your contribution, please consider helping. In my opinion, you will seldom have an opportunity to support a better and more deserving cause.

Fun Fourth

Sterling and Laura Kottich spent the 4th of July in Seward, a community that annually stages a huge celebration. The highlight for Sterling was the Aerobatic Air Show held at Seward Municipal Airport. And the performance that most impressed was a race matching an airplane that was piloted on the deck and upside down, a motorcycle and a racecar. The three raced down the runway, with the souped up motorcycle finishing first. Sterling said he had never seen anything quite like that race, especially the skill shown by the pilot.

Nebraska PBL has tremendous success in Orlando

While there was plenty of time spent visiting the various attractions in Orlando and the surrounding area, the Nebraska Phi Beta Lambda delegation was all business when it came to their responsibilities with the National Leadership Conference held June 23-26. Over 50 various awards were garnered by the PBL members, advisers, and the state chapter during the four days making Nebraska PBL among the top five states in terms of recognition received. A record crowd of over 1,800 members, advisers, and guests from over 30 states were in attendance. Over 60 people represented Nebraska.

Five members from the UNL and Peru State College earned first place awards in six different competitive events. Those from UNL who won first place honors included: Gabe Williamson (Firth) in both Help Desk and Telecommunications; Shelbi Svoboda (Lincoln) in Human Resource Management; and Erica Lam (Olathe, Kan.) in Retail Management. The PSC members earning the top recognition were Will Fogle (Peru/Potomac, Md.) in Database Design and Applications and Mike Mulrone (Auburn/Fort Dodge, Iowa) in Justice Administration. Each of the individuals was awarded cash prizes ranging from $500 to $750.

In addition, Elizabeth McKim, a PSC student from Humboldt, placed second in Marketing Concepts, and sixth in Retail Management. Kaylie Frederick, a PSC student from Falls City, was sixth in Accounting for Professionals.

The North Platte Community College and Peru State College chapters were recognized as Gold Seal Chapters of Merit.

$25,000 and $30,000. A quarter of those investigations, Sutter maintained, are "repeats."

Mayor Hersh agreed with Sutter's points and said the need is to "bring dignity back to our community."

In other developments, the council:

- Approved the annual Cobblestone requests from the Falls City Area Chamber of Commerce. The parade is set for Saturday, Aug. 27. The Chamber has obtained general liability insurance to cover any claims resulting from the various events.
- Approved on first reading ordinances regarding uniform plumbing code, mechanical code and plumbing permit requirements (from $250 to $500 per job).

Just what is Blue Rivers Area Agency on Aging?

Blue Rivers Area Agency on Aging is “on a mission,” and its mission is to assist older adults to remain independent in their own homes as long as safely possible.

Just what exactly is Blue Rivers Agency on Aging? It is part of a state and national network designed to assist older adults. Over 35 years ago, the Administration on Aging developed state units on aging in each state. They were tasked with providing home and community-based services to older persons through the programs funded by the Older Americans Act. Other funding may be a combination of federal, state, county and city funds, as well as participant contributions for services and charitable contributions. Nebraska is divided into eight Area Agencies on Aging covering all 93 counties.

You may have heard about home-delivered meals programs or nutrition services in congregate settings, or transportation, handyman and housekeeping assistance, legal assistance or health promotion programs. If you have visited a nursing home you may have talked to one of our Ombudsmen who provide an on-going presence in long-term care facilities monitoring care and conditions and providing a voice for those who are unable to speak for themselves.

Blue Rivers has some other programs that, historically, have not been as visible but are specifically aimed at helping older Nebraskans remain in their own homes.

Care Management. Blue Rivers Care Managers are highly experienced social workers who work with clients/families/legal representatives through each step of the process. The Care Manager then monitors, visits the client regularly to assure continued success of the client. Cost of Care Management is on a sliding fee scale, with no charge until client income is greater than 15 percent of Federal Poverty Level. Care Managers also work very closely with caregivers through the Caregiver Support program. These caregivers usually are family caregivers who are taking care of a loved one on a family but just need some respite. Anyone age 60 or older qualifies for Care Management and/or Caregiver Support. There are no income guidelines or restrictions for these programs.

Senior Care Options. Many people are unaware of the various services available in the community and think the move into a nursing home is inevitable. However, Options counselors can help explore other options, if it’s safe for the client . There is no charge for this service.

Aged and Disabled Medicaid Waiver. Medicaid eligible persons who have needs that would otherwise necessitate nursing home care can choose support services in their homes (if safe to do so) or Assisted Living facility. The “waiver” allows Medicaid money to be used to purchase services that are not usually considered “medical” and may provide all the support someone needs to remain at home. The services could include such things as chore services, home-delivered meals, transportation services, personal emergency response system (typically called lifelines), personal cares, medication setup-administration and others.

These programs offered through Blue Rivers Agency on Aging are available to persons age 60 and over, regardless of income.

Anyone can make a referral to Blue Rivers for any of these programs. For more information contact Blue Rivers Area Agency on Aging toll-free at 1-883-317-9417. Staff are available to give presentations to clubs, organizations or groups wanting to know more about any of the services of Blue Rivers.

Pioneer Farm Family Awards to King, Bletscher

Two Richardson County families are included among those to receive the 2011 Pioneer Farm Family Awards sponsored by the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben, the Nebraska Fair Managers Association and the Nebraska Farm Bureau.

The awards will be presented at this fall’s Richardson County Fair to Ardis King, Humboldt, and Philip Bletscher, Falls City.

The awards were initiated 57 years ago to recognize longtime family ownership of Nebraska land.

To qualify, members of the same family must have owned a parcel of land consecutively for at least 100 years. Each honoree receives a plaque and gatepost marker.

Jury Trial

from Sun Mart parking lot. Nissen has been charged with aiding and abetting and is scheduled to appear before a jury on August 24.

In the afternoon hours of April 25 Nissen and Frenzel allegedly stole a 1998 Dodge Caravan that belonged to Dennis Gibbs of Hiawatha. Gibbs is an employee at Harmon’s OK Tire and had parked the van across the street while he worked.

The vehicle was later stopped on Highway 2 in Otoe County, which subsequently led to the arrests of Nissen and Frenzel.

While officers were getting statements from witnesses, a dispatcher with the Richardson County Sheriff’s Office heard that deputies in Otoe County had stopped a van with the same description as Gibbs.

The vehicle was quickly identified as Mr. Gibbs.

Frenzel remains free on bond.

Acreage reports due July 15

Richardson County Farm Service Agency (FSA) Acting CED, Janice Lotter, reminds producers of final deadlines to submit their annual acreage report to meet FSA program eligibility requirements.

The final acreage reporting deadline for all crops other than small grains is July 15, 2011. Due to recent storms and flooding, the deadline to report prevented planted acres has been extended to July 15. Failed acres must be reported prior to disposition of the crop.

All acreage must be reported for a farm, including crops on non-cropland such as hayed or grazed grassland. It is also important to accurately report crops' intended use. Intended use is used to determine eligibility in many FSA programs and cannot be revised once reported.

Producers should contact their county FSA office if they are uncertain about reporting deadlines. Late-filed provisions may be available to producers who are unable to meet the reporting deadline as required. Reports filed after the established deadlines must meet certain requirements to be accepted and may be charged late fees.

Janice Lotter, Acting Executive Director for the Richardson County USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA), reminds Nebraska producers that the final date to submit an application for payment under the 2009 Supplemental Revenue Assistance Payment (SURE) program is July 29, 2011.

The SURE program provides financial assistance for crop production and or quality losses due to a natural disaster.

Nebraska has paid out approximately $14 million in SURE funds for 2009. Approximately 1,100 applications have been processed in Nebraska. Producers in counties that were declared a 2009 Secretarial Disaster and any county contiguous to those counties may be eligible if they suffered a 10 percent loss or greater on any crop of economic significance. Producers in counties that were not declared a Secretarial Disaster or are not contiguous to such counties would qualify if they had over a 50 percent loss.

If producers think that they may qualify for a payment they are encouraged to contact their local county office as soon as possible in order to set up an appointment.

Think for yourself

Most of us are what we are religiously because of the way our parents reared us and we may have never questioned whether we were right or wrong. Not many of us think for ourselves when it comes to matters of religion. We prefer to leave religious subjects and Bible issues to those who are "supposedly" trained and skilled in this field (the priest, theologians, pastors and preachers). Sometimes, we even get the idea that the Bible cannot be understood by common people and there are some religious leaders who teach and encourage this view. But, what does the Bible have to say about the ability and responsibility of the average person to understand its message? To the Christians in Ephesus, Paul wrote, "Therefore, do not be unwise, but understand what the Will of the Lord is" (Ephesians 5:17). Surely God does not require of man that which is beyond his ability. Paul had said earlier, "... as I wrote before in a few words, whereby when you read, you may understand my knowledge in the mystery of Christ" (Ephesians 3:3-4).

Also, the Christians of Berea were highly praised in New Testament times as being "more noble than those in Thessalonica because they received the word with all readiness of mind and searched the Scriptures daily to see whether these things were so" (Acts 17:11). These people were not famous, nor were they rich or powerful; in fact, they were somewhat obscure. Their merit was in their readiness to receive and investigate, to study and search, for themselves whether the teaching was or was not in accordance with the Will of God. Certainly, the Bereans could not be called professional theologians. They were simply people of honest hearts and open minds -- moreover, a people with a profound respect for the authority of the sacred Scriptures. Unfortunately, the attitude of the Bereans -- the spirit of independent, personal investigation -- does not prevail among religious people today. It is shocking to discover how many "religious" people have never read the Bible. It is the duty of every man to test all new doctrines by the teaching of the Divine Word. We are, as the Bereans, to search the Scriptures whether these things are so or not. There is no excuse for failing to do this. God has placed His Word well within reach of us all. It is printed in our language (no book has been put into more translations than the Bible) and can be purchased for a small sum. God has so formed us and so written His Book that it is within the level of our understanding. He has given us the necessary mental faculties to comprehend it, and He has made the substance of it so simple and plain that the common man can read and understand it. It is not some mystical utterance that is too hard for us to comprehend. God wants us to understand. The apostle Peter insisted that Christians should know what they believe and why they believe it: "Be ready always to give an answer to every man who asks you for a reason of the hope that is in you, yet with meekness and fear" (1 Peter 3:15). The apostle John places the responsibility directly upon every Christian to follow the pattern of the Bereans and prove every teaching to be sure it is from God "because many false prophets have gone out into the world" (1 John 4:1). It is not only our right, but our duty to "listen" to all, to "try" (test) all and to evaluate for ourselves if what we believe and are doing is right (Luke 12:57). God wants us to examine everything and make sure that we follow His Standard as revealed in His Word. As members of God's family, we are simply trying to reproduce faithfully the church of our Lord as it existed in the first century -- the same in doctrine, worship, name, organization, service, life and work. The Bible clearly teaches that the seed of the gospel -- the Word of God -- will produce after its kind: pure and undenominational Christianity. The church was founded upon the basis of the Word of God. It follows that the same Word must serve as the blueprint for the church in our time. CHURCH OF CHRIST meets at: 2701 Barada Street Falls City, NE 68355

Dallas, TX: L. E. Huff was very hard of hearing, but it saved him from being robbed when a bandit entered his liquor store. L. E. asked him to repeat his demands so many times the would-be thug gave up and took off.

Missouri River Flooding

By Congressman Jeff Fortenberry

Many Nebraskans are continuing to deal with the effects of record water levels and flooding along the Missouri River. Families have lost homes, farmers have lost land, and communities have lost key infrastructure. Another concern is the floodwater encroaching upon Nebraska’s two nuclear power plants.

Recently, I reviewed operations at the Fort Calhoun Nuclear Station near Fort Calhoun. It was a jarring site - water surrounding the property, a boat tied to the nuclear plant, and employees wading their way across the grounds. To gain access to the facility, we had to traverse a series of catwalks put in place above the waters covering the parking lot.

Even among such conditions, plant officials conveyed a high degree of confidence that the facility is safe. It is dry, and multiple barriers protect it from encroaching water. The station’s buildings are designed to handle flooding up to 1,014 feet above sea level. The river now is just over 1,006 feet, and the crest is forecast at 1,008 feet. Additionally, the plant’s spent fuel is protected and its power supply is backed up by multiple sources, including diesel generators.

Both federal and utility officials stated clearly that both Fort Calhoun Nuclear Station and Cooper Nuclear Station, which is located near Brownville, are safe and will remain safe. And as floodwaters rise, further efforts will be taken by the utilities and federal regulators to maintain the facilities’ security.

Unfortunately, the Missouri River floods will remain a concern for some time to come. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has stepped up the water release at Gavins Point Dam in Yankton to 160,000 cubic feet per second. Cities up and down the river have raced to prepare for near-certain Missouri river increases of at least 5-7 feet above flood stage. My office has been in daily contact with representatives of the Corps and has worked to assist constituents whose lives have been disrupted.

While the Corps has worked positively alongside many state and local agencies to provide the public with crucial direct and technical assistance, concerns about its water release and flood-control practices persist. On behalf of concerned constituents, I have asked the Corps’ leadership to clarify these strategies in light of the agency’s statutory obligations and operational conditions.

If you or someone you know is affected directly by the flooding and need assistance, please contact my office at 1-866-725-5255.

The presentation outlines the basics of Medicare, Medicare Supplement Insurance, Medicare Advantage Plans, Medicare Preventive Services, and the prescription drug benefit, including information for applying for extra help for individuals with limited income and resources. Don't believe, spread flood rumors

As flooding continues to wreak havoc in some parts of Nebraska, it's important to get critical information from reliable sources and avoid the rumor mill, said a UNL Extension educator.

John Wilson, who's based in Burt County, one of 18 Nebraska counties already named in a federal emergency declaration, said he hears new rumors virtually daily about the flooding situation in his area. Almost all of them are wrong and are easily proven to be so.

One rumor making its way around the region recently was a report that releases from Gavins Point Dam were much higher than reported, contributing to flooding downstream. Another rumor circulated about a supposed 16-inch shift in an unspecified dam. Another woman reported she'd heard that flooding in Minot, N.D., would make its way downstream to Burt County.

All these rumors were wrong and easily refuted, said Wilson, who was particularly amused by the Minot one, since the Souris River, which is flooding that city, doesn't even empty into the Missouri.

"I don't want to diminish the seriousness of our current situation. It is bad and it's going to get worse before it gets better," Wilson said. "But don't contribute to the negative impact by repeating rumors you may have heard by well-meaning people in the coffee shop, grocery store, church, or even from your friends and neighbors."

"If you want to do something positive, make a donation to a local food pantry or flood relief organization, volunteer to help when the call goes out for assistance sandbagging or other relief efforts, do something special for someone directly affected by the flood, say a prayer for those who have lost so much," Wilson concluded, "but above all, do not make the situation worse by spreading rumors."

The FC American Legion Seniors (13-7) defeated Nehawka (14-3) 6-1 Saturday night to take home the championship trophy of the first ever Southeastern Nebraska Baseball Conference Tournament.

Falls City struck first in the top of the second. After Logan Faller reached on a walk, Kenny Frederick reached on an error and Trevor Harling's sacrifice advanced them each a base, Mitchell Harling delivered a line drive single to right-center field which scored both baserunners and put FC up 2-0.

In the top of the third Trevor Harling picked up his first homerun of the season to put FC up 3-0.

Mitchell Harling picked up his third RBI in the fifth with a single that drove in Jake Babb who had also reached on a single.

Nehawka scored their only run in the bottom of the fourth, but were able to keep FC on their toes by stranding runners in the third, fourth, sixth and seventh innings.

Babb, after a Trevor Harling single, and Derek Olberding, after a Justin Chesnut single, each scored in the top of the seventh to provide some insurance.

Josh Stoller earned the win on the mound for FC Saturday. He allowed only one earned run and struck out seven. Faller was called to the mound for the third time in four days and picked up the save.

In their first round game FC defeated Auburn 4-1 behind a stellar performance from Faller (5-2). Faller went seven innings, allowed only three hits, one earned run and struck out eight. Faller has struck out 52 batters on the season.

In the semifinal the Seniors defeated a tough Nebraska City squad 3-2 relying on stingy pitching and defense. Trent Scheitel improved to 5-3 on the season by allowing only two hits and zero runs in 6 1/3 innings, which dropped his team-leading ERA to 1.37. Faller came in to relieve Scheitel and picked up the save.

Offensively for FC throughout the tournament...Wednesday, Allan Feek went 2-3 with an RBI and Derek Olberding went 1-1 with a run scored and an RBI...Friday, Scheitel went 2-2 with a homerun and a run scored...Saturday, Trevor Harling went 2-2 with 2 RBIs, a homerun and a run scored; Mitchell Harling went 3-4 with 3 RBIs; Jake Babb went 2-4 with two runs scored.

Brownville flooded - with talent

The Brownville Concert Series invites you to “make an evening of it” with a gourmet dinner and cabaret starring “a soulful, swinging scholar of the Great American Songbook”

Karen Oberlin on Friday and Saturday August 5th & 6th. Dinner begins at 6:00pm with your choice of Filet Mignon grilled to perfection or Chesapeake Bay Style Crab Cakes plus salad, accompaniments, a glass of wine, dessert, tea and coffee. The cabaret begins at 7:30pm. Ms. Oberlin will also perform in concert Sunday August 7th at 2:00pm. Rest assured the Concert Hall is high and dry as is most of Brownville built on the bluffs overlooking the Missouri River.

“Telling the story, both musically and lyrically, is what I find most exciting and galvanizing as a performer,” Karen Oberlin recently said in an interview. Hailed as one of premier interpreters of the Great American Songbook, Nightlife, Bistro, and MAC Award-winning vocalist Karen Oberlin very recently received rave reviews for her three-week engagement at the legendary Oak Room at the Algonquin Hotel in New York. Stephen Holden in The New York Times said “Beyond having a pretty voice, poise and interpretive insight... Ms. Oberlin has impeccable classic pop style (and) musical intelligence.” Rex Reed, in the New York Observer, called her recent performance “thrilling,” and continued, “Oberlin is as lovely to look at as she is to hear -- subtle, elegant and musically spot on. She’s a keeper!”

She has appeared at major New York venues such as Jazz at Lincoln Center, Feinstein’s at the Regency, Town Hall, Iridium Jazz Club, Merkin Hall and The Metropolitan Room, among others. Nationally, she has performed at Guild Hall in the Hamptons, The Ordway Theatre in St. Paul, The Prince Theatre in Philadelphia, and the Royal Room at the Colony Palm Beach, to name a few. She entertained sold-out audiences at the Oak Room to launch the release of her highly lauded debut CD, “My Standards” (Miranda Music), the first of her two acclaimed CD’s, her second be-

Contrary to popular belief, Brownville is not all underwater! The Concert Hall as well as most of Brownville is built on the bluffs overlooking the Missouri River. We will host the Karen Oberlin dinner and cabaret on Friday and Saturday night Aug. 5 & 6 and a concert on Sunday, Aug. 7. Rex Reed, in the New York Observer, called her recent performance “thrilling,” and continued, “Oberlin is as lovely to look at as she is to hear -- subtle, elegant and musically spot on. She’s a keeper!”

ing the award-winning, “Secret Love: The Music of Doris Day” (Miranda Music). She can be heard on a number of compilations, including the newly discovered musical by Duke Ellington and Herb Martin, “Renaissance Man,” in the all-star CD version, “Secret Ellington” (True Life), which featured Joe Lovano, Grover Washington, Jr., and Freddy Cole, among others. She has a new CD, recorded live at the Algonquin, released November 2010.

Ms. Oberlin appeared in more than 100 Off-Broadway performances of the smash-hit show “Our Sinatra,” and has performed her own shows nationally and abroad. Karen has a deep background in classical music, jazz, cabaret, theater and musical theater. The granddaughter of Vaudevillians and the youngest daughter of two classical musicians, she often performed and competed in classical singing events and performed steadily in theater, musical and otherwise, growing up in Central New York. As a child she played piano and flute, and cello in the county orchestra, performed in her first role in an opera at age six, and as a teen led a few local rock and new-wave bands. Since then she has performed continuously and trained extensively, graduating from the Circle In The Square Professional Workshop Broadway theatre conservatory in New York after receiving her B.A. in English Literature. New York City led Ms. Oberlin to jazz and deepened her appreciation for the Great American Songbook.

Cabaret tickets are $23, concert tickets are $17 ($12 for students). The Gourmet Dinner is $30.00. To purchase tickets and the dinner online go to www.brownvilleconcertseries.com or call 402-825-3331. The Nebraska Arts Council (www.nebraskaartscouncil.org), a state agency, supports this program through a matching grant funded by the Nebraska Legislature, the National Endowment for the Arts and the Nebraska Cultural Endowment.
