An estimated 150 persons were on hand for the Grand Opening and Ribbon-cutting ceremony Thurs., Sept. 26, at the recently completed new Southeast Community College – Falls City Learning Center, 3200 Bill Schock Blvd., Falls City. Falls City Mayor Shawna Bindle and SCC President, Dr. Paul Illich snipped the ribbon following brief remarks at the entrance to the Center by Dr. Illich, Mayor Bindle, SCC Board Member Kathy Boellstorff, and Center Education Coordinator Holly Carr. Those in attendance were served hors d'oeuvres and provided guided tours of the building.

The building includes a large shop area with nine welding booths and room to move equipment into and out of it for the training of individuals seeking skills required in modern manufacturing, one large classroom, three smaller classrooms, and two rooms equipped with hospital beds and an adjacent restroom and shower area. Nurses training and other classes previously held at 116 W. 19th Street have been moved to the new building. A complete class schedule may be obtained from Ms. Carr and her Administrative Assistant Thomas Steinhauser, General contractor for the Center was AHR Construction, Bern, KS.

The Tri-State Labor Basin Committee of Falls City Economic Development & Growth Enterprise (EDGE) studied the workforce training required to prepare workers for jobs in the local area, testified at long-range planning sessions sponsored by SCC, and obtained resolutions of support from the Richardson County Board of Supervisors, City Councils of Falls City and Humboldt, and the Falls City and HTRS public schools, and letters of support from the general public for a Learning Center in this area. EDGE Executive Director Beckie Cromer, former Mayor Jerry Oliver, Charlie Radatz made several trips to Lincoln to meet with Dr. Illich, the SCC Board of Governors. Support was received from local SCC board members Kathy Boellstorff, Johnson, NE, and Don Reiman, Virginia, NE.

Before the ribbon-cutting, the Journal obtained an interview with Dr. Illich, who explained the process SCC followed in deciding to locate six Learning Centers in outlying areas of the 15 county district.

Dr. Illich: "We're very excited about this facility. It all started back in 2015 when we launched a five year Strategic Plan. One of the things we did as part of that plan was to go around to all the 15 counties (in the SCC district), and we listened to the communities as to what the employer needs were and what the student's needs were. We heard the same thing over and over. SCC needed to establish a presence in these areas to give everyone affordable access to higher education and to help provide training for their local employers. This Learning Center is the first of the centers to be housed in a newly constructed facility. At all the other Centers we are renting space in existing buildings. We now have six Learning Centers that are fully operational. We are very excited about this facility in Falls City. We think it is going to give us an incredible opportunity to partner with the various communities and to give students the kind of access to education they have never had before.

Each Center has an Advisory Committee, and the director of the Learning Center works directly with that Advisory Committee to

Nebraska's great outdoors

By Governor Pete Ricketts

Like many Nebraskans, I enjoy hunting and fishing, and these activities have instilled in me an enduring love for the outdoors. There's no better way to take in the beauty of Nebraska, whether it's on a turkey hunt in the Pine Ridge or spending a quiet evening fishing at a community pond. Hunting and fishing are relaxing ways to unplug from the work week, enjoy the outdoors, and spend time with friends and family. While hunting and fishing, I have met Nebraskans from throughout the state, all bound together by appreciation of our state's natural resources.

This month, on September 28th, Nebraska will join the nation in celebrating National Hunting and Fishing Day. This is an important day across the United States, but it has special significance in Nebraska.

Hunting and fishing are important elements of our rich outdoor heritage. Families have hunted and fished together for generations. For numerous Nebraskans, hunting and fishing remain ways to put food on the table, while creating treasured memories in the process.

Outdoorsmen and women are drawn to our state because of its plentiful wildlife, picturesque open spaces, and well-kept parks. We have mule deer and whitetails, along with such an abundance of upland game that Nebraska has been called the mixed-bag capital of the Great Plains. We have turkeys in every county of the state and the popular Merriam's bird in the Pine Ridge. The thriving turkey population in Nebraska has led to our state being known as the best turkey hunting destination in the country. Our lakes have outstanding stocks of fish: walleye in Lake McConaughy, Harlan Reservoir, and the Sandhills lakes; trout in the cool-water streams in the north; channel catfish at Branched Oak; and muskies at Merritt Reservoir. These opportunities draw hunters and anglers annually from every single state in the nation.

Hunting and fishing are a significant economic force in our state. Each year, they contribute more than $1 billion to our state's economy, or about one percent of our state's economic output. Hunters and anglers from all across Nebraska, and throughout the nation, travel throughout our beautiful state in pursuit of a wide variety of game, fish, and outdoor recreation opportunities. They purchase fuel, enjoy meals, hire guides, stay at hotels and motels, and shop at other local businesses.

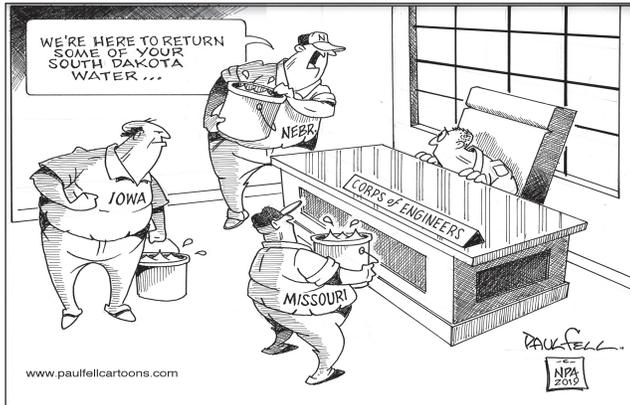

Proceeds from the purchases of hunting and fishing permits and stamps in our state are reinvested in growing the population of wildlife in Nebraska. Hunting and fishing permit and stamp sales are used to research game species in our state. The funds also go to conserve and restore habitat for these species, which in turn benefits songbirds, pollinators, and many other plant and wildlife species as well.

Nebraska's traditional commitment to hunting and fishing flows from our agricultural heritage. To a large extent, Nebraska's generous landowners are responsible for our state's desirability as a destination for sportsmen and women. Hundreds of landowners across the state have opened more than 325,000 acres of their own property to walk-in access for hunting, fishing, and trapping through the Open Fields and Waters program. Many other landowners and ag producers have implemented programs on their land to improve habitat for wildlife. Still others open their land to family, friends, friends-of-friends, and to strangers who knock on their doors each year when deer or turkey season rolls around. If you're invited to hunt on private land, make sure you thank the landowner who hosted you.

I'm doing my best to pass the tradition down to my son, Roscoe. We've hunted turkey and pheasants together, and we've enjoyed seeing our state's natural beauty on these trips. For his part, Roscoe has introduced his friends to fishing. Inviting family and friends on a hunting or fishing expedition is the best way to pass on these treasured Nebraska traditions to future generations. You should also check out the Youth Lifetime Half Price Permit Program through Nebraska Game and Parks at <http://outdoornebraska.gov/ylp>. Over the years, generous donors have supported 6,400 lifetime hunting and fishing permits for young Nebraskans.

This fall, the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission has developed a program to thank hunters who take the time to introduce hunting to a new or novice hunter. The Take 'Em Hunting program encourages hunters to introduce—or reintroduce—someone to hunting, take a photo of their experience, and upload that photo to the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission website (www.OutdoorNebraska.org/TakeEmHunting). Anyone who submits a photo will be entered to win grand prizes, including the grand prize, a cameo John Deere crossover utility vehicle from Plains Equipment Group.

There has never been a better time to pass down the tradition of hunting or fishing and to celebrate the benefits of these time-honored activities. If you'd like to share your favorite hunting or fishing tradition, I invite you to email pete.ricketts@nebraska.gov or call 402-471-2244. I hope to see you on the lake or in the field this fall!

LET'S ENCOURAGE THE CORPS OF ENGINEERS TO "MANAGE" THE MIGHTY MO

Capitol View
Nebraska Press Association
By: J.J. Schmidt

Driving along the Missouri River on either the Nebraska side or through Iowa, Missouri and Kansas leaves one feeling like a frog on a lily pad. There's water everywhere, mostly in places where it shouldn't be.

Some roads that were closed since the March 'Weathermageddon' have been re-opened, more than once. Many of those are being closed again as the area prepares for another flood, at any minute.

Meanwhile, Nebraska Governor Ricketts and the governors of adjacent states are calling on the Corps of Engineers to make a new game plan concerning management of water in that River.

It might not seem like much in the greater scheme of things, but managing the release of water from Gavins Point Dam might be the only thing man can control. Part of that management includes the strengthening of vital levees along the river and making them taller when possible.

The governors started meeting with the Corp in April and have met several times since. Ricketts said recently the group is determined to push the Corps to "change the way we're managing the river" following this year's devastating flooding. In case you missed it, there have been at least a couple 500-year floods in recent years that make the case for managing the river differently.

It boils down to convincing the Corps to reconsider how to protect people and property downstream from Gavins Point Dam. Ricketts says Gavins Point, on the Missouri River in the Dakotas, is the last one to release the river water that pours downstream.

In March, snow, rain, ice and a raging river caused more than a billion dollars damage to Nebraska farmland. Bridges, roads and dams were broken and, in some cases, disappeared. Cattle and other livestock floated down rivers. Some areas were isolated when major roads were damaged or submerged. Some communities lost more than 50 percent of their inhabitable building stock.

It doesn't take a lot to believe that more violent and unusual weather is in the cards. Heavy rain and hail has pelted large portions of the Panhandle and Central Nebraska almost all summer. Eastern Nebraska rainfall amounts have been running above average. In early July, heavy rains flooded areas from Lexington to Wood River and caused millions in property damage. Kearney lost more than half of its available hotel rooms and the recovery there continues.

Iowa Governor Kim Reynolds has touted looking at the need from a regional perspective and in terms of the short- and long-term response. Ricketts said the collaboration of governors demonstrates the importance of the issue.

Missouri Gov. Mike Parson has said he wants to see some straight-up answers from the Corps with a number of options on the table. Parson suggested the inclusion of an outside agency in addition to the corps to help oversee Missouri River management.

"We want a seat at the table to make sure, moving forward, (we're involved in) how those issues are addressed," he said.

Ricketts said the four states are committed to working with the corps to examine basin and levee management practices going forward. He said the group is also looking at recommendations that, in the past, perhaps didn't have enough "political will" behind them to succeed.

He said the Corps has been receptive to the states' request to be more involved. One would think the Corps would appreciate a unified voice from the people who have been hardest hit. Perhaps those higher up the food chain will be supportive of the four-state's pleas and cooperative spirit.

Kudos to Ricketts for giving teeth to the "Nebraska Strong" flood recovery motto.

determine precisely what that particular community needs. There are representatives of various employers on that Committee. We reach out to them on a regular basis to find out specifically what they need. We are offering a lot on noncredit courses as well as credit courses," According to Dr. Illich

The other thing about having a physical presence out in Falls City and the surrounding communities is that now somebody can come to the Learning Center to find out not just what is going on here, but also what's going on at our Lincoln, Milford, and Beatrice campuses. They might wind up going to Milford, for example, but they have a way to be advised, learn about various careers, and what type of money they might make. So it is an incredible opportunity to have a physical presence, so everyone can be aware of what services we offer not just here but at other campuses and Learning Centers as well.

One of the very exciting things that is happening is that we are using very advanced system technology that allows us to broadcast from some of our other campuses directly into this Learning Center. For example, we are building an 82,000 square foot Health Sciences building on our Lincoln campus that will be completed in 2020. It will have technology that will allow us to take classes from there and push them right into the Learning Center so that a student doesn't have to drive to Lincoln to get that high-quality learning experience."

"I would tell a young person just graduating from high school to go to the Learning Center, find out what is going on at SCC. We have incredible programs, over 60 technical programs that are very, very affordable. The cost is much, much less than that of the typical four-year college. We also offer the foundation for either a career or the foundation for further education at a four-year institution. I would tell them to first look at SCC, especially now that we are right here in their community," said Dr. Illich.

Cover crops- a tool you can use on your farm

The last few years there has been a major focus on cover crops here in southeast Nebraska as well as other parts of Nebraska. Cover crops have been used for a number of years particularly in organic cropping systems. They have been a source of nitrogen, organic matter and other nutrients when incorporated as green manures in these systems. Cover crops have also been planted as forage crops for livestock for grazing or hay for many years. In recent years there has been increased interest in the use of cover crops in conventional cropping systems. The USDA NRCS (Natural Resource Conservation Service) has promoted cover crops and provided cost-share programs for farmers to encourage their use to help improve soil health and reduce erosion and degradation of soils.

With crops just starting to come out and the recent rains last weekend, cover crops can be drilled in to provide much needed erosion control on highly erodible land. Many areas of southeast Nebraska received some torrential rains this year, and there has been extreme erosion in many areas. Check with your local NRCS about programs on the use of cover crops to control ephemeral erosion. Some producers have used cereal rye, wheat or triticale with success in controlling erosion. On highly erodible soil, a cover crop of rye following soybeans can be very beneficial, it is generally the most winter hardy of the cereal crops. Cover crops may be used as an annual waterway that can hold the soil and prevent ephemeral erosion. Cover crops can also have the potential to provide other benefits as well; i.e. improve water infiltration, scavenge nutrients, weed suppression and forage for livestock.

If you need forage for grazing in late winter or early spring, either rye or triticale provides excellent forage for cows or yearlings. Either of these forages planted in corn stalks also provides excellent forage for grazing along with the corn stalks, and generally can be utilized longer in the spring for grazing if the field is going back into soybeans. These forages can provide excellent quality forage, lower hay and pasture requirements, and reduce soil erosion from springtime thunderstorms. A number of farmers in southeast Nebraska are making excellent use if cereal rye as a forage for their cowherds and also seeing some of the other benefits.

In research conducted in Illinois, rye has shown to be beneficial in suppressing some weeds (Marestail and Glyphosate-resistant Marestail) and also disease pests, i.e. SCN (Soybean Cyst Nematode), SDS (Sudden Death Syndrome) and other foliar diseases in soybeans. Research in Northeast United States shows that rye has an allelopathic (weed suppressing) effect on pigweeds, lambsquarters and crabgrass. Recent research at Kansas State University showed cereal rye was effective in suppressing growth of Palmer Amaranth, one of the most invasive weeds in the United States that has recently made its presence in southeast Nebraska. Research indicates cereal crops, such as wheat and rye can delay emergence up to 3-4 weeks and slow down growth of Palmer Amaranth compared to no cover crop. Farmers in Nebraska have also seen the benefits of cereal rye suppressing Marestail. A significant amount of research is currently being conducted in Nebraska to evaluate the impact of cover crops in cropping systems, although many farmers have been utilizing cover crops in no-till cropping systems for several years and also as forages for grazing. Research is indicating benefits of growing a cover crop by adding carbon and building soil structure, especially under no-till environments. If winter hardy cover crops like rye or triticale are planted, they are usually chemically killed prior to planting in the spring, although under intensive management some producers are planting green into the rye with success. If using a cover crop, be sure to check with your crop insurance agent on the rules for cover crop termination in crops. You can also go to: <https://cropwatch.unl.edu/farmresearch/resultshome> and find a number of on-farm research experiments that have been conducted across Nebraska with cover crops the past few years. Tiger softball drops a pair

The Falls City softball team had a slow week by their standards, playing just two games. The two games though were against top-10 ranked opponents in Class C. The week began on Tuesday for the Tigers when they hosted number one ranked Fairbury.

The Tigers struggled all game to get any offense going, getting just one base hit and one walk. The Tiger batters struck out seven times at the plate and committed five errors in the field. The Jeffs scored runs in all four innings as they cruised to the 14-0 win.

Cross Country teams continue to excel

Story and photos by Brian McKim

On a beautiful, fall Thursday afternoon, the Falls City Tiger cross country teams competed in Nebraska City at Wildwood

Golf Course. The Tiger girls finished the day with three medalists, while the boys continued to improve, placing four runners in the top 12.

The Tiger girls finished with 33 points and a third-place finish while Auburn took home the team title with 21 points. The Lady Tigers tied for second but lost on a tiebreaker to Nebraska City. The boys held off Nebraska City to take the team championship with 26 points. Nebraska City was close behind with 28 points, and Auburn was third with 41.

to the 14-0 win.

Kacy Brewer had the lone hit for Falls City, a two-out single to centerfield in the first inning. FC never really threatened in the home loss on Tuesday night. The Tigers were out-hit 13-1, as Fairbury clubbed a pair of home runs, one being a grand slam.

On Thursday night, FC hit the road to face eighth-ranked Freeman. Things didn't go a whole lot better for Falls City as they trailed 1-0 after one inning and 4-0 after three. Freeman went on to score four more runs in the sixth inning to secure the 8-0 win over the Tigers.

The Tigers cleaned it up a bit on defense, committing just one error; however, they were out-hit 11-2 in the road loss. The Tigers threatened in the second as Maggie McNeely drew a walk and Josey Hollens reached on a two-out single, but a strikeout ended any threat of scoring for the Tigers.

Falls City had one more chance to break into the scoring column in the sixth. With two outs, Hannah Clary drove a 1-1 pitch to centerfield for a triple. However, a flyout ended the inning, leaving the runner stranded at third base.

Clary's triple and Hollens' single were the only hits of the game for the Tigers, while McNeely drew the lone walk. FC batters struck out nine times in the contest.

With the pair of losses, Falls City falls to .500 for the season with an 11-11 mark heading into the final stretch.

Falls City will be at Syracuse on Thursday, October 3 and then will be in Wahoo on Saturday, October 5 for a tournament hosted by Bishop Neumann.

Individually, Mazey McCullough was the top runner of the day for Falls City. McCullough was the runner-up, completing the course in 22:11. Brenna Leyden was not far behind, running a 23:16 for sixth-place. The final Tiger to earn a medal was Nia Crawford who earned the eighth-place medal in 24:00. Rounding out the varsity was Brynna Bruxellas in 17th (26:42) and Emmy Feek in 18th (26:44).

For the first-place boys, Eli Bottom and Jared Hawley were neck and neck. Bottom took third in 18:12 and Hawley was fourth in 18:13. Everett McCullough ran a strong race, taking seventh in 18:46 and Mason Crawford was 12th in 19:06. Varsity runners, Spencer Forsyth (23rd, 20:55) and Joe Vrtiska (27th, 21:58) finished out the Tiger runners.

Bryson Butrick won the eighth-place JV medal in 21:17, Will Vitosh was ninth in 21:19, and Brock Hogue was tenth in 21:24.

The junior high also competed at the meet on Thursday with the Tiger runners winning two medals. Alex McKim (8:19) and Ava Armbruster (9:09) each won third-place medals.

The high school teams will compete next on Tuesday, October 1 at Rock Port and both the high school and middle school will run on Friday, October 4 in Syracuse.

Irish keep rolling

By Brian McKim

The undefeated and Class D-2 second-ranked Irish continue to dominate opponents as they trounced the Meridian Mustangs 53-14 Friday night at Jug Brown Stadium to improve to 4-0 for the season.

The Irish, fresh off a bye week, wasted no time getting into the scoring column. On the first offensive play from scrimmage, QB Jakob Jordan found Jarrot Simon for a 44-yard TD pass to give the Irish a quick 6-0 advantage fifteen seconds into the game.

On the ensuing drive, the Irish defense forced a punt, which was blocked by Brogan Nachitigal and returned to the Mustang 15 by Sloan Lenard. This time it was Jake Hoy taking into the end zone from 18 yards out to give the Irish a 20-0 lead with just over six minutes to play in the first quarter.

The Irish tacked on two more points after the Meridian QB was whistled for intentional grounding in his own end zone to make it 28-0. After the free kick, Jordan found Tyler Witt for a 31-yard TD pass on the first play of the drive to give SH the 35-0 lead with 3:20 still left on the clock.

In the second quarter, the Irish reserves took the field and continued to dominate. Max Froeschl took it to the house from 17 yards out to increase the Irish lead to 47-0 with 8:48 to play in the half.

With 6:55 to go in the third, Meridian finally got on the board. Corin Paul capped off an eight-play 56-yard drive with a nine-yard TD run to make the score 47-6. The Irish got their final score of the game with 4:07 to go in the third when Tyler Catlin went in from 10-yards out to give SH the 53-6 lead. Meridian got one last score, a 28-yard TD run with 11:53 to go in the game to make the final 53-14.

The Irish finished the game with 156 rushing yards on 21 attempts and 99 passing yards. Meridian was held to 106 yards on 49 attempts on the ground and 29 yards through the air. Freshman Evan Keithley led the ground attack for SH with 67 yards on seven attempts. Hoy finished with 34 yards on two carries and a TD. Jakob Jordan completed 3-4 passes for 86 yards and two scores. Tyler Witt had two catches for 42 yards, and a score and Simon had one catch for 44 yards and a TD.

Kyle Bauman and Gabe Canonico each recovered a fumble and Casteel had an interception for the Irish defense. Catlin led the defense with 13 total stops, and Branson Darvaev had four stops, including a sack.

The Irish will travel to Lincoln next Friday to take on the 1-3 Parkview Christian Patriots at 4:00 p.m.

Life Chain on Sunday

On Sunday October 6, 2019, people of all ages in the Falls City area will join 1,500 other communities across the nation in participating in National Life Chain, Sunday.

The purpose of the Life Chain is to communicate a message to our community that the killing of unborn children is an affront to the dignity of human life. Its success depends on local churches "drawing their parishioners out of the pews to the local sidewalk for public prayer and solemn reflection."

The Life Chain is a silent prayerful response of abortion. People are asked to give an hour of their Sunday afternoon as an act of reparation for the approximately 1.2 million abortions performed annually in America. All who are interested in participating should meet at the First United Methodist Church, 17th and Harlan at 2:00 PM for a brief prayer service.

BY BRIAN MCKIM

RIGHT OR WRONG, IT'S MY OPINION.
From Heisman contender to Heisman pretender, QB Adrian Martinez folds under the pressure in loss to Ohio St. On a night that was to be used as a measuring stick to see where the Husker program was as a whole, we found we are nowhere close to where we want or need to be.

I talked all week with people about the game, and the consensus was in order to win, the Huskers needed to win the turnover battle. Well, we lost that one 3-0. We need to commit fewer penalties than the Buckeyes, that didn't happen either. Ohio St finished with two flags for 25 yards; the Huskers has six for 57. The final thing that we talked about were the intangibles. Getting a good snap to the quarterback and hitting the receivers in their hands and stride and making open-field tackles. None of these things happened Saturday night, which is what led to the blowout loss, again. New coaches, new players, (new announced facilities), but still the same result. Go back and watch the game again. The Buckeyes did all the things a great team should do. On offense the line stuck blocks, opening running and passing lanes. Defensively, they flowed to the ball and made tackles.

With all the hype surrounding the game, College Gameday in town, we laid an egg. I feel like we were still in the game in the second quarter, then one play took us completely out of contention. The Huskers put together a nice drive, getting down into the Buckeyes red zone. Martinez dropped back to pass and overthrew a wide-open Wan' Dale Robinson at about the five-yard line, and the Ohio St defender got the pick. Instead of 14-7 at that point, the Buckeyes went down the field to score and take a 21-0 lead. I can't help but wonder what might have been had the Huskers gotten into the end zone and pulled within a score.

So here we are, five games into the season and we are 3-2 with a terrible loss at Colorado and a blowout loss at home to a Big Ten opponent. Are we any better off than last season? Sure we are, but we are also nowhere close to where this program needs to be or wants to be. This week Northwestern comes to town, a team that hung with Wisconsin Saturday. Can Nebraska bounce back and put this loss behind them? We'll find out in less than a week. Go Big Red.

Does your child or teen experience migraines? What to know (StatePoint) The pain and symptoms that accompany migraines can be debilitating. For children and teens, it can mean missed school days, absence from social or sporting events and activities at home.

To evaluate migraine treatment in children and teens, new guidelines from the American Academy of Neurology (AAN) and the American Headache Society looked at two areas: acute treatments to stop or lessen pain and other symptoms during a migraine, and treatments to prevent or reduce how often migraine attacks occur.

"The good news is that there are effective treatments for children and teens for migraine attacks when they occur," says guidelines lead author, Dr. Maryam Oskoui, McGill University, and an AAN fellow.

Based on the guidelines, families dealing with pediatric migraines should consider the following: Clinicians make a migraine diagnosis based on the intensity and duration of pain, how many attacks a person has had, and whether they're accompanied by associated symptoms like nausea, vomiting and sensitivity to light and sound. Those with migraines should get a diagnostic evaluation that includes a careful medical history, as well as general physical and neurological examinations conducted by a neurologist or headache medicine specialist. A neurologist is a doctor with specialized training in diagnosing, treating and managing disorders of the brain and nervous system. Triggers can vary, so families should identify and address the factors associated with their child's migraine attacks. These can include lack of physical activity, being overweight, excessive caffeine intake, poor sleep habits and dehydration. Many of these issues can be addressed with healthy habits, like nutritious foods, regular exercise, adequate hydration and sleep.

Ask your child's neurologist about the risks and benefits of preventive medication and appropriate acute treatment. For example, in studies, the drug amitriptyline combined with cognitive behavioral therapy (CBT) — which employs techniques like relaxation and coping strategies — was more beneficial than amitriptyline combined with headache education in reducing migraine attack frequency and migraine-related disability. However, it's important to note that amitriptyline may increase the risk of suicidal thoughts and behavior.

"The benefit of CBT alone or in combination with other treatments in migraine prevention warrants further study," says Dr. Oskoui.

Treat migraines as soon as your child or teen becomes aware of one starting. For children and teens, medications such as ibuprofen and triptans can help relieve pain during an attack. For teens, consider the combination sumatriptan/naproxen. Families and neurologists should carefully weigh the use of treatments not proven to be effective in children and teens. For example, while botulinum toxin is effective in preventing migraine in adults, it hasn't shown the same effectiveness in children and teens. And while some of the newest treatments, including calcitonin gene-related peptide antibodies and other similar drugs and devices are effective for adults, the study of their pediatric use is only beginning. To learn more about migraines, visit BrainLifeMag.org/PedMigraine, the AAN's free patient website and magazine, and follow on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram. Though common, pediatric migraines are painful and can be debilitating. Talking to your child's neurologist about the latest treatments is recommended.

Jace Heckenlively tries to make a Crusader miss on Friday night in Lincoln.

Tigers drop second in a row

The 3-1 Falls City Tigers traveled to 0-4 Lincoln Christian on Friday night as the Tigers looked to get back on track after falling to Fairbury 28-7 the week before. Kickoff saw a cool 69 degrees with a light wind and the Tigers never seemed to be able to warm up as they fell to the Crusaders 39-16.

FC booted the ball away to begin the game, with Lukas Aldana's kick sailing through the end zone. The Crusaders had success all night running the ball right at the Tiger defense. Lincoln Christian used an option attack and mixed in the occasional sweep to either side to successfully move the ball all night. The opening drive by Lincoln Christian covered 80 yards and consumed just under four minutes and ended with a QB keeper on an option for the four-yard TD with 8:11 left on the clock. The PAT kick was good, and FC trailed 7-0.

Falls City began their opening drive at their 20. FC was picking up yardage, but a holding penalty pushed the Tigers backward and eventually was forced to punt the ball away. Lincoln Christian took over at their own 38 after the punt return with 4:57 to go in the first. The Tiger defense seemed to hold, but on fourth and four the Crusader running back took a sweep right down the sideline for a 55-yard TD run to give Lincoln Christian the 15-0 lead with 2:48 to play in the first.

The Tigers began the following drive at their own 30-yard line. A couple of nice runs by Leighton Vice helped the Tigers move into Crusader territory, and a fourth-down conversion by Aldana gave FC a first down to end the first quarter at the Crusader 34. With FC facing a fourth and five at the 30, Kade Bredemeiers pass to Trey McAfee fell incomplete, and FC turned the ball over on downs with 10:22 to go in the half.

Again, Lincoln Christian moved the ball on the ground, punching it in again on a seven-yard sweep to the left with 7:22 on the clock capping off a 70-yard drive to take a 22-0 lead.

After a three and out, FC was forced to punt. The Crusaders fumbled the punt and Jace Heckenlively recovered, giving FC life before the half. FC began the drive at the LC 46-yard line with 6:20 to play. FC failed to convert its second fourth down of the drive and turned the ball over on downs at the LC 27 with 2:04 to play. However, two plays later, Hunter Arnold recovered a bad pitch on an option and rambled to the Crusader six-yard line with 1:24 to go in the half. FC, struggling all night to move the ball, failed to take advantage of the field position and turned the ball over on downs to end the first half.

A fumble on the first drive of the second half by FC gave LC the ball at the Tiger 31 with 11:14 to go in the third. Four straight runs led to a dive up the middle from the one by Ethan Berrier that finished the drive and FC trailed 29-0 with 9:28 on the clock.

FC took over on the following drive at their 30. This time Bredemeier found McAfee on a quick slant that picked up 35 yards all the way down to the Crusader 35. FC again ran into trouble and failed to convert a fourth and three, giving the ball back to LC at their 27 with 7:19 to go in the third.

The Tiger defense wasn't giving up yet. On fourth and four, Arnold got a hand on the punt attempt, giving FC the ball at the

The Falls City volleyball team struggled this past week, dropping all three matches on its schedule, but look to get on track with games in Horton and at Johnson County Central this next week.

On Tuesday the Tigers traveled to Savannah, Missouri, to take on the Savages. Savannah took the first set in a close one 25-22. The Lady Tigers bounced back to win set two 25-19, but the home team won the final two sets, 25-14 and 25-18 to win the match 3-1.

Michelle Beer led the Tigers with 15 kills on 38 attempts. Jessa Beckner was tops in the serving department with four aces, while Eryn Snethen added two. Chase Nolte, Beer, Reece McNeely, and Rae Ann Thompson each added a block. Beer led the team with 14 digs while Allyssa Mez added seven. The ball-handling duties were split between Beckner (12 assists) and Kailyn Frederick with 10.

On Thursday, September 26, the Tigers traveled to Nebraska City for a triangular with Syracuse and Lourdes Central.

Falls City faced the Class C-1 sixth-ranked Rockets first, falling in straight sets 7-25 and 16-25. Beer again was the leader on offense with seven kills on 24 attempts while Beckner was second on the team with two.

Snethen and McNeely each had an ace serve for the Tigers. Lexie Buckminster led the team with nine digs, while Beer added six and Beckner had five. Josie Riggs did the bulk of the ball-handling as she finished with seven assists.

In the final match of the week, the Tigers took on the Class C-2 seventh-ranked Lourdes Central Catholic Knights. Again, things didn't go Falls City's way as they fell to the host school, 25-13 and 25-20. Beer led Falls City with six kills on 13 attempts, and Mez added four. Nolte, Beer, McNeely, and Thompson each had a block to lead the Tiger defense at the net. Beer and Mez also led the team with ten digs apiece and Beckner was tops with seven assists.

Falls City has a triangular this week in Horton and then will travel to Tecumseh for the Johnson County Invitational on Saturday, October 5. With the losses, the Tigers fall to 4-12 for the season.

Lincoln Christian got another score to start the fourth period and a field goal, later on, to make it 38-8. FC showed some toughness and fought back for one last score, a five-yard TD run by Bredemeier to make the final 38-16.

The offense came on in the second half with Bredemeier finishing 11/24 for 177 and carrying the ball ten times for 41 yards and two scores. Vice finished with a team-high 56 yards on 15 attempts and McAfee led the receivers with 101 yards on four grabs, including a 52 yarder in the fourth quarter. Dillon Ebel led the defense with 11 stops while Thomas Fields added nine, including a sack. Falls City finished with 177 passing yards and 125 yards on the ground. Lincoln Christian finished with 337 yards, all on the ground.

The Tigers (3-2) will host Ashland-Greenwood (5-0) at Jug Brown Stadium on Friday, October 4 at 7:00 p.m. Ashland is currently ranked #4 in Class C-1 by the Omaha World-Herald.

Sare Partnership Grants available for 2020

A relatively newer grant available this year for farmers and agricultural professionals is the Partnership Grant. The Partnership Grant program is intended to foster cooperation between agricultural professionals and small groups of farmers and ranchers to catalyze on-farm research, demonstration, and education activities related to sustainable agriculture. You can access all the information you need including an application for the grant, the guidelines, requirements and call for proposal at: <http://www.northcentralsare.org/Grants/Our-Grant-Programs/Partnership-Grant-Program> Grants are due October 24th, 2019.

Examples of appropriate NCR-SARE Partnership Grant Program projects include: developing a curriculum about food storage for farmers and processors, on-farm testing of cropping system strategies or grazing systems, cooperative efforts to develop new marketing approaches, or investigations into new approaches to processing and/or adding value to sustainably produced farm products.

Partnership Grants are for on-farm research, demonstration and/or educational projects and are funded for up to 24 months.

Up to $40,000 total funding request per application is allowed. An Agricultural Professional is the grant applicant and the principal investigator.

Typically three or more farmers or ranchers are expected to be substantially involved in the project.

Each farm/ranch must be an independent and separate/distinct operation.

Any agriculture/natural resource professional in the North Central region may apply. These professionals are:

University educators including extension agents and specialists NRCS field staff

Agricultural consultants (individuals who actively consult with farmers and ranchers as certified crop advisors, soils consultants, ranching consultants, etc.)

Nonprofit or agency staff assisting farmer and ranchers at the local level

To learn more about the Partnership Grant Program, you can watch the Partnership Grant Program video tutorial or download the presentation slides at:

<http://www.northcentralsare.org/Grants/Write-a-Successful-Grant/Grant-Program-Presentations>. If you have questions about this grant you can contact me locally at (402) 274-4755 or Beth Nelson at 612-626-4436 or Rob Meyers at 573-882-1547, who are both from SARE (Sustainable Agriculture Research and Extension) Program.

Another grant that has been around since 1992 and Nebraskans have been very successful in receiving funding over the years is the Farmer/Rancher Grant. You can access information about this grant program at: <http://www.northcentralsare.org/Grants/Our-Grant-Programs/Farmer-Rancher-Grant-Program>. This grant is not due until December 5, 2019. You will be able to watch a video or download the presentation slides at the link in the paragraph above. More information about this grant will be available at a later date.

Fighting Fires! Fire Prevention and Safety

Let's all help to prevent fires. You can start by talking with grownups in your family about fire safety and prevention. Check at your school to see if firefighters can come to talk to your class. Cut out this checklist and hang it on your refrigerator or bulletin board.

Read these clues to fill in the puzzle with people and the things they use to fight fires:

Family Fire Safety Checklist

Do you know that some dogs live in fire stations?

- Cook in the kitchen only when an adult is helping you.
- Don't touch matches, lighters or candles. They are only for adults to use.
- Do you have smoke detectors on every level of your home? Test them monthly. Change the batteries at least once a year.
- Do you know two or more ways out of the house?
- Never use elevators if there is a fire (stairs are much safer).
- Smoke rises. If there is a fire, stay low; crawl under the smoke.
- Have you picked a place to meet the rest of your family once you are all out of the house?
- Once you are out of the house, stay out of the house.

1. hydrants pump hundreds of gallons of _____ each minute
2. a fire _____ should be in every kitchen
3. horses of fire carriages in the 1800's were protected by _____, especially dalmatians
4. firefighters and equipment are brought by a _____ to the scene
5. person who teaches us fire safety and protects us
6. a _____ can be used to pick up water from a lake and drop it onto a fire
7. _____ are used to chop down locked doors or walls
8. _____ extinguish fires without endangering any firefighters

The Fire Is Out!

The fire has been put out. Help the firefighter get to the fire truck to roll up the hose and pack the equipment so that the truck can return to the fire station.

R.W. D. #2 receives $1.3 million grant

USDA Rural Development Nebraska State Director Karl Elmshaeuser today announced that $1.3 million will bring water improvements to Rural Water District No. 2 Richardson County.

"Water infrastructure is important to rural communities both in quantity and quality," said Elmshaeuser. "USDA is assisting Rural Water District No. 2 Richardson County with an expansion that will serve residents now and into the future."

The Rural Water District No. 2 in Richardson County, NE received funding of $1,327,000 to expand the existing water infrastructure. Seventy-two new users will be hooked up to the Rural Water District's existing system serving southeast Richardson County. Currently these users experience water quantity shortage and high nitrates. The Rural Water District purchases water from Falls City. The distribution system pipeline will be expanded using two-inch and three inch PVC piping, branching off the new six-inch line that will be constructed from Falls City to Indian Cave State Park. The new infrastructure will meet applicable health standards.

For more information on the Water and Environmental Program Loan and Grant Program contact your local Nebraska Water and Environmental Program Specialist.

Elmshaeuser's announcement is in coordination with U.S. Department of Agriculture Deputy Secretary of Rural Development Donald 'DJ' LaVoy's announcement of USDA investing $144 million to improve rural water infrastructure in 25 states.

"Modern and reliable water and wastewater infrastructure systems are foundational to economic growth and quality of life in rural communities," LaVoy said, "Under the leadership of President Trump and Agriculture Secretary Perdue, USDA is committed to investing in this critical infrastructure, because when rural America thrives, all of America thrives."

U.S. Senator Deb Fischer (R-Neb.), a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, released the following statement after the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) announced a $1 million grant to expand water infrastructure in Richardson County, Nebraska, as part of the department's Water and Waste Disposal Loan and Grant program:

"Nebraskans in Richardson County who are experiencing water shortages will now have access to the clean, safe water they need. This USDA grant will expand infrastructure to help further strengthen rural communities in southeast Nebraska."

USDA is investing in 45 projects through the Water and Waste Disposal Loan and Grant program. Eligible applicants include rural cities and towns, and water districts. They can use the funds for drinking water, stormwater drainage and waste disposal systems in rural communities with 10,000 or fewer residents.

LANE LEADERSHIP CLASS OF 2019 GRADUATES

The third class of Lane Leadership, held by the Falls City Chamber of Commerce & Main Street, wrapped up earlier this month. This year's class consisted of Allie Bierman, Cassondra Goff, Amber Holle, Alex Keithley, Kaylie Racliffe and Trent Scheitel. Lane Leadership is an eight-month course that meets once a month to develop leadership skills and gain understanding of the offerings, obstacles and accomplishments of our community. Lane Leadership was designed to identify, inspire and equip leaders to take positive action to make Falls City and the surrounding area a vibrant place to live, work and play, now and in the future.

Carroll Welte and Jessica Jones from UNL Extension facilitated the mornings with topics ranging from understanding personality types with Meyer Briggs to Community Visioning. In the afternoons, the group would travel and speak with various community and business leaders. Day themes included: education, small business, industry, health and wellness, agriculture, city and emergency management and history and arts.

After completing the classes, the group selected a capstone project. This year's Lane Leadership group has decided to volunteer their time and assist with the interior painting of Prichard Auditorium.

The previous two classes joined efforts to bring the popular Splash Pad at Dallas Jones Memorial Park. The 2019 class felt strongly about donating their time and improving a historic and invaluable Falls City facility.

The Falls City Chamber will start accepting applications for the 2020 class in the next few months. Classes will start in February 2020 and tuition for the eight-month program is $150, which includes meals and materials. Scholarship opportunities are available. If interested in enrolling, please contact Amber at the Chamber office.

Spanish architecture in Missouri? If such a state of affairs seems peculiar, consider that the unpredictable Show Me state even has a town named Peculiar (pop. 458), some twenty miles south of here, on U.S. 71. Our cover scene is in Kansas City, "the gateway to the Southwest," and you are looking at the intersection where U.S. 50, gateway to the Country Club Plaza shopping center, crosses J.C. Nichols Parkway. This elegant community of shops was conceived and built by Jesse Clyde Nichols (1880-1950), to whom the fountain in the foreground is a memorial. The scene appealed to artist John Falter because the Old World architecture seemed to symbolize our nation's roots—which is not to deny the notion expressed by lyricist Oscar Hammerstein in Oklahoma! that "everything's up-to-date in Kansas City."
