MEET THE CANDIDATES RUNNING FOR MAYOR OF FALLS CITY

Shawna Bindle

Shawna Bindle was born and reared in Falls City. She graduated from Falls City High School in 1995. She is 42 years old, and has been married to Brian Bindle for 22 years. The couple has two children who are now young adults.

Shawna is certified in para-medicine, critical care paramedicine, and Emergency Medical Services management. She works as the assistant EMS chief for the Atchison-Holt (MO) Ambulance District, and serves one 24-hour shift on the ambulance crew. She spends the rest of her work week at her home office in Falls City or in the EMS office, doing paperwork and preparing training sessions for emergency services. She also serves as an EMS instructor, and speaks at conferences and meetings.

"Other than the 24-hour time period that I'm on the ambulance crew, I am available and accessible any time." Shawna said. "My employer is 100% behind my candidacy, otherwise I wouldn't be running."

"At my job, I supervise employees, and am in charge of budgeting, scheduling, training, and conflict resolution," she said, "I also make life-and-death decisions in split seconds, every day, so I am calm under pressure, and can think clearly even if others around me are panicking."

"I believe in servant leadership, which means I earn respect by rolling up my sleeves and serving right alongside my employees. Regarding the position of mayor, I believe that my critical-thinking and listening skills make me the best choice for this position. I will listen to everyone, research his or her complaints, and do everything I can to help solve the issue."

"I believe in servant leadership, which means I earn respect by rolling up my sleeves and serving right alongside my employees. Regarding the position of mayor, I believe that my critical-thinking and listening skills make me the best choice for this position. I will listen to everyone, research his or her complaints, and do everything I can to help solve the issue."

Carla Rhodd

Carla Rhodd is a 34-year-old banker, volunteer, and mother of two children, ages five, and two-and-a-half. She grew up on a farm near Rulo, graduated from Falls City High School in 2003, and has been married to Josh Rhodd for eight years. She and her family attend Zion United Church of Christ east of Falls City.

After high school, Carla earned her bachelor's degree in wildlife ecology and conservation, through Northwest Missouri State University in Maryville, MO. She worked for three years as the administrative assistant at Falls City Economic Development and Growth Enterprise (EDGE), Falls City Chamber and Main Street. She has been with F&M Bank for the past four years, working her way up to the position of assistant cashier.

"I oversee the new accounts department as well as marketing," she said. "I also oversee the implementation of new products for the bank."

In addition, she is involved in different volunteer activities and currently serves on the EDGE investor and community relations committee.

"I think it's important for people get involved in our community especially the younger generation," Carla said. "I learned so much about economic growth and development through working at EDGE and it's now my turn to really get involved. I love Falls City, and want to help recruit businesses and young families to our community. I want to do my part to keep Falls City progressively moving forward."

Mark Harkendorff

Mark Harkendorff is a 66-year-old retired business owner, veteran, and former Falls City city council member. He was born and raised here, and graduated from Falls City High School in 1970.

"I went straight into the U.S. Navy Seabees (a naval construction battalion)," he said. He served a four-year term, then returned to his hometown to settle down. He and his wife, Pam, have been married for 43 years, have four children, 13 grandchildren, and one great-grandchild. Throughout the past 17 years, the two have been raising five of their grandchildren. The family attends the Church of the Nazarene.

"I threw my hat in the ring as a write-in candidate because I heard a lot of people say there wasn't a choice who had experience," Mark said. "I'm a veteran, and a past commander of the American Legion. I've owned and operated Falls City Sanitation for 40 years so I know how to run a business, meet a budget, and deal with employees. And several years ago, I served one term on the city council, so I know how the city government works."

"I'm a conservative, definitely, but more than anything else, I believe in honesty and fairness. I'm easy to get along with, but I'll only take so much. I won't be manipulated, and I will push for the truth no matter who it offends."

"The bottom line with me is, I am who I am, and I won't be any different as mayor. I'll treat the guy on the street the same as I do the guy in the big, fancy house. Everybody's voice will be heard."

Members of the community gathered on a blistery cold Sunday, October 14th to bring a little warmth to Falls City. Jessica Santo and her ROLEmodels hosted a grand opening for the community's first Little Free Pantry at the Mini Park near 15th and Stone Street.

What's the Little Free Pantry you ask? The LFP is a full-circle community effort to help those who aren't easily able to meet everyday food and personal needs. Those in need are able to approach the LFP freely at any time of day to take anything they need, whether it be food or personal items, with no requirements, application to fill out or ID to bring. Those who want to give are just as easily able to approach the LFP and leave whatever items they desire. The LFP silences any stigma that divides folks who give and folks who need.

The Little Free Pantry pilot project began in May 2016 in Arkansas and now thousands scatter the United States. The goal of the project is to bring the community together to provide easily accessible foods and

COMMUNITY MEDICAL CENTER COLLECTS 1035.91 LBS OF FOOD PANTRY DONATIONS

The 2018 Food Pantry War is officially in the books. This year, Community Medical Center had two challengers to see who could collect the most donations of supplies or cash for their local food pantry. Nemaha County Hospital, Auburn, and Community Hospital Fairfax (MO) were the challengers.

CMC came out of top with 1035.91 pounds collected. Nemaha County had 802.80 pounds and Fairfax had 631.55 pounds. The 'winners' of the challenge are the friends and neighbors in all three communities who need a helping hand from the pantries.

CMC had a water balloon toss fundraiser as a part of the challenge. The 'volunteers' to take one (or more) for the team were Todd Godemann, Kurt Forsyth and Kari Holdsworth. A video of the actual water balloon toss is on the CMC Facebook page-Community Medical Center.

LENDING A HELPING HAND

By Governor Pete Ricketts

Limited government is one of the central features of the American republic both at the state and federal level. In his farewell address, President Ronald Reagan observed, "I hope we have once again reminded people that man is not free unless government is limited. There's a clear cause and effect here that is as neat and predictable as a law of physics: As government expands, liberty contracts."

Government at the state level plays important roles in building infrastructure, funding education, protecting public safety, and caring for some of our most vulnerable among other priorities. Government, however, cannot and should not be responsible for every aspect of life. Churches, non-profits, and many other private organizations lend a helping hand in the lives of our communities. They help build the fabric of society here in Nebraska that has helped create and grow the Good Life and make Nebraska the best place in the world to live, work, and raise a family.

Nebraska stands out nationally in the area of civic engagement and volunteerism. In the latest study from the Corporation for National and Community Service, Nebraska ranked 6th among all states and Washington, D.C. with an estimated 58 million hours volunteered. Furthermore, over 56 percent of Nebraskans give to charity on an annual basis.

Much of this work goes on quietly in our communities every day: Parents coaching Little League baseball. Caring friends preparing meals for a family grappling with a long-term illness. A neighbor raking leaves for an elderly couple. We want to recognize people like this. This week, Serve Nebraska and Lt. Governor Foley will honor some of Nebraska's outstanding volunteers. In this column, I will highlight two examples of Nebraskans lending a helping hand and giving back to their communities.

Take for example the Team Jack radiothon, which is broadcasted on radio stations from Omaha to O'Neill and from Lincoln to Scottsbluff each year to raise money for pediatric brain cancer research. The event is hosted in conjunction with the Team Jack Foundation, launched by the Hoffman family from Atkinson. You may know Jack Hoffman for his 69-yard touchdown during the 2013 spring game, which has garnered over 8.8 million YouTube views and international attention. This radiothon is a great example of private businesses stepping up to give back to an important cause with a local foundation focused on finding a cure to a terrible disease.

You can find Nebraska's spirit of volunteerism in communities across our state. The Norfolk Daily News recently highlighted the work of Linnea Steinhauser of Keya Paha County. One community member explained to the paper that Keya Paha County is "just one big happy family." To help make Keya Paha County an even better place to live, Linnea and her family have volunteered their time for a number of causes, including the Keya Paha County Foundation, which helps support first responders and develop young leaders among other causes. To help the foundation's work grow, the foundation members have pooled their resources together and issued a challenge: If community members contribute $100,000 to the foundation, they will match their contributions with $50,000.

These are just a couple examples of Nebraskans stepping up to give back to their communities and working together to take responsibility for local opportunities and challenges they have identified. Conservative thinker Russell Kirk once wrote that, "A nation which consists merely of a central government and an incoherent mob of private individuals, without local and voluntary associations to protect identity, cannot be free." The work of people like the Hoffman family and Linnea Steinhauser have built the fabric of a free and growing Good Life over the last 150 years. If you have stories of volunteers who contribute to your community, I want to hear them. Email me at pete.ricketts@nebraska.gov or call 402-471-2244.

HONESTLY. IT'S NOT FOR EVERYONE.

Capitol View
Commentary by J.L. Schmidt

Honestly, I really like Nebraska Tourism's new advertising campaign, self-deprecating humor and all. Given time, it will reach the right audience and should produce results that are more than nice.

Nebraska. Honestly, it's not for everyone.

You've likely seen the pictures. A couple jumping from rock to rock at Toadstool Geological Park in the northwest Panhandle with the reference to Nebraska being flat. The dusty plains reference to the young kid walking along the lush green above a waterfall.

Then, there's my very favorite (so far). Six young women floating on a Sandhills river in a stock tank. Kudos to the copywriters who crafted: "In Nebraska, we believe that only boring people get bored. So we invent our own fun."

"Like when we realized that a livestock tank would float and thought, it's a boat. Soon, tanking became the preferred method of meandering down our slow-moving rivers."

"It might not be everybody's cup of tea, but if it sounds as good to you as it does to us, go to VisitNebraska.com. And welcome aboard."

The pitch may strike you as a little odd, itself, or even a little risky, says Nebraska Tourism Director John Ricks. With research showing Nebraska so low on American travelers' radar, maybe a little self-deprecating humor is worth a try.

As an advertising major at the University of Nebraska in the 1960s, I learned a thing or two about market research and hooking the customers you seek. Yes, that was decades ago and I chose to make my living as a news writer instead of a copywriter. But I'm telling you that this campaign checks all the right boxes. It's a breath of fresh air in a state that has apparently earned honors as a least-likely place to visit.

During the 11 years I was affiliated with a national preservation organization - in my first post journalism encore career - I used to attend national conferences where I told people that I was from Nebraska, "one of those mostly square states out west that most people couldn't find on an unmarked map - and we like it that way."

If you're like me, you could probably care less if people come to visit Nebraska. But I bet your heart is proud when you hear folks nationally discuss the state in regards to a champion University of Nebraska volleyball team or a Miss America or as THE PLACE to watch 500,000 Sandhill cranes migrate as the Winter melts into Spring.

During my third and final encore career I helped create and manage a tourist attraction featuring one-of-a-kind classic automobiles in a museum smack in the middle of that crane migration zone. Believe me, I cared about the number of visitors who had and the number of states and countries from whence they came. I witnessed the economic benefits of those visits and came to appreciate the stories of how they heard about us and what drove them to visit. So, yes, I understand tourism matters.

Ricks says the 11 percent to 12 percent of people in this country the new campaign is aimed at make up 40 percent of the traveling public and may be the ones who can appreciate this state that's smack dab in the middle of the Great Plains. He adds -- and I concur -- the Great Plains are not so plain, but rather dazzling and awe-inspiring in their own way.

Ricks came to Nebraska two years ago from the Colorado Tourism Office to take over as executive director at a time when the Nebraska Tourism Commission was struggling with a camaign that said "Nebraska Nice" and some alleged activity by staff and contractors that was NOT nice by Nebraska, or any other state's standards.

He told those attending the recent Nebraska Tourism Conference that the culture of the state is the context of its appeal. It's the free spirits who live here; the independent, self-reliant people; natural wonders; the good life; western heritage; simple life that is warm and inviting. The perception of a place to visit in people's heads is more important than the things to see and do when you get there, so we had to find a way to get people here.

Congratulations! I honestly think this one will work.

Also presented were state bids available for the purchase of a motor grader, pickup, and a tractor truck. GWFC/NFVC

By Elizabeth S Ketter, secretary The GWFC/NFVC Stella Research club met at the home of Dot Kelsay on October 15, 2018. The meeting was opened with the introduction of Susie Tucker by Sara Stiers. Mrs. Tucker told of the WWII life of missionary Darlene Deibler in New Guinea. A free-will offering was taken for Mrs. Tucker to continue her ministry.

President Vicki Beilke called the meeting to order. Jan McMullen gave the opening prayer, and the Flag Salute followed.

Roll call was the payment of dues. Secretary Elizabeth Ketter read the minutes of the April 12, 2018 meeting. They were approved as read.

The treasurer's report showed a balance of $171.12. Mrs. Ketter presented a bill for $41.54 for printing of the yearbooks and the purchase of GFVC stickers. Jackie Uhri made the motion to approve the bill, with Chris Joy seconding the motion. The motion carried.

Correspondence- all members heard the announcement of the District 1 convention to be held October 17th in Lincoln. There will be four attending from Research Club.

District one president Joyce Genoways had sent a letter telling of NFVC projects. They are: Make a Wish, YRITC in Geneva, pop tabs for the Ronald McDonald House, and Water is Life. She said the district presently has six clubs, with the Auburn club wishing to disband. Some of the Auburn members may join Research Club.

Auburn member Janet Kirken-dall said the Auburn club would do all the work for the March Fine Arts Festival, while Stella Research Club will be the nominal host. Fine Arts will be held at the Auburn Senior Center on March 23.

Barb Ely reported that the Hal-loween costume contest will be held at the Stella Event Center at 6 p.m. on October 31st. There will be five age groups to be judged, including adult. Judges have already been selected.

The club's yearbooks were gone over, and President Beilke mentioned some of the programs. She also mentioned some of the projects the club does and said we also give to the HTRS prom.

The donation at the December meeting was discussed. Cathy Donahoe made a motion that money collected goes to the Child Saving Institute. Chris Joy seconded the motion, and it carried.

Due to bridge construction on Nebraska 62 where the club usually picks up trash, the group may not need to go out until spring.

Another project the club as-sists with is the garden club's art show at the arboretum. The club assisted in 2010 and 2013.

President Beilke discussed the report she sent to the state organization.

Announcements the next meet-ing will be at Cornette McFad-den's on November 19, at 2 p.m. Members are to bring gently used jackets for donation.

For her Federation minute, Mrs. Ketter said that GFVC is supporting scholarships for vic-tims of abuse.

Jackie Uhri reported on the 1938 NFVC convention, which was held in Nebraska City.

Courtesy Jan Mason had noth-ing to report.

The meeting was adjourned. Beth Eickhoff and Jackie Uhri served refreshments.

Get out the vote

The midterm elections are now a week away.

Nebraska is a national leader in voter participation among people with disabilities. But everyone has a voice, and statistics show that the voter registration rate nationally is lower among people with disabilities than among those who are able-bodied. This election time, the League of Human Dignity is encouraging qualified residents to exercise their right to be heard.

To vote in the Tuesday, November 6, general election, Nebraskans should have been registered no later than October 19.

To register online, go to www.nebraska.gov/apps-sos-voter-registration/

In person registration applications are available at county election offices -- generally county clerks -- Department of Motor Vehicles offices and public assistance agencies.

To be eligible to vote in Nebraska, residents must be at least 18 years old on or before the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of this year, a U.S. citizen, and a Nebraska resident. Residents cannot vote if they have been declared mentally incompetent or if they have been convicted of a felony and have been discharged from supervised release less than two years.

The League of Human Dignity is a nonprofit, consumer based organization that promotes the full integration of people with disabilities into society. To that end, we advocate for their needs and rights, while providing services to assist them in becoming and remaining independent citizens.

Sun Mart of Falls City recently donated $1,000 to Falls City Sacred Heart School as part of its "Direct Your Dollars" campaign. Families from schools participating in the "Direct Your Dollars" campaign collect Sun Mart cash register receipts and the company makes a $1,000 donation for every $150,000 returned. Ricky Anthony arrested in FC for allegedly fleeing the scene of a fatality accident

Ricky Anthony, 54, was detained in Falls City on Sunday, October 21, after allegedly fleeing from the scene of a two-car accident that killed two people near Nebraska City.

Allegedly the northbound SUV driven by Anthony crossed the center line of Highway 75 and into the southbound shoulder of the highway. When the driver of the second vehicle, Michael Curry, moved into the northbound lane to miss hitting the pickup driven by Anthony, the two collided after Anthony swerved back into the northbound lane.

Anthony had an active arrest warrant in Douglas County at the time of his arrest. Anthony had been charged on September 27, with charges of driving under the influence, open container and speeding. He was set to appear in court on October 1 but didn't show up.

Investigators say that Anthony borrowed an SUV from a local woman that was registered to Armbruster Motor Company in Falls City. After investigators contacted the local woman, she indicated that Anthony had borrowed the vehicle to drive to Omaha Sunday night. The crash killed Curry's wife, Rachel Curry, 32 of Auburn and his daughter Chloe Curry, 15.

Anthony was booked into Otoe County Jail on Monday, October 22 on felony charges of leaving the scene of a fatality crash and two counts of motor vehicle homicide.

Prokop Should Be Your Choice
As a Regent candidate, Robert Prokop has given the district voters a major difference he will give from the current Regent, Rob Schaefer. Prokop will represent the district, not become a Country Club education member. Rob Schaefer continually talks about affordability as a top priority of Regents. Yet, during his tenure, tuition has gone up 50% and educational costs by 40%. No wonder some families are paying off students loans by their 50s.

Halloween boasts a rich history

Costume-clad kids, bags of candy and jack-o'-lanterns are some indelible images associated with Halloween. Those images may forever be linked to this beloved, fun-filled holiday, which boasts a rich history that varies depending on where in the world you might be.

Celebrations around the world may not mirror those in the United States, where trick-or-treating youngsters travel from house to house in search of candy. But true Halloween enthusiasts may be interested to learn the history of the holiday and how it has changed over the centuries.

El Dia de los Muertos - In parts of Mexico and Latin America, El Dia de los Muertos (The Day of the Dead) is celebrated each year in early November. The day is designed to honor the dead, who Day of the Dead celebrants believe return to their earthly homes each Halloween. Families may burn candles and incense in an effort to help their deceased relatives and ancestors find their way home.

Guy Fawkes Day - For many years, England had reason to celebrate around October 31, but those celebrations did not mirror the Halloween festivities familiar to those across the pond. While recent years have witnessed more and more Brits adopting the Americanized celebration of Halloween, for many the true holiday this time of year will always be Guy Fawkes Day. Celebrated on November 5, Guy Fawkes Day is a commemoration of the foiled Gunpowder Plot. Smithsonian notes that this was a failed attempt by disgruntled Catholics to blow up the British Parliament building while King James I was inside. Fireworks, parades and bonfires marked Guy Fawkes Day celebrations, which in recent years have gradually begun to transform into something that more closely resembles American Halloween.

Samhain- History.com notes that Halloween can trace its origins to Ireland. But those origins did not involve giggling youngsters carrying plastic pumpkins around in search of candy. Halloween's origins can be traced to the Celtic festival of Samhain. Samhain was considered the Celtic New Year and was sacred to the ancient Irish. The festival was celebrated as the days became shorter, and offerings were left for the dead, who celebrants believed could cross over into the land of the living at this time. However, they also believed demonic spirits could follow such a path during Samhain, giving the festival the taste of the macabre that many still enjoy imparting on their Halloween celebrations today.

Halloween has a rich and interesting history that gals and ghouls from all walks of life might find interesting.

Give a gift that makes them think of you 52 weeks a year.

Europeans who came to America... ...often wished for land, gold or freedom. Kids: color stuff in!

Living in the Colonies

Have you studied Colonial times in school? It is the period of time (1607-1776) during which people from Europe sailed across the sea to America, which then was known to them as the "New World." Some people were looking for things that would make them powerful - land or gold. Others wanted freedom to live and worship as they chose. Of course, Native Americans were already living here. Can you imagine how they must have felt when ships came to their land and strange people built homes and forts on it?

I like playing hoops. Whoa!

I'm out of here! I heard pigeon is a popular food. Eek, I'm out of here, too!

At this time, most families had to provide their own food. They grew turnips, pumpkins, potatoes, wheat and corn. They kept pigs, chickens and cows. Men hunted for deer, turkeys or rabbits. Families fished or searched for clams. A pot of stew was kept hot on the fire all week. Some sugar and spices were brought from England, but were still scarce. To keep foods longer, they were dried, smoked, canned, salted and pickled.

How did Colonial America start? Read these clues to find out:

- Members of the Virginia Company sailed to the New World to claim _____ for England.
- They wanted to make lots of _____ by finding silver or gold, so they quickly landed to start a settlement before other people could.
- They founded the first settlement, called _____, in Virginia.
- Some others who traveled to the New World were called _____. They sailed on a ship called the Mayflower and landed in Plymouth, Massachusetts.
- They came to the New World because they wanted religious _____.
- Most settlers had to grow their own fruits and _____.
- Settlers built _____ to protect against attacks from some native tribes.
- Such attacks could last for weeks or months, trapping settlers inside. When food ran out, many people _____.
- There were few doctors, so many settlers died due to simple _____.
- Eventually the English government placed very heavy _____ on the colonists for tea, food and other goods.
- This was one _____ of the main causes of the _____ Revolutionary War.
- In 1776, the 13 Colonies declared themselves "Free and Independent _____" that no longer were part of Great Britain.

Colonial Work

Boys learned the family trade or went to work for a craftsman to learn a skill that was useful. Some people could pay for services they needed. Others would barter for something they needed.

Can you find and circle the names of these different tradesmen?

 blacksmith
 gunsmith brickmaker
 shoemaker
 wigmaker
 silversmith shipbuilder basketweaver
 carpenter

Have you ever seen this kind of basket? This is a "peanut basket." Notice my shape and notice the shape of the basket to see why it is called that. Some people put peanuts in one side, then throw the shells into the other side as they eat the peanuts.

School Time!

Do you think learning was harder in Colonial times or harder now? Read each sentence below and circle "T" if you think it is true and "F" if you think it is false.

- Schools were huge, brick buildings with large numbers of teachers and students. T F
- Students had lots of textbooks. T F
- Girls learned math and the family trade. T F
- Boys learned spinning, cooking and nursing. T F
- Students who didn't behave well could be spanked or punished. T F

Odis J. Fields to speak at Veterans Day festivities

Veterans Day, 2018 is Monday, November 12th, and according to June Bowers, one of the directors, the schedule and featured speaker have now been finalized. She and Falls City High School principal Gale Dunkhas organized the morning activities and afternoon parade, while the VFW Auxiliary took care of the marketing, and the evening dinner.

"The festivities will begin with a 10:15 a.m. reception in the Falls City High School commons area," June said. "This time of fellowship over coffee and cinnamon rolls is for veterans and their families."

At 11 a.m., the Veterans Day program will begin in the high school gymnasium. The program will feature guest speaker, AGI Odus J. Fields (AW/SW), and the combined music departments of Falls City High School, and Falls City Sacred Heart. The public is invited.

That afternoon, the veterans will be honored in a 1:30 p.m. parade on Stone Street.

"We hope to see a big crowd come out and support our veterans," June said. Following an afternoon break, all veterans and the public are invited to the Veterans Day dinner in the basement fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church. The dinner and program start at 6:00 p.m.

"Odus J. Fields will also be the main speaker for the dinner," June said. "He served our country around the globe for 20 years."

Fields currently works in Richardson County as the assistant veteran services officer. He has five sons—Xavier, Ethan, Desmond, Franklin, Thomas and Stephan. He is originally from Pleasant Hill, Louisiana (population 1200), a town that is best known for the Battle of Pleasant Hill during the Civil War. In 1989, he joined the Navy, and trained to be an Aerographer's Mate (weather man), a job that he had dreamt about since a TV weatherman talked to his third grade classroom.

Over the next 20 years, Fields was stationed at military bases that included Guam; Whidbey Island, WA; Fallon, NV; and Suitland, MD. He also traveled on board two naval ships-- the U.S.S. Incheon, and USS Nimitz. "My training allowed me to do some interesting jobs, from tracking typhoons and hurricanes to providing weather forecasts to ships in the Pacific," Odus said, in a recent biographical statement.

"I analyzed and forecasted ice conditions for the Antarctic and Arctic regions while stationed at The Naval Ice Center in Maryland, and provided weather, target and weapons data for strike/bombing missions at the Top Gun aviation center located in Fallon, NV. I also employed this training in the Persian Gulf and in the Indian Ocean while supporting missions in Iraq and Afghanistan."

On September 11, 2001, Fields was stationed in Suitland, Maryland, just outside Washington D.C. when a hijacked plane crashed into the Pentagon. "It set off car alarms where I worked, and two of my coworkers were among those killed in that attack," Field said. "One of my proudest moments in my military career was serving as a Military Honor Guard for the funeral of AG2 Flocco, my friend. I and the other guards were trained by the Navy Ceremonial Honor Guard to carry the casket and fold and present the flag to the family. It was a privilege."

Fields will talk about that experience and many others at the dinner. All veterans are welcome, and the public is invited. For more information, contact Bowers at (402) 245-0648.

As the Husker football trounced Bethune-Cookman on Saturday, it's easy to let the mind wander a bit and contemplate what might have been. Remember, this was a makeup game to replace the season opener against Akron that never took place. At 4-3 now, Akron looks like a game that Nebraska could have and probably would have won. Getting that first win out of the way is so important. Then, to come right back and host Colorado with a 1-0 record. My guess is that the Huskers would have come away victorious and would have sported a 2-0 record at that point. Next on the list comes Troy, a very beatable team, and with the right momentum we would have earned the win and gone to 3-0. Sure, we probably still lose on the road at the "Big House," but maybe we beat Purdue and Northwestern. Even if we still fall to Wisconsin, we could be a very respectable 6-2 after eight contests. Now sure, this is all pure speculation and a bunch of what ifs, but it all goes back to what I've been saying. Momentum is tremendous when you're winning, and sometimes even more significant when you're losing.

Saying that we are now 2-6 for the year, and currently on a two-game winning streak. Winning is never easy at Ohio St. but maybe our boys are feeling really good about themselves right now and march into the "Horse Shoe" and come home with a signature win for Coach Frost. Anyone who had doubted him or this staff needs to step back and consider what they really have accomplished this season.

Don't look now but we have a QB that is going to garner national attention soon if he already isn't on peoples' radars. All he has done this season is to complete 66% of his throws for 1656 yards and eleven touchdowns, and he has run for 415 yards and four scores. Not bad for a true freshman who didn't play his senior year of high school ball.

The game Saturday was just what the doctor ordered for Nebraska. They dominated from the start of the game, in which they drove straight down the field for the score. Then JD Spielman broke free on a punt return, 77 yards, making the defenders look silly. We even saw the second team offense to begin the second half. Tell me Coach Frost isn't on his way to making us better and better each week. Most coaches would have run the first teamers out to begin the second half, but knowing how important it is to get reps to the young guys, he stuck with them even when they weren't moving the ball. I'm telling you, games like this build confidence, not just for starters but for the entire team.

Also, kudos to the staff and athletic director Bill Moos for getting this game on the schedule, it couldn't have come at a better time for this program. Watch out Buckeyes, the Huskers are coming for you, and they have nothing to lose. Go Big Red!

Ellicyn Gilkerson and Michelle Beer led the Tigers with four kills apiece, and Allyssa Mez added three. Hannah Kirkendall had two ace serves to lead FC while Beer, Jessa Beckner, and Kailyn Frederick each had one. Defensively, Beckner led Falls City with 10 digs, Gilkerson added six, and Jordyn Curtis had a block. Beckner also led FC with six assists, while Josie Riggs and Kirkendall each had three.

In the second match of the night, Falls City took on 24-3 Johnson-Brock. The Eagles took the Tigers down in straight sets, 25-14 and 25-13. Beer led Falls City with four kills while Gilkerson added two. Beckner had the lone ace serve of the match for the Tigers, and Curtis again had the only block at the net. Beckner also led the Tigers with five digs while Frederick, Kirkendall and Lexie Buckminster each had three. Kirkendall added four assists, while Beckner was right behind with two.

Big green machine rolls in playoff opener

Story and photos by Brian McKim

In the opening round of the Class D2 football playoffs, the Sacred Heart Irish hosted the Wynot Blue Devils on Thursday afternoon at Jug Brown Stadium. Sacred Heart wasted no time, racing to a 22-0 lead after the first twelve minutes and continued to lead 28-0 at the half. The Irish defense was able to pitch the shutout in the second half and advance with a 42-0 win.

To begin the game, the Irish defense forced a punt on 4th and seven, and the Irish took over first and ten and their 26-yard line with 9:38 on the clock. Two minutes later it was Del Casteel breaking multiple tackles to get the nine-yard touchdown with 7:25 to go in the quarter. The PAT run by Casteel was also good, and SH led 8-0.

On the following drive, the Blue Devil drove all the way to the Irish seven, but the Irish defense held strong and turned Wynot away. Back to back tackles by Branson Darveau and Sloan Lenard in the backfield helped turn away the Blue Devils and gave SH the ball at the 14-yard line. On third and long on the ensuing drive, Drew Bippes found Jake Hoy coming across the field who broke a tackle and outraced the defenders for a 67-yard TD catch. The PAT pass from Bippes to Hoy made it 16-0 with 3:43 to go in the first.

A quick three and out by the Irish defense gave them the ball back at the SH 38 after a punt return by Hoy. On an option left, Bippes kept the ball and cut it up the middle and ran over the defender for the 22-yard TD run on the fifth play of the drive to give the Irish a 22-0 lead with :42 to play in the first.

Again, Wynot was able to move the ball, going 49 yards on the next drive, but the Irish turned them away once they got into the red zone. Five times in the contest Wynot broke the Irish 20-yard line only to be turned away each time. Sacred Heart began the drive on the 18-yard line and needed just five plays to cover the 62-yards for the score, aided by a 40-yard pass play to Jamie Stice. Casteel again punched it in for the score from four yards out to make it 28-0 with 6:52 to play in the half.

Wynot again drove down the field against the Irish, getting to the Irish six, but eventually turned the ball over on downs at the Irish 11-yard line. However, on the first play after the turnover, QB Bippes bobbled the snap, and Wynot recovered at the Irish 12. The Blue Devils again reached the six-yard line with :18 to play, but a bad snap on fourth down was recovered by the Irish with :11 to go in the half.

Wynot tried a squib kick to begin the second half, giving the Irish great field position at their 36-yard line. It took SH just four plays to cover the 44-yards for the score on a Bippes two-yard run. The pass from Bippes to Hoy made it 36-0 with 10:35 still to play in the third quarter. The Irish defense forced a quick three and out to begin the second half, but a bad snap turned the ball over, and Wynot took over at midfield. The Blue Devils drove to the SH 11, but the Irish defense again flexed their muscle and forced another turnover on downs at the 18.

With a running clock, the Irish covered 62-yards on seven plays, for the final score of the contest. Hoy hauled in a 21-yard pass from Bippes on third and 17 to make it 42-0 with 7:54 to play in the game.

The Irish controlled the game from start to finish as they rushed for 203 yards on 33 carries while holding the Blue Devils to 38 yards on 22 attempts. Through the air, SH had 176 yards while Wynot finished with 110.

Individually for SH Bippes led the ground attack with 79 yards on 11 carries and two scores. Hoy added 70 yards on ten touches, and Casteel had 48 yards on eight carries and two TD's. Bippes did all the passing for the Irish, completing 6-8 passes for 176 yards and two scores. Hoy was his favorite target with five catches for 136 yards and two scores. On defense, Casteel led SH with nine stops, including three for losses. Darveau and Hoy each added eight tackles and Lenard had five stops, three for losses.

For the season Hoy is leading the rushing attack for SH with 540 yards on 64 attempts and nine TD's. Bippes is completing 66% of his passes, 72-109, for 1208 yards and 20 touchdowns, against just two picks. Hoy leads the receivers also with 27 grabs for 448 yards and ten scores while Jarrot Simon had 17 catches for 296 yards and six TD's. Casteel and Darveau lead the defense with 63 and 65 tackles. They each also have 11 tackles for loss while Lenard had eight.

With the win, the Irish will face Randolph on Wednesday. According to Coach Goltz, they are a good football team that plays excellent defense and are very physical with a QB on offense this is a playmaker. Randolph, the four seed is 7-2 on the season, while the fifth-seeded Irish improved to 8-1. The game will be played at 3:00 on Wednesday, October 31, at Randolph.

Irish VB team tunes up for subdistricts

By Brian McKim

The Irish girl's volleyball team had a pair of tune-up games last Tuesday to wrap up the regular season and set their sights on a post-season run. In the first match of the evening, the Irish faced the Sterling Jets, taking down the opponent in straight sets 26-24 and 25-18. Rachel Magdanz, Chloe Schock and Erison Vonderschmidt each had ace serves in the match for Sacred Heart. Vonderschmidt also led the Irish on the offensive attack with six kills, followed by Ciara Catlin with three and Ahren Ebel and Schock with two apiece. On the defensive side of the net Vonderschmidt also added two blocks, while Catlin and Elizabeth Keithley each had one. Rande Witt led the playmaking with six assists, and Magdanz was right behind with five. Vonderschmidt added 14 digs for the Irish and Ebel had seven.

In the second match of the night in Nebraska City, the Irish fell to the home team in consecutive sets 25-19 and 25-16. Again, it was Vonderschmidt leading the attack for SH with eight kills, and Rande Witt added three. Witt also led the Irish with seven assists in the match while Magdanz added five. It was Teresa Morehead leading the Irish with 11 digs, and Lauren Malone added six. With the loss the Irish fall to 19-11 for the year while Lourdes Central improved to 16-15. The Irish finish 1-4 against Nebraska City for the season.

Next up for the Lady Irish will be Sub District play on Monday and Tuesday at Johnson-Brock High School. First up on Monday the Irish took on the winner of the Parkview Christian and Lewiston match up. With a win, the #1 seeded Irish will face the winner of Sterling and Mead on Tuesday at 7:00 in Johnson.

SOCIETY

Concordia Guild October 15, 2018

Fourteen Members and two guests, Barbara Shurtleff and Irene Fisher, attended the October 15th meeting of the Falls City Chapter of Concordia Guild of Seward at Faith Lutheran Church in Humboldt.

The speaker for the day was Joleen Hilgenfeld, a retired teacher who told us about the need for and the start of the summer feeding program in Humboldt. The summer feeding program started on May 21st to August 9th, a period of 58 days. The program was backed from all the Humboldt businesses and worked with 60 volunteers. It was a great success and plans are underway for doing it again next summer.

Connie Rowland presented the devotion on "Humor In Our Lives" and closed the devotion with a prayer. President Jan Huebner called the business meeting to order. Roll call was taken, and minutes of the July meeting were read and approved. Marleen Mehlhau gave the treasurer's report.

A request by Jean Niefeldt to be removed from membership brought a motion from Norma Roland to honor the request. The motion was seconded by Dorothy Vollmer and passed.

After discussion by the group, it was decided to send our annual check for scholarships to Concordia Guild of Seward after the income from today's food and craft auction. The check should be close to $1600.

President Jan announced that the January 21st meeting would be at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 6 miles North of Falls City at 1:30 p.m. with St. Paul's members hosting.

Jan Kuhlmann and Sherry Rist were the auctioneers for the food and craft auction after which the group enjoyed pumpkin cake and beverages. Ruth Groothuis, Secretary

Peru State Golfers improve, but drop to eighth in final standings

In its final meet of the fall season, the Peru State golf team improved 19 strokes from their first-day performance. However, the Culver-Stockton (Mo.) team cut 59 strokes off of their Monday performance to drop the Bobcats to eighth place in the final standings of the 2018 Osage National Invite.

William Penn (Iowa) continued its dominance of the meet held in Lake Ozark, Mo., as they had the top two teams in the field of nine. The Statesmen had a two-day total of 641 to win the meet and their second team finished with a 719 to capture second. 9544 Sydney Neal hits one of her approaches on Tuesday

Grand View (Iowa) had a significant improvement of 25 strokes, but it was not enough to move them into second place as they settled for third place with a two-day total of 723.

The other placings included: fourth - Baker (Kan.) - 753, fifth - Seminole State (Okla.) CC - 787, sixth - Missouri Valley - 789, seventh - Culver-Stockton - 809, eighth - Peru State - 831, and ninth - Evangel - 845.

Taylor Finke (Battle Creek) was Peru State's top finisher as she came back with an 88 on Tuesday after shooting a 92 on Monday. Her two-day total of 180 placed her 12th overall.

Vivian Brown (Wichita, Kan.) cut four strokes off her first round to have a two-day total of 208 and finished in a tie for 29th. Emily Whipple (Lincoln) had a two-day total of 213 for finish 34th.

Lindsay Harlow (Dawson) cut 12 strokes off her Monday round to finish with a two-day score of 230 which was good enough for 40th overall.

Sydney Neal (Peru) managed to shoot 18 strokes better and finished with a two-day total of 254 while Alyssa Brink (Riverside, Iowa) cut the most strokes off her total of any of the Bobcats on the second day. Brink shaved 21 strokes off of her Monday score for a total of 293 and finished in 44th.

This was final meet of the fall season for the Bobcats. They will continue working during the off-season and will begin play most likely in March of 2019 once Coach Sue Owen completes their schedule.

Top to bottom: Delainey Kaster, eighth grade; Ava Armbruster, seventh grade; and Tate Wilcox, sixth grade

FCMS Students of the Month of September

The students of the month for September at the Falls City Middle School were: Delainey Kaster, eighth grade; Ava Armbruster, seventh grade; and Tate Wilcox, sixth grade. Each student received a T-shirt printed with the Student of the Month logo.

The shirts are compliments of Stripes and Signs. The Elks Club will sponsor a complimentary meal during Youth Week for all of this year's student of the month recipients and their parents.

To receive student of the month, students must first be nominated by one of their teachers. The criteria for nomination this year once again focuses on the 212 degree message. The teachers are continuously looking for the students that give the extra degree. This is a student that demonstrates extra effort by being an exemplary student. Someone who internalizes the truth that is "Not enough to be good when you have the ability to be BETTER!" Each month the teachers choose an individual from each grade that were identified as a 212 degree student and met the criteria.

This includes: turning work in on time, exemplary behavior everywhere, goes out of their way to help peers, good grades and/or improvement; always showing effort, active and/or involved in the community, leadership accomplishments: academic, athletic, or in the community, school attendance, positive attitude toward others, honest and trustworthy, cooperative and dependable, helpful to teachers, positive attitude toward school, and considerate of other people's feelings.

Teachers vote by private balloting. To win student of the month, one student must receive a majority of the votes. Those students who don't win are given honorable mention and are eligible in future months.

Tate is the sixth grade student of the month for September. He is the son of Michelle and Matt Wilcox. Tate is described as kind, polite, and respectful to his peers and teachers. He is a student manager for the high school football team and involved in other extracurriculars, yet stays on top of his academic responsibilities. Tate isn't afraid to lend a helping hand to someone in need and is a very reliable student. He participates in middle school band and chorus. Outside of school, Tate is active in football, wrestling, basketball, baseball, and soccer.

Ava is the seventh grade student of the month for September. She is the daughter of Sarah and Andy Armbruster. Ava is described as a model student that works extremely hard in the classroom. Always organized and has assignment completed on time! Ava has received recognition for honor roll, while she participates in band, chorus, show choir, cross country, basketball, track, and reading classics. Outside of school, Ava is active in her church youth group and has competed in the Middle School State Cross Country Meet.

Delainey is the eighth grade student of the month for September. She is the daughter of Elizabeth and Michael Kaster. Delainey is organized, comes to class prepared, responsible in completing her assignments, and is respectful to her peers and adults. Delainey is a regular on the honor roll. She also participates in band and chorus. Outside of school, Delainey is active in the church youth group, plays summer softball, and the Girls Scouts.

The students who received honorable mention for September: Hailey Judd, Hannah Collier, Bryson Butrick, Everett McCullough, Makinley Scholl, Gabby Foster, Lucas Schuetz, Danyelle Kuker, Wyatt Olberding, Ashleigh Kirkendall, Kalyin Wiemers, Olivia Frederick, Gunner Lippold, Estela Torraiba-Lopez, Trinity Pierce, and Sierrah Vermeer.

Richardson County Jail inmate charged with possession of meth

Josh Carpenter, 33, of Falls City was charged with possession of methamphetamine while being detained in the Richardson County Jail.

According to an affidavit, Sheriff's deputies found white powder on a table in Carpenter's cell and a tube containing a substance. Further testing revealed the presence of meth.

Carpenter was arrested in August and charged with felony counts of possession of a deadly weapon by a prohibited person, possession of a deadly weapon while committing a felony and felony count of possession of methamphetamine with intent to manufacture, distribute or deliver. Carpenter is due back in District Court on these charges in November.

Overland auto dealership, probably near Friend, Nebraska, 1912. History Nebraska

Senator George Norris's snarky letter to an auto dealer

George W. Norris of McCook (1861-1944) is remembered as one of the most influential US senators in American history, a dignified, idealistic leader that President Franklin Roosevelt once called "the very perfect, gentle knight of American progressive ideals."

But this "perfect, gentle knight" could lay down some biting sarcasm when he felt he'd been sold a lemon. Sometime in the mid-1910s, Norris bought an Overland automobile, a popular brand in those days.

On November 25, 1919, he wrote to the Harper Overland Company of Washington, D.C.: "Gentlemen: I have been very much interested in the extensive advertising campaign that you have been making of your new Overland Four, and I desire to suggest to you that in connection with this car which your advertising says has made such a record, that you advertise the car you sold me three or four years ago. . . ."

"It has run about three thousand miles. It has hardly been off of the pavement—but you would not need to say all this in the advertisement. You might say it has made its record over some rough roads, without saying anything about the fact that it has not been taken out of the District with one or two exceptions. The facts are, I have always been afraid to take it very far from home for fear I could not get back with it. A careful estimate of the expense I have been to for repairs, will show that it has cost just about a dollar a mile. The mileage of course, is small for the length of time I have had it, but this is explained by the fact that it has been in the repair shop most of the time.

"In fact, I have had it nearly all rebuilt. It is a better car now than it was when I bought it, because while you represented to me that it had only run one hundred and seventy miles when I bought it, it would be easy to demonstrate that it had run a great many more than that and was practically worn out when you sold it to me for a new car but now, since it is rebuilt, I have hopes that it will eventually be of some service to me.

"In a condensed way we could put all this on a bulletin board and hang it on the car, and put my car right by the side of the one you are now advertising in your show rooms. The facts are, my car looks better than the one you have there. It is a fine looker. It has never been used enough to wear off the gloss.

"At the present time, it is not running. In a moment of enthusiasm, I induced my neighbor to come over this morning and help push it down the hill, with the hope that it would start by the time we got to the bottom. In this we failed, and it is standing now at the foot of the hill, so if you exhibited it you would have to go to the expense of getting a truck to haul it to your place of business. I will be glad to cooperate with you in any advertising plan that you may suggest in regard to my car, providing you confine yourselves within reasonable limits, to the truth. Very truly yours, G. W. Norris."

Little Free Pantry, take what you need – leave what you can goes to local individuals in need. Project leader Jessica Santo fell in love with The Little Free Pantry movement the moment she stumbled upon it on Instagram.

"I knew it would be perfect for Falls City. I wanted to help bring our community together and help our neighbors who may need a little boost. From soup to diapers, it will be there if someone needs it. It's a small thing we can do to make a big impact. Food insecurity is a major problem not only in our country but in our small community here in Falls City. If I can educate a group of girls, who can help solve that problem, then that's what I'm going to do," notes Jessica.

Jessica Santo Photography's ROLEmodels: Elizabeth Keithley, Ahren Ebel, Erin Brewer, Emily Crouse, Rande Witt, Emma Gibson and Ciarra Catlin helped with their fundraising efforts to buy the building materials. Other community members who had a hand in helping bring this to life are Josh Rhodd with Top Quality Construction who built and installed the pantry and Stripes and Signs who made the window decal and Father Cole Kennett who blessed the pantry at its grand opening on Sunday October 14.

If you'd like to help out, you can donate directly to the Little Free Pantry by placing your items inside or by making a monetary donation at F&M Bank for restocking and maintaining the pantry. Current items needed include diapers of any size, baby food, gloves, stocking hats and boxed dinners such as tuna helper or mac and cheese.

By working together as a community we can make sure it's taken care of and stocked the best we can. We know there will be days where it will be empty and that's okay. As long as we are doing our part to make a difference then that's all that matters.

Deadline to apply for conservation funds approaching

Farmers and ranchers interested in preventing erosion, improving soil health, conserving water and wildlife, or making any other natural resource conservation improvements to their property are encouraged to apply now for funding available from the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service. Those interested in receiving funding should sign up before Nov. 16, 2018.

According to Craig Derickson, state conservationist for NRCS in Nebraska, there are several options available to producers.

"NRCS has a whole suite of conservation programs available to farmers and ranchers looking for assistance in improving and protecting the natural resources on their ag land. These programs provide funding on cropland and rangeland, as well as for animal feeding operations and establishing or enhancing wildlife habitat and wetlands. NRCS staff can help landowners and operators identify their options," Derickson said. One of the most widely applied conservation programs in Nebraska is the Environmental Quality Incentives Program. Through this program, conservation practices were installed on over 400,000 acres in Nebraska during 2018 with over 900,000 acres currently under contract statewide.

The goal of EQIP is to provide a financial incentive to encourage landowners to install conservation practices that protect natural resources, resulting in cleaner air and water, healthy soil and more wildlife habitat.

Individuals interested in entering into an EQIP agreement may apply at any time, but the ranking of applications on hand to receive funding will begin Nov. 16, 2018. The first step is to visit your local NRCS field office and complete an application.

For more information about the Environmental Quality Incentives Program and other conservation programs, visit your local NRCS field office or www.ne.nrcs.usda.gov.

Fighters keep fighting: Verdigris coach makes final 15 of U.S. Cellular Most Valuable Coach contest

Reprinted with approval from writer By Rick Heaton of The Claremore Daily Progress

The big day had arrived. Verdigris assistant softball coach Mark Meyer was nervous for what was about to come. He was going to be center stage for a presentation in front of the student body, fellow coaches and a camera crew for the U.S. Cellular Most Valuable Coach contest.

Meyer, who helped lead the Lady Cardinals to their best record in school history (34-2) and a trip to the state semifinals, has been battling Stage 4 cancer since his diagnosis in 2012. A former Tulsa firefighter, Meyer started the Hydrants of Hope and has raised more than $120,000 for children fighting cancer.

Thanks to voting from Verdigris and the surrounding area, Meyer was announced as one of the final 15 to make the second round of the contest. Thousands of coaches were nominated for their impact they have on their players, their school and their community. For reaching the final 15, Meyer was presented a check for $5,000 to go toward Verdigris schools.

Wednesday was his day. As the junior high gymnasium was beginning to fill up, Meyer was obviously feeling the pressure. The tall, extra-thin coach was about to step into the spotlight.

"I get kind of nervous getting in everyone's eyesight," he said. "This isn't me. I'm not used to this at all." But Meyer fought through his nerves. Nearly the entire Verdigris community showed up for his big day. They voted for him because they care.

"It's quite an honor," Meyer said of making the top 15 in voting. "It's a blessing to have so many great friends and family that support you. They are the ones that put me in this position. You surround yourself with good people, good things happen. I wouldn't be here without them."

Fellow coaches, family and players spoke about how respected Meyer is. He used to fight fires. And now, he fights a different battle and will continue to fight. He has been everywhere seeing different doctors, trying new procedures. He's not giving up.

"I've never seen the finish line," Meyer said. "It's like running a race with no finish line in sight. So you keep on running."

It all began with a routine physical as a fireman. In December of 2012, doctors removed a 32.3 pound tumor from his abdomen, but it had moved to his lungs. He was already in Stage 4.

He went to Germany twice to have lesions lasered from his lungs. It helped, but they couldn't get it all. In 2014, he went to Texas for a freezing process. Once again, they couldn't get it all.

"Chemotherapy is where I've been since then," Meyer said. "That's why my head shines like it does."

When the large tumor was first discovered, doctors tried to shrink it for six months, but it didn't work. Things looked grim.

"They sent me home with a wait-and-see process," Meyer said. "I found out later they didn't think I'd make it through the year. The doctor in New York that removed the big tumor, I asked him what's my chances of making it through this. He said 50-50, but zero if I didn't have it done. There was less than an inch of space (in the lungs) where everything was functioning.

When the tumor grows again, it will shut off everything." Still, the firefighter kept fighting. Surviving the shock of diagnosis and the surgery was over. Now, he had to survive the treatment.

"The first round of chemo, they put me through three or four harsh chemo drugs," he said. "I was on it for a total of a week. It was a five-hour treatment and I would go back to the hotel hooked up with a backpack that was pumping into me 24 hours a day for that total week."

And the effects were difficult to take. "They encourage you to eat, but everything tasted metallic," Meyer said. "It was like it had been soaked and marinated in pennies. It was just nasty. I could eat hot and spicy Mexican food, but then you'd have to drink and you'd get the metallic taste again. The quality of life was not good at that point."

But the firefighter kept fighting. And things got better. He joined the coaching staff of the Verdigris softball team, which gave him a purpose. He started his charity and helps children with cancer through Hydrants of Hope. And he got some good news recently.

"The last scan, the tumors were stable with the exception of a few that were shrinking," Meyer said. "So stable is always good and shrinking is always better."

For those wondering, Meyer made it through his big day like a rock star. The Verdigris cheerleaders and band got the crowd pumped up, the student body did the roller coaster for the U.S. Cellular cameras, and Meyer gave a speech to remember. In front of his softball girls, he spoke of never giving up and what being their coach meant to him.

"I believe in the doctors I've had," he said. "I've always had a positive outlook. Mentally, that helps you as much as anything. That and prayer. I am lucky to have so many people pray for me during this process."

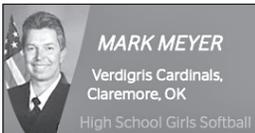

Meyer could have sat in a hospital bed and waited for nature to take its course. But that's not him. He doesn't watch things burn. He puts out fires. Even the ones trying to burn inside his own body.

He keeps coaching. Even in the severe heat. Even when he doesn't feel like it. Because he's a fighter.

"It's for the love of the game," he said. "And for these kids getting better. They keep me going. It's good to keep moving and do all you can do."

Mark Meyer is the son of Dennis Meyer of Falls City, and Sharon Meyer of Claremore, Oklahoma.

SENCA Weatherization providing energy saving solutions for qualifying households

In a nationwide effort to create more awareness of local programs such as SENCA Weatherization and the energy saving benefits provided to qualifying households, October 30th was recognized as National Weatherization Day.

As the beautiful leaves of autumn tumble down and we flip the calendar to November we start to realize that all too soon the north winds will begin to blow bringing with it the reality that winter is almost here! Some of us may think of winter as a time to indulge in comfort food while spending cold, windy nights all snug and warm in our homes. Unfortunately there are many economically challenged households who fear they won't be able to pay the higher utility costs associated with the long, cold winter months that lie ahead. There are also homes with elderly individuals, small children or those experiencing health issues who are concerned that their old, worn-out furnace won't last another season in a home that is already poorly insulated and drafty. This can create additional stress for households who are already struggling to meet basic needs.

Thankfully Southeast Nebraska Community Action Partnership, Inc. (SENCA) provides a Weatherization program to qualifying residents throughout the seven (seven) county service area of: Cass, Johnson, Nemaha, Otoe, Pawnee, Richardson, and Sarpy. Weatherization enables low-income families, whether owning their own home or renting, to reduce their energy bills by making their homes more energy efficient. After receiving Weatherization services the average home experiences an average of 18.7 percent reduction in heating costs. Additional savings are achieved in cooling costs.

This conservation of energy reduces Nebraska's dependence on imported energy and is a major contribution to the self-sufficiency of low-income persons allowing them to stretch their available income.

To receive free weatherization services the combined household income must fall below 200 percent of the federal poverty level, which is revised annually. In 2018 a family of four could make up to $50,200 and qualify for weatherization services. Households with persons receiving either ADC (Aid to Dependent Children) or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) are automatically eligible for free weatherization assistance services.

If a household meets the income requirements and are approved for weatherization services, the home will be evaluated to identify the most effective energy and dollar saving improvements which can be made. Possible improvements may include: insulation to the attic, walls, and/or floors; replacement of broken glass in primary windows; installation or adjustment of door weather-stripping, thresholds, and/or door sweeps; in addition to an efficiency inspection on natural gas, propane and fuel oil furnaces, boilers and hot water heaters that may include repair and/or replacement.

After weatherization improvements are completed households should notice an increase in comfort, reduced drafts, more even temperatures throughout the home, and a reduction in heating and cooling costs.

To learn more about Weatherization services, or to see if you qualify for assistance, please contact Gin Christiansen, SENCA Housing Director at 402-862-2411, extension 104 or visit www.senca.org and click on Weatherization under the Community Economic Development tab.

MEET THE MAYORAL CANDIDATES

SHAWNA BINDLE

What do you feel are the top three issues that Falls City faces, and how will you address those issues?

- 1) Declining population. I'll talk with people in the younger generation, and ask what they are looking for and what we don't have. I'll also talk to those who have come here to raise their families, and ask about the things that attracted them.
- 2) Drugs and crime. Drug dealers are reaching our kids at much younger ages, so we have to do so, as well. Also, the organization TBOC (Taking Back Our Community) has a lot of leadership and good ideas, so working with them is important.
- 3) Support for police, fire, and EMS services. They are the backbone of our community, so we need to give them the tools they need to be successful. Also, I would hold meetings with the county commissioners to see how we could solve continuous conflicts between the police department and the sheriff's office.

What about dilapidated properties?

We need to enforce city codes that are already in place, and possibly make the fines higher. If there are grants that help communities demolish dilapidated buildings, we need to apply.

How do you address concerns from some people that a woman is not strong enough to stand up to the strong personalities in this city when contentious issues are involved?

EMS is pretty much a man's world, and I've worked hard to earn the respect and support of my colleagues. I make life-and-death decisions every day, so anything less than that will be easier than what I do every day.

What are the three things in your history or character that make you qualified to lead this city?

- 1) I've raised two kids here so I know the battles and joys of raising kids in a small town.
- 2) I am a good listener. I not only listen, I care.
- 3) I am empathetic. I will consider the other person's point of view before making a decision.

What is your top budgetary concern?

I would have to talk to the different departments before giving an answer to that question

If you were giving a speech to a group of people looking for a place to open a business, what would your selling points be for Falls City?

- 1) This community supports its own.

Families are willing to spend money here.

- 2) Our recent improvements like the library, swimming pool, ball fields, and hospital.
- 3) Even though we do have drug and crime issues here, just like every community, I have never felt that my kids were unsafe here. So I would highlight the safety.

What do you think the mayor's role is in economic development?

To make sure that those who work in that field have the tools they need to do their jobs.

How do you answer critics who say it will be difficult to fulfill the mayoral responsibilities when you work out of town?

My hours are very flexible, and the only time I am required to be out of town is during the 24 hours that I am on call with the ambulance crew. I am the second in command at my job, and I do all of the scheduling, so if I have notice of an event or meeting, I'll be there.

Do you believe in county-wide law enforcement?

I do. Any time we can pool our resources is a good thing. I believe in county-wide dispatch as well, and would work with the county to solve the issues that recently surfaced regarding 911 dispatch. We have some of the best dispatchers in the business here. Why not use them?

Why do you want this position?

I love Falls City and want to see it continue to grow. Like any community, we have some dark clouds, but we just need to sort through them so the good can shine.

Carla Rhodd

What do you feel are the top three issues that Falls City faces, and how will you address those issues?

- 1) Public safety. The drug and criminal activity in our area is an issue. I'll make sure the city and police department are doing everything they can to make sure our community is safe.
- 2) Business/resident recruitment. I will encourage a pro-business climate along with promoting the great qualities of our community.
- 3) Community involvement. I will encourage people of all ages to get involved with community organizations as well as our city boards, fire department and ambulance squad.

What about dilapidated properties?

I think allowing the city to continue to assist with property demolition each year will improve this issue. Cleaning up those properties will improve safety and also create lots for new construction.

How do you address concerns from some people that a woman is not strong enough to stand up to the strong personalities in this city when contentious issues are involved?

I am just as strong as those individuals. I will stand up for what I think is right for the community. I've worked with many individuals with strong personalities and I know that I will stand up for what I believe in.

What are the three things in your history or character that make you qualified to lead this city?

- 1) My determination. When I set my sights on something, I work hard to get it and I'm not afraid to take risks.
- 2) My communication skills. I'll listen to people and be present in our community.

- 3) My past experience with EDGE and the chamber. I feel like those experiences helped me transform as a business person.

What is your top budgetary concern?

The 911 system, and the county's decision to discontinue its dispatch agreement with the city. The equipment and dispatch services are costly, so I would work to find out what we can do to solve the issue.

If you were giving a speech to a group of people looking for a place to open a business, what would your selling points be for Falls City?

- 1) Our quality of life. Falls City is a great place to work, live and raise a family. We have safe and friendly neighborhoods, great school systems, an excellent hospital, and many other great assets. Falls City is also a supportive community that welcomes new residents and businesses with open arms.

- 2) Our low cost of living. Falls City's low cost of living allows business owners to save and invest money into their businesses.
- 3) Our location. Falls City is in a great location for our businesses to serve patrons from the tri-state area of Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas.

Do you believe in county-wide law enforcement?

I need to know the pros and cons of combining the police and sheriff's departments before I could make a decision on whether or not it's a good idea for our community.

What do you believe is the mayor's role in economic development?

I believe the mayor and city need to continue to work alongside EDGE and support their efforts by encouraging a pro-business climate to enhance our future growth.

How do you answer critics who say it will be difficult to fulfill the mayoral responsibilities when you have two small children at home?

I spoke with members of the city council, our current mayor and other individuals to discuss mayoral responsibilities and I am confident that I will do a good job. I will have to multi-task, and as a working mother, I do that on a daily basis and things get done.

Why do you want this position?

Falls City is a great community to be a part of and the investments this town has made over the years are amazing. I want to be part of that continuing success.

Mark Harkendorff

What do you feel are the top three issues that Falls City faces, and how will you address those issues?

- 1) Funding the fire department. We need a full-time driver again, and we need a lot of new equipment.
- 2) I would have two council members in charge of every committee, like the tree board, library board, etc. And every board member would live in the city limits.
- 3) Fairness in the bidding process for city jobs and projects. When bids are let for jobs, we need to pick the local contractor whenever possible.

What about dilapidated properties?

For dilapidated properties, we need to enforce city ordinances. I would condemn every property that qualifies, then make sure that the bidding process for demolition is fair across the board.

Regarding drugs, I've lived that nightmare with a family member, so if I'm elected, I will do everything within the law to handle the dealers. Secondly, this community has to be more involved. If you see something suspicious, call the police. If there's a house next to you with a revolving door, call the police. Write down license plate numbers and turn them in. Put pressure on the judges by showing up in court. And don't give up.

How do you address concerns from some people that you won't fulfill the traditional responsibilities of this position, like attending banquets and ribbon-cuttings?

I believe it's more important for me to fight drug dealers and crime, and make sure our city government is running above board, than it is for me to have my picture taken at a ribbon cutting. Don't get me wrong, I'll be at events when I can be, but I won't ever be there in a suit and tie.

What do you feel is the mayor's role in economic development?

Oversight. I would want a report every month rather than quarterly. And secondly, if we're going to shop Falls City, then let's shop Falls City with everything, including bids for city jobs.

What are the three things in your history or character that make you qualified to lead this city?

- 1) I have the life experience. I've owned a business for 40 years, served on the city council, and served my country.
- 2) I'm old-school conservative. This is a small town, so I believe it should be governed that way, not treated like we're Lincoln or Omaha.

3) Honesty and fairness. I'll make sure that city business is conducted above board, and that everyone has a fair shot.

What is your top budgetary concern?

Funding for the fire department. We need at least one full-time fireman, and money for equipment. Some of the firemen told me that their yearly fuel budget is $500, and the fire at the Mexican place took that. Come on. Seriously?

If you were giving a speech to a group of people looking for a place to open a business, what would your selling points be for Falls City?

- 1) We're a small, safe community. We just need to govern it that way.
- 2) I believe we have a sinking fund to invest in small businesses.
- 3) Actually, the city itself needs to be friendlier to new businesses. For example, we need to stop charging huge sums of money for them to hook up to utilities. Yes, we have to charge something, but new businesses are investing a lot of money here, so let's do everything we can to make it easier on them.

Do you believe in county-wide law enforcement?

I don't know enough about it to answer that, but I will research it a lot before making a decision.

Why do you want this position?

I just felt like too many people didn't like the choices they had. We need a strong mayor who won't back down, and one who has experience.

TOSSING THE FOOTBALL

October 27, 1956

Blazing trees and golden sun shafts and here and there a forward pass—autumn in our land Poets bicker about the seasons; one claims that "in June, if ever, come perfect days," another says June is O.K., but "ye cannot rival...October's bright blue weather." Sometimes ye also cannot rival October's dull black weather. Anyhow, what is so rare as a maple tree in gridiron season. John Falter has painted the bottom one third of a century-old maple in Atchison, Kansas, which is widely famous for it's towering, symmetrical loveliness. Mr. J.H. Mullins owns this beauty, and every day he gets out a hose and affectionately waters the roots of his old friend. If Falter had painted the whole tree, the Post would be three feet tall this week, and we just can't have that sort of thing.
