By Nikki McKim

As high schools and colleges all over the world call off graduation ceremonies due to the coronavirus pandemic, the class of 2020 will end their high school career with parades, virtual celebrations, and postponed in-person goodbyes. The Falls City Public School Class of 2020 would have walked across the stage at Prichard Auditorium this weekend. Families would have sat together and beamed with pride at their graduate 18 years in the making. Weeks prior to this, there would have been one last prom, one last day together walking the halls of the school, one final track meet, baseball game, and athletic banquet. All the lasts, these seniors look forward to for years were taken away quicker than anyone could have expected. Now, this historic class has to wait eleven more weeks until August 1 at 2:00 p.m. for a more formal ceremony. At the beginning of July, they'll know more about where the event

COURTHOUSE TO REOPEN NEXT TUESDAY AND BID RECEIVED FOR NEW SHERIFF DEPT. RADIO EQUIPMENT

By: Charlie Radatz

To comply with the public meetings law, the Richardson County Courthouse was open to allow the public to attend the Tue. May 5, meeting of the County Commissioners, but no members of the public took advantage of the opportunity. Suspension of public access to the Courthouse due to the COVID-19 pandemic is scheduled to end Tue., May 19, 2020, when the building will be opened at 8:00 a.m. On that day, the Commissioners will have their regular board meeting and decide if there will be a need to continue limiting access in any manner. In the meantime, Tyler Cooper of the maintenance department has been erecting plexiglass panels in Court House offices to limit the potential for the spread

COVID-19 PEAK YET TO HIT SE NEBRASKA

By Nikki McKim

With numbers rising, people in Richardson County may be asking themselves what the fuss is all about. Still, the peak is yet hit our area, according to Grant Bruggemann, Director of the Southeast Nebraska Health Department.

Nebraska was supposed to be past its peak by now and we're still seeing significant daily increases in COVID-19 cases around the state. Outbreaks at several Nebraska meatpacking plants are drawing the attention of national news outlets. The number of cases in the state of Nebraska doubled every seven days throughout April, surpassing 8,000 cases on May 9. Many cases can be traced back to meatpacking plants, though most plants aren't issuing direct data on how many employees have been affected.

During the May 6, 2020 meeting of the Richardson County Health Board, Dr. Tramp said that he sensed that people were getting tired of being cooped up, especially with the beautiful weather.

Grant Bruggemann said the number of cases in the state has almost doubled in the past seven days. At the time of the meeting, there were seven cases in our District, but that number has risen.

Testing in Tecumseh

A National Guard testing event was held in Tecumseh on May 7, and was open to anyone. There were 300 tests available. Bruggemann said the event was held in Tecumseh because of logistical issues.

Looking forward, there are more opportunities for testing for our District and if it's possible to move testing sites to different locations, Bruggemann said he would like to, "I am working to ID those locations. My initial plan is to have one in the northern part of the District and move one down to the southern part of the District."

Currently, Bruggemann can't confirm a date those tests could be held.

This testing is an attempt by the state to increase the number of tests that are being done to get a big picture of what's going on across the state. "As we know, there's been a supply chain issue with testing supplies at the beginning," said Bruggemann. "And there's been a lot of restrictions on who can be tested, what type of industries or what type of jobs in prioritizing what personnel would need to get tested. So this is an attempt to expand that to get more of the general public sense of what's going on. Since we did have some of those barriers at first."

Bruggemann said the testing event held in Tecumseh a few weeks ago detected two cases that weren't known about and may not have

Steps to Get Nebraska Growing

By Governor Pete Ricketts

The first case of coronavirus was reported in our state almost eight weeks ago on March 6, 2020. A week later, I declared a state of emergency due to the risks posed by the virus. In mid-March, the State began to issue directed health measures (DHMs) to slow the spread of the virus and protect our residents.

Nebraskans have responded to public health measures with cooperation, patience, and understanding. I am grateful for the sacrifices made by so many people to help us flatten the curve. As we enter May, it's time to get Nebraska growing again. However, we'll need to proceed with caution.

As we restore growth to the economy, our approach will be regional and gradual. The pace at which we reopen will be informed by the capacity of our state's healthcare system as well as testing data.

Throughout May, we are continuing to ask everyone to follow our Six Rules to Keep Nebraska Healthy:

Stay home. Do not take unnecessary trips outside the home. Respect the ten-person limit.

Socially distance your work. Work from home or use the six-foot rule as much as possible in the workplace.

Shop alone and only shop once a week. Do not take family with you.

Help kids follow social distancing. Play at home. No group sports. And no playgrounds.

Help seniors stay at home by shopping for them. Do not visit long-term care facilities.

Exercise daily at home or with an appropriately socially-distanced activity.

Starting in the coming weeks, the State will have 19 separate DHMs, one for each local health department (LHD). These DHMs will be effective through May 31st. Contact information for the state's LHDs, along with a map of the LHDs, is available at dhhs.ne.gov/Pages/Local-Health-Departments.aspx.

Starting May 4th, places of worship statewide will no longer be subject to the 10-person limitation. However, households must be seated six feet apart at worship services. In addition, it will not be permissible to pass items among worshippers.

On a regional basis, we're gradually easing restrictions in LHDs that are less affected by the virus. On May 4th, these less restrictive DHMs will take effect in: Douglas County Health Dept.; Sarpy/Cass Dept. of Health; East Central District Health Dept.; Four Corners Health Dept.; Loup Basin Public Health Dept.; North Central District Health Dept.; Northeast Nebraska Public Health Dept.; Panhandle Public Health District; Southeast District Health Dept.; Southwest Nebraska Public Health District.

On May 11th, the less restrictive DHMs will also be effective in: Lincoln-Lancaster County Health Dept.; West Central District Health Dept.; Three Rivers Public Health Dept.

In these locations, beauty/nail salons, barber shops, massage therapy services, and tattoo parlors can reopen on a limited basis. Both workers and patrons of these establishments will be required to wear masks. Restaurants can also resume dine-in service in these areas, up to 50% of their rated occupancy maximum. All dining parties must be seated six feet apart and limited to six persons. Any groups larger than six must be seated at separate tables. Additionally, childcare facilities will be permitted to have up to 15 kids per room/space. All other state provisions, statutes, and regulations (including child-to-staff ratios) remain in effect.

Even as these restrictions are slightly eased, continued social distancing will be necessary to ensure we can successfully loosen them and protect our healthcare system.

The integrity of Nebraska's healthcare system has been my top consideration for decisions about reopening businesses that have been limited or closed. Nebraska continues to have ample capacity to care for the state's residents. As of April 30th, 49% of hospital beds, 45% of ICU beds, and 77% of ventilators are available for use statewide. Every Nebraskan who needs treatment has been able to receive it. We're closely monitoring incoming data to make sure that continues to be the case.

As we reopen segments of our economy that have been restricted, our approach will be driven by healthcare data first. Our Test Nebraska initiative will play a central role in gathering information to guide our decision-making. We've already increased our testing capacity to between 1,000 and 1,500 tests per day. Our Test Nebraska program will continue to scale up our capability to test for the virus.

I encourage Nebraskans to go to www.TestNebraska.com to take an initial assessment. This information is crucial in helping us determine where to deploy new testing sites. As we ramp up testing, we've also devoted 325 additional State teammates to perform contact tracing with a goal of having 1,000 people doing contact tracing in the coming months. This will enable us to better track the spread of the virus and reduce the risk of exposure.

I urge all Nebraskans to exercise good judgment as we ease our directed health measures. Just because an activity is permitted, does not mean it's advisable for everyone. Elderly Nebraskans and persons with underlying health conditions should be especially mindful of maintaining physical distance until the virus subsides.

In the coming weeks, expect to see more announcements about when and how Nebraska's businesses will reopen. For the latest information, visit www.Governor.Nebraska.gov and subscribe to the coronavirus updates. You can also visit dhhs.ne.gov/coronavirus for more information.

PREPARE FOR THE "GREAT RESETING" AND OTHER POST-COVID-19 ANOMALIES

Capitol View
Nebraska Press Association
By: J.J. Schmidt

If nothing else, this Covid-19 pandemic has certainly expanded our vocabularies. After more than 60 days of social distancing and otherwise odd changes to our daily routine, I'm sure many of us are using some expletives-deleted speech to describe our feelings. Words like patience and tolerance are certainly in short supply.

I just read a national story about the potential for retail bankruptcies after another month or two of economic slowdown. Sobering facts: 630,000 retail businesses have been closed since mid-March; one industry liquidator predicts as many as 25,000 stores and 100,000 restaurants could end up closing permanently.

But I did learn a new term; they're calling it the Great Resetting. That's the expected recovery as we watch major retailers scrutinize store leases and locations and ditch borderline ones. Who will come out on the other side of the economic downturn brought on by many of us staying home and many people being unemployed and having little or no discretionary spending.

I can't think it will be all bad. There needed to be some change in direction and perhaps this is the time for small local businesses to rise and shine. I certainly hope so. Now, more than ever, it's important to support those businesses.

As some states foolishly "open up" for business again, pressure is mounting in others to do the same. About 50 people "protested" the shutdown outside the Nebraska State Capitol. These folks with an obvious death wish were not social distancing and seemed to be asking for permission to be stupid if they want to. Sadly, I don't know of any restrictions on that in Nebraska.

Governor Pete Ricketts has acknowledged that he is hearing and understanding that some people feel it's time to loosen the rules. One participant on Ricketts call-in radio program told him to "throw the doors wide-open." She said restrictions are hurting businesses, farmers, ranchers and government workers while the virus is resulting in "a low death rate."

Take a minute on that one folks. Does she mean not enough people are dying from this virus? How many would be acceptable and who gave her permission to decide? Fortunately, she went on to explain herself. "We do have to build up some herd immunity," she said, referring to the widespread immunity that occurs when a large proportion of the population either gets exposed and infected or is protected by an effective vaccine. Yep, she's one of those folks who follow the theory promoted by a researcher at an Ivy League school where he is no longer employed after the school denounced the concept. Ricketts responded that he has been "loosening up restrictions," but he is determined to be prudent and not give the virus an opportunity to spread. He said he appreciates that people are tired of it and he is too. But he wants to beat this thing. Good for him!

Fortunately, another caller said she thinks it's way too soon since we appear to just be at the beginning of the virus impact in Nebraska, not the end. With more testing available and results more quickly obtained, the numbers have been increasing daily. On the day of the first wave of reduced restrictions allowing restaurants in Omaha and 59 counties to re-open for indoor dining, with a requirement that seating be limited to one-half of capacity, the response was well measured. Some restaurants did not open, choosing to stick to the take-out and delivery that has safely sustained them.

Maybe patience and tolerance will soon break out in Nebraska.

COVID-19 peak yet to hit Southeast Nebraska

been known about if they hadn't held the drive-through testing. any testing sites could find more cases.

"I think the benefit of random testing is that we can ID potential cases and if those cases are associated with any sort of manufacturing or meat processing facilities," said Bruggemann. "That gives us the advantage to be in front of the curve in terms of case tracking and being able to work with those facilities, so we don't have any local outbreaks."

Police Chief Duane Armbruster said he noticed that people are being a little freer about being out and about and testing the waters.

"I don't know whether its good or bad," said Armbruster. "Hopefully, everybody keeps staying safe."

Armbruster asked Bruggemann about the possible different strains of Coronavirus. Bruggemann said he had no information on the different strains or different subtypes.

"Viruses, in general, are very easy to evolve and change their protein structure. So, it doesn't surprise me that there are some different variations of it," said Bruggemann. "I don't think there's a difference in testing and what it identifies."

Dr. Tramp explained that the strain in the United States is considered a bit more aggressive and easily transmittable than what probably started in China, so that may be a reason that New York, and hot spots in the Midwest like meatpacking plants have a higher instance than some other countries.

"There's a lot of speculation yet that the virus will burn itself out. The vaccine they're going to develop will work even if it does mutate," said Dr. Tramp. "So the part of the virus where they're making the vaccine for does not change."

Sheriff Hardesty Jr. mentioned quite a few people were camped out at Kirkman's cove.

Domestic Calls Up

"We are seeing people out and about. Our domestics are going up. We've had quite a few more thefts in the last week or so," said Sheriff Hardesty.

The Sheriff said the Sheriff's office is still closed and would fall in line with the Courthouse.

We have yet to hit peak in cases

Nebraska and Richardson County were on track to hit its peak of cases near the end of April, beginning of May. Bruggemann said that many variables determine when the peak will happen. "When I look at the model that's being published by the University of Nebraska Medical Center (UNMC). It looks like right towards the end of May beginning of June is when they think the peak will be," said Bruggemann. "That model or that curve three is shifting down the line a little bit. It depends on what people do. I think if we lose sight of what's going on and go back to our normal lives to soon, I would expect that we would probably see a different trend line in terms of cases across the state."

Bruggemann said he didn't have a model to predict the District's peak; he could only go by the statewide model. "I believe that ours will be delayed compared to the rest of the state because of what our population is and where we're at geographically in the state and the neighboring states. I have no data to corroborate this," said Bruggemann.

When asked if he had any concerns, Bruggemann said, "The overarching concern I have is its probably needed to keep communities and an economy going, not limiting every aspect of life, but what my concern is just to this office is that as restrictions are loosened communities lose sight of what we're trying to accomplish. They act in a way that's not in the best for the public. So starting to lose sight of what we're doing, starting to disregard some of the recommendations with social distancing, these ten-person limits or whatever it's going to be after the month of May and then when some event happens that is done without regard to these DHM's (Directed Health Measures) and we see an uptick in cases across the District. It's kind of a broad, nonspecific answer. That's kind of my general concern."

Dr. Tramp agreed, then asked Bruggemann what we could learn from the larger cities with a lot of cases or what we could do to keep ourselves safe.

Bruggemann recommends continuation of guidelines

"I think the best way to prevent any surge in cases or outbreaks it to continue to follow some of these social distancing guidelines; stay home when you're sick, wear a mask when you're out in public when you're around people, and if you are sick avoid large gatherings of people just the same message we've been preaching since February," said Bruggemann. "Think about the actions you're taking that way, you're not unintentionally exposing somebody even if you are no showing symptoms, and you're an A-symptomatic carrier of the virus."

Bruggemann said he wasn't sure of the specifics of each Nebraska county that is currently having an outbreak.

"Look at what happened in Hall County, the Grand Island area. If I understand it right its believed to have really started with a birthday party that had some 100 some people there and that was the initial trigger point. It led to some outbreaks in the meat processing plants across the area and other places in the state," said Bruggemann. "The meat processing plants, I've never been in one, but, from my understanding, you have workers who are standing shoulder to shoulder almost on a line and your kind of given the environment for transmission. I have talked to a handful of our processing plants in our area and they have implemented some engineering controls that are being recommended, like putting barriers between employees or staggering break times. Making sure everyone has the correct personal protective equipment (PPE) on at all times. So, I think we're in a better place across the state that may be a tribute to where we're located; we had time to prepare vs. having to react right away. Every health district has a different situation as to why they're having outbreaks and what led to those outbreaks."

Community Medical Center Testing Update

Kathy Messner of Community Medical Center reported that 84 tests had been completed with 78 negative and six awaiting results. The current turnaround time is approximately two days with UNMC. Employees are being tested to see if they, by chance, had COVID-19 before we knew what it was. CMC has 20 testing swabs from the state and a "pretty good supply of testing supplies right now," said Messner.

The hospital is doing some outpatient surgeries for now, and those patients are being screened. Visitor restrictions will remain the same for the time being.

Gary Jörn reported that the pool would be prepped and there would be some maintenance done before updated DHM's. Water won't be put in yet, but they should know soon, around mid-May, how to proceed.

GRADUATING DURING A PANDEMIC THE FALLS CITY PUBLIC SCHOOL CLASS OF 2020 SHARES THEIR THOUGHTS

This historic class has been thrust into adulthood much sooner than they anticipated, and it has derailed plans and dreams made years in advance.

"I played middle infield (baseball), and I was going to have colleges come look at me this year. COVID-19 ruined it. It's ruined what I dreamed of," said James Eickhoff. "I was upset because I don't get another year with my favorite sport."

"I was looking forward to the countdown being in the windows, and class sign out and walking out of our very last day of high school with all my friends. I was really looking forward to walking across that stage and receiving my diploma. I was looking forward to my graduation party and hopping around my friend's graduation parties," said Taylor Davis. "Covid-19 has taken away 'the best year of my life.' I didn't get to have my senior prom; we don't get a traditional graduation, I don't get to watch my friends at track meets or baseball games. I didn't get to go to my grandmas for Easter, and that probably hit the hardest right there."

"COVID-19 has taken away my senior Prom, Graduation, and my senior year of track and field where I planned to compete in the state meet at Burke in May," said Hannah Clary. "I had looked forward to track my entire senior year and had spent countless nights at the track working on my techniques to assure my spot in the state track meet."

"I was looking forward to hosting the District Music Contest (DMC) and also looking forward to Parent's Night for Golf. COVID-19 has taken the rest of my senior year from me. All of the lasts, I was looking forward to disappeared, and I will not be able to experience them the way I always thought I would," said Maggie McNeely.

"I was looking forward to ending senior year on a high note with spring baseball," said Kade Bredemeier. "COVID-19 has taken a lot from everyone. Not only the Class of 2020, but many families are struggling right now. Parents are having trouble with unemployment. Kids are losing their activities and childhood. Yes, the Class of 2020 is losing prom, spring sports, and graduation. But, it goes beyond more than just that."

"Walking across the stage and everyone being there." That's what Nuria Bledsoe said she would miss. COVID-19 took "my senior prom, my graduation, and having the lasts that I'll never have."

"I was looking forward to my graduation day and being able to walk across that stage while getting recognized for all the years of school I have accomplished," said Keldon Campbell.

Dakota Huddleston says that COVID-19 has taken prom and graduation.

"Covid-19 has taken away the final moments of my senior year with my fellow classmates and friends," said Alexis Sutton. "I was looking forward to being part of the all-school musical, senior spotlight, senior prom, track, and walking across the stage with my friends at graduation."

Some students have been passing the days they would be celebrating their 'lasts' by working to earn money for college, spending time with their families, and reflecting on the time they've lost.

"I've begun doing workouts to keep myself in shape because I am going to be playing college softball next year. And I have picked up a lot of hours to save up money for college," said Hannah Clary.

"I like to go fishing with my buddies, so while missing school and doing homework, I'm usually fishing. While COVID-19 might have destroyed the last couple months of my senior year, I'm still grateful even to be able to leave the house," said James Eickhoff.

"I have really been spending the time being sad and thinking about the 'what if's.' But, I have also been spending more time with my family and getting my college situation figured out," said Taylor Davis.

"I have been reading, writing, golfing, fishing, working, spending time with my family, and learning to cook," said Maggie McNeely.

"I have spent a lot of time watching movies, hanging with my family, and trying to stay active," said Kade Bredemeier.

"I work at our local store, Sunmart," said Nuria Bledsoe.

"I am working full time. The days seem to go by quicker, but I would rather be in school," said Keldon Campbell.

"I have been keeping up with schoolwork, spending time with family, and learning different songs on the guitar to pass the time," said Alexis Sutton.

The class of 2020 will be one for the history books. Much like 9/11, our world will forever be changed after the Coronavirus, and everyone will remember this time in their lives. The world is talking about the Class of 2020, so how does it feel being part of this historical event. Most of the graduates were just happy to be a part of the tight-knit Falls City Public class of 2020.

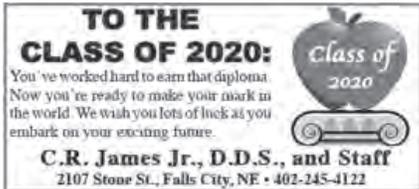

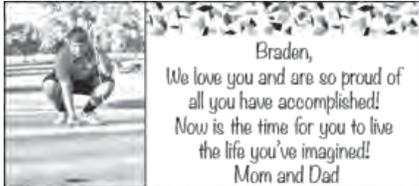

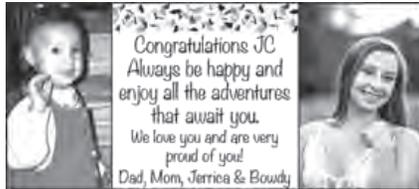

"It will definitely be something I will get to talk about for the rest of my life to people younger than me," said Hannah Clary.

"I feel very thankful. My class has always been one of the closest classes. We have always all been friends; of course, we all had our ups and downs, but, aside from COVID-19, we have always been memorable," said Taylor Davis.

"I am very lucky to have been able to grow up with my classmates and have the constant support and encouragement that they have provided," said Maggie McNeely.

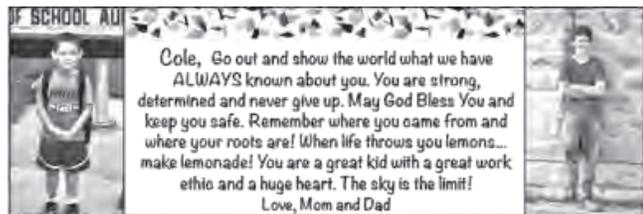

"It is definitely interesting to be a part of something like this. It is a story that you will tell for many years," said

Kade Bredemeier.
"It's crazy and overwhelming," said Nuria Bledsoe.
"It isn't something I am too happy about, but in my future days, it will be something to look back on," said Keldon Campbell.
"I will have a story to tell my future children," said Dakota Huddleston.
"Being part of the Class of 2020 brings mixed emotions to me. Being a part of history is very cool, but not being able to have those final moments of high school has been difficult," said Alexis Sutton.
On the day of what would have been their graduation, some of the Falls City Tigers class of 2020 have already made plans on how to spend their special day.
Hannah Clary said she would probably be at work or fishing.
"I think my family will have something memorable for me in our home," said Tayler Davis.

"My parents are planning something but won't tell me," said Maggie McNeely.
"Hopefully, I will be out of the house at an activity, but I might still be social distancing at home," said Kade Bredemeier.
Nuria Bledsoe said she'd "probably sitting in my home with my cap and gown on crying."
"On the day graduation was supposed to be held, I will most likely be spending time with my family and enjoying the company from them," said Keldon Campbell.
Dakota Huddleston said he would probably be watching TV.
"On May 16, I will have a zoom call with my family, and we will do whatever my Aunt Laura has planned for the day," said Alexis Sutton

Falls City Public School Principal said, "On a personal note, I just want to thank this class for their contributions and congratulate them for successfully navigating this unique and historic challenge. I am proud not only of your resiliency but that of your parents, our staff, and this community. I am confident, that you are ready to meet these current challenges and those that life will throw at you in the future. We will all learn from this experience."
A Celebratory cruise night is being held for the Class of 2020 seniors on May 16, 2020. Falls City Public and Falls City Sacred Heart seniors will be lined up between 14th and 21st Streets on Harlan from 6:00 - 7:00 p.m. The community is invited to join in the celebration.
(All Falls City Public 2020 Seniors were given the option to participate in this article.)

Courthouse to reopen next Tuesday

of the virus while still allowing public access to all offices.
The Board met with Sheriff Hardesty and Roland Merwin, Chief Deputy Sheriff to review the business within the Law Enforcement Center, and Hardesty and Merwin reviewed with Commissioners a quote they received from First Wireless, Inc. for the purchase of a new radio system for the Law Enforcement Center was received and reviewed.
The new radio system would allow the Sheriff's Department to become part of the planned statewide radio system with Regional 911 Dispatch for Southeast Nebraska. The quote is based on a Nebraska Administrative Services Contract #32517 so formal bidding would not be required for this purchase. The amount of the quote was $182,050.00. Commissioners took no action on the proposal at this meeting.
Sheriff Hardesty reported that the utility vehicle that was approved for purchase in July of 2019 has not yet been received. It has been scheduled for delivery sometime late May or early June.
The Sheriff also presented a quote for a new 2020 Ford Police Interceptor Utility vehicle and requested that the Board approve a purchase order to obtain this service ready vehicle. A motion was made by Caverzagie to purchase a service ready 2020 Ford Police Interceptor Utility Vehicle from Rockdale Country Ford of Rockdale, TX, for the purchase price of $45,356.00. The motion seconded by Sickle and approved 3-0.
A brief discussion was also held with Hardesty and Merwin concerning the idea of the County contributing an amount to the cost of family health insurance coverage, but no action was taken on that proposal during this meeting.
Amanda Bartek-Young, County Treasurer, reported to the Board on the tax sale held in February and a report on the recent tax collections for the 1st half that were due April 30. A motion was made by Sickle to approve the transfer of the unpaid tax certificates to the County tax sale certificates. That motion was seconded by Caverzagie and approved by a unanimous vote.
Tyler Cooper met with the Board regarding repairs needing attention at the Courthouse. He presented a quote that was received from St. Joseph Plumbing and Heating for repairs that needed to be made to plumbing. This quote will be reviewed further. Commissioners discussed with Cooper preparations being made for the opening of the Courthouse to the public later in the month, including installation of plexiglass at the counters in County offices.
Steve Darveau, Jr., Highway Superintendent, updated the Board on the routine maintenance being done on county roads and bridges since their last meeting. Mr. Darveau requested permission to list some equipment on an on-line auction site and will compile the listing and present it at the May 19 meeting.
Cal Strong and Michelle Kingsley of Strong Financial reviewed with the Board via a teleconference call the renewal of the County employee's health insurance for the plan year, July 1, 2020, through June 30, 2021. The rates will remain the same as the prior year. The Board will consider the renewal contract at the May 19 meeting.
Clayton Hardenberger, Jail Administrator, presented to the Board information on equipment and software that would assist with the handling of inmate services from Summit Food Service. Commissioners voted to approve the purchase of a booking kiosk for the Jail at a price of $1,800.00 from Summit Food Service. Hardenberger reported Law Enforcement Center staff are planning to meet with representatives from the Community Medical Center to discuss the current contract for inmate medical services.
Jerad Reimers from Congressman Adrian Smith's Office met with the Board via a teleconference to update them on the work being done in Congress on several items. An update was also given on the pandemic issue and what Congress has acted on.
Chairman Sickle asked if there was anyone from the public that wanted to make comments at this time, but no one from the public responded.
Reports were approved for the following officials for fees collected during the month of April 2020: Mary L. Eickhoff, Register of Deeds, $11,087.50; Pam Scott, Clerk of District Court, $521.00; Sheriff Hardesty, March fees, $9,097.22.
A motion was made by Sickle to approve a subdivision for Judith A. Baker located in S32, T1, R16, and to adopt Resolution 2019-2020-45. The motion was seconded by Caverzagie and approved 3-0.
The Board adjourned its meeting after reviewing the April 2020 monthly operating statement and voting to allow the payment of all claims submitted since the previous meeting.
The Board will meet again on Tuesday, May 19, 2020, at 9:00 a.m. at the Courthouse, Room 202, Falls City, NE. The agenda is kept current at the County Clerk's Office.

Mason Crawford and Hannah Clary

Crawford, Clary named Falls City Public School outstanding athletes of the year

On Thursday evening at Falls City High School the Outstanding male and female athlete of the year was announced. Typically, this would take place at the conclusion of the athletic banquet; however, due to Covid-19, a small, social distancing ceremony took place instead.

With only the recipients, their parents, coaches, and Athletic Director Don Hogue in attendance, it was announced that Hannah Clary and Mason Crawford were named the outstanding athletes of the year for the 2019-20 school year.

Clary was an honorable mention all-state selection in softball. She tied the single-season school record in walks with 17, finished with a .269 batting average, and stole bases. Clary was also named honorable mention all-state in basketball this past winter. Clary led the team in scoring, averaging 12.8 points per contest. She also led the squad with 72 assists, 55 steals and was second on the team in rebounds.

The male athlete of the year went to Mason Crawford. Crawford was the number three runner this past fall on the cross country, placing in multiple meets and showing great leadership for other runners on the team. In basketball, Crawford was named second-team all-state in Class C1 by the Lincoln Journal Star. Crawford led the team with 19.4 points per game, seventh all-time. He also made 65 three-point shots this season, the most ever by a Tiger in a single season. He finished third all-time with 483 points in the season and first in career three-point shots. Crawford wrapped up his senior campaign, finishing 12th all-time in career points.

Armbruster and Arnold named FCHS weightlifters of the year

Last Wednesday evening at FC High School, Athletic Director Don Hogue named the 2019-20 male and female weightlifters of the year for the Tigers. Receiving the awards were junior, Thayer Armbruster (right) and senior, Hunter Arnold (left).

Mustangs fell one game short of 1955 title

By Brian McKim

The Southeast Consolidated Mustangs proved worthy of mention being in the great football teams of the 1995 season. During the regular season, the Mustangs only blemish was a last-second loss to the Sacred Heart Irish. In that contest, the Irish scored 14 unanswered points in the final period to get the come from behind win. The Mustangs also took down the fourth-ranked Johnson-Brock Eagles during the regular season.

Round one of playoffs

Entering the playoffs, the third-ranked Mustangs hosted the second-ranked and once-beaten Sterling Jets on a sloppy field in Stella. The Mustangs overpowered the Jets and advanced to the next round with a comfortable 46-20 win.

The Jets found a way to slow down the Mustang running game, so Southeast opened it up with all-conference QB Wes Haveman slinging the ball around the field. Haveman finished the game completing 9-17 passes for 166 yards and two touchdowns.

SE took a 16-14 lead into half-time and struck instantly in the third quarter to extend their lead to 24-14. Four minutes later, Seth Reimers scored from 14 yards out, and the conversion pass to Jed Jacobitz gave SE a 32-14 advantage. Jacobitz led the receivers with

Walk, Don't Run

By: Nikki McKim

This past weekend my aunt, uncle, and mom made a Chihuahua kit for our family for lunch. My Aunt and Uncle make the best Chihuahua's.

In 1951 this spectacular 'sandwich' was invented in a kitchen in Lubbock, Texas.

I've had them for as long as I can remember. Growing up, we had them from time to time, but as an adult, I have made sure we have them for dinner at least once a month.

This meal is among one of my all-time favorites, and I gorge myself silly each time I make it.

The Chihuahua Sandwich was created by the husband-wife team of Ed and Sarah Noret to add to their Drive-In Theater concession stand. The sandwich was such a hit that locals in this West Texas town would flock to the Sky-Vue Drive-In Theater to pick up a few of these 'sandwiches' and leave without seeing the movie.

They say the Chihuahua was a success at the Drive-In because they are unique and couldn't be reproduced by the local competition. I've heard that there's even a registered patent on them.

My parents both graduated from Lamesa High School in Texas and when I was a kid my aunt and uncle lived in Lamesa; thus, the Chihuahua was a staple for me growing up. I never made it to the theater for an original like I had dreamed as the theater closed after a kitchen fire in 2015. There are two other Sky-Vue Theaters around that area of West Texas, from what I can tell from the research I did, there's one in Midland and one in Lubbock Texas as of 2014. Sure, I could probably visit one of those if they're still in operation, but I want to visit the birthplace of my beloved meal. I want the original.

Years ago I searched far and low for the original recipe for the Sky-Vue Chihuahua, but I keep finding different variations of the formula I know and love.

The recipe I found the most consistency.

Chihuahua Sandwich

- Yields one
- Two corn tostada shells
- 2 Tbsp. chopped onions
- 1 cup shredded cabbage
- 1/2 cup chili, no beans
- 1/2 cup pimiento cheese spread
- Warm chili in a saucer or microwave. Spread chili on one tostada shell. Top with onions and cabbage. Spread pimiento cheese on the other tostada shell. Put shells together and serve.

The recipe I make is very different, so it's like a Chihuahua but nowhere near a sandwich. Basically, it gives me a reason to eat a lot of pimiento cheese and feel alright about it.

Nikki's Chihuahua's

- One chopped onion
- One cabbage, shredded
- Two/three pounds ground beef
- One 16 ounce bottle medium Taco sauce
- One package enchilada seasoning
- One can bean-less chili
- 12 ounces pimiento cheese
- 12 ounces sour cream
- Tabasco sauce
- First, I make the Pimiento Cheese spread. I take one 12 ounce container of pimento cheese and mix it with one 12 ounce container of sour cream. I add a few dashes of Tabasco sauce and a few tablespoons of taco sauce. Refrigerate.

Then I take two pounds of hamburger and brown it (drain). I add one package of enchilada seasoning; one can of bean-less chili and the remaining 16-ounce bottle of medium taco sauce. Let simmer.

Take corn tostada shells and fry them in oil for just a few seconds until extra crispy.

The way I eat Chihuahua's is to drop one shell on my plate, pour the meat mixture over it, some chopped onion, and shredded cabbage. Then I cover it in the pimiento mixture and a few more dashes of Tabasco sauce. I love to have about 3/4 pimiento cheese mixture to 1/4 meat, but I am a massive fan of the pimiento cheese mix.

This is a very different recipe than the classic and even more diverse than my Aunt's recipe. Mine isn't as good as hers, but I'll never share her secrets.

I feel like I need to scream, "HEAR ME OUT, GUYS! THIS IS REALLY GOOD!" So, hear me out guys, this is REALLY good!

If you dare try this, let me know if you like it. If not, trust me, you're missing out on something magical. Now I think I'll go heat up what I have left and gorge myself.

Stay safe.

Carol Gentry

Carol Gentry, 78, of alls City passed away on May 9, 2020 in Hiawatha, KS.

She was born on September 5, 1941 in Rulo, NE to Ralph and Alida (Roberts) Goolsby.

She married Donald Lee Gentry on May 22, 1960 at Rulo. He passed away December 25, 1993.

Carol was raised at Rulo and graduated Reserve High School in 1959. When married the couple established their home in Falls City. She started working for Community Action, which became Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) and she was the program director for many years until she retired in 2006. She was also her husband's primary caretaker and he became disabled and was very family oriented.

She had attended Trinity Methodist Church at Rulo and was a member of the Falls City Volunteer Ambulance Squad.

She is survived by sons: Don

"Pud" Gentry of St. Joseph, MO, Michael Gentry of Falls City, Steven Gentry of Shawnee, KS, Bryan Gentry of Kansas City, KS; seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her parents, husband, sisters, Jo Vogt and Phyllis Idol.

Her funeral will be held on Saturday, May 16, 2020 at 10:30 AM at Dorr and Clark Funeral Home with Reverend Young Je Kim officiating. Interment will be in Rulo Cemetery.

Open visitation and viewing will begin Thursday afternoon. Please bring for your own pen for sanitary purposes.

John Picton

John Vernon Picton, 78, of Falls City, died May 7, 2020, at a Kansas City, Missouri Hospice. He was born on the family farm near Hamlin, Kansas, one of two children born to the late Everett and Ruth (Hinton) Picton. John attended country school near Hamlin prior to graduating from Morrill High School in 1959.

John married Wylene (Fritz) Picton. To this union, a daughter Carol was born before Wylene and John divorced. He later married Rose (Ivey), which ended in divorce as well.

John was a true patriot and enlisted with the U. S. Navy in 1963, discharged at the rank of AMS3 in 1967, after serving during the Vietnam War aboard the USS Kittyhawk aircraft carrier. After the Navy, he attended school to study metal fabrication and was later employed for McDonald Douglas in St. Louis, MO, before returning to the Richardson County, Nebraska. He then started Picton's Body Shop, which he operated for several years before selling and starting work for Flair Fold Manufacturing in Hiawatha. John worked there a number of years until it closed and took employment with Armstrong Cabinet Factory in Auburn, Nebraska, to work there until he retired.

Survivors include his daughter Carol Vroom (William) of Gower, MO, a sister Eleanor Stover of Sabetha Kansas; two grandchildren: Jessica (Picton) Scott (Jake), and Cody Beckner; great-grandson Collyn Scott, all from Falls City; step-great-granddaughter Ali Ivey; aunt, Mildred Appleoff-Marsh of Falls City, and multiple cousins.

John was preceded in death by his parents.

Private family graveside services were held on Tuesday, May 12, at the Hamlin Cemetery. Pastor Charles Musil will officiated with military honors courtesy of the Falls City Ceremonial Unit.

Memorial contributions are suggested to the Alzheimer's Association sent in care of the funeral home, 124 S 7th St., Hiawatha 66434.

Due to the critical situation our country is in, please remember the family during this difficult time. Consider sending a card or a note on our web site www.chapelofkansasfuneralhome.com

Mayor and City administrator update Council on COVID-19

By Charlie Radatz

The only action item on the agenda for the Mon., Apr. 4, City Council meeting was the Consent Agenda that includes minutes from the previous meeting, agenda approval, and approval of claims which won unanimous approval.

City Administrator Gary Jorn reported that sewer and water service is being extended to the new Champions Crossing residential subdivision and that pre-construction conferences are being held on street paving. Administrator Jorn reported that a draft traffic study has been prepared for the north commercial corridor that will involve extension of 33rd Street from the Community Medical Center into the new commercial area allowing access from U.S. Highway 73. Jorn said a Tax Increment Finance Attorney is being consulted regarding a potential development. He also reported that the Falls City Mercantile TIF project should be advancing to the Council for consideration on May 18th.

Nick Aitken completes

Police Training

Administrator Jorn reported that Nick Aitken has completed police officer training and his addition will bring the police department to its full authorized strength. He reported Keith Adams was hired to fill a vacancy in the street department created when Travis Keller transferred from the street to the gas department. Two part time summer helpers were also hired to assist the gas and cemetery departments during the summer.

City Offices reopen May 18

Mayor Shawna Bindle reminded citizens that the City office and all city-owned facilities will remain closed through May 15th. "This allows ample time," Mrs. Bindle said, "for city staff to put into place safeguards for staff and the public. The City office will open on May 18th and will return to its regular hours of work from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m."

For answers to questions you might have, call the City Office at (402) 245-2581 or the Falls City Utility Office at (402) 245-2724.

Simple and fun crafts to keep kids entertained

(StatePoint) Keeping children content and occupied isn't always an easy task -- especially with more and more days being spent at home. As parents and caregivers, it can also be challenging to come up with creative solutions and fun projects that differ each day. However, even if you lack crafting abilities, you can still inspire your kids and help them stretch their creative muscles with items commonly found right at home, including scissors, straws, rulers and duct tape.

In an effort to keep your kids entertained on those rainy, "I'm bored," or just need something to do days, Duck Tape Brand Duct Tape offers several ideas for kids of all ages to engage in crafting fun -- from teens to toddlers. And, Duck Tape keeps messes at bay since no glue, glitter or markers are needed.

1. Flower Power. Bring the garden inside with Duck Tape roses -- no watering required! Creating these roses will get your kids excited for the new season ahead and test their measuring and counting skills as they pull together a colorful bouquet. Plus, these flowers make great gifts!

2. Luck of the Draw. Are your kids having a day where everything you suggest sounds unappealing? Help them avoid boredom with a popsicle stick activity jar. Work together to identify fun activities and write each down on a popsicle stick. Let your kids add colorful designs to the sticks and place them in a jar. Next time your family is feeling less than inspired during playtime, bust out the activity jar and leave it to the sticks to decide.

3. Home-Schooled Fun. With most children adjusting to remote learning during this time, it's important to provide a space where they feel inspired to learn. One great way to do this is to designate a work station where each kid can house favorite supplies and personalize it with a few decorations -- just as they do at school. Let kids create their own desk organizers with a few items you likely already have on hand, such as Duck Tape, scissors, and empty paper rolls or cereal boxes. Once all the supplies are gathered, all they need to do is wrap the paper rolls and boxes in the tape design of their choosing. Next, designate each container to hold pencils, markers and important homework. Not only will your kids take pride in their new creations, you'll enjoy not having to search for missing papers each morning.

4. Creative Reading. Help keep reading fun by letting kids create their own custom bookmarks. This easy, DIY project is perfect for beginners, since all the crafter needs to do is cut the tape and fold it over card stock for a one-of-a-kind design.

For more inspiration and craft instructions, visit Duck-Brand.com.

By providing a little creative inspiration, you can help your kids spark their imaginations and have them on their way to creating their next masterpiece. Plus, these crafts are easy enough that you can end the day proud of your Pinterest-worthy parenting.

Ready for Robots?

Can You Figure it Out?

Check out my robot! Can you fill in the number where he has:

1. connect his eyes
2. feet for moving from stick to pulley
3. a computer screen, gears for ripper
4. a battery, wheels, a motor, a motor and a switch
5. a microphone for him to pick up sound
6. a backpack for "loading"

Beep!...Identify These Robots

Here are some favorite and famous robots from cartoons, TV, and real life! Can you match each one to its definition?

1. Baymax	A. robot dog that can talk, hear and recognize you
2. Marge's "Cuddly" bear	B. cordless robot that you can build and program yourself
3. Astro (robot)	C. humanoid robot by "San Francisco" who makes a lot of noise to ASK for the boy
4. Glen the WeeWee!	D. six-wheeled robot that helps NASA explore space and complete its science mission
5. Microbot (by X-Box)	E. robot that he played Cocomon that can take the check of your grandparents
6. The RoboBee	F. well-known and talking robot, can collect items or serve you drinks

Is There A Robot in Your House?

A simple "robot" is an automatic machine that will complete an action, such as if it becomes even and full. Follow the color key to see a "robot" that people use to vacuum!

Color Key:
 B = Bright Blue
 F = Dark Blue
 G = Green
 LK = Light Gray
 W = White
 Y = Yellow

Defendants.

You and each of you are hereby notified that on the 10th day of February, 2020, the County of Richardson, a political subdivision of the State of Nebraska, as Plaintiff, filed its Petition in the District Court of Richardson County, Nebraska, against you and each of you and others; the hope and prayer of said Petition being to foreclose tax sale certificates and subsequent taxes on the above described real estate and that an accounting be had by the Court of the amount due the Plaintiff from the Defendants in the several and separate causes of action therein and that in default of the payment of such sums to be found due the Plaintiff, within twenty days from the entry of the decree therein, said separate and several parcels of real estate described therein be sold as upon execution, as provided by law, to satisfy the separate and several liens against said real estate and that out of the proceeds of said sale, Plaintiff be paid the sum found to be due and owing, with interest and attorney's fee, to be taxed as costs, together with the costs of this action; that the right, title, interest, lien and claim of the Defendants and each of them be determined, found and decreed to be subsequent, junior, and inferior to the liens of this Plaintiff; that the purchaser of each of said premises at said sale be put in possession thereof; that the Defendants, and each of them, be foreclosed of all right, title, interest, lien, and equity of redemption in and to said real estate and for such other and further relief as may be just and equitable in the premises.

the Defendants and each of them be determined, found and decreed to be subsequent, junior, and inferior to the liens of this Plaintiff; that the purchaser of each of said premises at said sale be put in possession thereof; that the Defendants, and each of them, be foreclosed of all right, title, interest, lien, and equity of redemption in and to said real estate and for such other and further relief as may be just and equitable in the premises.

You are required to answer said Petition on or before the 29th day of June, 2020.

MUSTANGS FALL ONE GAME SHORT OF TITLE

(Continued from Page 7) three grabs for 73 yards and two TDs. Reimers led the ground attack with 20 carries for 121 yards, and Shawn Krienhop had 12 tackles on defense.

Round Two of Playoffs
Gossman heroics put Mustangs in final four, was the headline in the following week's paper. David Gossman did it all, finishing the game with 256 yards on 21 carries and two TDs. He also had a 74-yard kickoff return for a score, two interceptions, and a fumble recovery as the Mustangs survived to beat the Friend Bulldogs 42-40 to advance to the semifinals. Friend led 16-14 after the first quarter and still hung on to a 40-36 heading into the fourth period. The Mustangs drove 65 yards, capping off the drive with a two-yard TD run by Haveman with 3:24 to play to give SE the two-point win. Friend wasn't done yet, driving down the field, but Krienhop sealed the win with a pick at the Mustang four-yard line. SE was able to run out the clock and preserve the win.

In the first quarter, the Mustangs scored with 7:14 on the clock when Haveman found Jacobitz for a 30-yard touchdown. A 60-yard run by Gossman set up a one-yard TD by Haveman to give SE a 14-8 lead. After a score in the second quarter, the Bulldogs took the lead, but :14 later, Gossman struck again, covering 65 yards to give the Mustangs a 22-20 lead with 8:25 to play in the half.

In the third quarter, the Mustangs retook the lead on a 30-yard Gossman TD run. Ben Stanley ran the two-point conversion to make it 36-32. Haveman finished just 3-15 passing but ran for 31 yards and two TDs. The Mustangs improved to 10-1.

Third Round of Playoffs
In the third-round game, the Mustangs took on Dodge, with the winner moving on to the state championship. On a cold, wet night in Stella, the Mustang's dream season game to an end. Dodge scored on all six of their second-half possession, scoring 32 straight points for the 54-26 win.

Dodge scored the game's first points, but Haveman found Jacobitz on the ensuing drive to make it 8-6. After another Dodge TD, Haveman and Company went back to work. The Mustangs drove 55-yards in three minutes ending with a 10-yard TD scramble by Haveman. Then trailing by four with one minute to play in the half, Gossman took a punt 70-yards for a TD to give SE momentum and the lead, 18-16 at the half.

The Mustangs had back to back TD's called back in the third period due to penalties and seemingly lost all momentum. A 50-yard Gossman run, followed by a 50-yard pass both were for naught, as penalties wiped out both plays. Dodge went on to score six straight TD's. With 7:15 to play in the game, Reimers scurried 33-yards for the final Mustang score of the night.

Gossman finished the game with 13 carries for 43 yards. Reimers, coming back from injury, added 47 yards on just four touches, and Haveman completed 5-14 passes for 98 yards, a TD, and an INT. Cory Eickmeier of Dodge had 203 yards rushing on 23 carries. Dodge went on to win the Class D1 state title the following week.

"Father's Homework"
May 7, 1960
"I was a real nothing in algebra," confessed artist John Falter, whose fathering fathers on our cover seem to prove that more than one pop has been lost in a forest of co-ordinate axes, cosines and polynomials. We could lecture for hours on the high price of fatherhood, and why Johnny will never learn to read if he lets someone else do his homework. Unfortunately, we must get on to the algebraic agony at hand. Question: If one furrow-browed father spends x hours failing to solve the quadratic equations of one boy, how long would it take two furrow-browed fathers to fail to solve the quadratic equations of two boys? Answer: x hours, plus however long the fathers talk on the telephone. It takes longer, of course, if one of the boys is wearing a smit.
