Global warming is controversial for many but there has been absolutely nothing controversial about Richardson County warming the past several days.

Salary hikes for elected officials

During their Tuesday, Jan. 7, meeting, the Richardson County Commissioners established, through resolution, the new salaries for elected officials and their deputies for 2015-2018.

The resolution was adopted unanimously by Commissioners Dave Sickel, Jim Davidson and Jim Standerford.

For 2015, the elected County Clerk, County Treasurer, County Assessor and Clerk of the District Court will earn salaries of $47,750, with increases of $1,500 each year through 2018. Office deputies will receive 75 percent of those officials' salaries. The County Clerk will also earn $3,000 annually as Election Commissioner, and $2,000 each year as the budget making authority.

The 2015 salary for the Richardson County Sheriff will be $55,950, also with a $1,500 in-

Falls City EDGE adds 75 new members in 2013

Falls City EDGE, southeast Nebraska's economic development engine, held its annual banquet Wednesday evening at the local Elks Club. During the evening, Charlie Radatz, chairman of the Investor & Community Relations Committee, presented the 2013 EDGE "Investor of the Year" acknowledgements.

Radatz said his committee has, in many ways, "functioned as two committees with very inter-related functions. We have had a very energetic group of individuals who served on our Investor Recruitment team and assumed the responsibility of recruiting new and retaining existing investors."

Those efforts, said Radatz, resulted in 75 new investors and $24,299 in new investment in 2013. The number of member investors expanded to 161, he said.

"Tonight we honor a company that has made one of the largest investments in our community by a single business that I have seen in the 32 years I have resided in this community," said Radatz, as well as "two leaders of what we are proud to say is our number one industry in Richardson County, namely agriculture."

The company honored was Consolidated Grain and Barge. Radatz pointed to the process that brought CGB, the rail grain-handling facility, to Falls City. He cited EDGE Executive Director Beckie Cromer, who was contacted and "provided the company the assistance they needed in working with local landowners and government officials to make location of the facility in Falls City both physically and economically possible and practical."

As a result, CGB invested $25 million in a development completed in the fall of 2013. Area businesses benefited to the tune of $1.5 to $2 million in contracts. More than 25 local businesses provided good and services during CGB construction. Twelve full-time jobs were created, Radatz said, and Falls City "has quickly become a new destination for farmers and elevators from a much larger area to market their grain at competitive prices, not 60 and 100 miles down the road but close to where it was raised."

Radatz said CGB is not just a "passive investor," but is active in the community. "They immediately recognized the importance of EDGE in forging the future of our community and they joined our ranks as a $5,000 Visionary Investor and are providing leadership on our EDGE Board of Directors," he said. CGB has also supported community organizations, including Falls City Recreation.

Two new farmer members, Jerry Duerfeldt and Andy Dunn, were saluted. Their support is "most essential to the success of our community," said Radatz.

"Jerry and Andy understood how producers would benefit from having a nearby unit-train facility bidding for the grain they produce," Radatz said. "While not city residents themselves, they explained to city officials

Father, son bring thieves to their knees

By Jason Schock

A group of would-be burglars went from emboldened to blubbering in the span of a skipped heartbeat when their coveting eyes switched focus from a homeowners' stuff to the barrel of his gun Friday afternoon at a farmhouse near Verdon.

Richardson County Sheriff Randy Houser Friday at 1:22 p.m. responded to a 911 call where there was an open line but no response, aside from a steady chorus of sobbing. It was 20 minutes or so after Sheriff's Investigator Roland Merwin had been dispatched to 64671 713 Road near Verdon to a report of burglary at the property of Phillip Doerr.

It was quickly determined that Houser and Merwin were traveling to the same destination. And when they arrived, they found their work was largely done. Three subjects — 29-year-old Brandon Kopf, Diedra Kirkendall, 26, and Amber Barr, 30 — were prone on the ground, held at gunpoint by Doerr, crying out loud and over the airwaves.

According to an arrest affidavit filed in County Court Mon-

FROM THE COMMUNICATIONS OFFICE OF
GOVERNOR DAVE HEINEMAN
 WWW.GOVERNOR.NEBRASKA.GOV

Dear Fellow Nebraskans:

Nebraska consistently has one of the lowest unemployment rates in the nation. Many state agencies work hard help ensure that Nebraska remains competitive in workforce recruitment and retention. One of those agencies is the Nebraska Department of Labor.

Cathy Lang serves as both Commissioner of Labor and Director of the Department of Economic Development. These departments collaborate to promote business growth and a healthy economy. Both agencies work to build Nebraska's talent pool to meet the needs of business and industry.

The mission of the Department of Labor is to develop a quality workforce through dynamic and collaborative partnerships, employment services, training, education, temporary income continuation, safety-related programs and labor market information.

There are over 400 employees within the Department of Labor. In addition to the administrative office and the Nebraska Claims Center in Lincoln, employees are located in 15 job centers and offices throughout the state. These locations offer a full range of services, including help with resume writing and interview preparation, job skills training, job referrals, financial aid, career counseling and veterans services.

The Department of Labor has many locations where Nebraskans can access services, including online services and access points through collaborative partnerships with community colleges, libraries, and community foundations. The department's job site, NEworks.nebraska.gov, allows employers to recruit the talent and skills they're seeking, with nearly 34,000 job openings posted. More than 22,000 searchable resumes are accessible on the site as well as information on job fairs and career growth opportunities.

The Department of Labor also administers the unemployment insurance benefits and tax programs. The staff works diligently to ensure that benefits are paid to those who qualify.

The department systematically collects and analyzes labor market data which describes and predicts the relationship between labor demand and supply. This analysis provides information on growing industries and occupations, changing skill requirements, occupational wages, labor market demographics, graduate outcomes and industry layoffs and closings. Labor market information is provided to the public on a regular basis through the website, news releases and online publications such as INFOlink and Nebraska Workforce Trends.

Additionally, the department works with the public and businesses to ensure compliance with labor laws and workplace regulations. Wage complaints can also be filed through the Department website.

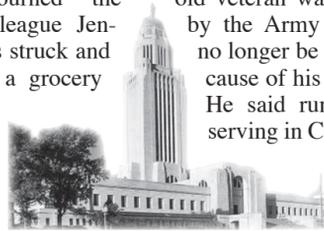

These are just some of the functions of the Nebraska Department of Labor. I invite you to learn more by logging on to dol.nebraska.gov.

Lawmakers mourn a colleague; Ernie defends big cats

Capitol View

Catching up on a few things. Lawmakers mourned the loss of former colleague Jennie Robak, who was struck and killed by a car in a grocery store parking lot in Lincoln. The 81-year-old Robak represented the Columbus area from 1989 to 2003. The feisty Democrat was the mother of six children, including former Lieutenant Governor Kim Robak who presided over the Legislature for six years while her mother was a state senator.

Jennie Robak was interested in mental health issues, said former state Sen. DiAnna Schimek of Lincoln. Schimek remembered Robak as somebody you could count on. She had a good heart, cared about issues and was a happy person, she said. The two women were elected in the same class and began serving in 1989.

Veteran lawmaker Ernie Chambers has long listed his occupation as "Defender of the Downtrodden." This year he is stepping forward as the defender of the Mountain Lion. The big cats are native to Nebraska but were wiped out by early settlers and essentially vanished after 1890. The next sighting wasn't until 1991 in Sioux County, in the upper northwest corner of the Panhandle. Wildlife experts say the cats have a breeding population of about 22 today.

Chambers is offering a bill to repeal the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission's authority to set a hunting season on mountain lions and has also vowed to fight every bill and issue in which the commission has a stake. He said the people who go after the cats are killers, not hunters, because they use dogs to chase the animals until they are exhausted and easy prey. That's not hunting, he said, that's slaughter. He has vowed to avenge the deaths of two young male cats that were shot and killed during January's hunting season. The two hunters, who won their permits in a lottery, said the senator is entitled to his opinion. Unbeknownst to them, killing a mountain lion is likely easier than killing Chamber's passion for the issue.

Speaking of Chambers, he has another colleague running for higher office to pick on. State Senator Amanda McGill of Lincoln is running for the Democratic nomination to be state Auditor. Current Auditor Mike Foley, a former state senator, is one of six people in the hunt for the Republican nomination for the Auditor seat. McGill and Pirsch are both term-limited in the Legislature. The race marks the first time in 16 years that the incumbent auditor hasn't sought another term.

Third District Representative Adrian Smith of Gering has competition for the Republican nomination from retired Army Col. Tom Brewer. The 55-year-old veteran was recently told by the Army that he could no longer be active duty because of his many wounds. He said running for, and serving in Congress, would allow him to continue giving back to the country.

Brewer is a member of the Oglala Sioux tribe and grew up on the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation in South Dakota. He has lived in Murdock, which is part of the 1st District, for more than a decade. He said he is moving to Gordon in the 3rd District where he has owned a home for many years. Hey, Tom Osborne did it with a cabin at Lake McConaughy and a boyhood home in Hastings.

The challenger admits that Smith has the advantage of name recognition and a sizeable campaign fund, but says he still has a clear agenda for Congress, if by chance he gets elected. Brewer says he wants to focus on veteran's issues, stop the run away budget and stop terrorism in Afghanistan.

SPACE FOR ARGUMENT

By Craig R. Christiansen, Executive Director
Nebraska State Education Association

Something is disappearing in our society. The loss cripples Congress, politicizes the news, eviscerates logic and intellectual content from much of editorial writing, and has become the default atmosphere of talk radio and TV commentary programs. Against this backdrop it may seem ironic to suggest that what is in danger of vanishing is public argument. We are overwhelmed by the volume of argument in public, but we are losing public argument — the ability and space for the expression of civil and respectful differences of perspective or opinion on public issues.

Civil argument is the stuff of a functioning democracy. It is the basis for constructive engagement by those who share common interests and beliefs in the basic principles of our democratic society... and different opinions about the real policy options. It is this public discussion and argument that shapes good policy and political decisions and it is disappearing. The danger is that we may be re-creating this same kind of dysfunction in our local public spaces. So, what is the solution?

Respectful Discussion

We must work to preserve civil discussion in our own lives and workplaces. In the school setting, teachers, school administrators, and school board members can certainly attack, disparage, and criticize each other, but the reality is that the next day teachers will return to teach, administrators will manage the schools, and school board members will face new policy decisions — all working towards their fundamental belief in the mission and value of public education. Voicing tired assumptions that management is the enemy of the employees, employees are fundamentally self-interested shirkers, or that policy-makers are uninformed amateurs is not only wearisome and pointless, it masks the common ground shared by all three roles that could be used to build productive relationships and improved policy.

The challenge is to find and build upon the foundation of common interests and to respect the differences in how those interests are viewed and understood. This does not mean a reduction in argument or discussion. It means a shift to respectful discussion that is intended to result in a material improvement in public policy and decision-making.

As the Executive Director of the teachers' union, the Nebraska State Education Association, I work almost daily with my colleagues in public school management and governance. Many people may believe that the labor-management relationship is inherently contentious and conflictual. I disagree. We could certainly emulate the national situation in which there is a continuing loss of public space for civil discussion. We could also take rigid positional stands that prevent anything but a back-and-forth trade of ideological attacks against the other's position. Instead, my colleagues and I challenge ourselves to work to preserve the space for the kind of argument and inquisitive discussion that moves us to find a common ground for our fundamentally shared interests.

The Shaking of Hands

When I meet with the Executive Directors of the Nebraska Council of School Administrators and the Nebraska Association of School Boards, we always...always...begin our meetings by shaking hands. We are friends as well as professional colleagues. The handshake symbolically reminds us of that. Yes, we almost always engage in argument. We have different perspectives, different experiences, different roles, and represent different constituencies. But we also go to our respective offices each day and work towards the same fundamental goals and mission.

Our associations have not always had this kind of collegial connection. It takes work and intention to sustain a successful and productive relationship between the three associations. We do argue about the specifics of policy directions, but we never make personal attacks or make general, ideological arguments. And we end our arguments as friends with a handshake. I invite teachers, school administrators, and school board members in Nebraska to work to make this happen in every community. It is in our common...and best...interest.

Sez 'I' 'WTH, EPA?!?!'

What's with the Environmental Protection Agency? The EPA is proposing to gut the Renewable Fuels Standard (RFS) and cut back on the amount of ethanol in our nation's fuel supply by 1.4 billion gallons!

The RFS is one of the most successful federal initiatives in recent history. It has done exactly what it was designed to do: reduce our reliance on imported oil, re-energize our rural economy, lower fuel prices, increase choices at the pump, improve air quality and create jobs.

And now EPA wants to cut back on our nation's commitment to renewable fuels?!

While it's true that corn farmers have seen the benefits of a robust ethanol industry, so has virtually every sector of our state. Local governments have seen higher tax revenues. Main street businesses have seen more customers. New, good-paying jobs have been created in rural areas of our state. We've seen lower prices and more choices at the pump. We've seen young people return to the farm and rural communities.

Continuing our nation's commitment to a diverse and domestic fuel supply is good for all Americans. It's good for our economy, our energy security, our environment, our rural communities, and American agriculture.

Reducing the amount of ethanol in our fuel supply is good for one group—the oil industry.

EPA is accepting public comment on its misguided proposal until Jan. 28, 2014. If you have seen the benefits of a strong ag economy in your community, your business or your farming operation, you need to weigh in—and do it today.

You can send your comment directly to EPA by visiting NebraskaCorn.org.

Sincerely,

David Bruntz
District 1 Director
Nebraska Corn Board

Frigid temps Jan. 6 leads to all-time peak for electricity

Frigid temperatures helped drive up Nebraskans' energy use on Jan. 6, causing the Nebraska Public Power District to set a likely new all time-winter peak for generating electricity.

Between the hour of 7 and 8 a.m. that Monday, as people readied a Monday morning back to school or work, NPPD generated an estimated 2,256 megawatts of electricity to meet customers' demand. The utility's previous all-time winter peak was 2,219 megawatts set in December of 2009.

"NPPD was able to meet this highest level of demand, in part, due to our steady and stable supply of power generated by our nuclear and coal-fired facilities," said President & CEO Pat Pope. "But the wind also worked in our favor yesterday, contributing more than 216 megawatts for NPPD during the time of peak demand."

NPPD also has hydropower resources and a natural gas, combined-cycle plant, however, due to widespread extreme cold and the high demand for natural gas for home heating and other purposes, NPPD did not operate its natural gas generation because the fuel costs were up more than 300 percent over typical prices.

Vonderschmidt-Seeba wedding in June

Mr. and Mrs. John Vonderschmidt are proud to announce the engagement of their daughter, Amanda Marie Vonderschmidt, to Alex Brandon Seeba, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Seeba.

A June wedding is planned at the Sts. Peter and Paul Catholic Church in Falls City.

The staff and administration of Falls City High School have announced the selections for December High School Students of the Month, from left: Jordy Stoller, junior son of Mike and Joleen Stoller; Madison Olberding, senior daughter of Pat and Teresa Olberding; Peyton Campbell, freshman daughter of Jason and Ivy Campbell; and Kyle Leafy, freshman son of Jackie Leafy. The students were nominated by high school staff on their academic achievements, attitude, classroom contributions and work ethic. Each of the students was praised in nomination comments for "academic excellence, going above and beyond what was asked of them, their helpfulness, and their leadership, and serving as excellent role models for their peers," according to high school principal Gale Dunkhas.

Adjusting to cold; the body has answers

By Michael Huckabee, Ph.D., professor and director of the University of Nebraska Medical Center Division of Physician Assistant Education. Dr. Huckabee has 30 years' experience as a physician assistant, mostly in rural Nebraska.

Is Jack Frost Nipping?

While everyone layers up for the cold snap, the human body turns on amazing features to adjust as well. The initial response to whole body cold exposure begins with constriction of the blood vessels across the skin. This conserves heat for the body's vital organs that would otherwise be lost through the skin. Because our fingers and toes are mostly skin, this may leave them deprived of sufficient blood flow and oxygen so localized blood vessels periodically dilate to flush the extremities.

Chattering teeth.

A person may suddenly need to fidget and move around, which stimulates blood flow and heat. Or the body will involuntarily shiver, those rhythmic muscle contractions usually beginning across the torso and spreading from there. While this can warm the body, it requires more oxygen in the muscles, demanding more blood flow, which causes more shivering in a conflicting cycle.

What's too cold?

Hypothermia occurs when the temperature of the body's core falls below 95 F, about 3.5 degrees F below the normal body temperature. In mild cases, the person will shiver and be apathetic, but more pronounced hypothermia results in confused behavior, slurred speech and sleepiness. Then the heart starts to beat more slowly and irregularly, which may lead to a life-threatening event. Resuscitation has been successful even with the core temperatures at 56.6 F with no perceptible signs of life. Life-saving measures are recommended for anyone appearing lifeless until their core temperature is rewarmed, hence the saying, "a person is not dead until they are warm and dead."

Benefits of fat.

Persons with increased subcutaneous fat are better able to conserve their core body temperature than slim body frames due to the added insulation. Treading lightly here, women are at an advantage as they naturally have a thicker layer of subcutaneous fat. Women generally have a greater body surface area than men, leading to greater heat loss and this need for a little extra protection.

The ideal layers.

Three layers of clothing are recommended. The inner layer next to skin should be lightweight polyester that does not readily hold moisture. Materials that wick sweat to the outer layers for evaporation are best. The middle layer should be fleece or wool for insulation, and the outer layer should be material that repels the wind and rain while allowing evaporation. Heat loss from the head alone can lose up to 50 percent of total resting heat production. Knit caps can substantially reduce the chill. Headbands warm the ears but do not prevent heat loss across the scalp.

Don't get bit.

Frostbite is felt as numbness in exposed skin such as the nose, ears, cheeks or wrists but may also occur in covered fingers and toes because of the vasoconstriction that occurs. When the ambient temperature is around -18 F, frostbite can occur in 30 minutes or less in exposed skin. Quick rewarming is typically recommended (such as placing the extremity in lukewarm water), though this is often accompanied by significant pain and your clinician should be contacted. When the frozen part warms up, local inflammation occurs that can lead to microscopic clotting of the blood in the small capillaries of the bloodstream. This can block blood flow and still result in the death of the thawed tissue. Recently, the use of thrombolytic medications (clot-busters) injected into the arteries has been used successfully in small studies to minimize the risk of amputation.

ShillingBridge opening 2nd location

Mike and Sharon Schilling of SchillingBridge Winery & Microbrewery in Pawnee City, last week announced the plans to open a second location in the Fallbrook Development in Lincoln.

575 Fallbrook Blvd. Suite 109 will soon be home to SchillingBridge Cork & Tap House.

"This is a completely new concept," Mike Schilling said, "and of course that fits us because of our definite out of the box track record that people are accustomed to - everyone will be so excited when they see this new place."

With an expected opening of May 2014, SchillingBridge Cork & Tap House will offer their Nebraska-produced wine, hand-crafted microbrews, signature cocktails, and will also incorporate innovative preparations to infuse SchillingBridge wine and beers in their lunch, dinner and after-hours menu offerings. It plans to be quickly distinguished as Nebraska's hottest destination dining spot for all of their loyal customers as well as to attract new wine and beer lovers- from the connoisseur to the curious, and provide all with the small-town friendly atmosphere that SchillingBridge's Pawnee City location is famous for.

"Our Pawnee City location will remain open" stated Schilling. "We are ecstatic to have this opportunity to be able to offer our large fan base a second location closer to those who live in the Lincoln/Omaha/Seward areas and to encourage those who have not visited the Pawnee City property to do so."

SchillingBridge opened its doors in Pawnee City on Nov. 25, 2005. It became the nation's first farm winery and microbrewery combination and has received a tremendous amount of recognition for their achievements in International and National wine competitions, as well as recognition for their entrepreneurial business skills, garnering the 2007 Nebraska Small Business of the Year award and the 2010 Nebraska Entrepreneur of the Year award.

The Richardson County Sheriff's Department is offering the public a chance to tour the county's jail. Tours of the Richardson County Jail will be offered on three Sunday afternoons this month and next – Jan. 19 and 26, and Feb. 2, from 1-5 p.m. each day.

Group tours will start every half-hour, with no reservations necessary.

Sheriff Randy Houser will be at the jail to answer questions and discuss features of the jail – which is the oldest operating jail in Nebraska. Sheriff Houser says they're offering the jail tours as a way to give people a chance to see the safety factors that have prompted discussion of a new jail.

County Commissioners are considering turning the Armory on the west edge of Falls City into a new jail and law enforcement center.

Sheriff Houser says the inmates will be taken to another location in the Courthouse during the open houses, so those who tour the jail won't come into contact with inmates. He also says an elevator is available in the Courthouse for those who have difficulty negotiating stairs.

Lady Tigers roar back at J-B, but come up short in OT

A determined Madison Olberding ignores the contact of at least three Lady Eagle defenders and pulls down an offensive rebound in the second half of the Lady Tigers 39-34 overtime loss at Johnson-Brock last Thursday. The Falls City High senior helped her team scratch-and-claw their way back into the ballgame after falling behind by six at halftime. Olberding finished with 10 rebounds, including six offensive boards – both team-highs – and scored eight points.

By Jim Langan

A slow start ultimately overshadowed Falls City High's third-quarter comeback last Thursday night, as the Lady Tigers fell in overtime, 39-34, at Johnson-Brock.

After trailing for nearly the entire second and third quarters, the Lady Tigers briefly captured a 20-19 lead with less than a minute to go in the third. Then, junior point guard Bailey Vrtiska scored her only two points of the contest on a six-foot jumper in the lane to put FC ahead 23-22 early in the fourth before the teams traded leads on a pair of three-point shots midway through the fourth.

J-B's Tori Rowe struck first with just over four minutes to play and put her team ahead, 25-23. Alyssa Frederick quickly answered on a three-ball from the left wing to put the Lady Tigers back in front, 26-25. Frederick, one of two freshmen seeing regular minutes for FC, hit again from deep in overtime – FC's only points in the extra session – and finished with a team-high 10 points.

FC increased their lead to 31-28 on a Libby Bauman two-pointer with 20 seconds left and it appeared the Lady Tiger might escape with a win.

J-B's Kendra Alberts had different ideas, though, and drained a rainbow, game-tying three-pointer from the left wing to tie it up with 8.6 seconds left. J-B went on to score eight of the 11 points in OT, including 6-of-11 at the free-throw line, to seal the victory.

FC managed just three made baskets from the floor in the first half, but kept pace with the Eagles and trailed by only six, 13-7, at the intermission.

The Lady Tigers edged J-B 12-8 in the third quarter and 12-10 in the fourth.

Senior Madison Olberding pulled down 10 rebounds – six offensive – to go with five steals, three assists and eight points to lead FC, while junior Sydney Armbruster scored eight, grabbed six boards, dished out five assists and swiped four steals.

Senior Brooke Scheitel, one of FC's top scorers, left in the third quarter after crashing hard to the floor and never returned.

FC, which entered the day shooting less than 30 percent from the floor and shy of 60 percent from the FT line, struggled again. FC finished 14 of 50 from the floor and 3-for-8 at the stripe. Although, J-B wasn't much better (30 percent on FG's), but hit 12 of 20 free throws.

FC built a nine-point halftime lead at Marysville, KS last Tuesday, but the hosts rallied in the second half en route to a 47-39 win. MHS held FC to three points in the third quarter and tallied 17 more points in the final 16 minutes.

FC was balanced scoring, as Scheitel and Sydney Armbruster totaled nine points each, while Frederick and Vrtiska each posted eight. FC finished 5-of-9 from behind the three-point line, but were again on the wrong end of a sizable free-throw advantage by their opponent. MHS finished 19-for-38 at the stripe, while FC was just 8-for-19.

FC, now 4-8, will look to get back on track tonight against winless Tri County (0-11) at Prichard Auditorium. It is the first time since February of 2001 that FC played at Prichard. FC and the Lady Trojans square off at 5:30 p.m., or immediately following the JV girl's game.

FC travels to Maryville, MO Friday night with hopes of avenging a one-point loss to the Spoofhounds at the LeBlond Holiday tournament and then host Elmwood-Murdock Saturday afternoon at the high school. Friday's game with Maryville is scheduled for 6 p.m. and Saturday's game will tip-off at approximately 2 p.m.

Scoring vs. J-B

FC – Olberding 8, Scheitel 3, Frederick 10, S. Armbruster 8, Vrtiska 2, Bauman 3.
J-B – Alberts 8, Rowe 11, E. Bohling 11, Newman 2, Dunekacke 1, J. Bohling 6.

TIGER BOYS' JV HOOPS

Falls City High's junior varsity boys picked up a pair of road victories last week to improve to 4-3 on the season. First, the Tigers handled Marysville, KS, 52-30, last Tuesday behind juniors Brenden Heckenlively and Zach Jordening, who scored 11 and 10 points, respectively. Freshman Kyle Leafy went off for 17 points as the Tigers overmatched Johnson-Brock, 52-30. The Tigers JV returns to the court tonight against Tri County at 4 at the high school.

Tigers reject Eagles upset bid

By Jim Langan

Falls City, freshly minted A ranked team in Class C1 by both the Lincoln Journal Star (No. 9) and Omaha World Herald (No. 8), proceeded with a "business as usual" approach in a pair of road wins last week, defeating Marysville, KS, 76-49, Tuesday night, then followed it up with a 66-37 beat down of over-matched Johnson-Brock Thursday night.

Tuesday's win over the Bulldogs proved most impressive, as FC added to a seven-point halftime lead by posting 26 points in the third, followed by a 19-8 advantage in the fourth. FC, now 11-1, shot nearly 70 percent from the floor (30-44), held a 23-11 advantage on the glass and turned it over only 10 times, while also forcing 20 turnovers.

"We came out and really got after them," said FCHS Head Coach Don Hogue. "They hadn't played since Dec. 21, so we thought they might be a little rusty and we weren't sure how their legs would be. We attacked them off the dribble and had a lot of easy layups, especially in the third quarter."

Hogue said his team shared the ball well and "by far" played their best 32 minutes of the season, which led to five players scoring in double figures.

FC junior Jack Hartman shot 7-for-9 from the floor and hit 4-of-5 FT's to lead all scorers with 18 points and five rebounds, while fellow junior Weston Witt knocked down all three of his long-range attempts and 6-of-10 shots overall on his way to 16 points. Senior Mitchell Harling was 6-for-7 from the floor and 4-for-4 at the stripe en route to 13 points, while senior Ryan Mount and junior Jordy Stoller each scored 10.

Harling paced four Tigers scoring in double digits Thursday in Johnson with 18 points, including a 4-for-7 effort from downtown. Stoller added 13 points (2-3 3-point shots), Hogue scored 12 on 6-of-9 FG's and Hartman scored 11 to go with nine boards and four assists – both team highs.

FC hosts Tri County (4-6) tonight at 7 in what will be the first game played at Prichard Auditorium by the Tigers since a February 2001 game against Ashland-Greenwood, one in which this once-was athlete and current sports reporter tallied 10 points and six assists in a 63-56 loss to Ashland-Greenwood.

Friday the Tigers are off to Maryville, MO for a 7:30 p.m. game, followed by a quick turnaround Saturday afternoon at 3:30 against visitors Elmwood-Murdock.

Scoring vs. J-B

FC – Stoller 13, Harling 18, Hartman 11, Witt 6, Jordening 2, Hogue 12, Stutheit 4.

Scoring vs. Marysville

FC – Stoller 10, Schawang 1, DiGiacomo 4, Harling 13, Hartman 18, Mount 10, Witt 16, Jordening 4.

Irish teams top seeds at MUDECAS

Boys' "A" Division teams a combined 63-20 this season and six enter week ranked.

By Jim Langan

One year ago, Falls City Sacred Heart Head Coach Doug Goltz stated that the MUDECAS tournament, held annually in Beatrice for the past 85 years, was tougher than the state tournament.

Goltz said that for a D2 school like SH – the smallest of the four classes represented in the four boys and girls brackets – the quality of depth from C1, C2, D1 and D2 would present a tougher slate of games than state.

There are certainly similarities 12 months later, as the Irish enter with nearly the same record at 11-1, compared to last season's 10-1 mark entering MUDECAS week. Again, their lone blemish came against C2 power, Freeman, who held off SH two weeks ago in Adams, 51-41.

The Irish, who came back from 16 points down to beat Freeman in the third-place game last year, earned the top seed this year, after playing from the No. 2 spot in 2013, but with a field this deep, Goltz knows rankings, seeds and any other numbers in front of the schools mean very little.

"Five or six different teams could have been the No. 1 seed this year," Goltz said. "It's very wide open this year. It comes down to who can put three good games together."

Goltz noted that five (SH included) of the eight "A" teams are in D2, and even more, are in the Irish's district – Lewiston (7-4), Parkview Christian (6-4), Sterling (9-2) and Exeter-Milligan (7-2).

Playing in SH's favor, one might say, is their 2-1 record this winter against "A" division foes, while only Freeman with their wins against SH and Johnson County Central can claim two wins against the field. Lourdes Central Catholic, 9-2 in Class C2 and currently ranked No. 8 by the Lincoln Journal Star and No. 9 by the Omaha World Herald, is 1-0 against the field with a 55-51 win over JCC; No. 8 and 9-ranked Sterling, is 0-1, having lost to SH; JCC (6-4, C1) is 0-2; Lewiston is 0-2, including a 59-48 home loss to SH and a 73-65 loss at LCC Friday.

SH tacked on a pair of road wins last week, the first coming Friday night at Diller-Odell. SH jumped on D-O, 19-7, in the first eight minutes behind a hot start from senior Colin Niemeyer, who hit 3-of-his-4 threes in the first period. D-O regrouped, however, as the Irish went cold and hit only two more attempts from long range over the game's final 24 minutes, in which D-O held a 29-27 advantage.

Niemeyer's 12 points were equaled by senior Matt Goltz, who also recorded a dozen points, while senior Chaz Dunn totaled one more than his Lady Irish look to defend MUDECAS title, but likely won't surprise anyone this go-round.

By Jim Langan

"Last year, MUDECAS week probably was the turning point of the year for us," said Sacred Heart Head Coach Luke Santo when asked about his team's somewhat surprising run to the 2013 "A" Division championship.

SH entered the tournament ranked ninth with an 11-3 record and the four seed, then rattled off three-straight wins over Diller-Odell, Sterling and Exeter-Milligan in the title game to take home the hardware. More importantly though, Santo said his girls started to believe in themselves.

"Going into that Sterling game, I think our girls thought that we were an O.K. team, but they didn't truly believe we could be a special team, and winning that game gave us a ton of confidence and helped us go on an 18-game winning streak."

SH rode the momentum of that week into a first-place finish in the Pioneer Conference tournament a few later and then to a third-place finish at state.

Santo and the top-ranked Lady Irish, who faced Diller-Odell (8-2, D2 No. 6, 4) for the second time in three nights last night in the opening round of the "A" Division, remain unblemished (Monday night's results were not yet available) at 11-0 and have been dominant through the first half of the season. SH's two wins last week – 44-35 at Diller-Odell Friday and 52-30 at Mound City, MO last Tuesday – appear to be tight games and for most teams they would be, but prior to the 12 and 9-point "close calls" last week, SH had defeated their previous nine opponents by an average of 29.8 points per game.

Santo's bunch has been dominant and he knows the rest of the teams – six of the other seven are ranked or listed as 'contenders' by the LJS or OWH – will be focused on upsetting them, but his girls will be up for the challenge.

"Our girls understand how important MUDECAS week is and love to compete in this tournament," Santo said. "So I expect us to play well. The bottom line is whoever wins it is going to have to put three great games together and beat three quality opponents."

A win last night and SH advanced to Thursday's 5:15 semifinal against either Freeman (8-3, C2 cont.) or Bruning-Davenport-Shickley (8-3, D1, cont.); the bottom of the bracket features Sterling (9-2, No. 4, 3) vs. Palmyra (6-4) in one half and Southern (8-2, C2, cont.) vs. Lourdes (9-2, D1, cont.) in the other half. Thursday's second semifinal is scheduled for 3:30 and the "A" Division championship game will tip-off at 8:45 Friday night. All games will be played at the City Auditorium in Beatrice.

classmates and finished with 13 points. Goltz grabbed nine boards, and Niemeyer (5 assists, 4 steals) and Dunn (5 assists, 3 steals) led the playmaking.

The Irish overmatched Mound City last Tuesday in Missouri to the tune of 52-19. After opening with a 20-9 first quarter, SH held MC to seven, two and one point in the final three frames. MC finished 6-for-32 from the floor, including 2-of-15 from the three-point line, while the Irish took advantage of numerous transition baskets and finished 22-for-46 from the floor. SH totaled 17 team assists and forced 20 MC turnovers.

Fiegenger led the scoring with 13 to go with seven rebounds, while Dunn tallied 11 points, seven boards, two steals and six assists. Junior Austin Malone hit 4-of-6 shots for nine points and led SH with four steals.

Perhaps not the two best primer games as the second and fourth-ranked Irish head into the gauntlet in Beatrice, but Goltz said he's seen his team make big strides and it would be a safe to assume, he'll hope for those 12 great quarters from his players this week.

"We have just as much a chance as anyone in the field to win it all," Goltz said. "We are steadily improving in all areas. Our defense has improved. We are starting to shoot the ball better."

And should things come together, what, ultimately will be the key to reaching Saturday's 8:45 p.m. championship?

"Four solid quarters in each game we play," said Goltz, adding, "One bad quarter is all it takes to end up with a loss with the field being so good this year." SH and Lewiston square off tonight at 7 at the City Auditorium in the first round, with Parkview and Exeter set to follow at 8:45. Freeman and Sterling kicked off the "A" Division games at 3:30 this afternoon and were followed by Lourdes and JCC at 5:15.

Thursday nights semifinals are set for 7 (FCSH/Lewiston against PC/E-M winner) and 8:45 (Free/Ster winner vs. Lourdes/JCC winner).

Scoring vs. D-O

Five Tigers medal at Ashland Invite

The Falls City High Wrestling team, eager to get back into competition after nearly a month break, performed well at last Friday's Ashland-Greenwood tournament, where five FC wrestlers medaled, highlighted by Jeremy Zimmerman's second-place finish.

Zimmerman, a junior at 285 pounds, won a major decision in the first round and reached the finals with a decision in the semifinals to set up his match with York's number three-ranked heavyweight, Ronald Trevino, in the finals where Trevino pinned Zimmerman.

FC senior Chase Thompson started the day with a first period pin at 182 pounds, but lost in the semifinals. Thompson earned a pair of decisions as he battled back through wrestlebacks to claim third place.

Freshman Brody Smith, at 106 pounds, notched his first podium appearance placing third with a strong performance in the wrestlebacks. Smith won an 8-2 decision over Arlington in the consolation finals and posted bonus points for the team with a pin over Yutan's Hinrichs in the consolation finals.

Fourth-seeded Morgen Valentine wrestled to a third-place finish at 138. The sophomore, who moved up from his 2013 state qualifying weight of 120 pounds, defeated the number two seed from A-G, 7-2, in the consolation finals.

Carter Hunzeker, a 170-pound freshman, battled well and rounded out the Tiger medalists with his fourth-place finish.

The Tigers will be in their first dual action of the season this Thursday in Sabetha, KS when they take on Sabetha and Maryville, MO beginning at 5:30 p.m. Saturday the Tigers return to Kansas for the Marysville Invitational which is slated for 9:30 a.m.

Prayer for Christian Unity

A Prayer for Christian Unity service will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 19, at the Good News Assembly of God, 601 Reavis. Ten pastors representing 13 area churches will participate.

The public is invited to attend.

The week of Jan. 18-25 will mark Prayer for Christian Unity this year, with the theme, "Has Christ Been Divided?" The theme was chosen by the churches of Canada and is based on Paul's provocative question in I Corinthians.

Canadians and Americans live in countries marked by diversity in language, culture and even climate, as well as diversity in the expression of Christian faith. Living with this diversity, but being faithful to Christ's desire for the unity of his disciples, led to the theme's selection.

I Corinthians also points to a way in which Christians can value and receive the gifts of others even now in the midst of divisions, and that is an encouragement in work for unity.

Big Red Recruiting Report

By Sean Stevens

(Falls City native and former staff writer for HuskerIllustrated.com and Rivals.com)

Losing a coach

NU defensive backs coach Terry Joseph accepted a position at Texas A&M, thus marking another search for a DB coach under Bo Pelini. Whoever is hired will become the fourth coach at the position in Pelini's seven seasons in Lincoln. Rumors flooded message boards with the most-mentioned name being former Husker player and coach Marvin Sanders. Sanders left Lincoln in 2010 for personal reasons, and has since coached at USC, Florida Atlantic and Loyola High School in Los Angeles, Calif.

At press time the position remained unfilled. It's important to move quickly, as the secondary positions are a high priority for this recruiting class. NU graduates Ciante Evans, Stanley Jean-Baptiste, Andrew Green and Mo Seisay, so playing time is available in 2014.

Adding to the Class

WR Jariah Tolbert (6-3/185) of New Orleans, La. became the 20th commitment in Nebraska's 2014 recruiting class, choosing NU over offers from Utah and Tulane. During his senior year, Tolbert caught 56 balls for 875 yards and 12 scores on one of the top-ranked teams in the nation. He reminds me of NU receivers Quincy Enunwa and Tariq Allen. After a redshirt year of strength and conditioning, he should provide a strong red zone target.

Official Visitor Report

With only three official visit weekends remaining until Signing Day, Nebraska sits at 20 commits with a target of 25-26 total pledges. One current commitment, DB Trai Mosely (5-10/171) of Pflugerville, Texas, is visiting TCU and possibly Oklahoma and Baylor. With the departure of Terry Joseph, Mosely may stay closer to home leaving six or seven openings in the class.

Jan. 17 weekend NU will host WR Glenn Irons (5-10/170) of New Orleans, La. and WR DeSean Blair (6-4/180) of Jacksonville, Fla., as well as DB Deion Hallmon (6-0/165) of Weston, Fla.

Irons is a teammate of Tolbert and LB commit Jaevon Walton (6-0/236), and their high school (Edna Karr HS) produces multiple D-I players annually. Having Tolbert and Walton onboard already improves the odds with Irons.

Tulane and LA-Lafayette have offered Irons, who returned nine kicks for TDs as a senior and also caught 60 passes for over 1,000 yards and 12 more scores. Nebraska is sitting well for a commitment here.

Blair committed to Louisville in April, but with head coach Charlie Strong taking the Texas job he's looking around. He will visit Louisville Jan. 24 after his trip to Lincoln, giving new coach Bobby Petrino's staff the last chance to keep him. With Tolbert committed and Irons likely to pledge also, there may not be room for Blair in Lincoln anyway.

Hallmon is a high priority at a position where NU needs to add two to three more players to this class. He has over 30 offers, including Clemson, Florida State, UCLA and Wisconsin. His only scheduled official visit is to Lincoln, and he's a former teammate of current NU redshirt DB Boaz Joseph.

Hallmon had a relationship with Terry Joseph as his recruiting coach. NU needs to emphasize the opportunity for early playing time and his history with Boaz Joseph to reel in Hallmon, and having a new DB coach on hand could be critical.

Jan. 24 weekend will be even bigger for NU, as they host OT Kenyon Frison (6-8/290) of West Valley City, Utah and OT Denzel Ward (6-9/320) of Chicago, RB Corey Avery (5-10/170) of Dallas and Taurus Phillips (5-9/175) of Beacon, NY.

Frison was a force during Semper-Fi all-star game practices. Although he's only played football for two years, his technique was solid and he dominated at times. Frison committed to Utah last February, but with OU, Arizona State and UCLA all offering, along with NU, he's open to options.

Ward is also weighing UCLA, along with Syracuse and S. Florida. He visited Purdue, but has eliminated them and is no longer considering offers from Florida, Ohio State and OU. He may visit Alabama if the Tide offers, but this will likely come down to NU and Syracuse and where Ward feels most comfortable.

Avery had scheduled a visit to Texas for Jan. 17, but with their coaching changes that trip is uncertain. LSU and Ohio State are also in the mix, though no trips are planned. Tim Beck and Ron Brown have done an excellent job recruiting the speedy star from Carter HS, who says he's looking for a good engineering program and the opportunity to play all over the offensive side of the ball. Nebraska's in good position here, especially if the Texas visit doesn't happen.

Phillips is yet to garner an offer from NU, and is thought to be a "fallback" option if Falcon, Co. athlete Kalen Ballage (6-2/216) and Avery don't choose Nebraska. Phillips came from off the radar to interest from Arkansas and N. Illinois after running for 117 yards on just eight carries in a post-season all-star game. That followed a senior year where he averaged a whopping 13.6 yards per carry while rushing for 1,074 yards. On film he shows tremendous burst and the ability go full speed through his cuts. Phillips also has the athleticism to play other positions (i.e. DB) if Ballage or Avery chooses NU.

Arizona State a Thorn

Rarely does NU go head-to-head with Arizona State for recruits; however, in the 2014 cycle that has frequently been the case. Frison, Ballage, California QB Coltin Gerhart (6-1/216), California juco DB Kweishi Brown (5-11/180), and California juco WR Eric Lauderdale (6-2/200) are all players that NU and ASU are battling for.

After visiting Lincoln in December, Gerhart reaffirmed his pledge to the Sun Devils. Ballage, Brown, Lauderdale and Frison will all visit ASU Jan. 17.

NU's best chances lie with Ballage, Brown and Frison, as Lauderdale is likely to stay in the Pac 12. We talked about Frison above. NU can sell Brown on the opportunity to play immediately next fall in Lincoln. Ballage is expected to announce his final decision after the trip to Tempe, before Signing Day.

Returning to Lincoln

Nebraska's biggest commitments for the 2014 season came when Ameer Abdullah and Randy Gregory both decided to forego the NFL draft and return for their senior and junior seasons, respectively. Arguably the most dynamic players on each side of the ball for NU this year, both bring leadership and play-making to a team breaking in a young offensive line and secondary next season.

Flu activity increasing throughout NE

Flu activity is increasing in Nebraska. Two flu-related deaths have been reported to the NE Dept. of Health and Human Services so far this season and hospitalizations are also on the rise.

"It's important to remember that flu can be a very serious disease," said Dr. Joseph Acierno, Chief Medical Officer and Director of Public Health for DHHS. "Flu will continue to circulate for many more weeks and vaccine can help protect you. It's certainly not too late to get vaccinated."

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommends flu vaccine for everyone six months and older. While flu can make anyone sick, certain people are at greater risk for serious complications, and it's extremely important they receive vaccine:

- Young children.
- Older people.
- People with chronic lung disease (like asthma and COPD), diabetes (type 1 and 2), heart disease, neurologic conditions and certain other long-term health conditions.
- Pregnant women.

Here are some other preventive tips to help protect yourself against the flu:

- Wash hands.
- Cover your cough.
- Stay home if you're sick.
- Avoid sick people.
- Eat healthy and get plenty of rest.
- Don't smoke.

Flu vaccine is safe, effective and rigorously tested. The most common reaction is soreness and redness of the injection site. If you don't like needles, FluMist is a nasal spray available for healthy people 2-49 years old. After you're vaccinated, it takes about two weeks for your body to build immunity.

Peru State PBL honored by Gov. Heineman

Gov. Dave Heineman and Nebraska Department of Education Deputy Commissioner Dr. Scott Swisher recently honored members of Peru State College's Phi Beta Lambda (PBL), a state and national business and leadership association, for Student Excellence in Career Education at a recognition ceremony at the Nebraska State Capitol.

PBL was awarded first place in the Community Service Project category for their work with the Children's Health, Activity & Nutrition Community Engagement (CHANCE) Initiative at the event, which recognizes PBL chapters that successfully implement community service projects to serve the citizens of their community.

Peru State President Dan Hanson said, "Providing our undergraduate students opportunities to participate in community betterment projects like the CHANCE Initiative is one way Peru State works to create unique opportunities for student engagement while also opening doors that can benefit future careers. This award, along with the national championship won by our PBL students this past year, are a tribute to the hard work of our students, their advisor and the faculty in the School of Professional Studies. I want to thank Governor Heineman and Deputy Commissioner Swisher for honoring their good work."

Developed by Associate Professor of Business and PBL Advisor Dr. Sheri Grotrian-Ryan along with Associate Professor of Education and Phi Epsilon Kappa (PEK) Advisor Dr. Kyle Ryan, the CHANCE Initiative is a grant-funded partnership between Peru State faculty, Auburn Public Schools, Johnson-Brock Public Schools and the Nemaha County community.

The goal of the CHANCE Initiative is to encourage healthier lifestyles among area children and their families by creating awareness and educating them about better choices. In its first year, the program engaged in an in-depth examination of the Harvard Food Plate as well as social-norms marketing and how children responded. In the program's second year, data was collected to determine levels of physical activity among children grades four through eight. This year, CHANCE has grown to offer an after-school program for Nemaha County elementary students - two days at Calvert Elementary and two days at Johnson-Brock. Two PSC student groups are involved in assisting with the study: PBL and PEK.

Three Peru State students earned first place at the Phi Beta Lambda (PBL) National Leadership Conference in Anaheim, Calif., in 2013. They are:

- Allie Buesing, a sophomore sport and exercise science major and business administration minor from Cozad.

- Rachel Henry, a junior business administration/management major and sport and exercise science minor from Auburn. Henry also won fifth place in the Job Interview category. Scientists are studying temperatures...

...to see how climate changes.

What do you know about... Climate Change?

Have you heard about "climate change"? For many years, scientists have been charting the world's changing temperatures. It is natural for some movement of temperatures to occur, but many people wonder how the changes in climate that result will affect animals and people in their daily lives.

In the coldest northern parts of the world, scientists are studying ice and the way it freezes and melts. Some are also studying the region's polar bears, marine animals that spend most of their time at sea rather than on land. Scientists have seen that the ice that these bears live and hunt upon is starting to melt earlier in the season than it once did. The bears are swimming farther from home to hunt for food (seals) and some are not making it back. Some reports say that polar bears are getting thinner and that more of their cubs are dying. By studying climate change, scientists hope to understand how people can respond to protect themselves and wildlife around the globe.

Read the clues to fill in this puzzle about polar bears:

1. A polar bear's _____ layer can grow up to 4 inches thick. It keeps them warm and can keep them from going hungry.
2. Polar bears live in the _____ region around the North Pole.
3. Mothers care for their _____ for about 2 1/2 years.
4. The "food" or prey for polar bears mostly lives in the _____.
5. The foot of a polar bear is partially _____ to help it swim.
6. Polar bears have been known to kill Beluga _____.
7. The loss of _____ may push polar bears closer to extinction.

People check the temperature of the sand at the green sea turtles' nesting area. They want to see if any changes affect the eggs.

8. The bottoms of a polar bear's _____ have hair to keep them warm.
9. In the wild, polar bears _____ 25-30 years.
10. The skin of a polar bear is actually black, but its _____ makes it look white.
11. Polar bears do not _____ in the winter like other bears.
12. Polar bears can swim up to 60 _____!
13. Polar bears don't like fruit or vegetables; they mostly eat _____.
14. Polar bears have small _____ so they don't lose too much heat.
15. Polar bears are, on average, the _____ bears in the world.

These water animals have been found swimming many miles farther north than usual. Some people think that rising water temperature lets these animals feel comfortable in areas where they would not normally go.

North Atlantic right whales are being watched for changes in their food sources and their habitat too.

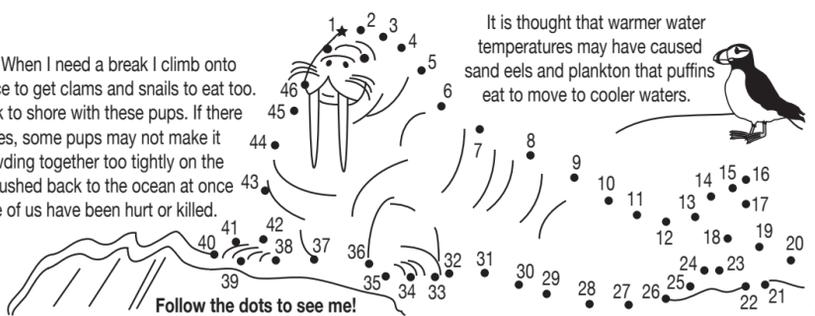

Swimming Out of School!

Who Am I?

I take long swims in the cold ocean waters. When I need a break I climb onto icy shores or ice floes to rest. I dive from sea ice to get clams and snails to eat too. We have our babies on ice and then swim back to shore with these pups. If there is less ice and we have to swim longer distances, some pups may not make it to the shore. In some areas we have been crowding together too tightly on the ice. Sometimes, when frightened, we have all rushed back to the ocean at once in a panic, resulting in a stampede where some of us have been hurt or killed.

I am a _____.

It is thought that warmer water temperatures may have caused sand eels and plankton that puffins eat to move to cooler waters.

HTRS, Mezger notch first win

Humboldt-TR-S posted a shut-out in the first quarter last Tuesday in Humboldt, then held on for dear life to outlast Craig/Fairfax, MO, 44-38, to earn their first victory of the season.

It also marked the first career varsity head coaching victory for first-year head coach and HTRS alum, Matt Mezger.

The Titans blanked CFX, 14-0, after the first eight minutes, but CFX battled back to a six-point deficit at halftime, then trailed by only five entering the final period.

Three HTRS sophomores provided the lift in the victory. Eli Herr, a 6-2 guard/small forward, drained a trio of three-point shots and finished with 17 points. Kaleb Knudson, a 5-10 guard, connected twice from downtown and hit 6-of-13 overall from the floor to finish with 14 points, while 6-0 forward Nolan Schafer grabbed nine rebounds.

The honeymoon was brief, unfortunately, as Auburn visited Thursday night and left town with a 51-41 victory. A bad second quarter doomed HTRS, who led 11-10 after one period, then were outscored 12-4 in the second and couldn't cut into the Bulldogs lead late.

Schafer's 14 points and three steals led HTRS. Herr added a pair of triples and finished with 12 points.

HTRS (1-10) squares off against Diller-Odell (4-6) today at 5:15 in Wymore in the first round of the MUDECAS "B" Division, as part of the tournament held annually in Beatrice, which began last night with girls' first round games.

Wymore will host all four first round games in the boys' "B" Division today, beginning with Pawnee City (5-4) and Meridian (1-11) at 3:30 and concluding with Johnson-Brock (3-7) and Southern (2-8) at 8:45.

A win and HTRS faces the Pawnee City-Meridian winner Thursday at 8:45 p.m. at Southeast Community College.

Lose and they play Saturday at 12:45 at SCC.

Rounding out the "B" bracket are top-seed Bruning-Davenport-Shickley (9-2) and Palmyra (2-8) who meet tonight at 7. Thursday night's semifinals are set for 7 and 8:45 at SCC and the "B" Division championship is Saturday at 6 p.m. at the City Auditorium.

Lady Titans defeat Missouri foe, 36-22, for season's 3rd win

A well-balanced attack led HTRS past Craig/Fairfax, MO, 36-22, last Tuesday in Humboldt.

Destiney Worthey drilled both of her three-point attempts and led HTRS with 14 points. Seniors Mollee Sharpe and Carmen Alexander grabbed 15 and 12 rebounds, respectively, and combined for 17 offensive rebounds as HTRS dominated CFX on the glass with 24 offensive boards and 42 total rebounds.

HTRS failed to capitalize on the the momentum from Tuesday's win, though, falling to guests, Auburn, 31-17, Thursday night.

Sharpe led HTRS with eight points and eight boards.

HTRS (3-8) faced Meridian at SCC yesterday at 3:30 p.m. in the "B" Division first round of MUDECAS. Opposite HTRS and Meridian are Johnson County Central and Lewiston, who played after HTRS and Meridian last night. The other "B" Division first round games Monday were Exeter-Milligan against Parkview Christian and Pawnee City versus Johnson-Brock.

A win yesterday and HTRS plays Thursday at 3:30 or lose and they're off until Friday at 5:15 p.m. in Wymore. Friday night's "B" Division championship is at 7 at the City Auditorium.

Questions were asked and tears were shed. How we wish more could be said. You were too young to be taken away. All we can do is regret that day. We can't believe you're not here. Living without you seems to be a fear. We love you and miss you so much. How we wish we could reminisce and such. You are in our prayers every night. We can't get your smile out of sight. You will always be living in our hearts. And that way we'll never have to part. Miss you forever, Mom, Dad, Lisa & Amy 2 during public hearings how the entire community would benefit from a competitive market place and the potential for greater farm income, improved local retail sales, additional jobs and long term increases in property tax base.

"But they did not stop there," Radatz said. "They collected money from farmers and other supporters and paid for a newspaper ad, with a photo (Falls City Journal) of those same supporters at the CGB construction site demonstrating their support." In addition, they became EDGE investors and volunteered to serve on the Investor Recruitment Team, Radatz said, recruited investors and assisted other team members identify potential investors.

"In short," said Radatz, "they helped us all understand that farmers, city businesses, non-profits and laborers are all part of one community and how that entire community benefits when instead of focusing on the 'good old days' we invest our time and treasure to make our future better than today."

During the business meeting, Radatz was elected for another term as a general director.

EDGE president Bart Keller invited anyone who is interested to become involved in "the exciting things EDGE is doing" to talk with Mrs. Cromer, a board member or another EDGE member. "We would truly love to have any of you working with us. I urge you to get involved and help make a difference in Falls City and Richardson County," Keller said.

Dr. Dan Hanson, President of Peru State College, was the evening's speaker. Dr. Hanson provided an update on the growing and improving PSC campus. He noted the support PSC receives from Richardson County.

The dinner for the banquet was catered by The Wooden Spoon. Brian Voos of the Northridge Church gave the opening prayer.

The salary for the County Surveyor will be $10,700. The annual increase was set at $300.

Father, son bring thieves to their knees

day, Phillip Doerr returned to his residence after being out of town at about 12:45 p.m.

to discover an entry door had been forced open and inside several possessions missing, including a flat-screen television.

After calling 911 to report the burglary, Doerr was behind his dwelling and waiting for the authorities when he heard a car slowly drive up the road, past his "No Trespassing" sign, up the lengthy driveway and behind the house, stopping abruptly at the sight of Doerr. After a short verbal confrontation, Barr backed the vehicle away from Doerr and into a "T" post that impaled the rear bumper and truck, immobilizing the car. Doerr then contacted his father, Dr. David Doerr, who was less than two miles away, and feigned cooperation with the accused bandits, expressing his will to help them free the vehicle. At that time, Kopf, who has a suspended driver's license, got behind the wheel and tried to drive the vehicle free from the post.

When Dr. Doerr arrived, Phillip Doerr retrieved a pistol from his vehicle and the father-son team forcibly removed the alleged thieves from the car, breaking out the vehicle's side windows when Barr and Kirkendall initially refused to comply.

After Houser and Merwin arrested the subjects for second degree trespassing, a handcuffed Kopf through tears pleaded with Houser not to arrest him and offered to tell the sheriff "who had burglarized Doerr's residence, and said he could take me to where the items stolen in that burglary were being kept," according to the arrest affidavit.

"This clearly indicated that Kopf knew prior to coming to Doerr's property that a burglary had already occurred there."

During the inventory search of the car, two pairs of bolt cutters, frequently used by thieves to cut locks, chains and cables, were discovered in the trunk.

Kopf, who has previous felony conviction for theft and is currently being processed for probation violations in Kansas, was charged with possession of burglar's tools, a Class IV Felony, operating a vehicle during time of suspension, and criminal trespass. Barr and Kopf, who are known to be in a long-term relationship, appeared in Brown County (KS) Court last spring and were charged with burglary and misdemeanor theft in connection with a burglary in rural Powhattan. Taken during the break-in were gasoline, a gas power washer, gift towels and a purse.

Barr and Kirkendall Friday were each charged with possession of a burglar's tools and criminal trespass. All three subjects remained in Richardson County Jail Monday.
