Council approves engineering work for potential housing development

While meeting in regular session Monday evening, Oct. 7, the Falls City Council approved a request from REGA Engineering Group, Inc., Lincoln, to provide engineering services for a proposed new housing development just west of the Wilderness Falls site in northwest Falls City.

REGA's proposal was for $6,950 and will include the necessary work to provide infrastructure (utilities, sidewalks, streets, curbs, culverts, utility poles, etc.) for that area. Five lots are included in the plan, which could result in the construction of at least five new homes.

Administrator Gary Jorn said the development would enhance the City's tax revenue in coming years.

A request from Tri State Truck and Tractor Repair for an access road from Highway 73 was tabled by the Council until further information can be obtained. Jorn and several Council members noted that an access road from the highway would certainly benefit the business, but questions arose about property lines and any effect a road would have on the Aquatic Park. Councilman Don Ferguson suggested that the City needed to talk with Tri State to see what they have in mind. A small portion of City-owned property would likely be involved.

School District 56 Supt. Tim Heckenlively sent correspondence seeking removal of a sidewalk on the north side of 9th Street, where the football practice field is (9th and Pacific). The sidewalk parallels District 56 property. The district's intent was to replace the sidewalk (and a concrete slab) with grass.

A resident of that area, Pat Kraft, spoke in opposition, saying children used the sidewalk to walk safely to South School, especially during the winter months. "Removing it would be a mistake for the citizens in the area," he said. Councilman Steve Scholl pointed to the "safety issue" involved.

After some discussion, the Council voted to deny the request, although no one spoke in opposition to removal of the cement slab.

In other developments, the Council:

- Approved a request to rent Prichard Auditorium for a wedding reception on July 18/19, 2014, and to allow alcohol to be served.

- Voted to approve the final reading of an ordinance regarding vacating Appleoff Avenue.

- Approved the first reading of an ordinance to amend one re-

This one-horse open sleigh originally belonged to my great-grandfather, Ludwig (Louis) Zimmerman. He was born in Spock, Baden, Germany, on Feb. 8, 1850. He immigrated to the United States, arriving in New York City on May 25, 1867.

After his marriage to Amelia Reschke on Oct. 26, 1875, in St. Joseph, MO, he came to Richardson County and purchased an 80-acre farm from Adolph Reschke and wife on July 10, 1878. That farm is still in our family today.

He became a citizen of the United States on March 5, 1891. He purchased other land and was a successful farmer, also raising three sons and one daughter. My grandfather, Gust Zimmerman, was one of his sons.

It has been suggested that the sleigh is handmade. My dad, Robert Zimmerman, was born in 1923 and as long as he can remember it was stored on the rafters in our corn crib on the farm. One time when my dad was about 18 or 19 he and a neighbor, Hank Wulf, used a block and tackle to get it down from the rafters. They changed the tongue and pulled it with a couple of mules to another neighbor's about three miles away. It was a lot of fun, but they put it back in the rafters and it was never used again.

About 1997 we decided to move it to our barn in town. It has been there since. I would have liked to have displayed it at Christmas but I knew it would deteriorate in the wet weather. I thought the Richardson County Historical Museum would be the perfect place to preserve it and for other people to view it.

Maze's Delirium Trigger debuts here Oct. 25

By Lori Gottula

Yep, the rumors are true. Ted Fischer and Guenter Hussenfelder really are starring in a movie together, and the film will premiere right here in Falls City.

Seriously?
Seriously.

Delirium Trigger, a 27-minute short film by local aspiring filmmaker Brent Scott Maze will be shown in the Stalder Gallery of the Falls City Library and Arts Center at 6 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 25. And you will want to be there.

The film is about a young assassin who takes a routine assignment and ends up questioning his motives and choices. It's a character-driven independent film that moves the same way life moves — slowly in some places, then like a spinning wheel in others. It makes the viewer think and feel.

If you like those kinds of films, you'll love this one. If you don't, you may not. But either way, you will want to be there. Why? Firstly, because Brent

Maze is a local college kid who is studying film and media at UNL, and this is his first major them with his own camera, edited the movie on his computer, AND composed and recorded all of the music. The music alone is eerie, haunting and evocative. You will want to be there for the music.

But before we talk anymore about the film, let's talk about the filmmaker.

Brent, the son of Scott and Karen Maze of Falls City, was born and reared here. While attending Falls City High School, he formed a band called Chasing Yesterday, with his buddy Chase Thompson. The two provided entertainment for the local bar/club circuit.

Brent has loved music since he was a little boy, so he plays a wide variety of instruments and listens to an eclectic play list of bands (his favorite is Icelandic band Sigur Ros). But Brent fell in love with movies in 2009, when he saw a film called Valhalla Rising, by director Nicolas Refn.

"The film broke a lot of boundaries that I saw in normal movies," Brent said in a recent interview. "It has less than 100 lines of dialogue, but the cinematography is outstanding. The minute I saw it, I knew what I wanted to do with my life." A lot of high school kids say those words, but Brent understood that the passion had to be accompanied by action and perseverance.

As a senior, he applied to the prestigious Johnny Carson School of Theatre and Film at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. The school is so selective that it accepts only 10 students per year, and those 10 have to prove that they are worth it. Brent's application included a full-length CD that he composed and produced, plus a two-minute short film that he shot at his grandparents' house (on the corner of 23rd and Towle Streets). His talents earned him a spot in the program.

Since then, he has been studying every aspect of filmmaking, from screenwriting and directing, to lighting and editing. He is currently writing his first feature-length screenplay, titled Matchstick. The movie is about a young black kid who rises to power in the mafia in New York City. But the story centers on film. You'll want to be there to support him.

Brent wrote, directed, filmed, edited and scored the entire movie himself. That means he not only wrote the script, he also set up all of the shots, filmed

Living a Healthy Life in Nebraska

By Governor Dave Heineman

Dear Fellow Nebraskans:

Many Nebraska employers and employees are making a serious commitment to employee well-being. This year, 50 Nebraska employers are receiving the Governor's Wellness Award for their successful efforts in promoting wellness in the workplace.

Nebraska is one of only a handful of states nationwide that honors the wellness efforts of employers. My office partners with the Nebraska Department of Health and Human Services and Work-Well to help recognize employers who value workplace wellness programs.

It has been six years since we started the Governor's Wellness Award program. In that time, we've seen more prevention and wellness efforts from one end of the state to the other and in all different types of workplaces: big companies, small companies, schools, hospitals, local health departments, city and county governments, financial institutions, and non-profit organizations, just to name a few.

We've seen countless employees embrace wellness and reap the rewards of better health. They are finding the gateway to wellness in variety of ways like free health screenings, healthy dinner clubs, flu vaccinations, ironman fitness challenges, nutrition education, weight loss competitions, discounted or free health club memberships, walking teams, webinars, and lunch and learns.

Thanks to wellness efforts at work, we're seeing lower rates of cigarette and tobacco use, less absenteeism due to health issues, less people experiencing high stress at work, increased cholesterol screenings and increased fruit consumption. That's great news.

We know worksite wellness works. Employees win because they are leading healthier lives. For employers, healthy employees make for a better, stronger and more productive organization. The benefits to a company from its investment in a wellness program are many: higher productivity, increased employee satisfaction and help controlling health care costs.

Nebraska is a leader in wellness. Our state has been ranked as one of the top 10 states in Gallup-Healthways Well-Being Index since 2010.

The state's chief medical officer, Dr. Joseph Acierno, was invited to be part of a panel of experts at the Association of State and Territorial Health Officials' annual meeting in mid-September. He talked about the role worksite wellness plays in public health, shared the successes of Nebraska's employers and their wellness programs and showcased the Governor's Wellness Award to a room of around 200 attendees from across the nation. People have expressed interest in what we do, how we do it and want to "walk in our shoes."

I'm pleased that six years and 203 awards later, I know worksite wellness efforts in Nebraska are going strong. I applaud our employers for taking the initiative to help us live the healthy life in Nebraska.

No surprises, taxes to be big deal next Legislative session

Capitol View
 By J.L. Schmidt
 Statehouse Correspondent
 Nebraska Press Association

We don't have any idea who the next governor will be. That is months of rhetoric and mind-numbing commercials away. But we do know what the incumbent governor, now entering a record 10th year in office, has on his mind.

In his recent letter to Nebraskans, Governor Dave Heineman wrote, "Taxes are too high in Nebraska. I hear it every day; property taxes, income taxes and occupation taxes are too high." That letter was accompanied by a number of charts about taxes, a dubious achievement gallery at best.

Heineman wrote that while Nebraska fares very well in general business rankings, the tax ratings are NOT good. According to the Tax Foundation, Nebraska has one of the 16 highest top state income tax rates and Nebraska is one of the 13 highest property tax states. Additionally, more than 35 states exempt a portion of or all social security income from taxation, but Nebraska does not. Nebraska is one of only eight states with an inheritance tax. Even California doesn't have an inheritance tax. Kiplinger recently named Nebraska as one of "The 10 Least Tax-Friendly States for Retirees." Nebraska must address its high tax situation, the governor said.

Two sweeping tax change bills introduced last session for Heineman failed to gain much traction following lengthy public hearings. They did propel the name of the introducer, Sen. Beau McCoy of Elkhorn, into the limelight and the race to replace Heineman as the next governor. A heavy infusion of cash from a millionaire candidate who chose not to run has also helped and McCoy's name is being repeated many times a day on radio and television commercials statewide.

The failure of the bills to advance also led, very wisely, to the creation of the Tax Modernization Committee, which is chaired by state Senator Galen Hadley of Kearney who also chairs the Revenue Committee. The committee has been meeting in the interim and recently completed a series of public hearings. A committee report is due in mid-December and will likely lead to several measures to be considered during the next legislative session.

Heineman wrote that he commends the committee and is thankful to the citizens who testified at the series of statewide public hearings. "I am hopeful that we can develop a tax relief package that includes both property tax relief and income tax relief. It is a delicate balance. It won't be easy, but with citizen input and working together with the Legislature, I believe we can do it," the governor wrote.

Hadley says the committee has divided issues and options into three categories: property tax; individual and corporate income tax; and sales and use taxes. Hadley says it is best to address the issues in a revenue-neutral manner. If one believes that income taxes should be reduced, one should also have an idea from where the money to replace that lost revenue will come. Reduction in one tax will likely shift that tax burden to another type of tax or group of taxpayers.

Folks who want property tax relief must remember that the state doesn't impose property taxes. But, if the property tax burden were shifted locally, the state would have to look at increasing sales or income taxes to provide more money for schools and local government.

Hadley and Heineman agree that it's a difficult issue, but one that must be addressed. The next session is a short one (60 days) with adjournment coming before the May primary -- in time for state lawmakers to get back to their districts to campaign for re-election or, this year especially, higher office. McCoy and Sens. Tom Carlson of Holdrege, Annette Dubas of Fullerton and Charlie Janssen of Fremont are all running for gubernatorial nomination.

It's a given that folks running for election try to say and do the things that will get them votes. That could impact honest discussion on the taxing issues of the session. We can name at least four senators who want to say the "right things" to get a shot at higher office. Not to mention the incumbents who want another four years in the Legislature.

Big issue. Short session. Big election. On its face, NOT a conducive atmosphere for meaningful changes to the tax system. Let's hope I'm wrong.

Red Cross Blood Drive comes up four units short

By Linda Frederick

At the Red Cross Blood Drive held Oct. 1-2, we were four units short of making our goal.

I'd like to apologize to any donor who had to wait any length of time or who couldn't donate due to the new process. The Red Cross started a new process for blood donations and we were the "lucky" ones to get the first day. It was not smooth but hopefully by the next drive it will be quicker.

St. Paul's pulling out all the stops

The rafters will be ringing with the sounds of music at 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 27, at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church (20th and Towle).

A pipe organ concert has been planned as a part of the year-long celebration of the church's centennial. A fun-filled concert will begin with performances by five local church organists: Mildred Appleoff-Marsh, Deb Stevens, Doug Kottich, Connie Rowland and Doug Kirkendall.

Following their performances, the program will feature organist Sharon H. Parker of Liberty, MO. Ms. Parker received both Bachelor and Masters of Piano Performance degrees from Mississippi College in Clinton; in addition, she completed three years of doctoral work on the Ph.D. in Music Education at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge.

She has been the organist and handbell choir director at Liberty (MO) United Methodist Church since 1996, and has served as accompanist for the Liberty Community Chorus for six years.

There should be something for everyone at this program, which will include familiar songs, congregational singing and some of the classical music befitting the "king of the instruments." Refreshments will be served following the program.

The community is invited to come enjoy the music, singing, and fellowship.

Society

Historical Society

The Board of Directors of the Richardson County Historical Society met Sept. 28, with 13 members present. President Richard Meinzer opened the meeting at 9 a.m. Ann Meinzer read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were approved as read. Jo Ann Auxier presented the treasurers report, which was accepted and placed on file.

Under old business, Ann Meinzer proposed an idea for a Festival of Trees fundraising event at the museum. Ann and JoAnn Koso will chair the event. June Bowers moved that such an event be held and Susan Sipple seconded the motion. The motion carried. Individuals will be contacted to sponsor a tree and to decorate it as they wish. Trees will be provided or sponsors may use their own. The Festival of Trees open house will be the weekend of Nov. 30-Dec. 1. Admission will be $5 and Ann will serve hot spiced tea and Christmas candies and cookies.

President Meinzer thanked Susan Sipple for completing the painting of the benches and the area around the pillars.

Final plans for the Waffle Man fundraiser were discussed; workers are to report at 9:30 a.m.

Under new business the president distributed a list of committee appointments. After discussion several changes were made, including replacing Jo Ann Auxier with JoAnn Koso on the Audit Committee, and adding Gary Nelson to the Fund Raising Committee. The president also distributed a list of all board members, which includes phone numbers and the year the member first served on the Board.

A discussion was held about redecorating the upstairs kitchen to better fit in with the Victorian style of the rest of the upstairs. Jo Ann Auxier stated she would pay for a new floor as a memorial to her sister who was a life member of the Society. The matter will be researched and discussed at a later time. She also suggested that a book, bake, and garage sale in the spring be considered.

A discussion was held about the siding that had blown off on the back of the museum. John Seeba, Matt Beer, and Richard Meinzer will replace it, and they discussed boarding up the window in the back of the basement, which would then be covered with matching siding down to the foundation. Harold Auxier has installed new lights in the display cases.

Cards that would make it easier to list necessary information are being created to document new artifacts as they are acquired. A railroad spike driver has been added to the museums railroad collection.

The next board meeting will be held Oct. 26 at the museum.

Shubert AL Auxiliary

The Shubert American Legion Auxiliary Unit 222 will be holding their annual fundraiser, "Fall Extravaganza" from 8 a.m. until noon Saturday, Oct. 19, at the Shubert Community Building.

The Auxiliary will be having a bake sale and all members are asked to bring items. Cinnamon rolls and coffee will be for sale.

Vendors participating will be Pampered Chef, Usborne Books, Windmill Antiques, Woodworking, Pecans, Hoot-n-Holler Pumpkins, Nemaha Market with bulk foods and baked goods, Mary Kay, Candles, Norwex, Signature Homes, Tupperware and more.

This event will help the unit continue their work with the veterans, youth and the community activities. All meetings are the second Tuesday of the each month at the Shubert Library Building at 4:30 p.m.

Anyone interested in becoming a member should contact membership chairman, Lana Willman at 402-883-2420.

St. Mark's Lutheran

St. Mark's Lutheran Church Women of rural Verdon met Thursday afternoon in the church social room with Mrs. Janice Fischer as the hostess. Mrs. Edwin Werner was the lesson leader. The hymn, "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," was sung and the Bible Study, "Deborah, A Determined Leader," was presented with all members participating. This was closed with the Bible Study prayer.

Mrs. Delia Vice, president, opened the business meeting with prayer. The secretary called roll, members responding with a Bible verse. Mrs. Mark Gonnella was a guest. The blankets for Lutheran World Relief will be displayed and "Blessed" Sunday, Oct. 20, and then packed. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wittrock will deliver them the first week in November. A public Thank Offering will be given to The Lutheran Church Women of Nebraska. The group will be in charge of the fellowship following the morning worship service Oct. 27. Mrs. Fischer read a spiritual life article, "The Will of God." The meeting closed by all praying the Lord's Prayer.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be Nov. 14 at 1 p.m.

Area Bridge

Teri O'Grady, Nancy Kelley, Nancy Wittwer and Merry Von-Seggern were the prizewinners at Falls City Area Bridge when four tables played Oct. 18 at the Elks Club. The hostesses were Merry Von-Seggern and Teri O'Grady.

Steve and Joan Stoller, with their daughter Millie (bundled up), participate in the Life Chain abortion protest Oct. 6 in Falls City.

Eighty-four links in Life Chain protest

A silent prayerful stand against abortion was held Sunday afternoon, Oct. 6, along Harlan Street in Falls City, as people in the community participated in the Life Chain.

About 84 people endured raw, windy weather from 2:30-3:30 p.m. in silent prayer holding signs that read "Abortion Kills Children," "Adoption: The Loving Option," "Abortion Hurts Women" and "Jesus Forgives And Heals." The chain stretched on both sides of Harlan Street from about 14th to 22nd Street.

The Life Chain is a nationwide pro-life event held annually on the first Sunday in October. This year, nearly 1,800 chains were expected, making the Life Chain one of the most widespread pro-life events in the country. The Life Chain concept uses the cooperation of local churches to bring their parishioners to participate as an extension of the Sunday service. It emphasizes silence and prayer reparation for the estimated 1.2 million abortions performed each year in the U.S.

Prior to the event, participants gathered at First United Methodist Church to pick up signs and for a short prayer service. Jim Sefried and Phil Froeschl of the Life Chain committee welcomed everyone to this year's Life Chain.

Froeschl informed everyone of the "40 Days For Life" campaign going on from Sept. 25 to Nov. 4 across the nation. This campaign seeks to get people to pray for an end to abortion, especially at abortion clinics.

A brief prayer service was led by Karen Berry of Christ Church of Falls City and Pastor Tim Boatright of Good News Assembly of God Church.

Members of the Life Chain Committee, in addition to Sefried, Froeschl and Berry, are: Mid Bauer, Mary Finner, Glenda von Behren, Dorothy Kirkendall and Trudy Burenheide.

More information concerning the Life Chain can be found on the internet at www.nationallife-chain.org. Information about "40 Days for Life" can be found at www.40daysforlife.com

Chase leads to DUI arrest Oct. 5

A 27-year-old Falls City man was arrested during the early morning hours of Saturday, Oct. 5, after he allegedly led a Richardson County Sheriff Deputy on a high-speed chase.

Joshua B. Kaster was arrested and booked into the Richardson County Jail on charges of operating a motor vehicle to avoid arrest, 2nd offense DUI and criminal mischief.

Deputy Clinton Stonebarger alleges in an affidavit of probable cause that just before 3 a.m. Saturday, he observed a red Dodge flatbed pickup pull onto Harlan St. in Falls City without its headlights on. Stonebarger followed the pickup and attempted to make a traffic stop and the pickup turned west onto 16th Street, then accelerated. The vehicle continued west on 16th traveling through stop signs and the eventually onto Appleoff Street, 15th St. and West 14th. Before turning onto 14th, the pickup allegedly destroyed a closed gate on a private road that leads to West 14th.

Stonebarger continued to follow the vehicle, which then headed west out of Falls City and eventually turned on 650 Ave., where it remained until crossing Highway 8.

Stonebarger made contact with Kaster, who identified himself after the pickup came to a complete stop. A preliminary breath test was administered at the scene and indicated Kaster had a blood-alcohol level of .202.

The affidavit states that the owner of the gate on the private road indicated they were going to sign a complaint for the damage to their property.

Scam targets customers of electric utilities

Nebraska Public Power District is warning customers of a phone scam spreading across the country in an attempt to defraud customers of electric utilities.

The scam involves telephone callers claiming to be from a utility company and then employing a variety of techniques to defraud customers. Some threaten customers with disconnecting electric service to their home or business if they don't make a payment immediately. The scam artist instructs them to send money via prepaid card or online payment service, such as PayPal or GreenDot, before their power is shut off. The scammer's caller-ID is falsified so it appears to originate from the utility company, a practice known as 'spoofing.'

Reports in Nebraska indicate that customers are being asked for credit card numbers. NPPD, as a business practice, does not ask for a credit card number.

"We have reports of several calls already from customers who have been contacted by this method. We urge all who are contacted to call their utility before providing any type of payment to a request such as this," said Ken Curry, NPPD vice-president of customer service.

NPPD customers who receive such a call should not attempt to make any payment and contact NPPD's Centralized Customer Care Center at 1-877-ASK-NPPD (877-275-6773) to report the request. If served electrically by a rural public power district or municipality, customers should contact that organization before providing any type of payment.

Customers are also encouraged to contact local law enforcement about any suspicious calls demanding immediate payment of their electric bill.

Electric customers have been targeted in several states besides Nebraska, including Alabama, Arkansas, Connecticut, the District of Columbia, Florida, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, New Jersey, New York, Oklahoma, Wisconsin, and New Mexico.

City flushing fire hydrants

Falls City Utility and Fire personnel will be flushing fire hydrants throughout the city over the next few weeks to flow test and remove any sediment built up in the water mains.

Customers may experience a temporary brownish-red discoloration of their water during this flushing process. However, Alan Romine of the Utility Dept. notes that this water discoloration does not pose any health threat and is safe to use.

Persons, who notice flushing in progress in their area, are advised not to use water for a short while until the flushing is complete, so as to not pull discolored water into their service piping. For those who do experience discoloration of water, the Water Dept. reminds them not to wash white clothes during this time since the brownish-red minerals will stain white cloth.

Romine commented: "The Water Dept. apologizes for any inconvenience that this flushing process might cause for consumers. The process of flushing the system at the fire hydrants removes as much of the build-up as possible. If we do not flush the system, excessive iron and manganese build up over time and could lead to long-term problems such as clogging of lines and water fixtures. Your patience is appreciated."

Youth group collecting donations for food pantry

The "Saints Times Three Youth" of Richardson County Nebraska (St. Mark, St. Paul and St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Churches) are having a Food Pantry Drive from 3-5 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 20.

The group will solicit donations through the northwest area of Falls City (north of 21st, south of 26th, west of Harlan and east of Schoenheit Streets, including Sunset Drive). Residents of this area are asked to participate in the collection of non-perishable goods for the SENCA Food Pantry. If you would like to donate, you are invited to leave your donation on your front porch, or turn on your porch light to indicate that you welcome a visit by members of our youth group.

If you live in a different area of town and would like to participate, please feel free to stop by St. Paul's Lutheran Church (20th and Towle Streets), and someone will meet you at the parking lot off 20th Street.

Halloween at Stella

Two community Halloween events are upcoming at Stella.

The Haunted Garden, sponsored by the Stella Garden Club on Saturday, Oct. 26, will be at the Stella Arboretum beginning at 7:30 p.m. The Arboretum is at the north end of Main Street and everyone is welcome to attend. The event is free and treats will be provided (as well as spooks!).

The Halloween Costume Contest, sponsored by the Stella Research Club on Thursday, Oct. 31, will be at the Stella Community Building at 6 p.m. All ages are welcome and treats will be provided.

Advance Directives

Community Medical Center wants you to be prepared in the event that you must obtain medical treatment and are unable to speak for yourself. An Advance Directive is that legal document which will state your intentions or name the people you want to make medical decisions if you are unable to make them for yourself.

There are two types of advanced directives in Nebraska: the Power of Attorney for Health Care and the Rights of the Terminally Ill Declaration or Living Will. It is your right as a citizen of Nebraska to sign either or both of these documents.

A Living Will is a written statement, which describes the type of care a person wishes to receive, in the event that he or she is suffering from a terminal illness or is in a persistent vegetative state. A medical Power of Attorney for Health Care is a document which you sign, appointing an agent to make your medical decisions for you, if you aren't able to make those decisions for yourself.

By completing Advance Directives and talking with your health care provider and family about your decisions, you can guide the direction of your future care.

Copies of your documents need to be given to your family or close friends who might be involved in your health care, your priest or pastor, your doctor, your attorney, and your health care facility.

Advance Directive booklets can be obtained from Kim Goff R.N. Director of Social Services at Community Medical Center in Falls City or from your attorney or the Department of Health and Human Services of Nebraska.

It's Harvest Time

Color in your own pumpkin patch.

I love everything about pumpkins: from baking them into my favorite pies and muffins, to setting them on window sills to decorate, to carving spooky Jack O'Lantern faces in them and lighting them!

What do you know about pumpkins? Read the clues to fill in my pumpkin puzzle:

- were first _____ in North and Central America
- (largest number) grown and canned are from the state of _____

Charlie, Please Don't Say I Seen

*I never saw a purple cow;
I never hope to see one;
But I can tell you anyhow;
I'd rather see than seen one!*

Jannie McNeely, who taught first grade for 37 of her 38 1/2 year-career in the Falls City Public Schools, is a much better and more original poet than the Journal reporter writing this story.

She's also now a published author, who will unveil her illustrated children's book at the Falls City Library and Arts Center on Saturday, Oct. 26. Jannie will read her book to those attending at 9:30 a.m. and sell ($19.25 with tax) and sign books until 11:30 a.m.

"Charlie, Please Don't Say I Seen" has been months in the making. Illustrated by Kathy Kerber, the colorful and witty book with a message has been published by AuthorHouse™ of Bloomington, IN.

As a teacher, mom and grandmother, nothing gets under Jannie's skin quite like the abuse of our language. For her first published book (she's written verse for her kids and grandkids, and friends, too), she chose the misuse of "seen."

Her book, which is also available for checkout at the library, tells the story of Charlie, who has a major problem with "I seen."

"When I was just a little boy, maybe two or three,

Everyone I spoke to always corrected me.

"I'm sure they didn't do it, only to be mean.

They were just reminding me not to say 'I seen.'"

These first two paragraphs in the opening set the theme of the book, and while the title character struggles with his "I seen" habit, the message from his parents, siblings, friends, a grandfather, uncle and teachers finally hits home. "Now I say, I SAW this or that, I SAW Lynn or Lee. I seen will never ever, again come out of me," Charlie declares.

The entire book is written in poetic form, which, Jannie says "is a fun way to tell a story to small children."

Fact is, there are some adults who could benefit from reading Jannie's book.

In the end, Charlie conquers his problem and in the final illustration is the proof.

the domino effect of his actions and choices, and how both affect his family and friends.

When he's not writing, Brent spends time watching a variety of films. His favorites are independent movies, the ones made on shoestring budgets. The list includes titles like Shame, Hunger and Melancholia, and most are produced in France or Denmark.

"Directors there just view film differently," Brent said. "They see it as an outlet for story-telling, so they use less hype and special effects."

Brent also admires actor Michael Fastbender (Shame and Hunger), and director Lars Von Triet (Melancholia). He quotes names that most of us have never heard, but he insists that they are the best of the best.

Right now, Brent has very little time to follow his idols' careers, however, because he is working on a movie set for a friend who is producing a short film for his Advanced Projects class. Brent is a grip for the electronics department, which means he assists with the lighting and sound equipment. He is busy, focused and passionate about learning his craft. He is also passionate about Delirium Trigger, the movie that will screen at the library on the 25th.

The young filmmaker wrote the script for the movie over Christmas break last year. He then cast the only two characters in the film — Ted Fischer as the young assassin, and Guenter Hussenoeder as the older gentleman.

"Ted was an easy choice," Brent said, "because he's talented, and has been my best friend since we were juniors."

Choosing an actor to play the older gentleman, however, was a little more difficult. Brent wanted a man with an accent and a history that was different than your average Joe's. Brent's girlfriend, Molly Chapple, suggested Guenter (who is German). Although Guenter was apprehensive at first, Brent persuaded him to step outside his comfort zone. A star was born.

While Ted and Guenter learned lines and rehearsed scenes, Brent prepared a detailed shot list. Then, he, his family and friends built the equipment that they needed. They made camera cranes, microphone booms and dollies.

When they had everything they needed, they shot the scenes. The majority were filmed in Brent's grandparents' home. The house was for sale at the time because his grandparents had passed away, but everything had been left exactly as it had been when Brent was growing up, so he knew the layout of the house as well as his own home.

With help from friends and family, Brent set up all of the lighting and sound equipment, then he and his brother, Derek, manned first and second cameras. They shot incredible footage — scenes that use wheels and clocks and high ceilings that all spin — sometimes slowly, sometimes quickly. The spinning suggests the passing of time, without spoon-feeding the meaning to the audience. Brent's eye for cinematography, for a young filmmaker, is amazing.

The crew and actors shot a total of 60 hours on several weekends throughout a five-month period. When the film was "in the can," Brent began editing, which took another 100 hours. He worked hard to get the footage exactly as he wanted, then he composed and recorded the music and added it to the movie.

"The music is really the exciting part for me," Brent said. "Music is so important in film because it elicits emotion from the viewer. Making the viewer feel what the writer, director and actors feel is what movies are all about. If I can do that, then I've done my job."

He can do it, and he does it well. His passion for "making the audience feel something" is infectious. One can feel it just by sitting in the same room.

Brent has entered Delirium Trigger in 10 different festivals, from Sundance to the Cannes Film Festival in France. He decided that, if he was going to do this, he was going all the way.

And that is the main reason why you will want to be at the library next Friday, Oct. 25th, for the film's premiere — because this young filmmaker is going all the way. When Brent Scott Maze walks across a stage someday, to pick up his award at the podium, you'll want to turn to your friends and family and say, "Brent's first movie premiered in Falls City, Nebraska. And guess what? I was there."

Falls City High School senior Kirstyn Buchholz drills a home run to left field during her team's 8-0 win over Johnson County Central during last Friday's C1 District Tournament at Syracuse. The Tigers eventually lost to state-bound Southern to finish the season 20-12 and runner-up in the district.

Lady Tigers finish 20-12, 2nd at districts

Falls City High's season came to end Friday afternoon in Syracuse with a 3-0 loss to ninth-ranked Wymore Southern in the Class C-1 district championship. The Lady Tigers, who finished the season with a 20-12 record, went 3-2 at the district tourney with a pair of wins over Johnson County Central and one over Syracuse. FC head coach Jason Bredemeier called the 2-1 win over Syracuse on their home field the "signature win of the season."

Leading up to the district tournament, all signs pointed toward a FC-Wymore meeting in the district championship and the two teams held up their ends of the bargain. FC defeated JCC, 9-1, in their opening round game and then held off Syracuse in a thriller, 2-1 in the second round to set up the first of two games with top seeded Wymore, who reached the district championship series with FC with a 5-4 win over Freeman, after they enjoyed a first round bye.

Wymore pitcher Ellie Edmond proved to be the difference maker in the two games Friday against FC, as she held the Lady Tigers to three hits in two games and led the Raiders to two shut-out victories, 8-0 and 3-0. It was the third district championship appearance for the FC softball program, which just finished its 17th season and the 3-2 record at districts pushed FC to 20 wins and marked their fifth winning season in a row.

"I am incredibly proud of our team," Bredemeier said. "The girls worked extremely hard all season long. We didn't reach our ultimate goal of going to state, but twenty wins and a second place finish at districts is a great season."

Brooke Scheitel went 4-for-4 at the plate with a pair of doubles and two RBI's. Kirstyn Buchholz also drove in a pair for the Tigers, while also striking out six JCC batters to earn her 20th victory of the season.

FC scored first against Syracuse when Sydney Armbruster's RBI double to left field in the top of the fifth inning scored Avery Scott from first base. Scott had just entered the game to run for Tayten O'Brien, who reached on an error.

Shiloah Feighner led off the top of the seventh with a walk, then moved to second base on a sacrifice bunt by Haley Cochran. O'Brien stepped in and hit a ground ball to third, which was played back to first base for the force out and fielder's choice, but in the mean time, around came Feighner from second to score the eventual game-winning run, as Syracuse went down in order in the bottom half of the seventh.

FC jumped out to an early lead on JCC by scoring five runs in the first three innings/ A two-run triple by senior Scheitel and a two-run double by Sydney Armbruster during the second inning fueled the Lady Tiger's offense early.

Buchholz got the win for the FC thanks to six strikeouts. Buchholz allowed one earned run on five hits and no walks over six innings.

Beatrice captures title of FC High Invitational

Class B Beatrice flexed their muscles Saturday to win three-straight matches and claim the championship trophy of the Falls City Invitational. Beatrice defeated Fairbury 25-14 and 25-15, then held off Class C-2 contender Palmyra, 25-20, 18-25 and 26-24 to set up a final with Class D-2 No. 4 Sterling, who they defeated in straight sets, 25-22 and 25-13.

The Lady Tigers dropped their first two matches, but rallied to defeat Tri-County to salvage seventh place. FC dropped the first game to T-C, 21-25, but won the next two, 25-19 and 25-14. In their first two matches of the day, FC lost to Palmyra 25-17 and 25-7, then fell to Fairbury, 25-21 and 25-21.

FC, now 6-17 on the season, was led by senior Madison Olberding, who recorded 50 digs and 13 kills in the three games Saturday. Junior Baylee Vrtiska passed for 32 assists in the three games, while also combining for 37 digs.

Junior Chelsea Campbell had a big match serving against T-C, recording 15 points and four aces on 18-of-18 serves. Freshman Alyssa Frederick was 12-for-12 on her serves with eight points and also put away four kills and recorded 20 digs against T-C. FC was led at the net by junior Jerrica Beckner (5 kills) and sophomore Libby Bauman (9 solo blocks).

FC won their second match in a row last Tuesday night, winning in three sets over visiting Conestoga, 25-20, 25-11 and 25-21.

The Lady Tigers, who, prior to Saturday's tournament had won three of six matches, had a well-rounded team performance against Conestoga. FC converted 73-of-78 serves (93.2 percent) with nine aces, while also putting away 28 total kills and nine blocks.

Big individual performances came from Campbell and Maygan Ramsey. Campbell converted 27-of-28 serves for 22 points, by far a career high, and recorded five aces along the way. Campbell also led FC with 18 digs. Ramsey, a junior hitter, put away 10 team-high kills and had three blocks, one of which was solo. Olberding served a perfect 14-of-14 with 10 points to go along with five kills and 16 digs. Sophomore Libby Bauman also recorded five kills, but it was her defense at the net that made the difference, as Bauman recorded four solo blocks and six total to lead FC. Junior setter Baylee Vrtiska passed for 23 total assists, averaging nearly eight per game.

FC hosts St. Joe Lafayette (MO) tonight, with the junior varsity scheduled to begin at 5, followed by the varsity match. The Lady Tigers final home matches are Thursday during the triangular with Auburn and Marysville, KS. Playing her final home game is FC's lone senior, Madison Olberding. Thursday's matches begin at 5 p.m.

HTRS Titans fall to 0-6

Humboldt-TR-S fell to 0-6 Friday night, losing on the road to Johnson County Central 65-0. HTRS generated only 35 yards of offense compared to JCC's 445 total yards.

Logan Bredemeier rushed for 34 yards on 15 carries and quarterback Schuyler Kuhlmann was picked off twice and completed just 5-of-27 passes for 34 yards. Eli Herr caught three passes for 23 yards.

Tony Knudson led the Titan defense with 13 tackles, four of which were solo stops. Koalton Taiclet had two tackles for loss and Chase Hain recorded four solo tackles and 10 total.

HTRS, which has now lost 15 straight games, will look to send the seniors off with a win in their final home game Friday night against Palmyra (3-3) before wrapping up their season on the road at Elmwood-Murdock Thursday, Oct. 24.

FC Sacred Heart senior Daniel Keithley gets parallel as he tries to hang on to a sack of Sterling's quarterback, Josh Masur, during the Irish's dominating 60-8 victory Friday night at Jug Brown Stadium.

Lady Irish now 17-3, final home game Thursday

The fifth-ranked FC Sacred Heart volleyball team were straight set winners over Wymore Southern, 25-16, 25-15 and 25-15, last Thursday at Prichard Auditorium. It was the first match in nine days for Lady Irish, who improved to 17-3 on the season.

Senior Emma Schock and junior Abby Magdanz combined to go 39-for-39 serving with two aces and sophomore Maggie Goltz was 35-for-38 hitting with 14 kills and two blocks. Freshman Haylee Heits was 27-for-30 hitting with eight kills and senior libero Ashli Jordan picked up a game-high 28 digs. Junior setter Elizabeth Magdanz recorded 31 assists, 11 digs and four kills.

FCSH travels tonight to Johnson-Brock (12-7) for a triangular with Humboldt-TR-S (11-7). FCSH has defeated J-B in both meetings this season, but has yet to play HTRS. Schock, Jordan, Rachel Parrish and Katherine Bieker will play their final home games Thursday night when they host Pawnee City (10-11). The junior varsity game begins at 5:30 p.m. Thursday with the varsity game to follow.

Lady Irish JV

FCSH defeated Southern 25-20 and 25-21 last Thursday at Prichard Auditorium. Libby Dunn served 12-of-14 with two aces and Jade Hill was 7-for-8 with one ace while also recording six kills at the net.

Last Monday night, the Lady Irish went 2-1 in the Falls City High JV tourney to earn fifth place. FCSH lost to Auburn, 18-25 and 24-26, but battled back with wins over Marysville (KS), 17-25, 25-8 and 15-10, and Nebraska City, 25-16 and 25-14.

senior backfield of Chris Wenzl and Trey Trauernicht, who were suspended for violating team rules, Sterling was not able to hold up their end of the bargain for what was billed by preseason prognosticators as potentially one of the best games in Class D2 in 2013. Wenzl was a first-team all-state selection in 2012 after rushing for 1,639 yards and Trauernicht rushed for more than 700 yards last year.

"It obviously hurt them, as they are two seniors that have been starters," said Goltz about the Jets' absent duo.

Goltz said he was pleased with his team's performance and where they are at this point of the season, but knows they must continue to work if they want to make a deep run in the playoffs.

"We did some good things," Goltz said. "We are improving offensively as we continue to develop the system we are running with more spread formations and motion and trying to get our athletes out in space."

The Irish used a balanced attack Friday night, totaling 186 yards on the ground and 197 through the air, while holding the Jets to 202 yards of offense.

FCSH's defense forced two turnovers, which they turned into 14 points. Individually, the Irish had great performances from seniors Jarod Fiegenger and Brandon Schawang, as well as junior Logan Scheitel. Fiegenger finished with 19 tackles and one sack, while Schawang recorded 15 stops, one fumble recovery and had one tackle for loss and Scheitel was credited with seven stops and one sack.

The lopsided victory was the sixth this season for Goltz and his team, which has outscored their opponents 335-46 this season, but Goltz said his team knows what lies ahead.

"Our guys played deep enough last year that they know the type of competition we could face depending on how far we can advance. We can't do anything about our schedule. We just have to play each game as they come, try to improve each week and hope we can match up with the elite teams when we face them."

The Irish spend the final two regular season weeks on the road, this Friday at Lewiston (3-3) and next Thursday at Deshler (0-6). Both games are scheduled for 7 p.m.

Falls City Sacred Heart's supposed "big game" with Sterling Friday night was tripped up before it even started, but that didn't stop the Irish from kicking the Jets while they were down.

Top-ranked and now 6-0 FCSH posted 28 first quarter points, then added 14 more before Irish head coach Doug Goltz called the dogs off and subbed in junior varsity players with a 42-0 lead.

Irish senior quarterback Chaz Dunn connected on touchdown passes of 52, 53, 49 and 17 yards and also ran one in from 28 yards to lead the offense. Finding themselves on the other end of Dunn's TD throws were Logan Scheitel, Colin Niemeyer, Sawyer Kean and Sean Strasheim.

Kean added a 42-yard scoring run with 47 seconds left in the first quarter to put FCSH ahead 28-0.

Tiger girls first, boys second at Falls City Invitational

Falls City High's girls' and boys' cross-country teams had their best performances of the season last Thursday and they did it at their own meet.

Falls City and Mid-Buchanan (MO) tied for first in the girls' team standing with 25 points, but FC won the meet on a tiebreaker.

Mound City (MO) was third in girls' team standings with 33 points.

Johnson County Central took home first place on the boys side with 18 points and FC was second with 43 points, finishing just in front of Auburn's 45 points.

Mound City's Kendey Eaton was the individual winner on the girls' side with a time of 20:02. FC's Lainey Larson had the best Tiger finish with a seventh place medal and a time of 22:09. Krystal Samqua (22:40), Cheyenne Dovel (22:57), Lauren Bierman (23:10) and Morgan Roberts (23:40) finished in ninth, 10th, 11th and 12th place, respectively, for the Tigers.

Falls City High racked up the rushing yards once again as they built a 35-0 halftime lead Friday night on the road before eventually beating Fairbury 49-7.

The Tigers, who improved to 4-2 on the year, rushed 50 times for 486 yards and held Fairbury (1-5) to 31 attempts for 107 yards. Through six games the Tigers are averaging 340 yards per game on the ground.

FC's only pass came on their first offensive play from scrimmage and fell incomplete, leading to a three-and-out and their only punt of the game. FC held the Jeffs to a punt on the next possession, then scored on their next five possessions.

Jordy Stoller scored the game's first touchdown and the first of his three rushing touchdowns in the game on a 52-yard TD run with 3:36 left in the first quarter. The junior running back's second score, a 17-yard run, put FC ahead 16-0 at the end of the first quarter. Stoller added his third score of the game in the second quarter and finished the night with six carries for 138 yards.

FC also got second quarter rushing touchdowns from junior Brenden Heckenlively and senior Mitchell Harling, who scored on eight and 32 yards runs, respectively.

In the second half, with the clock running continuous because of the 35-0 lead, FC's Jack Hartman and Cody Schawang tacked on the Tiger's final two touchdowns. Hartman scored on a 20-yard TD run with 7:59 left in the third and Schawang found the end zone on a one-yard plunge with just over four minutes left in the ball game.

FC senior Tyler DiGiacomo finished with seven carries for 87 yards, Harling rushed five times for 66 yards and Hartman carried six times for 59 yards.

For the second week in a row, FC senior Derek McCann led the Tiger defense, finishing with a team-high eight tackles, four of which were solo stops. Senior Reese Hogue had six stops, one-and-a-half sacks and two tackles for loss. Hogue, Harling, Stoller and junior Brody Weinmann all finished with three solo tackles.

The Tigers host 2-4 Auburn this Friday night for Homecoming.

Life insurance 101: What you need to know

Life insurance; everyone says it's important but it can be a difficult topic to talk about and even more difficult to just understand. However, it is a critical one to grasp because of its importance when building a financial strategy.

Life insurance is a cornerstone of a sound financial strategy. It can help provide for the people and organizations you care about. Choosing the right life insurance solution makes a difference in the future of your loved ones, and gives you peace of mind knowing they'll be taken care of. Here's a quick primer from Thrivent Financial for Lutherans on some of the most common types of life insurance.

Types of Life Insurance

- Term Life Insurance – Temporary life insurance that offers only a death benefit and is generally less expensive than permanent insurance. It's ideal for short-term life insurance needs, like when you are raising a family, paying off a mortgage, or starting a business.
- Whole Life Insurance – Permanent life insurance that gives you a guaranteed death benefit, guaranteed level premiums, and guaranteed cash value that increases each year. The guarantees are contingent on all premiums being paid and no loans or changes being made to the contract.
- Whole Life Plus Term Protection – Permanent life insurance with added flexibility. It lets you "dial-in" your premium to the level of whole life and term insurance desired. Offers lifetime protection through a blend of whole life insurance plus term insurance and paid-up additional coverage.
- Universal Life Insurance – Permanent life insurance that allows you to increase or decrease your death benefit and your premium is flexible; subject to any limitations in the contract. Accumulated value in a universal life contract earns interest at a current rate, with a minimum rate stated in the contract.
- Variable Universal Life Insurance – Permanent life insurance that gives you a flexible premium and the potential to build accumulated value. However, death benefits and other values may vary, because you direct how the cash is invested among the investment portfolios offered. The investment performance has no guarantees and could lose money.

How Much Life Insurance Should You Have?

When purchasing life insurance, think about your goals for your overall financial strategy, your economic value to your loved ones, as well as your wishes for your survivors.

First you'll need to calculate your economic value. To calculate your economic value- the value of your future earnings over your lifetime- consider the following factors:

- Your current annual earnings.
- The amount your annual earnings increase.
- How many years you plan to work until retirement.
- The rate of return you expect your invested assets to earn.

You can use these numbers as a starting point when you sit with a financial professional to determine the level of coverage you might need. Another key factor is the consideration of how much of your future economic value you want to replace in the event of your death. This will depend on the financial goals you set for yourself and your survivors.

Life insurance is an essential part of any healthy financial program. It is essential that you choose what's right for you and your situation and that you plan accordingly with a licensed professional.

tigIR's Learning Initiative

(Innovative, Resourceful, Resilient, Responsible) Learning Initiative

a) The situation necessitating the recommendation is that we need to prepare students for their futures by addressing the 21st Century Skills and initiating project-based learning. Teachers will be trained and will develop lesson plans that not only increase student achievement in their content areas but also sharpen student critical thinking and problem solving skills. Since all students will have their own iPad, this plan will also allow teachers to better differentiate learning.

b) The recommendation relates to district and/or school improvement goals and district policies in that the focus of the project will be on the FCPS mission of building innovative, resourceful, resilient, and responsible students and will focus on raising student achievement. High school students will become more information literate through daily instruction and exposure to the technology of 1:1 iPads. In modeling the characteristics of the mission, the learners will utilize these tools to develop a strong ability to collaborate, communicate, and solve problems to better prepare themselves for continuing education and jobs in the modern workforce.

c) The options reviewed were laptops rather than iPads and giving the iPads to a select group of students rather than the whole FCHS student body. The reason for selecting this recommendation was that the iPads were more economical. Giving iPads to a group of students would have created a situation of "have's" and "have not's," and students with iPads would have had a much greater advantage in completing assignments.

d) The benefit that is expected to result from the implementation is that students will become more creative, be able to solve problems more easily, continue working through obstacles and barriers, and manage their time better. All of these will lead to students becoming innovative, resourceful, resilient, and responsible while preparing them for future careers with 21st Century Skills.

e) The immediate costs will be budget neutral within the Technology Replacement Plan, allocating money for the high school iPad initiative, and the remaining budget for other schools technology needs. The long-term costs will be $160,734 by means of a lease-purchase program with Apple. The district technology plan is financially supported through the depreciation fund.

f) The staff will measure the results of the implementation through the engagement of students in learning, the completion of projects, and class grades. Long-term results will be measured through MAPS and NeSA testing.

g) Progress will be reported to the board as students and teachers present projects during monthly meetings. The student achievement results will be reported to the board in the State of the Schools Report each fall.

School districts across the nation are striving to provide their students with the latest technology. Thanks to the support of local farmers and America's Farmers Grow Rural Education, Falls City Public Schools received a $25,000 grant to purchase iPads for students to use in their new "Technology Enhances Agriculture, Math and Science" project. The iPads will be used in elementary classrooms to provide an enriched curriculum of agriculture-based lessons.

America's Farmers Grow Rural Education, sponsored by the Monsanto Fund, offers farmers the chance to nominate a local public school district, which can then compete for a grant of up to $25,000 to enhance math and/or science education. More than 1,150 nominated school districts submitted applications. The Monsanto Fund will invest $2.3 million through America's Farmers Grow Rural Education grants this year.

"The America's Farmers Grow Rural Education Grant will impact all students in two elementary buildings in Falls City Public Schools," said Judi Carter, district technology/curriculum coordinator. "It will provide project-based activities which will not only increase student achievement but also positively affect the students' interest in learning."

Falls City Public Schools was presented with the $25,000 grant at a celebration on Friday, Oct. 4, prior to the Tiger football game.

Nominated school districts across the country submitted grant applications in the spring. During the summer, a panel of educators from ineligible districts reviewed and evaluated applications based on merit, need and community involvement. The strongest submissions were then sent to the America's Farmers Grow Rural Education Advisory Council. The Advisory Council, comprised of farmer-leaders with an interest in agriculture and education, selected the winning grant applications from this pool of finalists.

"A record number of America's farmers stepped up this year to improve math and science education in farming communities across the country," said Deborah Patterson, Monsanto Fund president. "By nominating their local school districts to compete for this grant opportunity, these farmers demonstrated their dedication to growing the next generation. The Monsanto Fund is committed to strengthening rural America and this program is an exciting way to honor that commitment."

America's Farmers Grow Rural Education launched nationally in 2012 and has grown to include 1,271 eligible counties in 39 states. Since its inception, the program has invested more than $4.8 million in rural school districts across the country.

America's Farmers Grow Rural Education helps farmers support math and science education in local rural school districts. Currently in its second year, this program is part of the Monsanto Fund's overall effort to support rural education and communities. America's Farmers Grow Communities, which offers winning farmers the chance to direct a $2,500 donation to a nonprofit organization in their county, is also part of this effort. Enrollment for 2014 Grow Communities is currently underway. Visit www.GrowCommunities.com to enter to win $2,500 for your county.

To date, these programs combined have contributed more than $15 million to rural communities. To learn more about either program, please visit <http://americasfarmers.com>

Falls City High School is currently celebrating Homecoming Week 2013, which culminates with the crowning of the king and queen Friday at halftime of the Tigers' 7 p.m. football game against rival Auburn at Jug Brown Stadium.

Queen candidates are: Kirstyn Buchholz, daughter of Kent and Julie Buchholz; Karle Embretson, daughter of Kyle and Angie Embretson; and Allyson Scholl, daughter of Steve and Brenda Scholl.

King candidates are: Justin Doerr, son of Doc and Tracy Doerr; Reese Hogue, son of Don and Terri Hogue; and Levi Hitchcock, son of Stormy Hitchcock and Phil Hitchcock.

Traditionally, the previous' year's Homecoming Royalty crowns the king and queen. The 2012 FCHS Homecoming King and Queen were David von Behren and Jennifer Wendtlandt.

A Homecoming Pep Rally, open to the public, will precede the game at 4 p.m. in the stadium. The king and queen candidates will be presented and each of the classes will perform skits, as will the senior parents. The Tiger cheerleaders will perform a routine and head football coach Darin Fritz will speak, as will coaches Cody Hawley (cross country), Jason Bredemeier (softball) and Julie Frederick (volleyball).

Also during the pep rally, a yet-to-be-named faculty member will be the recipient of an entire pie, courtesy of SENCA. Students who collect the most money for SENCA's Financial SMART literacy class decide on the "lucky" pie beneficiary. Eating utensils will neither be provided nor utilized.

Following the football game, the Tiger Booster Club is sponsoring the Homecoming Dance, to be held at FCHS.
