Republican Presidential Candidate Donald J. Trump and Herbster Angus Farms and Conklin Company, Inc. Owner Charles W. Herbster.

Charles Herbster named National Chairman of the Agricultural and Rural Advisory Committee

Donald J. Trump announced his new Agricultural Advisory Committee. The men and women on the committee will provide pioneering new ideas to strengthen the nation's agricultural industry as well as provide support to the country's rural communities. Mr. Trump understands the critical role the United States' agricultural community plays in feeding not only its citizens, but the world, and how important these Americans are to powering the U.S. economy.

The formation of the board represents Mr. Trump's endorsement of these individuals' diverse skill sets and ideas that can improve the lives of those in agricultural communities. He has received widespread support from voters who understand he is the only candidate with the best interests of the agricultural community at the heart of his policies.

Mr. Trump said, "The members of my agricultural advisory committee represent the best that America can offer to help serve agricultural communities. Many of these officials have been elected by their communities to solve the issues that impact our rural areas every day. I'm very proud to stand with these men and women, and look forward to serving those who serve all Americans from the White House."

"I am honored to have the opportunity to work with

Irish looking to get back on top

By Brian McKim

The Falls City Sacred Heart Irish football team finished the 2015 campaign with a 9-2 record; great by most standards but not quite good enough for Coach Doug Goltz and the Irish.

As Coach Goltz enters his 30th season at the helm, the Irish have compiled 276 wins against 48 losses including seven State Titles. The Irish have made making the play-offs a habit with 32 appearances which is third best all time in the state.

When asked about what has changed in his 30 years Coach Goltz replied with a smile, "I probably yell less than I did when you played."

Sacred Heart opens the season this Friday, August 26, at home against Nebraska City Lourdes Central Catholic. The Knights began last season, ripping off seven straight wins before losing their final two games of the season. The Irish will be without Bryant Jorn who suffered an ankle injury and will be out of action for 3-4 weeks.

The Irish will return five starters on offense, and six starters on the defensive side of the ball. 6-5', 290 lb. Senior Bryant Jorn, along with 6-2', 240 lb. Junior, Theo Rhorer will help anchor both the offensive and defensive line for the Irish.

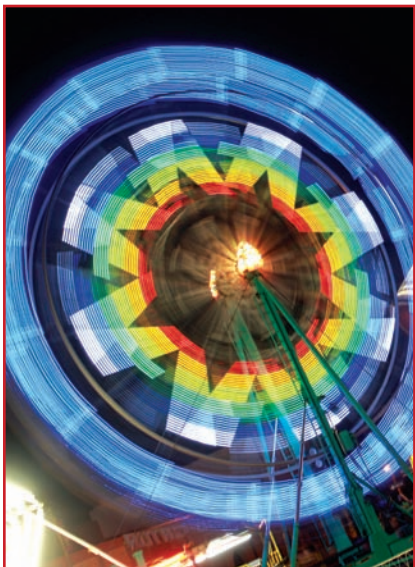

On offense, look for FB Austin Ahern, RB Christian Haring and RB Sean Arnold to get the majority of the touches.

The Irish, looking to get back to the State Championship game for the first time since 2013, will need to avoid the injury bug and hope for a little extra "luck of the Irish."

I haven’t paid a whole lot of attention to automatic-driving car technology, except to note that one company’s efforts ended in a fatal accident not long ago.

It’s just really, really hard for me to imagine starting the car and expecting it to perform safely while the driver sits back and, what, reads a book or takes a nap? This may be okay with a generation much younger than I am. But I’d guess most of us geezers don’t want any part of it.

Enter your destination in the vehicle’s computer and then concern yourself with other priorities, like taking in the passing landscape, as if you were the passenger? Not this old man. Talk about a nervous wreck (excuse that term), but I’d certainly be one. I’ll take my chances behind the wheel in control of my car. On the rare occasions when I’ve flown on an airline, I presume the pilot and co-pilot set the auto pilot. But I expect them to have their eyes on the skies and the instruments. That may not always be the case, but at least I don’t have to watch what’s going on in the cockpit.

By the time this technology is, maybe, perfected, I’ll be either too old to drive or still driving a car that doesn’t have it. Fine with me.

I don’t have anything against our Olympic athletes. Well, maybe one or two. But I do have a problem with the International Olympic Committee. Prior to the opening of the Games in Rio, Bryant Gumble’s Real Sports show on HBO was devoted to the upcoming Olympics in Rio. Several correspondents reported and the information they found was disgusting.

Most of you are aware of the raw sewage tinkling its way through Rio slums into the harbors where events were scheduled. And there was the Zika virus threat. That’s not the half of it.

Brazil is not a wealthy country. The country, in the midst of political turmoil, was awarded the 2016 Summer Games because of their bid and promises that could not be kept. Still, this relatively poor nation was expected to build hugely expensive venues and housing complexes for the thousands of athletes. And who suffered? The people of Brazil. To the tune of billions of dollars, not to mention from displacement from their homes, better described as shanties.

The I.O.C. dictates, very explicitly, what is expected/required. My opinion is that this committee is made up of autocrats who could not care less about the hardships that befall host countries. In Russia, which hosted the previous Winter Games and had to manufacture tons and tons of snow, people were ousted from their homes and forced to withstand hardships. Who cared? Certainly not Vladimir Putin. He wanted to show off for the world, regardless of the little people who suffered.

It’s becoming more and more apparent that future Olympics must be held in authoritarian countries such as China and Russia, where rulers can do whatever they want, damn the people. It seems to me that that does not reflect the spirit that the Olympics are supposed to be about.

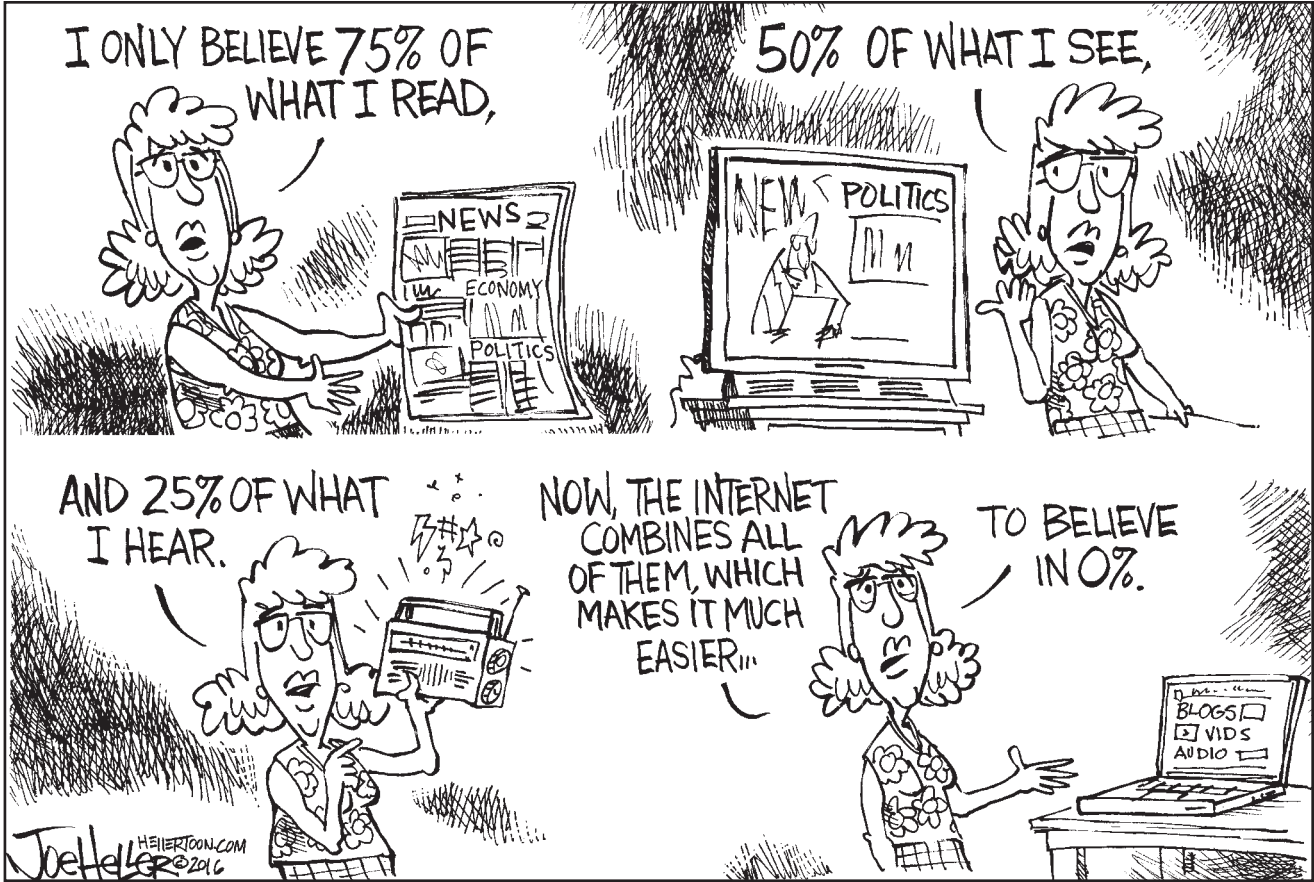

Who profits from the Games? The I.O.C., that’s who. NBC shelled out big, big bucks for the Rio Games. Most of those dollars went into I.O.C. coffers.

Why not establish permanent Olympic hosts? Because the I.O.C. doesn’t want to. They can further enrich themselves when new sites are selected every four years. In Russia, and other recent site hosts, the new construction required for the Games largely stands vacant. That will likely happen in Rio, too.

I was so infuriated by the reports that I didn’t watch one second of Olympic coverage. I hope no American city bids on future Games. This craziness has to stop.

I’m guessing that a lot of voters will leave the Presidential ballot blank in November. We have two flawed candidates. Not sure I could vote for either one of them, but I probably will make a choice for the least objectionable.

I’m getting slower with advancing years. This fact has recently manifested itself in a battle with a house fly. This little insect has made my house his/her home and constantly buzzes me while I’m reading the morning paper. Attempts to swat it out of my misery have failed. The little critter is quick, certainly quicker than I am. I’ve begun to wonder what the lifespan of a fly might be. Unless I increase my swatting prowess, I’ll have to outlast him.

Throwing stones at a stubborn man

Capitol View
By J.L. Schmidt
Statehouse Correspondent
Nebraska Press Association

State Senator Bill Kintner of Papillion is hard to like. He’s certainly not the kind of person who walks into a room and brightens it up. He’s a bit pushy and loud. He’s not afraid to push his agenda.

He’s also stubborn. An investigation a year ago revealed his involvement in a cybersex incident while he was out of the state on non-legislative business. He used a state computer. The governor asked him to resign. He refused. An investigation by the State Accountability and Disclosure Commission resulted in a $1,000 fine and another request from the governor that he resign. He didn’t.

In fact, he’s been defiant about it. He won’t apologize for it. He said he will apologize only to his wife and to God for engaging in cybersex with a woman last summer. He said he is sorry he sinned against God and sorry that he sinned against his wife. He told the Lincoln Journal Star that he hasn’t apologized to his constituents or fellow senators. One gets the idea that said apologies won’t be coming anytime soon.

During legislative debate, Kintner likes to point out that he was raised to learn the “moral absolutes of Christianity.” During this current struggle he questions why senators would be talking about impeaching or expelling him. He said a number of them have shown a lack of standards themselves. He asks what standard he has violated to embarrass the institution of the Legislature.

Take a deep breath senator. Unauthorized use of a government issued device is against state policy. Lieutenant Governor Rick Sheehy resigned after it was discovered that he used a state-issued cell phone to make hundreds of calls to women who were not his wife. Yes, Sheehy did the honorable thing and stepped down and gave up a promising political career.

At least one veteran observer has noted that if it was another senator involved in a cybersex scandal that Kintner would be leading a handful of his cronies in gathering firewood for the burning at the stake.

Kintner told the Lincoln paper that other senators have acted in ways that “apparently did not violate legislative standards: drinking and driving, adultery and affairs, fornication between senators and staff, habitual drunkenness and inflammatory rhetoric that could incite violence against police officers.”

Excuse me senator. The charge against you has been proven and you have been fined. Where is the proof to back up your complaints about drinking and adultery and fornication? Isn’t there something in those “moral absolutes” that prohibits you from making such judgment?

When the Scribes and Pharisees brought the sinful woman to him to be stoned, Jesus said to them (in John 8:7) “He that is without sin among you, let him cast a first stone at her.”

So now the Legislature is throwing stones at a stubborn man. The governor has washed his hands of the matter, saying it’s the Legislature’s business. Lawmakers are mulling a special session to deal with the matter while one of their colleagues, Senator Ernie Chambers, has indicated he’ll seek impeachment or expulsion proceedings. Chambers once sued God, how hard could it be to do something about Kintner? Besides, Kintner now says that it’s part of God’s plan for him to be an effective advocate in the Legislature. Suppose it’s also part of God’s plan that Chambers be an effective advocate for his constituents?

Kintner says that Chambers does not occupy the moral high ground in the Legislature. “Not on this issue or any other moral issue.” Oh put down your sack of stones senator. In his more than 40 years in the nation’s only Unicameral, Chambers’ most egregious errors seem to have something to do with a heavy foot on the gas pedal.

Oh, and those moral absolutes. Ernie knows and can quote and explain more passages of Scripture than anyone else in the place.

People who don’t like Ernie managed to get this bad idea called term limits passed. Ernie was gone for four years and the people saw it and said it was good. But, he’s back.

So what can the people do about the stubborn man who refuses to resign?

Safety committee issues surface at Board meeting

Some issues surfaced when the County Commissioners and department heads met as a Safety Committee Tuesday, Aug. 16, at the Courthouse. Commissioners Dave Sickel and Jim Davidson were in attendance for the entire meeting. Commissioner Jim Standerford attended a portion of the meeting. Sheriff Don Pounds said he had learned that the north entrance to the Courthouse incorporates heated sidewalks and he recommended that the sensors be moved to be more accurate in helping with the thaw of ice and snow on the walkway during winter months. EMA Director Brian Kirkendall said his office is having problems with the public loitering in his office area. After some discussion, it was suggested that a barrier be put in place to deter unauthorized personnel from entering the staff office. Highway Supt. Scott Huppert said he is working on plans for Courthouse sidewalk repairs. He also presented a quote for repairing the north Courthouse sidewalk and stairs. More information was requested by the Commissioners. That was to be reviewed at today's meeting. Also participating in the Safety Committee meeting were Tammie Becker, Courthouse maintenance, and Steve Darveau Jr., from the Road Department. Earlier, Kirkendall met with the board as president of the SE Nebraska Gun Club. He presented information regarding preliminary plans to construct a "trap range" at the FC Jaycees' Field, south of Falls City. No funding was sought, as the topic was informational. Board members reviewed 2016-2017 budget requests from Kirkendall, County Attorney Doug Merz, County Clerk Mary Eickhoff, County Treasurer Austin Duerfeldt, and County Assessor Pam Vice. During Mrs. Vice's session the board approved a contract for professional appraisal services for mineral properties with Prichard & Abbott, Inc., of Forth Worth, TX, for the years 2017 and 2018 at a cost of $1,800 per year. Board members met with County Treasurer Austin Duerfeldt, who presented an issue regarding the distribution of motor vehicle tax to the Village of Preston. Board members directed Duerfeldt to make the proper entries to correct the current fiscal year motor vehicle tax distributions, since July 1, 2016, and to distribute them to the Village of Preston. The board members requested that the Preston Village Board of Trustees meet with them to discuss further corrections to the distribution. The board adopted a resolution to transfer funds from the Inheritance Tax Fund to the General Fund and approved all claims that were submitted.

SEZ-I

'Best Decision Ever!'

Congratulations to Francis Seid and to the committee who wisely selected him for this years' Grand Marshal during the Cobblestone Parade. I had the pleasure of working with him so many times when I was lucky to serve as Chamber President and later, Executive Director. Through pie judging contests at the sale barn, through Farmer Merchant Banquets (along with wife Bev), through many hot air balloon shows, and through all the Cobblestone Festivities over the years, he was one I could always count on if something needed to be done or a sponsor was needed in order for the event to have a positive cash flow! During Cobblestone Days, he started early and stayed until the last bleacher was taken down after the street dance. Francis always went above and beyond his duties as a Chamber Board member or just as a committed citizen who wanted Falls City to shine just as brightly as his yellow John Deere shirt that he often wore during the events. This honor is long overdue, and I am so glad that you are honoring him in this way.

New arborist at Grimm’s Gardens, Nick Haedt. (Photo submitted by the Hiawatha World)

New Grimm’s arborist Haedt brings love to City of Beautiful Maples and surrounding area

By: James Farnen,
The Hiawatha World

In 1918, T.H. Korthanke moved with his wife to the 200 block of Miami Street in Hiawatha. On the corner of their new lot stood a towering maple, admired by all in the neighborhood. Inspired by the townsfolk’s appreciation of this tree, which blazed with color each fall, Korthanke took it upon himself to plant seeds which grew into saplings, free for the taking to all who would plant and care for them. It was because of this that Hiawatha eventually earned the moniker “the City of Beautiful Maples.”

It seems fitting, then, that Nick Haedt (pronounced “hate”), and his wife Jordan, both products of small town middle America, chose to settle here in Hiawatha.

In May of this year, Haedt was offered and accepted the position of arborist for Grimm’s Gardens, specializing in all things tree-related.

As the most recent addition to the Grimm’s staff, Haedt tends to the retail garden center’s trees from seed to sapling to maturity, as well as diagnosing pathogens, assessing potential risk of damage to homes and property, and completing whatever work is necessary to mitigate the risk of tree damage and disease for businesses and home owners across Northeast Kansas and southern Nebraska.

Haedt, originally from Wathena, met his wife Jordan while attending college in Iowa to earn his degree in biology. The two later moved to Kansas City, where his wife completed her studies in dentistry. During that time, Haedt began work with Ryan Lawn and Tree, the company to which he attributes much of his knowledge and experience as an arborist.

After completing his certification with the Midwest chapter of the International Society of Arboriculture (ISA), Haedt and his wife relocated to Hiawatha where Jordan began work as a dentist with Dr. Ronald Wright.

“We always knew we wanted to come back to this part of the state. We love the town,” explained Haedt.

While it can be dangerous work – Haedt explains he took a near 40 foot tumble to the ground but was narrowly saved when his leg caught in the crook of the tree he was in – it is work he loves.

“I have always loved science, especially biology. It was the only thing that interested me. I love nature and being outdoors.”

Now in his fifth year as an arborist, Haedt looks forward to expanding Grimm’s arbor business throughout the region. In addition to diagnosing tree pathogens and assessing risk – both consultation services he provides at no cost – Haedt treats tree diseases, removes trees and limbs, completes pruning, and installs cables and bracing among other jobs.

To contact Nick Haedt to set up a consultation, call 785-741-9112 or contact Grimm’s Gardens.

that Main Street America programs have been working to protect and advance for years, strengthening the economic, social, and cultural fabric of communities across the country.”

Each organization’s performance is annually evaluated by the Nebraska Main Street Network in partnership with the National Main Street Center to identify the local programs that meet ten performance standards. Evaluation criteria determines the communities that are building comprehensive and sustainable revitalization efforts and include standards such as fostering strong public-private partnerships, securing an operating budget, tracking programmatic progress and actively preserving historic buildings.

Inspired by the shared belief that small towns are the lifeblood of our great state, Nebraska Main Street Network is dedicated to enlivening downtowns as cultural and economic drivers for the future. The Nebraska Main Street Network partners with communities to transform and revitalize hometowns. By supporting preservation of our heritage and treasured resources. Connecting people, exchanging ideas and working together is how Nebraska Main Street Network provides the guidance that small towns need to remain vibrant places to live and work.

Main Street America has been helping revitalize older and historic commercial districts for more than 35 years. Today, it is a network of more than 1,000 neighborhoods and communities, rural and urban, who share both a commitment to place and to building stronger communities through preservation-based economic development. Since 1980, communities participating in the program have leveraged more than $65.6 billion in new public and private investment, generated 556,960 net new jobs and 126,476 net new businesses, and rehabilitated more than 260,000 buildings. Main Street America is a program of the nonprofit National Main Street Center, a subsidiary of the National Trust for Historic Preservation.

FCPS IS THE FIRST NEBRASKA SCHOOL AWARDED THIS GRANT (L-R) Tim Pratt, owner of Dietz Music, Tim Heckenlively, Shelly Leyden, Gale Dunkhas, John Furrow, and Rick Johnson.

FC Public School accept VH1 Save the Music Foundation Keys+Kids Grant

“We are extremely excited to accept the VH1 Save The Music Foundation’s Keys+Kids Grant to support our district’s K-12 music programs. Studies show that children involved in active music participation show improved performance in reading and math, score higher on standardized tests, are more likely to go on to college, and are less likely to be involved with drugs or alcohol abuse. A piano often serves at the core of the school community, and is widely visible at our district’s music performances. As a school district, we are both thrilled and appreciative the VH1 Save the Music Foundation is helping to provide these valuable benefits to the students in the Falls City Public Schools.”

Falls City Public Schools received notification that it had won a VH1 Save The Music Foundation Keys+Kids Grant! FCPS is one of 18 winning schools in the 2016 Keys+Kids grant program, created in 2014 in response to the lack of functional pianos in public schools. Falls City Public School District is the first Nebraska school awarded this grant in the history and they won among other larger city schools including Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia and Nashville, to name a few. FCPS will receive $10,000 worth of instruments, including a Casio Grand Hybrid piano and three keyboards, to support their music and drama programs.

“We received a record number of applications for our Keys + Kids program this year, serving as a great reminder of how important instruments are in music education programs,” said Henry Donahue, Executive Director of VH1 Save The Music. “The selection process is never easy, but we are thrilled to announce the 18 winners, the most we’ve been able to grant thanks to our incredibly generous partners.”

The Keys + Kids application submission period was open from April 8 to May 6, 2016 for all U.S. K-12 public schools. Submissions were evaluated by a committee of members from the Keys + Kids Leadership Circle. The piano grants are generously provided by VH1 Save The Music’s Keys + Kids Leadership Circle, which includes ALEX AND ANI | CHARITY BY DESIGN, Avnet, Bloomingdale’s, Casio America, Inc., CMA Foundation, Emporio Armani, JetBlue Airways, LEGO Community Fund U.S., Music Drives Us, and Twenty Four Seven Hotels.

Bletcher starts the Tiger softball season off with a grand slam

By Lori Gottula

School just started last Wednesday, but the Falls City Tigers' softball team has already played four games. The first was Thursday against Nebraska City at Hartman Field in Falls City.

The Tigers lost to Nebraska City five to four, in a very tough but well-played game. Falls City led three to one after three innings, but gave up four runs in the top of the sixth on two Nebraska City singles, two doubles and a Falls City overthrow error. When the Tigers came up to bat then, Erin Brewer pounded a single to left center, and Megan Eickhoff walked, setting up the possibility for a score. Sophomore Regan Deckinger then hammered out a fly ball to deep left field, inking a double for herself and sending Brewer across the plate. A pop fly to second base ended the inning.

In the seventh inning, The Tigers sent the Pioneers back to the field one-two-three, but Nebraska City sat the Tigers down one-two-three as well, ending the game for a Falls City loss. Senior pitcher Tayten O'Brien, who made a miraculous come-back after suffering a torn ACL last April, pitched the game for Falls City. On Saturday, the Tigers played in a one-day tournament at Doris Bair Field in Lincoln. The team started the day with an exclamation point against Wahoo. The Tigers kept Wahoo scoreless in the first inning while scoring five for themselves. Senior Molly Brown knocked in a run on a left field double, then sophomore Erin Brewer pounded a homer with two on base, sending the score to five-zero.

The Tigers scored another four in the fourth inning on singles by Meredith Poppe, Molly Brown, Rylee Scholl, and Bailey Armbruster, and a double by Morgan Bletscher. Rylee Scholl hit a double in the fifth inning, allowing Meredith Poppe to score, and sealing Falls City's deal.

The defense gave up just three runs, in the top of the fifth inning. Senior Tayten O'Brien went the distance on the mound, striking out five in the first four innings, and leading the Tigers to a 10 to 3 win.

The second game of the day proved to be Falls City's most challenging of the weekend. Raymond Central came to play, and upset the Tigers 12 to 3 in four innings. In that game, senior Morgan Bletscher led the Tigers offensively with a double in the second inning, and a home run in the fourth. On defense, junior Meredith Poppe pitched the first two-and-a-half innings, and senior Bailey Armbruster pitched the final one-and-a-half. In the Tigers' final game of the tourney, Falls City led two to nothing from the top of the first inning through the bottom of the fourth. In the first inning, Meredith Poppe hit a single, then Molly Brown hammered out a triple to bring her in. Bailey Armbruster grounded out to second, but brought Molly home. Both teams remained scoreless then until the fifth inning when Meredith Poppe hit a double, and was knocked in on a sacrifice by Molly Brown, and a single by Rylee Scholl.

Crete scored single runs in the fifth, sixth, and seventh innings, tying the score and forcing extra innings. Playing Californian rules (by starting with a runner on second base), Falls City scored five runs in the top of the eighth inning when freshman Hannah Clary, Regan Deckinger, Meredith Poppe, and Bailey Armbruster hit singles, then Morgan Bletscher put the icing on the cake with a grand slam.

The players, coaches, and spectators figured the game was over, but Crete had other things in mind. In the bottom of the ninth inning, the team hit four runs in, and the score was suddenly eight to seven.

Fortunately, the next three batters hit fly balls to left field and second base, and all three flies were caught, ending the game at eight to seven, in Falls City's favor.

Tayten O'Brien took on pitching honors for the game, striking out six. At the end of the game, coach Joe Dunn said, "The girls battled all weekend long. We did some good things, but still have some areas to work on. Some girls came through in some clutch situations, too, though. It's good to get back to .500, and we'll keep going from here."

Falls City Tiger's Head Football Coach Darin Fritz looks to lead the Tigers back to the playoffs. (Photo by Brian McKim)

Falls City Tigers optimistic about this season

By Brian McKim

Coach Darin Fritz and the Falls City Tigers begin their season on Friday, Aug. 26, and look to improve upon their 7-3 record of 2015. The Tigers will begin the season on the road against the Southern Raiders, a team that finished last season with five wins against four losses.

The Tigers will be tested early this season as they play host to Ashland-Greenwood the second game of the season. Ashland-Greenwood, who beat the Tigers 41-14 last season, is rated fifth in the preseason poll by the Omaha World Herald. Fairbury and Auburn could also prove to be tough opponents on the schedule this season.

Coach Fritz will return six starters on the offensive side of the ball and 8 starters on defense. On offense the Tigers will be led by 175 pound senior running back Zane Heckenlively. Also look for Rudy Vrtiska, the spinback in Coach Fritz' Single Wing offense, to get a lot of touches this season.

Heckenlively averaged an astounding 8.7 yards each time he touched the ball in 2015 for a total of 1,501 yards on the season. The offensive line in charge of opening the holes for Heckenlively will be led by 275 pound Sr. Ben Bauman. Dalton Kennel and Rudy Vrtiska will be looked upon to anchor the 4-2-5 defense this year.

If all goes well this season the Falls City Tigers look to make the playoffs for the sixth time since the 2009.

In San Jose, CA, a contested divorce case was settled when the husband was granted visitation rights to the couple’s two French poodles. (UPI) Lawsuits had been filed in the tragic Braniff Airways, Inc., crash near Falls City.

DID YOU KNOW?

Home improvement projects can inadvertently expose homeowners to hidden dangers. For example, lead paint may be lurking underneath layers of existing paint in older homes. Exposure to lead dust or fumes may cause brain damage or other adverse health effects, especially in children or pregnant women.

It is essential that homeowners control their exposure to lead or other hazardous substances through the use of protective equipment, such as a properly fitted respirator. If lead is discovered, it may require professional containment and cleanup. Contact your local health authority if you discover or suspect you have discovered lead paint or other hazardous materials in your home.

New feature to the Cobblestone Parade

There's something new about the Cobblestone parade this year, but spectators won't notice it. Lori Gottula, longtime director of the parade, has implemented a marching band contest.

"One of the things I'd like to do with the parade is increase the band presence," Gottula said. "I thought a marching contest would help entice more bands."

Although the numbers this year are the same as usual, Gottula hopes that the marching contest will be a hit, and that word about it will spread to other schools. The schools involved this year are Hiawatha, Falls City High School, Falls City Middle School, HTRS, and Falls City Sacred Heart.

"We will divide the bands into classes according to the enrollment guidelines used by the NSAA for music," Gottula said. "So there will be four high school winners, and then a middle school winner."

David Branch, Director of the Chamber of Commerce has also been involved. He was in charge of the trophies. He asked executives from FAST (the former WASP company) to donate metal, and asked Brian Miller to cut the trophies. Brian is the Industrial Arts teacher at the high school.

Other sponsors were needed for the contest as well. The other sponsors are: Stripes and Signs, F & M Bank, SunMart, and Lori and Randy Gottula. The judges for the contest are former Falls City native Kevin Rieger, and retired Auburn band director, Tom Osborne.

"We hope this is the first year of a very successful program," Gottula said. "And we hope to build it so that our parade becomes a destination for local bands."

If you want to preregister for the parade, call or text Lori Gottula at (402) 245-8145. Or email gottula@sentco.net. Or just show up! (But check the map in this section for your line-up area!)

Great tips for seasoned tailgaters

(StatePoint) Tailgating season is here, and while you may want to refer to last year’s playbook, new tools and tips can help make this your best season yet.

Stay Comfortable - There are a few simple things you can do to make comfort and safety a priority while tailgating. Number one is to pack plenty of water in order to keep everyone hydrated.

Whether you use an umbrella, a pop-up tent or simply arrive early to seek out a leafy corner of the lot, make sure your space includes some shade. And don’t forget the sunscreen. Be sure to check the weather report and prepare ahead with the right gear and clothing.

Lastly, it may not be the most fun item on your game day packing checklist, but it could be the most important. Always bring along a first aid kit that includes all the basics. It’s always better to be too prepared.

Keep Food Fresh - Don’t let your party foods fall victim to common tailgating woes. Even in an icy cooler, go-to, crowd-pleasing dips can be particularly susceptible to browning and drying out after a few hours. Prevent the degradation of guacamole and other dips by storing them in smart individual containers designed to keep foods fresh.

For example, the new Guac-Lock from Casabella works differently from standard food storage containers. Made from shatterproof, odor-proof and stain-resistant plastic, the container locks in place and allows users to squeeze out excess air. It’s great for entertaining too, as it features a push-up mechanism that keeps the container looking full, and comes with an optional chip tray.

Ambitious tailgaters can now make their dips ahead of time, without worrying that the look and flavor of their creations will fade over time.

Make Noise - If stadium rules permit, consider bringing along a wireless speaker system to pump up your favorite jams. Ensure your system is compatible with your phone’s technology. Waterproof options exist, and are always a great bet for all kinds of weather. Create a playlist in advance that will get you and your friends ready for the game. It may be helpful to make friends with your tailgating neighbors to reduce your chances of dueling sound systems.

With a few simple suggestions, you can make your next tailgating party a great success.

Flies, mosquitoes and beetles. We...

Hey Peak!

Did you know that insects can found on land almost everywhere in the world? Even in the usually frozen Arctic and Antarctica during their warmest season? Look at all of these ants in the ground and inside of this old tree trunk!

Yes?

Here are some fun clues about different insects. Read the clues to fill in the puzzle with the names of insects:

- beetles: colorful, spotted, liked by farmers for eating pests
- more of these than any other insects (40%); eaten by some people
- live on stored honey all winter and huddle into a ball for warmth; are found on every continent except Antarctica
- really caterpillars; spin cocoons made of one long strand of silk
- grown males chirp faster as it gets hotter; longer antennae than grasshoppers; out at dusk, they “sing” by rubbing wings together
- four stages: egg, caterpillar, pupa (the resting stage while they are changing – cocoon) and adult; seen during the day; large wings
- eggs to adults in 5 days; wings beat 300-600 times per second; hear “buzzing” as they get close to bite us; carry diseases
- come out during the day; “sing” by rubbing their long hind legs against their wings; have “ears” on their “stomach” areas to hear
- live near water; large eyes on head view a wide area; double-winged; can move up, down, hover like helicopter
- flat, brown, oval bodies; like warmth; out at night, light will scare them
- live in nests; use antennae to touch and smell; can lift 10 to 50 times their own weight
- taste with feet; walk upside down; only 2 wings; live 2-4 weeks; carry diseases

Insect Checklist!

Does it have (or is it):

- ☐ 3 main body parts?
- ☐ six jointed legs?
- ☐ two antennae?
- ☐ an exoskeleton?
- ☐ cold-blooded?

If it has all 5 items - it's an insect!

Putting His Stamp On It!

Insects bug us, but they fascinate us too! Sometimes, countries even put artwork of insects on stamps. A Connecticut artist, Steve Buchanan, designed one of the most popular sets of stamps of all time, called “Insects and Spiders.” The U.S. Post Office sold 61 million of these stamps.

Follow the dots to see it. Then fill in the blanks to spell its name:

Studying Insects

Did you know that insects make up 75% of all animals on earth? Scientists, called entomologists, who study insects have documented over a million different species of insects. They learn how insects interact with the world around them. These scientists study pests and helpful insects. They teach us about these tiny creatures.

SENCA Head Start Program Annual Report to the Public

Head Start is an early childhood development program that provides comprehensive services to children age three to five and their families. Families served are primarily at the 100% poverty level or below. SENCA Head Start can serve up to 10% of children above the poverty guideline.

The Head Start program is federally funded and receives federal dollars via the Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Families, and Office of Head Start. The federal government requires Head Start programs to obtain a 25% non-federal match on every federal dollar expended within their program. The in-kind match is meant to have communities show support and have a stake in the Head Start program. Without the tremendous support of the volunteers, the program would not be possible.

Southeast Nebraska Community Action Partnership, (SENCA) is a grantee for the Head Start program that currently serves the southeast Nebraska counties of Nemaha, Otoe, Pawnee, and Richardson. SENCA has been the grantee agency for the Head Start program since 1967. SENCA Head Start is funded to serve 151 children with 31 slots in Nemaha County, 53 closts in Otoe County, 18 slots Pawnee County, and 49 slots in Richardson County. The SENCA Head Start Centers are located in Auburn, Nebraska City, Table Rock, and Falls City. Collaboration sites include the Parent Child Center at North School in Falls City, HTRS Early Education Center located at HTRS Schools in Humboldt, and Bulldog Beginnings at Auburn Schools in Auburn. With a fleet of seven buses, one being handicap accessible, every effort is made to provide transportation to all children who attend school at the SENCA Head Start sites. SENCA Head Start operates Monday through Friday with services being held Monday through Thursday in the part-day/part-year programs and Monday through Friday at the full-day/full-year location.

In the classroom SENCA Head Start utilizes the Creative Curriculum 5th edition for Preschool. SENCA also implements the Positive Behavior Instructional Support, a systematic approach to preventing or reducing challenging behaviors and, eventually, enhancing the quality of life for individuals and support providers.

All activities in the classroom are based on learning through play, allowing for the educational opportunity to be given to every child. The program starts by teaching children school readiness and self-sufficiency skills of: listening, following directions, letters, names, numbers, cutting, sharing, snapping, zipping, pouring, setting the tables, as well as cleaning up. Individualation is done with every child, making it a fun and safe atmosphere on a daily basis. The goal is to have every child ready for kindergarten when the time arrives.

Good health and wellness are essential components of the SENCA Head Start program. They consist of physical health, dental health, social and emotional health and nutrition. The objective of the health component is to ensure all child health and development concerns are identified and children and families are linked to ongoing sources of continuous, accessible care to meet their basic health needs. A registered dietician reviews nutritional information for each child allowing the dietician to make suggestions for families on how to improve or maintain their child’s nutritional needs for growth and development.

Angela K. Antholz, SENCA Head Start and Deputy Director, along with a team of Coordinators, Teachers and support staff, are currently preparing for the 2016-2017 school year.

To review the full Head Start Annual Report for the program year August 13, 2015 through June 24, 2016, or to find out more about Head Start or other SENCA programs, please visit www.senca.org. SENCA is also available on Facebook, www.facebook.com/Senca1.

“Bird’s Eyevew of NYC”

August 17, 1946

The enthusiasm for sun bathing is so general, these days, that the roofs of any major American city would have provided a scene such as John Falter painted for this week’s cover. He chose New York. The view is from the fifty-fourth floor of the Chrysler Building, looking south. There were sun bathers on almost every roof, stewing, frying and boiling in the early afternoon sun, some in quest of health, and more, perhaps, in quest of an expensive-looking sun tan. A good many office workers at that altitude stand prepared, in case anything really beautiful comes into view, to look more closely. They keep telescopes handy.

IRS warns of back-to-school scams; encourages students, parents, schools and teachers to stay alert

The Internal Revenue Service today warned taxpayers against telephone scammers targeting students and parents during the back-to-school season and demanding payments for non-existent taxes, such as the “Federal Student Tax.”

People should be on the lookout for IRS impersonators calling students and demanding that they wire money immediately to pay a fake “federal student tax.” If the person does not comply, the scammer becomes aggressive and threatens to report the student to the police to be arrested. As schools around the nation prepare to re-open, it is important for taxpayers to be particularly aware of this scheme going after students and parents.

“Although variations of the IRS impersonation scam continue year-round, they tend to peak when scammers find prime opportunities to strike”, said IRS Commissioner John Koskinen. “As students and parents enter the new school year, they should remain alert to bogus calls, including those demanding fake tax payments from students.”

The IRS encourages college and school communities to share this information so that students, parents and their families are aware of these scams.

Scammers are constantly identifying new tactics to carry out their crimes in new and unsuspecting ways. This year, the IRS has seen scammers use a variety of schemes to fool taxpayers into paying money or giving up personal information. Some of these include:

- Altering the caller ID on incoming phone calls in a “spoofing” attempt to make it seem like the IRS, the local police or another agency is calling.
- Imitating software providers to trick tax professionals--IR-2016-103.
- Demanding fake tax payments using iTunes gift cards--IR-2016-99.
- Soliciting W-2 information from payroll and human resources professionals--IR-2016-34
- “Verifying” tax return information over the phone--IR-2016-40
- Pretending to be from the tax preparation industry--IR-2016-28.

If you receive an unexpected call from someone claiming to be from the IRS, here are some of the telltale signs to help protect yourself.

The IRS Will Never: Call to demand immediate payment using a specific payment method such as a prepaid debit card, gift card or wire transfer. Generally, the IRS will first mail you a bill if you owe any taxes.
