Nationwide manhunt for sex offender ends in Rulo

The Richardson County Sheriff's Department assisted the U.S. Marshal's Task Force in apprehending a wanted sex offender from the state of Delaware, last Tuesday in Rulo.

Roger Price, 50, was taken into custody at an undisclosed residence in Rulo after being tracked by the U.S. Marshal's Task Force for nearly three months. Price was wanted for failing to re-register as a sex offender. Price made his way to Richardson County after meeting a Rulo resident online and was believed to have been in Rulo for several weeks. The name of the individual Price met was not released. After the apprehension, Price was transported by the U.S. Marshal's to Omaha for prosecution in Federal Court.

A Delaware State Police news release dated June 6 of this year stated Price failed to re-register his address while a resident there.

According to a story that originally aired Aug. 16 on WBOC-16 in Delmarva, Del., Price is a repeat offender who was convicted in 1992 of 2nd degree unlawful contact with a victim between the ages of 1-11. He was also convicted of 3rd degree unlawful sexual intercourse with a victim between the ages of 12-15 years old. The Delaware Sex Offender Registry also shows that in 1993 Price was convicted of 2nd degree unlawful sexual contact with a victim between the ages of 1-11.

Lawsuit filed against City, EDGE

David L. Frederick of Falls City has filed suit in Richardson County District Court seeking a "writ of mandamus" and alleging violations of Nebraska's Public Records Act.

Frederick is a part owner of Salem Grain, and while not specifically named, the suit appears to involve documents that pertain to the economic development project that would bring a $23 million Consolidated Grain and Barge Co. development to south Falls City.

In this case, Frederick is seeking documents of correspondence involving the City, Economic Development and Growth Enterprise, Inc. (EDGE) and CGB.

A "writ of mandamus" calls for an a remedy in defects of justice. Frederick alleges that failure to provide all documents in the case represents a violation of his legal rights.

The suit originally named the City of Falls City only, but, at the District Court's direction, was amended to include EDGE.

The CGB project has created substantial controversy voiced at City Council meetings and in the pages of the Journal.

According to Court documents, a request was made on Aug. 29, 2012, from Frederick to the City, requesting public records pursuant to the Nebraska Public Records Act. The request asked for records in the physical custody of the City of Falls City and EDGE, described as an entity that receives public funds.

On Sept. 4, 2012, the City replied with a letter providing documents in its physical custody. A letter was sent from the City to EDGE in this matter. No documents from EDGE were received and on Sept. 10, EDGE denied providing the requested information.

EDGE and the City operate under a memorandum of understanding.

An exhibit in the case notes that EDGE's purpose is to "undertake the planning and implementation of the City's economic development marketing and new business development recruitment, the retention and expansion of existing businesses and entrepreneurial development as well as other economic development services designed to strengthen the competitiveness of the climate and expand economic development" in Falls City.

City clean-up nets tons of trash

The recent community clean up, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 19 and 20, collected a very full semi truck full of items for Goodwill Industries.

Falls City Sanitation owner Mark Harkendorff reported that seven tons went to the Brown County Landfill. With the backing of Mayor Tim Hersh and the City Council, expenses for this improvement in the look of Falls City were covered by the City.

Tim Koelzer's Salvage, Rulo, collected 4,480 pounds of metal and appliances. Tyler Bek and son were available for hire at a small fee to pick up heavy items and deliver them to the collection site.

Carol Hamilton's recycling group will collect at the Sun Mart parking lot the morning of Saturday, Nov. 3. This will be the final collection of the season. Some items may be recycled at the south Stone Street location (please, only items as marked on the collection bins). Everything must be cleaned and sorted.

The event was coordinated by the "Green Team," who would like to thank everyone who participated. The next free collection will be the third weekend of April 2013.

TIGER PRIDE

The 2012 Falls City High School football team lost a football game but earned so much more in terms of respect last Thursday at Jug Brown Stadium. The season started with two losses - adding to the program's 10-game skid entering the year - but Coach Darin Fritz' first FCHS team then surprisingly strung together six wins and captured the district title, setting up a home playoff game with Boys Town. There, on a cold night in front of a hot crowd, the Tigers built a commanding 14-0 early lead before senior Cord Huettner, the school's all-time leading rusher and in my book the very best player to wear the uniform at least the last 30 years or so, was lost with a freak injury to his back. The Cowboys quickly capitalized to take the lead and all the momentum. But this team in thrilling fashion proved yet again it had the heart and will to overcome adversity. Cruel destiny be damned, FC battled on without its best player until the very end. Trailing 22-14, FC forced a Boys Town turnover with about two minutes remaining in regulation, and then scored a TD and the all-important game-tying two-point conversion with just 63 seconds left to force the improbable overtime. There, FC had the first possession but failed to score. Boys Town got the winning TD on its first overtime play, ending the game with a 28-22 victory.

Boys Town won on the scoreboard what this former Tiger player, observer of all six of the program's playoff football games and 18-year sportswriter's opinion was the gutsiest, most dramatic and inspirational performance in recent, largely hard-luck, FCHS football history. A game rivaled only, perhaps, by a 1996 home win over a highly regarded and previously unbeaten Auburn team.

Grown men cried after this one and a crowd done proud ignored the exits and prospective warmth of their cars until long after the conclusion. The team, as they always do, assembled in the middle of Thomas Field to hear from their coaches, who offered as best they could an emotional and well-deserved group hug. Then, with their helds head high and black helmets raised skyward, the players gravitated toward the appreciative crowd to take a bow.

The Cowboy coach, meanwhile, admitted his team wouldn't have won the game had Huettner not been injured. That's true; and it would've been lopsided and great fun. But more impressive? Not a chance.

Bravo, Tigers! Bravo!

The Falls City Journal Will Be Published & Delivered on Wednesday, November 7th ✓
TO BRING YOU UP TO DATE LOCAL ELECTION COVERAGE!

Jerry Joy, chairman of Stella's Village Board, wants to be our next District 1 State Senator. So does Dan Watermeier, who runs a farm operation at Syracuse. The candidates are in a very tight race that appears to be coming down to the wire.

The Journal rarely (if ever) endorses political candidates. But in this case we have. We believe Mr. Joy is the best man for the Legislative seat. That's not directed at Mr. Watermeier. In other words, it's not a negative assessment of the Syracuse candidate, rather a positive one for a man we've known and admired for many years, Mr. Joy.

We believe Joy has shown his commitment by running a strong, door-to-door campaign, while enlightening potential voters with a series of "position letters" that have been published in District 1 newspapers. The letters demonstrate Joy's willingness to take a stand on the issues and that translates into transparency. Joy is not afraid to tell a voter where he stands and can articulate how he has reached his decisions. He's not shy about listening, either. Each of his ads has included his cell phone number (402-429-0324) and he encourages calls and one-on-one discussions. Joy has said he believes in an "open door policy" at all times and, if elected, would host monthly meetings in the counties he would represent. These would be listening sessions. Joy is not inflexible.

He has praised the non-partisan Unicameral system and has voiced his willingness to work with all of his colleagues in order to "get things done." I have been a team player all of my life, and will continue to be," his initial letter stated. The partisanship that has brought Washington to an acrimonious standstill won't plague the Unicameral with senators like Jerry Joy serving.

Joy sees education as the "driver of economic development" and economic development as the key to an expanded Nebraska workforce, and thus a larger tax base, which would lessen the burden on all Nebraskans. He suggests that neighboring states' tax structures be studied and new sources of revenue be found so that this state is not so heavily dependent on property taxes. Joy does not favor increasing property taxes to fund education. He respects and endorses Second Amendment rights, but believes this should not include dangerous automatic weapons that find their way onto the streets. Joy is not a fan of "governmental dependency as a way of life." He believes "every able-bodied American should be required to work and pay taxes."

Joy has made clear his belief that transportation and economic growth and development go hand-in-hand. He has pledged his support for LB84, the bill that will provide a percentage of state sales tax for road and bridge projects (about $70 million a year). Attempts to repeal LB84 represent a "giant step backwards," Joy says, and he would do "everything in my power to fight" them. He has acknowledged the importance of shopping at home as an economic boost for communities. "If 20 businesses in this area could each add five jobs, the impact would be the same as recruiting an industry with 100 employees," Joy stated in his second position letter. "Support our local businesses, and watch our towns grow!"

Perhaps no better example exists of Joy's commitment to economic development than his response to the closing of the Southeast School in Stella. He took a very proactive role and was instrumental in finding business opportunities and jobs in the once vacant building. That process is ongoing. As Village Board Chairman, Joy spearheaded the effort that has resulted in $128,000 in SENDD funding to rehab four homes in Stella, an impressive accomplishment in a small community.

Joy, a former college administrator and National Champion football coach at Peru State College, in his final ad prior to the Nov. 6 election, states that he is pro-life. He re-establishes his belief in economic development, education and transportation. He describes himself as a fiscal conservative and "aggressive leader in economic development" and states that "supporting and growing small business is the way to economic success in rural communities."

Jerry Joy is a proven leader and learner. He will represent all of southeast Nebraska well. His intention is to serve. As the Lincoln Journal Star noted in an Oct. 23 editorial endorsing him, his "diverse background should serve him well in addressing the spectrum of issues that face state legislators in Nebraska's unique, nonpartisan, one-house Legislature."

We couldn't agree more.

One for the senators, one for the voters

Capitol View
By J.L. SCHMIDT
Statehouse Correspondent

The major obstacle to Nebraska lawmakers receiving a larger salary is a basic misunderstanding of just how hard they work for the $12,000 that has been the going rate since 1988.

There's a misperception that state senators only work 90 days one year and 60 days the next year of the two-year legislative session. Those 90 days start in January and often drag through mid-May in the "long session" and at least into early April in the "short session." But the work of being a state senator carries on all year.

On the official list of senatorial responsibilities are interim studies which fill in the "off-season" and require travel to Lincoln or other areas of the state for those interim hearings which help senators get the information they need for issues and proposals with which they might deal during regular session. They receive a per diem for travel and living expenses ... but have you bought a tank of gas lately? The money doesn't go as far as it did.

Unofficially, lawmakers have to deal with constituent concerns. Many have advisory groups with which they meet regularly in their districts. Then there's the host of social events and speaking engagements ranging from ribbon cuttings to Eagle Scout recognitions and a number of "required attendance events" in-between.

Bottom line: Low pay has greatly limited the pool of Nebraskans who can afford to serve: The wealthy; independent business owners and farmers and ranchers who can afford to be away from work; some retired people. It IS hard work and a FULL TIME job. The pay increase to $22,500 isn't enough, but it's a step in the right direction.

Then comes the idea of term limits, on the books since 2006 after Nebraskans bought into the idea that this would be a great way to "get rid" of certain senators with whom they had become disgruntled. Supporters say they were simply breaking down the "good ol' boy" network and all of its secret deals and back-room negotiations. I am not sure which Nebraska Legislature has all that going on ... but, again, perception is reality for some folks.

Opponents argue that limiting senators to two terms hamstring the process and gives the power to the lobbyists and special interests. In some cases, a senator's office may be staffed by someone with more experience in the legislative process than the person who has been elected to represent the people and push the red or green voting button.

It takes at least one term to understand the system, establish a rhythm - to be a player, if you will. That leaves four years for a senator to accomplish anything if they get re-elected. Expanding term limits to three terms (12 years) makes more sense. Abolishing term limits altogether makes the most sense.

When did the will of a few people, the supporters of term limits, replace the will of the majority of the electorate who simply want to go to the ballot box and exercise term limits by voting for the legislative candidate of their choice?

Taking a stand

There's an unwritten philosophy in the business world that says it's important to remain silent on political issues because one risks losing the support of the "other" side. Randy and I have never endorsed a candidate for office, or taken a public stand on any political issue because taking a "side" could offend customers. I speak for myself today, and my opinion is no more important than anyone else's, but I feel it's way past time to take a stand for one particular candidate. Jerry Joy has been a close friend of our family's for thirty years, and I feel he is the only person who should lead legislative district #1 for the next two terms.

I worked with Jerry at Peru State College for six years, and have worked with him on various projects throughout the past twenty-five. He is a conservative leader who will not only represent us in the legislature, he'll also be present and visible in southeast Nebraska. Most importantly, he will take a non-partisan approach to the legislature, and work to get things done!

Jerry is a Nebraska football hall-of-famer, and a former college administrator who believes in fiscal and personal responsibility. He believes that taxes can be controlled by bringing jobs to southeast Nebraska, and by putting able-bodied people to work. I've seen him do both. His energy and persistence are mind-boggling. When he sets his sights on a project or issue, he will stop at nothing to achieve those goals. He was instrumental in building Peru State College into the state-of-the-art institution that it is today. He was the driving force behind every capital improvement project during his tenure, and he was center-stage for the tripling of enrollment. He was also the man behind-the-scenes in the building of the 1990 national football championship football team. His tenacity is unparalleled.

Even more important than those achievements, however, are his accomplishments in economic development. His ideas are big, and his maps for achieving those goals are real. He has recently been a vital force in the sale of the Southeast Consolidated School, which has now become a training center for NPPD. As mayor of Stella, he took an abandoned building, and brought it to life. People now buzz about the building and onto Stella's main street on a daily basis. Jerry has bigger ideas for this entire area, and we need to have his negotiating and networking skills to accomplish those goals.

His genuine desire to serve is Jerry's biggest asset. Jerry doesn't care about political parties. He isn't running to represent only those who are Republican or Democrat. He is running to represent EVERYONE. He doesn't just talk the talk either, he walks the walk. He has published his personal cell phone number, and has visited every farm house in this district to introduce himself, or talk about agricultural needs and concerns. He is pro-ag, pro-life, pro-second-amendment, and is a champion for small business. He has shopped locally his entire life. Jerry has an open-door policy, and will listen when you talk.

Jerry has been very successful in every position he has held because he is a great leader. He has that X factor that draws people to him, but he is also a compassionate and genuine person. He isn't running for office for any prestige it will bring, or any doors that it will open, or any football tickets he can score. He has those things already. He is running for office so he can make a difference. Period.

We need Jerry Joy as our district #1 senator. If you want a man who has a proven track record in economic development, a man who builds success by building teams, and who will make a very REAL difference, vote for Jerry Joy. Jerry is the ONLY person for this job.

Sincerely,
Lori Gottula

Vote carefully

A young Mother has three thriving young children aged 5 to 12. She is a teacher of a first grade class in the local school. She is the teacher every Mom wants her child to have. Her husband is a businessman in the town and active in many community and church projects. It appears to her friends and acquaintances that this is a family that has it together.

Unknown to others, though, this Mother carries a heavy burden. She has a memory that won't go away. When she was 19 she ended up with the wrong group of kids at the wrong time. One of the guys in the crowd was aggressive. He hurt her beyond her imagination. In time she realized she was pregnant.

Still walking through each day in disbelief and sadness of what had happened that night, she couldn't think clearly. She got into a car with a friend and they went to the city. When she came home her burden was even greater. She had allowed her baby's life to be — she couldn't even think or say it.

She knew her baby was gone and that she nor her parents or friends would ever hold, kiss, cuddle the baby that once was alive and well within her. Her baby would never have a chance to enjoy life as she had, to hang out with friends, to watch movies with her family, to make a difference in someone's life. Regardless of the memory, life continues on.

Another school day, with the most special group of first graders she ever had. Of course, that's what she said about each class. She was so proud of her students; they always got along so well together. At the end of the day, another night, more tears, more sadness and more prayers for forgiveness.

Here, we ask you to think . . . to think really hard, in a way you may not have before. It's not just the baby's life that was taken in that moment of confusion and desperation. Yes, the loss of the baby's life was most tragic . . . no one knows whose best friend this person would have been, whose future spouse this person would have been, or how this person would have changed the lives of many. A piece of that Mother's life was also taken in that moment of desperation, a piece that can never be returned to her. She will always know an emptiness, a tremendous guilt, a disbelief in her decision to end her baby's life.

Would you like to make a difference in her life, and of millions like her? You can . . . very easily. Vote carefully. Vote Pro-Life.

Must be moved

The county shop in Stella must be moved. It does nothing for Stella. The new equipment is almost too big for the building and the street. It hasn't been a good neighbor. In 13 years, it has never moved an inch of snow as it proceeded to the highway.

The operator doesn't live in Stella. The county doesn't buy fuel in Stella. The county doesn't take care of the weeds. The building sets partially on private property. The county took out the culvert in front of the building. The rock in front of the building extends six feet into the street. There has been at least one major fuel spill that was not cleaned up. The street is narrow and no street signs are present but they think they have the right to tell you that there is no parking in front of your property.

When there is an appreciable amount of water the weed seeds and dirt from equipment run across the street and have filled the water run-off ditch on the west side and go into my lawn, which is a continual fight to control.

I received a parking ticket for parking facing the wrong way. I was going to jump start another truck that was parked in front of my driveway. Ten dollars for the fine but $49 for court fees of which I was told went to the court's retirement fund. There is no justice when the court has a vested interest in the fees it collects.

No one knows exactly what the width of the street involves. Looks don't mean anything. I am not sure that I wasn't parked on my property.

When these people go home I hope that their mother crawls out from under the porch and bites them.

Bending the facts

I've been watching the negative TV ads run by Bob Kerrey and his Super PAC. It's appalling to me that his campaign has deliberately chosen to bend the facts for political purposes. These New York style politics have no place here in Nebraska.

I know Deb Fischer. She has the experience and integrity that we need to reform Washington, D.C. I've watched her in the Legislature, and her bipartisan leadership there has prepared her well for the U.S. Senate.

Nebraskans can't let Kerrey's talk points written for him by out-of-state consultants drive the conversation about the senate race. Nebraskans want a campaign focused on the issues: Exactly the sort of campaign run by Senator Fischer.

Forget Me Not donation to veterans

Veterans Service Officer Ralph Huettner and Charles Schlicker, former state and local DAV Commander, recently accepted Forget Me Not proceeds from Larry Kennedy, representing the Sam L. Kellogg DAV Chapter 35 at Nebraska City.

The donation represents a portion of the proceeds from Chapter 35's annual Forget Me

Not flower sales and will be distributed by Veterans Service Officers to veterans in need.

Kennedy said the funds are due to the generosity of people in Nebraska City, Syracuse and Otoe County. According to a story in the Nebraska City News-Press, written by Dan Swanson, Nebraska City mayors have annually declared Disabled American Veterans Forget-Me-Not Day and urged all citizens to support the DAV.

"The DAV offers free service to disabled veterans and their families in filing claims for government benefits and assists disabled veterans with medical, employment and other problems," Swanson quotes from a Nebraska City mayoral proclamation. "Our community has a continuing sense of gratitude to those disabled veterans who did so much to preserve the American way of life."

Swanson writes that Chapter 35 began in 1963, changed its name to honor Kellogg in 2011 and added Richardson County to Cass, Otoe and Johnson counties. Contributions from the Forget Me Not effort are divided among the four counties.

Women's Circle

Roll call was a verse on prayer for the 12 members of Stella Community Church Women's Circle when they met at 1:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 23.

President Carolyn Brede-meier read a brief sketch of the life of hymn writer Fanny Crosby and gave prayer to open the meeting. One of Fanny's hymns, "He Hideth My Soul," was then sung. Reports were given.

A bake sale will be held on Saturday, Nov. 17, at the bank in Stella from 8 a.m. until noon or until sold out. Eli Davison, a missionary to Romania, will be speaking at the church on Sunday, Nov. 11. It was decided to once again help two needy families in the area through SENCA in Auburn. After the meeting, Joan Wheeler gave the lesson, "The Heart Broken by Desperation," based on Psalm 42.

Cathy Donahoe and Mary Behrends served refreshments.

I've thought long and hard on how to write this column. It is hard to get your thoughts out when you're so passionate about the topic. Poor Brian and Alex had to listen to me read this over and over to them a dozen times until it was just right. When I say just right, I really mean they both wanted to go to sleep so they gave me a thumbs up and told me it was fine. So what has me so worked up? Election season! I find it magical and thrilling for so many reasons but I will spare you those details. Most of my best memories as an adult revolve around Election Season. Getting to attend the Democratic Convention in Denver during the 2008 Election is among the best of the best, then there is what I like to refer to as "That night we stumbled into the War Room" Brian and I found ourselves in Omaha during Ben Nelson's 2006 re-election campaign. We missed the big party held at the Hilton so we joined some friends in "The War Room."

So, what is this "War Room?" Well, It is a room where phones are set up, food is scattered and lots of important people are making phone calls all while keeping an eye on the Election returns. Brian and I didn't fit in with this crowd of well-dressed important people but we rolled with it. We watched every person in the room very intently as they shouted numbers, names and many other things I didn't understand, But smiled and pretended to fully understand. We watched our friend call a State Senator that I admire very much and congratulate her on a big win. We were in awe. This was exactly what you see on TV. The craziness, the sense of urgency to get the information as soon as possible and the all around importance was amazing to sit and watch, which is what we did for hours. And it was pretty much one of the most fun nights Brian and I have had. It was truly a nerds delight and we devoured every bit of it.

What is the point of all these crazy ramblings? One very important word. Vote. Don't think of it as a chore. Make it fun and exciting!

The importance of voting cannot be understated. I get such a thrill out of walking into that booth to vote. To me there is nothing like it. As a woman in America, I know how hard our men and women in the military fight to give us our freedoms, not only to choose our elected officials, but to proudly and openly support who we want to represent us. I also know how hard women fought for this right, so when I hear people say that voting is a chore, or they do not have time to do it, I can't disagree more. Voting is a privilege not to be taken lightly! I feel so accomplished when I vote, as everyone should. You are working together with others to form a democracy. As Americans it is not just our right, it is our duty.

Voting in any election is an important way to voice your opinions and help you decide your future by electing a person whose views you share. If the right to vote didn't exist, the country would no longer survive as a democratic nation. You may think that your vote doesn't matter, but imagine if everyone felt that way. We would never get anyone elected the way they should be. Everyone has a right to make his or her voice heard. Every single person elected to any office in our nation has a way of influencing you, your children and your grandchildren's future.

We are lucky that we live in this age of technology. We have one important tool to help us and that wonderful tool is Google. I encourage you to Google what each person will be doing, and how it will affect you. I know that I often have to see what the candidate's will be doing in their respective seat so I can make the best decision.

If you are unhappy about the conditions of things in your town, voting and knowing your local candidates will allow you to voice your complaints to the appropriate representatives. If you voted for them and elected them, they work for you. Many elected officials will represent you in different branches of government that enforce and judge laws that impact our religion, health, and freedoms.

No excuse to skip voting is valid. Don't take your rights for granted. If you feel you don't have a choice or do not care, think about the many countries filled with people who wish they had the freedom to have a choice and voice their opinion. While many may not agree with my decision to campaign for a certain candidate and while I may not agree with views of the other candidate, I will always be a loud and proud cheerleader on the importance of voting. Election night is such a huge event in our home. Fewer things are more exciting to us than sitting and watching results come in. While it may not always go our way, being a part of something so big is just awesome. So, next week please get out and vote. Educate yourself on the candidates and make your own decision. Be heard. I know I will happily be skipping into my polling place to do what I feel is important. Remember, your vote DOES matter. It matters to you!

As Franklin Delano Roosevelt said, "Nobody will ever deprive the American people of the right to vote except the American people themselves and the only way they could do this is by not voting."

Lawsuit

goals of the City were delegated to EDGE.

The Court found that a final determination in the case could not be reached in this controversy without the participation of EDGE.

"I need EDGE in this action to enter an enforceable order against them and hold them in contempt of court," wrote District Judge Daniel Bryan.

Therefore, the Judge found that Frederick had to include EDGE in his action. EDGE will have the opportunity to show cause why they should not be held in contempt.

"No further evidence will be admitted from" the City, Judge Bryan found. "This court finds that such records are public records" and should be disclosed to Frederick. EDGE will have the opportunity to "show cause why they are exempt from public disclosure."

Frederick has asserted that all requested documents have been received from the City, but that EDGE records should be included, since the City has delegated authority to EDGE. Thus, the inclusion of EDGE in the suit.

The amended action, including EDGE, was filed Oct. 18.

In his allegations, Frederick states that he is a resident, citizen and registered voter of Richardson County, and a landowner and taxpayer of Falls City. As such, he states he "has an interest in matters relating to economic development in the Falls City and Richardson County area."

Frederick asks that the Court issue an alternative writ of mandamus to the City and EDGE requiring that the documents in the physical custody of EDGE be released to him. He seeks reasonable attorney's fees, along with any taxable expended costs he has incurred.

Frederick is represented by Mattson, Ricketts, Davies, Stewart & Calkins, Lincoln. Representing the City is attorney Michael Dunn of Halbert, Dunn and Halbert, Falls City. Attorney Joseph Stehlik, Pawnee City, is representing EDGE in this matter.

The next scheduled court date in this suit is Nov. 13.

Family Dessert Theatre, Festival

If you like their annual Easter Egg Hunt or last fall's Free Carnival, then you'll likely love the "Family Dessert Theatre and Festival" at Good News Assembly of God Church, 6th and Reavis.

Two shows will be held Saturday, Nov. 17. The first show is from 1-3 p.m. and the second from 3-5 p.m.

Sign up your family by Monday, Nov. 5, for an afternoon of fun. Go to www.mygnag.com to register or call Lacey Reed at 402-801-0828.

The theme is "Shine With the Light of Jesus." The afternoon dessert theatre and festival are free of charge.

General Election polling places in Richardson County

Registered voters in Richardson County will be eligible to vote in the General Election to be held on Tuesday, Nov. 6, at the designated polling places within the county.

Those polling places are:

Arago/Barada: United Methodist Church, Barada.

FC Rural/Ohio: Prichard Auditorium, 312 W 17th St., Falls City.

FC Ward I: St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 20th and Towle, Falls City.

FC Ward 2: Prichard Auditorium, 312 W 17th St., Falls City.

FC Ward 3: Prichard Auditorium.

FC Ward 4: Assembly of God Church, 6th and Reavis, Falls City.

Franklin/Humboldt Rural/Speiser: Humboldt Ag Building, 1034 4th St., Humboldt.

Grant/Nemaha: St. Mary's Hall, Dawson.

Humboldt Ward I: Humboldt Ag Building, 1034 4th St., Humboldt.

Humboldt Ward II: Legion Club, 307 W. Square, Humboldt.

Jefferson/Rulo: Rulo Library, Rulo.

Liberty: Verdon Community Building, Verdon.

East Muddy: Shubert Community Building, Shubert.

West Muddy/Porter: Stella Community Building, Stella.

Salem: Salem Community Hall, Salem.

Two polling places have changed since the last elections in 2010. Barada will now vote at the United Methodist Church in Barada instead of the Community Building, and Falls City Ward 2 will now vote at Prichard Auditorium instead of the City Building.

Those voters who will not be able to vote at their regular polling place on election day can cast their votes early at the Office of the Richardson County Clerk, located in Room 203 of the Courthouse in Falls City until 5 p.m. Monday, Nov. 5. Applications may also be submitted before 4 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 31, to the County Clerk's Office for ballots to be mailed directly to the voters. Application forms are available on the Richardson County website at <http://www.co.richardson.ne.us>

The County Clerk's Office will also post the results of the General Election as they are processed through the evening after the closing of the polls on the Richardson County website. Complete results are expected to be returned and completed by 10 p.m.

These results will be labeled "unofficial results" and won't be certified as "official results" until the adjournment of the County Canvassing Board, who will complete the counting of provisional ballots from the precincts and any early voting ballots that were received before the closing of the polls on Election Day. The Canvassing Board is expected to adjourn by late afternoon Wednesday, Nov. 7.

Results will also be transmitted to the local radio stations, KTNC and Sunny 101.3, as they become available and appear in the next editions of the Falls City Journal and the Humboldt Standard.

Have you and your family been talking about the elections this year? Ask your parents if they belong to a political party.

Political parties are made up of different groups of people who organize to point out the way they think the government should work.

Election Day

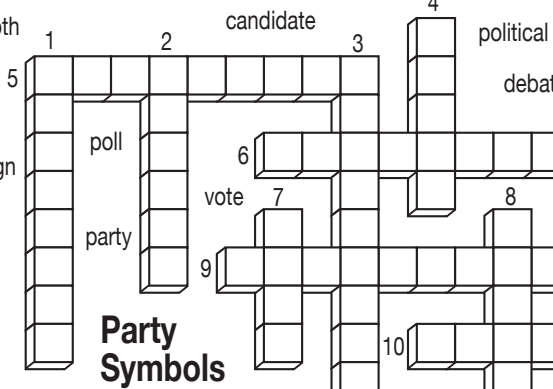

Political parties will choose candidates to run for government offices. They run campaigns and ask people to vote their candidates into office. When they win, they will surely "party" to celebrate their victory!

- planned activities to help people win the office they want
- discuss or argue an issue; sides present their ideas

Party Symbols

A symbol is a picture. It is a quick way to know what something is. Some things used for symbols are flags, numbers, birds, animals or letters. Can you fill in the two symbols of the two major parties?

1. The symbol of the Republican Party is the _____.

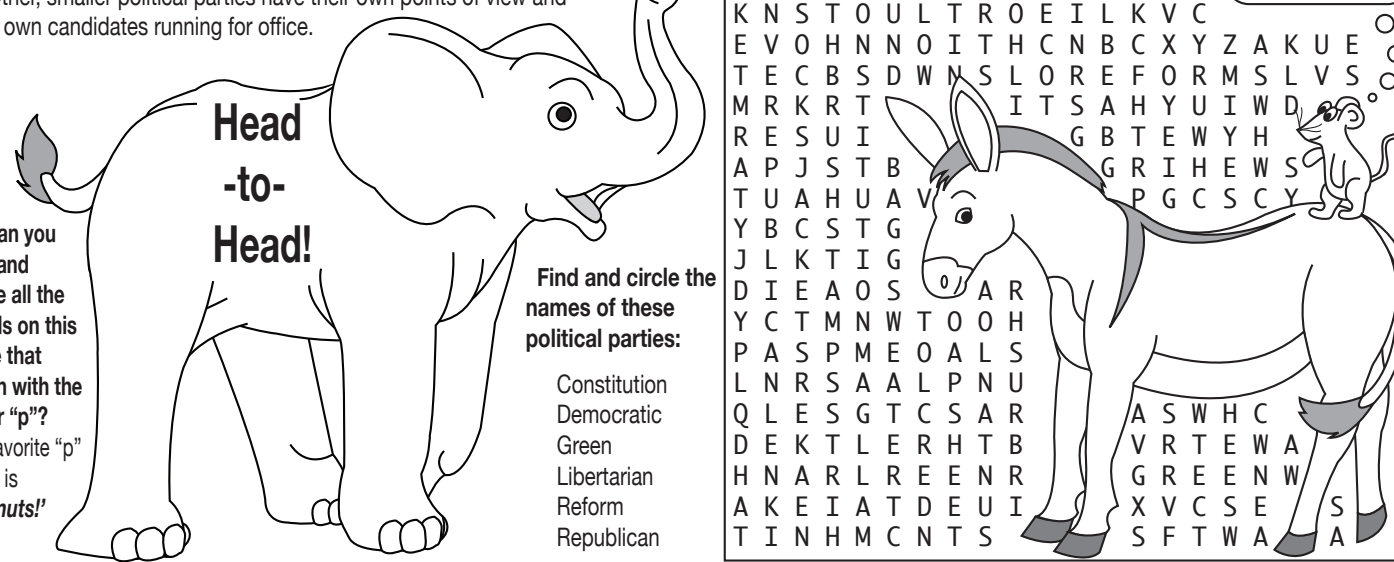

2. The symbol of the Democratic Party is the _____.

Free Puzzles

Print out Mix It Up Halloween Treats, Dino Dig! and our free Fire Prevention and Safety set. Make sure you print out the reading log and certificate set too: www.readingclubfun.com

The two major political parties in the United States are the Republican and Democratic parties. They often go "head-to-head," especially during the debates, when they use their heads to think and answer questions quickly!

Other, smaller political parties have their own points of view and their own candidates running for office.

Head-to-Head!

Can you find and circle all the words on this page that begin with the letter "p"? My favorite "p" word is 'peanuts!'

Find and circle the names of these political parties:

- Constitution
- Democratic
- Green
- Libertarian
- Reform
- Republican

IGNORED REGENTIAL ISSUES

The issues that have been ducked by the Journal-Star and the World Herald in the Board of Regents race are as follows:
 A: Student debt and ever expanding budgets for the University of Nebraska.
 Recent data released by the federal government indicates the average debt of graduating students is $27,000. For professional schools, the average debt is six figures.
 College tuition has increased twice the general inflation rate in this decade, up to 112%. The percentage of public universities receiving degrees within six years from admission remains below 55%. A four-year graduation student is 30%.
 The retired families have 20% still playing college loan debt. Few families are subject to a graduating student having no debt. This has made a University education unaffordable. Out state Nebraska students cannot economically pursue higher education.
 The causes of University expenditures and large state budget appropriations are due to huge increases in University administrators with six figure salaries common expenditures. The average University administrative increase doubled at the University of Nebraska almost tripled. This has made administrative bloat. Added to that face are light faculty teaching loads, which increase student and family expenditures.
 This has created fewer students that are seeking higher education at the University.
 Overbuilding and special interest centers add to University expenditures.
 A representative District Regent should demand the student percentages receiving their degrees within six years and graduate success in the job market that are accurately calculated. They should also demand the above date for each campus and profession.
 Students should not be the object of financial reward for the Nelnets and banking industry to increase profits at working families' expense. The priority, cutting expenses.
 B: Members of the Board of Regents must be representative of the electorate that placed these individuals in office and should have higher educational experience.
 By delegating decision-making responsibility away as the Journal Star and World Herald endorse, rural Nebraska has no representation. The powerbrokers from Omaha and our state should not be calling the outcome for issues affecting every individual that is voting in this district. The representatives should first care about the best interests of the district they represent rather than the big contributors getting their interests taken care of by the Board of Regents. The World Herald and the Journal Star have discretely avoided reporting Regential campaign contributions.
 C: Our district Regent should demand openness and financial reporting. Forty years ago, the Board of Regents vs. Exon, asked the Supreme Court for a ruling that would prevent the governor from influencing academic and economic decisions by the Regents. In that Supreme Court opinion, the Court held the state could not interfere by publicly acted on all personal, economic decision and UN Foundation contributions on public agenda.
 Today that order has been ignored. Not all financial decisions are reported and UN Foundation funds are conveniently forgotten. Supreme Court Chief Justice Heavican and Court of Appeals Chief Justice Inbody are away of the refusal to follow that order by the previous supreme Court. By not making Foundation contributions public and its Board composed of special interest representative's it would be easy to pass money from a corporation or business group to University leaders. Openness is absent destroying honest and integritous university administrative recommendations take at face valued by the Regents. You are not electing a representative for the UN Foundation Martini club.

(TOP) No way Diller-Odell senior Kyle Bergmeier could get through FC Sacred Heart junior Jarod Fiegenger and to Irish senior quarterback Lane Scheitel last Thursday afternoon in Class D2 top-ranked Sacred Heart's 49-0 win at Jug Brown Stadium. Few would-be tacklers ever did get to Scheitel or any other Irish ballcarrier. Scheitel rushed 17 times for 148 yards and two scores, as his team averaged seven yards per snap and improved to 9-0 on the season. The Irish, competing in the state football playoffs for an ongoing state record 26th consecutive year, host 8-1 Lincoln Parkview Christian at 6 p.m. Wednesday at Jug Brown Stadium. – an 80-6 victory over Deshler. Against Deshler, FCSH scored six offensive touchdowns on just 13 plays from scrimmage, returned a punt for a score and took an interception to the house – all in the first half – proving they are capable of showcasing a talented roster of playmakers and are prolific enough to score just about every time they touch the ball.

Irish head coach Doug Goltz, who has led FCSH to a state record 26-straight playoff births, kept it somewhat simple against the Griffins, relying on seniors Lane Barnhill and Lane Scheitel to grind out big chunks of yards while dominating time of possession. The Irish's first drive totaled 11 plays, almost four minutes (a relative lifetime for the normally quick-strike Irish offense) and went nearly the entire length of the field after the Griffins punter pinned the Irish at their own 4-yard line.

Barnhill eventually broke loose for a 23-yard touchdown run and junior placekicker Yianni Haralabidis tacked on the extra point to give the Irish a 7-0 first quarter lead.

Barnhill, who is equally dominant from his defensive back position, picked off an Austin Vitosh pass on D-O's next drive to set up his second touchdown of the game less than three minutes later. Barnhill would add two more scores, a 2-yard plunge early in the second quarter and a 6-yard run with 8:41 to play in the third, and finished the game with game-highs in carries (22), yards (181) and touchdowns (4). On the season, the senior tailback has carried 102 times for 1,210 yards (11.9 ypc) and 28 touchdowns.

Scheitel had a big game as well with 17 carries, 148 yards and a pair of scores from the quarterback position.

All told, the Irish piled up 346 yards on the ground and threw the ball only six times with

The Irish grinded out a ninth-straight victory by pitching a third shutout of the season and third in the last four meetings with D-O, a completely one-sided affair that has seen the Irish outscore the Griffins 188-8 in that four-game stretch. D-O carried the ball 35 times netting just 41 yards and totaled only 113 yards of offense. In the last two games, the Irish defense has faced 82 rushing plays and allowed a head scratching total of just 79 yards. Yes, that's less than one yard per carry for their foes. Stingy to say the least.

Leading that stingy Irish defense against the Griffins were juniors Jarod Fiegenger (13 tackles, three solo) and Brandon Schawang (11 tackles, 4 solo) and sophomore Zavan Kirkendall (11 tackles, 4 solo). Seniors Brody Chandler and Sean Strasheim each recorded a pair of tackles for loss.

Surreal. Inspiring. Proud. Unforgettable. Gut-wrenching.

Common words heard and said following Falls City High's 28-22 overtime loss to Boys Town High School last Thursday at Jug Brown Stadium in the first round of the Class C1 state football playoffs.

Anyone witness to what unfolded in those four classic quarters and an overtime session knows it would have been easy to forgive the Tiger football team if they had failed to bounce back from a game-ending injury to one of the best Tigers to ever lace them up in Cord Huettner.

When number 36 went to the turf with 21 seconds remaining in the first quarter, the Tigers held all the momentum and a 14-0 lead over the Cowboys. The last thing anyone was thinking was that Huettner, a 6-foot-1 200-pound bruiser and the unquestionable leader of the Tigers, had just played his final snap for the orange and black. After all, just two minutes earlier, Huettner displayed all the weapons in his arsenal on a 71-yard touchdown run for the ages that saw him dole out a text book stiff arm to an unfortunate Cowboy defender, bulldoze two others in the secondary and outrun another on his way to the north end zone.

The run put the Tigers ahead 12-0 and it seemed the Cowboys were ready to fold.

Then, after the Tiger defense forced Boys Town into a three-and-out on their next possession, the unthinkable happened. On 2nd and 7 from the Boys Town 47-yard line, Huettner carried the ball off-tackle to the left side and was corralled by three defenders, and in such a routine fashion, that the resulting injury to his back seemed almost unreal. Unfortunately though, it was very real.

SCRATCHED AND CLAWED (TOP) FCHS junior Chase Thompson reaches for the football after Boys Town senior quarterback K.Z. Williams lost the handle. Williams and his Cowboy teammates carried the pigskin like a loaf of bread much of the night, resulting in five fumbles, two of which were recovered by the Tigers. (BOTTOM) Tiger senior Codie Witt, whose reputation as a ball hawk grew each game, rips the ball out of Boys Town running back Trey Scott's hands with 1:34 left in the 4th quarter. Down eight when Witt snatched the ball away from Scott, the Tigers recovered the football and sure enough, it was the playmaking Witt who hauled in Mitchell Harling's 5-yard TD pass two plays later to cut the Boys Town lead to two, 22-20 with 1:03 left in regulation.

Huettner (6 carries, 89 yards, TD), who finished his career as the Tigers all-time leading rusher with 2,402 yards, was helped off the field and his teammates, his coaches and anyone else present felt the effects almost immediately. Huettner's 1,417 rushing yards in 2012 rank as the second best season in Tiger history behind only Cameron McNabb's 1990 season (1,497 yards). Considering Huettner had 89 yards in the first quarter, it is tough to think he may not have moved into that top spot by halftime.

Following the injury timeout, which seemed to last an eternity, it was as if someone or some thing flipped a switch and the momentum the Tigers had accumulated for an entire quarter seemed almost like an afterthought.

On the first play following Huettner's exit, Cowboy junior Trey Scott broke through on a flea-flicker by FC, jumped up arms raised and deflected Mitchell Harling's pass attempt. Ninety-nine times out of a hundred that deflected pass falls harmlessly to the ground, but not on this night. The ball deflected off Scott's extended mitts, went 15 feet in the air, traveled nearly 10 yards, defying gravity the entire time, and came back down in those same two hands. Scott returned it 40 yards for the touchdown and the metaphorical punch to the gut of the capacity crowd of Tiger faithful had officially landed.

Stunned, the Tiger offense took the field again, but a fumble soon gave the ball back to the Cowboys, who capitalized on great field position when Boys Town quarterback Josh Hayden found Scott for a game-tying touchdown. The Cowboys added a 2-point conversion and with 8:45 to go in the half, the Tiger lead had not only been erased, but the mood in the stadium had turned 180 degrees.

But this Tiger team was far from finished and what transpired during the next 32-plus minutes showed the guts and toughness this team played with during the district-title claiming six-game winning streak to end the regular season.

Strong-willed individual performances were turned in by a slew of Tigers – seniors Jesse Butrick, Wade Witt, Wade Maddox and Codie Witt, juniors Mitchell Harling, Reese Hogue, Chase Thompson and Tyler DiGiacomo, who had the unenviable job of replacing Huettner, and sophomores Jordy Stoller and Jack Hartman – all made plays to keep the Tigers from going away without a fight.

Stoller's two first-quarter interceptions, one of which he returned 25 yards for a touchdown to give FC an early 6-0 lead, helped establish the early momentum. Maddox, Butrick and Wade Witt punished the Cowboy's offensive back field all game.

Codie Witt, who was around the ball all season, forced a pair of fumbles – none bigger than the game-saving strip that came with less than two minutes to go in the game and set up the final Tiger score, which he also played a starring role in as he was on the receiving end of Harling's 5-yard touchdown pass that brought FC within two points with just 63 seconds left in the game.

Speaking of gutsy, the performance Harling turned in was the definition of the word. Harling assumed the role of "Spin Back" in Huettner's absence ("Spin back" is the technical name first year FCHS head coach Darin Fritz assigns to what most people would consider the quarterback position) and on numerous carries Harling took hit after hit, seemingly always falling forward for that last hard-earned yard and kept his team moving the chains. He finished with a game-high 28 carries for 103 yards.

"Mitchell stepped up big," Coach Fritz said. "We ran him like crazy and he played great. Can't say enough how hard he carried the ball for us."

The Tigers had a chance to regain the lead right before the half when Butrick recovered the first forced fumble by Codie Witt at the Boystown 26-yard line with 4:00 remaining in the second quarter. Falls City drove the ball to the Cowboy's 2-yard line, but back-to-back four-yard

Farm succession requires more than good intentions

Each year, thousands of American farm families wrestle with the task of passing the farm to future generations. A lot is at stake in this delicate handoff, including income and security for the senior generation, control and authority for the younger generation, fairness and equity for non-farming family members, and, of course, dealing with the government's "tax bite."

Planning for the transfer of one's farm from one generation to the next can be aided by following some very practical steps.

Start the conversation. If you're the farm owner, sit down with your spouse and children to tell them of your desire to pass the farm to the next generation. Listen to their thoughts about farm operations and succession. Which child or children have an interest in operating the farm? Discuss your preliminary thoughts about releasing authority to them for farm operations.

Talk through possible timeframes for the transfer to take place. If more than one child wants to operate the farm, discuss your thoughts about the farm supporting multiple families. Exchange ideas about a transition that treats everyone equitably.

You owe it to your loved ones to address this subject in advance of a potential crisis caused by death or disability. Don't delay this conversation.

Consider retirement, not just succession. While many farm families have a plan in place to pass the farm to the younger generation in the event of the farm owner's death, too few farmers have adequately planned for a retirement.

Financial services professionals can assist seniors in preparing for their golden years by helping farm families analyze potential sources of retirement income, eligibility for Social Security benefits, adequacy of life and health insurance coverages, and investment allocations, among others.

Beware of debt AND taxes. Giving the next generation of farm owners the ability to operate the farm without saddling them with excessive debt is essential. It does little good to leave your loved ones with the farm only to see them forced to sell it in whole or in parts to pay off existing debt.

Perhaps no tool is more valuable in preserving the farm for succeeding generations than life insurance. Under current tax laws, life insurance death benefits are generally income tax free, and families can use proceeds to pay taxes or expenses at the time of the insured's death. In addition, proceeds from life insurance can be a ready source of cash to equalize the distribution of the estate to adult children who have no interest in operating the farm.

The 2012 federal estate and gift tax laws provide a life time exclusion amount of $5,120,000 per person. With a proper financial strategy in place a married couple could transfer to someone outside of the marriage (assuming both spouses die in 2012) $10,240,000 in money and property without incurring federal estate taxes. In 2012 the life time exclusion amount is portable amongst spouses. The representative of a deceased spouse's estate can transfer any unused exclusion amount to a surviving spouse. A surviving spouse may use this unused exclusion amount in addition to the surviving spouse's life time exclusion amount to shelter gifts she or he would make during life or at death.

If the transfer of money or property is made in 2012 while the farm owner is alive, the federal gift tax lifetime exemption is $5,120,000 ($10,240,000 for a couple). A gift in excess of the $5,120,000 federal gift exemption in 2012 is taxed at the top marginal federal estate tax bracket of 35%.

In 2013, absent legislative changes, the amount excluded from federal estate tax and gift tax upon transfer (to someone other than a spouse) of money and property, either during lifetime or at death, returns to $1 million and, there is no more exclusion portability amongst spouses. Transfer of money and property above the $1 million exclusion could be taxed at a rate as high as 55%.

In addition to the estate and gift taxes reviewed above there could be state gift and state death taxes that need to be considered. A financial services professional can help explain applicable taxes.

For many farm owners, a combination of life insurance and trusts may help establish equity among children, provide income for the owners and facilitate the transfer of a farm property to the next generation.

Work with trusted advisors to build and execute your succession plan. In building a farm succession plan for your family, work with a collaboration of experienced professionals: an attorney, capable of establishing proper wills, trusts and durable power of attorney; an accountant, familiar with farm and tax issues; and a financial services professional experienced in estate strategies. Together, this group of professionals can work to develop a farm succession plan that keeps the family farm in the family.

Passing the family farm to the next generation may not be easy, but it surely is rewarding. Don't delay in developing a farm succession plan to secure your and your family's future.

With the ongoing problems along the borders of our Southwestern states, can you imagine a greeting like this?
IMMIGRANTS WELCOME

Of course that sign was not posted along the borders of Richardson County in the latter part of the 1800s, but it sure could have been.

Approximately 30 different families pulled up stakes in Germany and settled in this community during that period.

That particular immigration is told in black and white in a book, "Burg und Dorf" (City and Village) published in 1920. A copy of the book was brought with him when Larry Ketter of Shalemar, FL, who grew up in Falls City, came here to spend a couple of weeks visiting old and new haunts—and being very impressed with the new.

Larry, son of the late Dr. W. D. and Marj Ketter, graduated from Falls City High in 1957. The Ketter family later moved to Boulder, CO. Larry graduated from the University of Colorado and then entered the Air Force, making a career of it and attaining the rank of colonel. One of his assignments was in the U.S. Embassy in Bonn, Germany. The Air Force sent him to school for 39 weeks to learn the German language. After retiring from the service, he returned to Germany in the research field. Since his family has a German background, genealogy fell into line and he looked into family's digs, just as his dad did as a Medical Corps officer as World War II in Europe wound down. Larry talked with one of the residents who remembered Dr. Ketter's visit decades earlier.

"Burg und Dorf" lists the names of families, mostly farmers, who emigrated from the Graben area, how many members were in each family, the date they departed and where they went.

They came to the Falls City, Salem, Verdon, Barada, Arago, Rulo and Shubert areas.

The first to depart was August Becker, who came by himself in 1876, settling in Arago. It might be well worth imagining that August wrote back to Germany with the good news that he had found a new Garden of Eden. The exodus to Richardson County followed for a number of years.

Many of the emigrating families listed in the book have familiar names such as: Huettner, Kammerer, Metzger, Mez, Scholl, Schreiber, Suess, Wenz, Zimmerman, Roesch, Herbster and Ebel. Larry's great-grandfather, Otto Huettner, with his wife and three children, came to Richardson County from Germany in 1893.

This is a sidelight but as a GI once upon a time, I've always been in awe of colonels. Larry's uncle, the late Col. (Ret.) Victor Ketter, also a former Falls Cityan who began his Army career as a local National Guardsman in pre-World War II, told me that when Larry was promoted to colonel, he flew to Bonn, Germany, to pin the eagles on his nephew's epaulets.

Forty-six years later, there seems to be a renewed interest in the Braniff Airline crash eight miles northeast of Falls City the night of Aug. 6, 1966, which took 42 lives. Journal files with stories and photos of that tragedy have been perused recently by persons researching it and the aftermath.

Spending a couple of days here last week going through our files and interviewing several witnesses to the fireball which preceded the crash was Steve Pollock of Nashville, TN.

Steve, a former newspaperman, said that his interest in airline crashes began in high school when he read a fictional story concerning what is experienced in a such a crash. Twenty years and a master's degree later he re-read the story and it triggered research of airline tragedies in which turbulent weather was the prime factor. He selected the Braniff crash as he developed his story.

A publisher found Steve's proposal to his liking and a contract was signed in August. The book, "Evil Wind, Braniff 250 (the ill-fated flight number) and the Pursuit of Safe Skies," will be published in March of next year. The approximate 400 pages will encompass about 90,000 words.

He's going to send us a copy.

Lady Titans 0-2 at Pioneer

The Lady Titans of Humboldt-TR-S dropped both their matches last week at the Pioneer Conference volleyball tournament and have lost seven matches in a row and eight of their last nine. The lone win in the last three weeks was against FC Sacred Heart back on Oct. 9.

HTRS, currently 13-14 on the season, fell to Pioneer Conference champions Johnson-Brock (19-25, 25-16) in their first round match last Monday night in Lewiston. The next night Nebraska City Lourdes held off the Lady Titans in a five-game match, 25-19, 17-25, 21-25, 25-16, 15-6.

Senior hitter Josie Morehead had 24 kills and served 10 points in the two matches. Junior Mollee Allen had a well-rounded game in the loss to J-B with six service points, three kills and six digs. In the loss to Lourdes, junior Libero Carmen Alexander served 10 points and picked up 37 digs. Senior Paulina Smith led the team with 13 points, junior Kasey Kappel scored 11 points and passed for 29 assists and Allen recorded 10 kills and recorded 37 digs.

HTRS was scheduled to face Palmyra last night in the first round of the Class C2-1 sub-district. The Lady Titans are the No. 3 seed in the sub. The other teams in the sub are Freeman (22-6), Johnson County Central (9-20) and Wymore Southern (9-17). A win over Palmyra would land HTRS in tonight's subdistrict final at Beatrice High School.

Lady Tigers drop final home match

The Lady Tiger volleyball team dropped their final home game of the season last Tuesday to Fairbury (9-25, 21-25, 14-25) to fall to 1-28 on the season. Sophomore setter Baylee Vrtiska led the team with 11 assists, while fellow sophs Maygan Ramsey and Jillian Lunsford each recorded seven digs. Junior Madison Olberding was tops with seven kills.

Falls City was scheduled to face Conestoga (1-27) last night at Johnson High School in the first round of the Class C1-1 subdistrict tournament.

Conestoga's only win of the season came against the Lady Tigers back on Oct. 2. The winner of last night's match would have advanced and faced No. 1 seed and 10th-ranked Syracuse (24-4) last night.

OUR JUDICIAL DISTRICT DESERVES FAIRNESS

The election to retain District Court Judges has placed Judge Vicki Johnson on the ballot for retention. Judges should not be biased, prejudicial, unfair and discourteous.

In my opinion, any pro-se litigant receives biased, prejudicial, unfair and discourteous treatment from Johnson's District Court. This also has extended to some male litigants.

Let's make our District Court System fair, courteous and not biased.

Vote No on retaining Vicki Johnson on the District Court.

carried it into the end zone.

Watching the two teams shake hands after the game, the amount of respect shown from the Boys Town players and coaches said it all. Both teams had just battled for four-plus quarters and the feeling was apparent that the visitors from Omaha knew they had most likely been the inferior football team, at least for that night, and were fortunate to escape with a victory.

Boys Town head coach Kevin Kush told the Omaha World Herald's Stu Pospisil after the game that they probably would not have won had Huettner played the whole game.

"We didn't play very well and had to overcome our mistakes," Kush said. "If they hadn't lost Huettner, they probably would have won."

But to the victors go the spoils. And those spoils will come in the form of a second round game in Omaha tomorrow night against two-time defending state champions, Norfolk Catholic (8-1) who have lost just once in the past three seasons.

Falls City High (6-3), which dropped to 0-6 all-time in the state playoffs, learned a great deal about themselves despite the heartbreaking outcome and without question can take a ton away from the loss. Most notably, that deep-within-their-bellies drive that kept them in the game for three quarters when it would have been so easy to give up after the heart and soul of their team was helped off the field at the end of the first quarter.

The orange and black contingency would have never batted an eye if that scenario played out. So much was accomplished already this season and all would have been forgiven, but to muster up the courage to go down swinging like that is a credit to Coach Fritz, his staff, 17 seniors and the entire Tiger football team.

"There were some surreal moments this season," Fritz said. "The first half against Lincoln Lutheran, the Lincoln Christian game and that performance Thursday night. After losing their leader and to see those kids bounce back, I'm still kind of like, 'Wow.' It was just awesome to see the kids respond."

Tigers

losses resulted in a Brandt Vice 25-yard field goal attempt. The senior struck the pigskin well, but pushed it right and eerily similar to the last home Tiger playoff game in 2007, the ball banged backwards off the right upright no good.

Fritz said he and his staff remained pretty business-like in the locker room at halftime, despite the setbacks they faced following Huettner's injury.

"We still felt pretty good about things," Fritz said. "We didn't have the power we have with Cord, but we still had some speed. The kids were still pretty emotional in the locker room and really rallied behind one another."

The Tiger defense made plays all night to keep them in it and finished the game with a season-high six takeaways.

"Being physical was the name of the game all season for us and we hung our hats on playing great defense all season long," Fritz said.

Boys Town added to its lead with 10:32 left in the fourth, but Hartman, a sophomore cornerback, knocked down the 2-point conversion pass attempt to keep the lead at just eight, 22-14. A timely clutch play, which for all intents and purposes, allowed the Tigers opportunity to tie the game later. Also, Hartman's interception and 40-yard return in the third quarter stopped a Cowboy drive and helped flip the field position. The play also rejuvenated the Tigers and seemed to recapture the momentum for the first time since Huettner's injury.

The Tigers best drive of the second half began at their own 20-yard line with 10:22 to go in the ballgame and featured a healthy dose of Harling. Fritz called Harling's number 11 times on the drive and caught the Cowboys completely off guard when he dialed up the "swinging gate" formation on 4th and four at the the Boys Town 44-yard line. Harling took the shotgun snap from junior Reese Hogue and with Boys Town's Josh Lock wrapped around his legs, Harling used every inch of his 5-foot, 10-inch frame to somehow pick up the first down.

The drive continued and benefitted from two Boys Town penalties, both of which came unthinkably on the same fourth down — an offsides on 4th and seven to make it 4th and two, followed by an encroachment penalty to give FC an automatic first down — to keep that Tiger drive alive. Unfortunately though, the drive ended without any points when Harling's pass to Codie Witt was knocked down by Boys Town's DreSean Panky on 4th down goal.

The Cowboys, still clinging to the eight-point lead, took over at their own 10-yard line with just 2:31 left in the game. Falls City was without any timeouts and a Cowboy first down would have no doubt ended the game with a couple kneel downs from a victory formation, but then came the game-saving strip of the football from Codie Witt. Witt went untouched on a blitz around the right side of the Cowboys offensive line, put a good lick on the Cowboy ball carrier while simultaneously ripping at the football to jar it loose. The Tigers recovered, Jug Brown Stadium erupted and the cardiac kids had fought to live another down.

Fritz stayed with the swinging gate formation, which was first used in the 35-28 victory over Lincoln Christian, and Harling carried the ball to the left for eight yards on first down to the Cowboy 5-yard line. Harling then found Witt on the 5-yard, needle-threading TD pass to Codie Witt to cut the lead to two with 94 seconds left in regulation. Harling punched in the game-tying 2-point conversion and the Tigers had just done the unimaginable.

Boys Town's subsequent drive ended when Harling intercepted Hayden at the Tiger 22-yard line with just over 40 seconds left in the game.

A last ditch effort failed for the Tiger offense and overtime ensued.

Overtime rules in Nebraska high school football are similar to those used in the college ranks with each team given one possession, but instead of starting at the 25-yard line the ball is placed at the 10-yard line.

The Tigers started on offense first, but were turned away on the third play of the extra session when Panky picked off a Harling pass. Panky then added the game-winning TD on the Cowboy's first offensive play when he caught a short pass from Hayden by the east sideline and Cord Huettner, who finished his career as the Tigers' all-time leading rusher with 2,402 yards, was helped off the field in the first half, with FC leading 14-0 and marching on a third potential scoring drive. His 1,417 rushing yards in 2012 rank as the second best season - by 80 yards - in Tiger history. Considering Huettner had 89 yards in the first quarter, it is tough to think he may not have moved into Cameron McNabb's top spot.

FCHS junior Jordy Stoller had two first quarter interceptions. He returned the second one (here) 25 yards for paydirt, giving the Tigers an early 6-0 lead over Boys Town.

Election Day guidelines

LINCOLN – For some voters, there's nothing like the experience of actually going to the polls on Election Day. As Nebraskans prepare to cast their ballots on Nov. 6, Secretary of State John Gale is offering some important reminders.

--Check your voter registration and polling place. People can check the status of their voter registration and location of their polling place by contacting their county election office or logging onto <https://www.votercheck.necvr.ne.gov/>

--Change of address. If a registered voter has moved within a county (out of their former precinct) and not updated their registration, the person should go to the polling place associated with their current residence. The person will be required to vote a provisional ballot.

--Be prepared. Before going to the polls, the voter should become informed about the candidates and issues on the ballot. Sample ballots are printed in newspapers and posted on county websites. Mark and take the sample ballot with you to the polling place.

--Conduct at the polls. To maintain proper decorum at the polls, it is requested that people turn off their cell phones.

--Campaigning prohibited. Campaign items such as buttons, stickers and T-shirts are not allowed in a polling place. It is illegal to campaign within 200 feet of a polling site.

--Voter identification. Identification is not required for voters other than those who have registered for the first time by mail. They will be informed prior to Election Day about bringing a document that shows their name and current address. Identification at the polling place is not required of any other voters.

"These guidelines are not complicated by any means, but they should help people have an efficient and effective voting experience. We want to make sure all votes are counted," said Gale. "By making sure you are registered in the right place, educating yourself on the candidates and issues, and of course, bringing identification if needed, will help ensure that."

Polls are open on Election Day from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

They are often busiest the first thing in the morning and later in the day when voters are going to and from work, so the best time to go is late morning or early afternoon.

FSA payments

Lincoln — "Farm Service Agency (FSA) offices have issued most of the 2012 federal farm program payments to Nebraska farmers, ranchers and landowners," announced State Director Dean Steinkruger.

"These payments include Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) annual rental payments, and the final Direct and Counter-cyclical Program (DCP) and Average Crop Revenue Election (ACRE) Program direct payments authorized under the 2008 Farm Bill."

CRP payments will be reduced for acreage that was hayed and grazed under the emergency drought provisions. All of the payments are subject to eligibility conditions including Adjusted Gross Income (AGI), wetland compliance and highly erodible land compliance, as well as other contract provisions.

Most of the payments are issued by direct deposit. Statements are mailed from FSA's Kansas City office explaining the payments. Questions about the payments should be directed to local FSA offices.

Steinkruger added, "These payments represent the last of direct payments. Without a Farm Bill FSA is no longer processing new CRP contracts and 2013 programs are uncertain at this time."

Public Meeting: Thursday, November 8 from 6-8PM at Konstantino's Pizza

Main Street Falls City will be hosting an educational session about nominations through the National Register of Historic Places and the benefits of listing for Falls City.

two completions for 12 yards. Up next for Goltz and his team is Lincoln Parkview Christian, who is currently having the best season since the high school opened in 1982. The Patriots are 8-1 on the season and coming off a 40-26 home playoff victory over Humphrey last Thursday.

"This is Parkview Christian's best team ever," Goltz said. "They earned the school's first ever playoff victory last week and should be riding high. They get off blocks well and tackle well. They play physical, have some size and have a great athlete handling the ball every play."

That athlete Goltz is speaking of is 190-pound senior quarterback/linebacker Jaret Polivka. Polivka, who wears number 25, has rushed for 1,181 yards and 18 touchdowns and thrown for another 552 yards and six scores through the air.

"Jaret is a great athlete," Goltz said. "He can do a lot of things for them." Goltz noted Jaret's 43-foot triple jump last spring in track as a telltale sign of the kind of athlete the young man is.

His battery-mate in the backfield is his younger brother, Trevor (No. 20), a 150-pound sophomore who has accounted for 544 rushing yards and 17 touchdowns on 41 carries. 190-pound junior Jeff Riesenberg (No. 46) is the defensive leader for the Patriots with team-highs in both solo (43) and total tackles (91).

Looking ahead a bit, if the Irish get past Parkview, a likely third round road matchup looms with eighth-ranked Lindsay Holy Family (8-1). Because Fullerton (5-4), the 11 seed in the east bracket, upset No. 6 seed Lyons-Decatur Northeast in the first round, they are rewarded with a second round home game tomorrow against LHF. Should Fullerton upset LHF, they will make a trip to Falls City next Tuesday.

If FCSH faces Fullerton at Jug Brown next Tuesday and wins, the Irish would have to travel to top-ranked and No. 1 seeded Humphrey St. Francis (9-0) for the semifinal round.

The final scenario, and in my humble opinion the most likely, has the Irish defeating LHF on the road next week and HSF taking care of business the next two weeks. HSF is on the road at Lawrence-Nelson tomorrow, then would host either Wausa (8-1) or Sterling (6-2) next Tuesday. If that plays out and HSF hosts their quarterfinal

FC Sacred Heart girls struggle down the stretch

A difficult stretch the last two weeks has somewhat overshadowed a very promising start to the season for the Lady Irish volleyball team.

Falls City Sacred Heart (23-8) dropped two of three matches at last week's Pioneer Conference Tournament, in which they were the No. 1 seed in the bracket, and limped into last night's Class D2-1 subdistrict match against red hot Sterling (21-7) in Waverly.

After starting the season 20-3 and slowly creeping up the polls, the Lady Irish have dropped five of their last nine games dating back to a triangular at Prichard Auditorium on Oct. 9 when Sacred Heart lost matches to both Humboldt-TR-S and Johnson-Brock.

Last Friday, the Lady Irish fell to Pawnee City in four hard fought games, 17-25, 25-17, 20-25, 23-25. It was the fourth match of the season between the two teams and prior to Friday, the Irish were 3-0 against PC. Sophomore Abby Magdanz served 11 points, including three aces for FCSH. Freshman Maggie Goltz and junior Rachel Parrish combined for 20 kills and three ace blocks at the net for FCSH.

The toughest loss of this stretch came last Tuesday in the second round of the conference tournament when eventual Pioneer Conference tournament champs Johnson-Brock outlasted the Lady Irish in a grueling five game match (21-25, 26-24, 28-26, 7-25, 8-15). Junior Libero Ashli Jordan played as good a game as she has all year, defensively, recording 52 digs. Goltz led the team's attack with 11 kills and three blocks. Sophomore Emily Rohrer served 10 points, including four aces and also put away nine kills.

Sacred Heart's lone win in the tournament came against Diller-Odell (25-17, 22-25, 25-19) last Monday.

Sophomore setter Elizabeth Magdanz dished out 20 assists in the victory over D-O and had a total of 57 assists for the tournament.

The district combination of D2-1 and D2-2 is loaded. No. 2 Mead (24-3), No. 9 Sterling and No. 10 Sacred Heart are together in the D2-1 subdistrict at Waverly, with last night's Irish/Jets winner likely facing Mead in Thursday's subdistrict final. Mead and Giltner are first and third, respectively, in the wildcard standings, and Sterling is eighth.

It will be a tall task to say the least for the Lady Irish to advance, but stranger things have happened.

Nebraska Farmers Union endorses Kerrey

NEBFARMPAC, the political action committee of the Nebraska Farmers Union, Nebraska's second largest general farm organization with over 5,100 farm and ranch families announced its unanimous endorsement of Bob Kerrey for Senate.

The NEBFARMPAC Board of Directors issued the following statement:

"Agriculture is the largest single industry in our state. So goes agriculture, so goes Nebraska's economy and fiscal condition."

"While agriculture, especially grain agriculture has enjoyed the most profitable period since WWII, it is extremely fragile and vulnerable. It is alarming that despite facing the worst drought in 50 years, agriculture did not get the timely help it needed because the House of Representatives allowed the Farm Bill to expire September 30th and thereby withheld the critical program tools USDA needed to help hard hit livestock and dairy producers. That lack of support is a wake-up call for agricultural interests."

It is alarming that Congressional support for the essential federal programs that support agriculture, including the all-important Farm Bill and the renewable energy incentives and programs including ethanol incentives, the RFS-Renewable Fuel Standard and the PTC-Production Tax Credit for wind is no longer a given. The Congressional dysfunction caused by hyper partisanship and ideologically extreme elements puts the economic interests of agriculture clearly at risk. Grover Norquist and his Club for Growth has targeted farm programs and all renewable energy incentive and standards for elimination"

"The person we voters send to Washington, D.C. to represent our interests must have both the passion and right set of skills to effectively fight for our interests in our increasingly dysfunctional and partisan Congress. Nebraska agriculture and rural communities depend on a whole suite of programs within the Farm Bill, including a farm income safety net, crop insurance, soil and water conservation programs, disaster programs for livestock and grain producers, rural development programs that our small towns use, beginning farmer programs, and many others too numerous to list."

The NEBFARMPAC Board

compared the track records and public policy positions of the two candidates on the top issues facing agriculture, and their experience and skills critical to the success of Nebraska agriculture and rural communities. The Board found 10 significant reasons to endorse Bob Kerrey over Deb Fischer for U.S. Senator from Nebraska. Those reasons were:

1. Bob Kerrey has 12 years of proven effective bi-partisan leadership, experience and track record in the Senate. He served with distinction on three Senate Committees critical to Nebraska: Agriculture, Appropriations, and Armed Services. His 12 years of seniority is a major financial and political asset for Nebraska. We should take advantage of this valuable asset.

2. During his tenure as Governor of Nebraska and 12 years in the Senate, Bob Kerrey was a national leader on ethanol issues, and is strongly supportive of farm based renewable energy development, including wind, biodiesel, corn ethanol, cellulosic ethanol, and solar energy.

3. Bob Kerrey was a fiscal conservative as a Governor and as a Senator. He made the tough decisions to balance the budget while also having a strategic eye on the future. Bob Kerrey is best equipped to tackle the daunting task of protecting the long term viability of major entitlement programs, and balance our federal budget. His independent approach is exactly what is needed.

4. On the critical issue of ag market reforms critical to the future of independent livestock production, Bob Kerrey has the clear advantage.

5. Bob Kerrey did not sign Grover Norquist's tax pledge. Deb Fischer did. The Club for Growth is targeting all farm and renewable energy programs for elimination. That is not in Nebraska's interests. Deb Fischer made a terrible mistake by trading her own independence and judgment for that of Club for Growth extremists. She should not volunteer to help our enemies.

6. Bob Kerrey supports the critical financial reforms including ag commodity trading reforms essential to restoring price discovery to ag commodities. Deb Fischer opposes them.

7. Bob Kerrey has the ability to navigate the increasingly partisan and dysfunctional political landscape in Congress, our nation, and in Nebraska and has a track record that backs up his claims. He is the most independent major political figure in Nebraska since George Norris.

8. While all unlimited outside funding is deplorable, the Ricketts family nearly $800,000 support of Deb Fischer is extremely troubling. That is especially so when we consider the Ricketts family supported Platte Institute recent recommendation to value all ag land at 100% of market value instead of 75%. This could potentially increase ag property taxes by 33%. Joe and Pete Ricketts seem intent on having a Nebraska Senate seat one way or another.

9. Bob Kerrey has a wealth of experience as our state's Governor, U.S. Senator, and other life experiences that make him the better choice to represent our state during this period of unprecedented political polarization. Kerrey has in the past and will again in the future develop the necessary bi-partisan support to move major issues forward. He has the national reputation and stature to do so.

10. On the issue of global warming and climate change, Bob Kerrey rightly believes it is real, and that human activity impacts it. Deb Fischer does not. We find that position troubling.

"We know that Nebraska agriculture will be well served by sending Bob Kerrey to the Senate because we have 12 years of distinguished and positive track record to go by. Kerrey distinguished himself as our Governor during the farm crisis of the early 1980's. He made the painful and difficult belt tightening decisions to deal with plummeting tax revenues while moving forward with strategically critical initiatives such as ethanol development," said NEBFARMPAC President Gale Lush of Wilcox.

John Hansen, NEBFARMPAC Secretary said "Our Board of Directors recognize how fragile the ag economy is, and how historically dysfunctional our Congress and national politics are. We need to reduce extremist influence so we can solve problems. Instead, Deb Fischer helped empower Grover Norquist long standing agenda to eliminate all farm programs, rural development, soil and water conservation, and renewable energy efforts by signing his pledge. That puts Nebraska's largest single industry, production agriculture squarely at risk," said John Hansen, NEBFARMPAC Secretary.

Not too late to kill weeds

By Gary Lesoing
UNL Extension

With the rains we have received in recent weeks, a number of weeds have either greened up or new weeds have germinated and are now growing in your lawns and landscapes, around your farmstead or in your fields.

I emphasized this previously this fall, but with the rain, I see that several weeds have really taken off and are growing well. It is not too late to control many of these weeds. In lawns, now is an excellent time to eliminate perennials, such as dandelions, plantain, clover, and ground ivy. This time of year perennial weeds are transporting carbohydrates and energy to the crowns and roots for storage over the winter. Herbicides applied to weeds now should be transported down to the roots where it will act to kill those roots. In the fall, weeds have less wax on the surface so absorption is greater into the plant. Even if weeds survive an application of herbicide in the fall, they are often weakened and killed by the cold temperatures of winter. The application of growth regulator herbicides, most of which are 2, 4-D based, will do an excellent job this time of year in reducing lawn weeds. Most herbicides used around the yard for broadleaf weeds will contain both 2, 4-D and Banvel (dicamba). Some of several commercial herbicides used for broadleaf weed control include: 2, 4-D, Banvel, Weed-Be-Gone, Trimec Plus, and Trimec Classic.

A very difficult weed to kill is field bindweed. Bindweed should be treated when the plant has vigorous fall growth. The application of one quart of 2, 4-D or one quart of 2, 4-D and 1/2 pint of Banvel per acre is recommended. This won't kill all the bindweed out, but it will reduce your infestation. You should plan on treating the bindweed for several years before you completely eliminate it. You can also spot treat areas with Roundup (glyphosate) this time of year, but it will kill your grass as well.

For winter annuals or biennials, an application in the rosette stage of growth is recommended. Herbicides should be applied after rains to actively growing weeds for best control. Some of the weeds that fall into this category include field pennycress, common mullein, bull thistle and musk thistle. Good control of musk thistle can be obtained in October and November. Ideally herbicide should be applied close to a hard frost. Research in Iowa indicated effective control was achieved using 2, 4-D with applications made after several nights when temperatures fell below 32 degrees. With the leaves of musk thistle close to the soil surface, the plant is protected from freezing temperatures. Daytime temperatures in the 50's are satisfactory for control. The addition of Banvel to 2, 4-D provides better weed control as temperatures get colder. If it gets really cold before you get a chance to spray and thistles may be dormant, use Tordon 22K because it has residual activity up until next spring.

The use of herbicides without good cultural practices will usually give poor weed control. Be sure to read and follow label directions when using herbicides in your lawn or non-cropland.

Keep the farm in the family

Thrivent Financial for Lutherans is hosting a free educational workshop to help teach farmers steps to take to keep their business in the family.

Called "Keeping the Farm in the Family," the workshop will be held twice, at noon and 6:30 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 10, at the new Thrivent Financial Office, 109 E 16th Street, Falls City. The workshop is presented by Jeff Cogswell, Partner, with Thrivent Financial for Lutherans in Nebraska. The workshop is hosted by Financial Representative Steve Stoller FIC.

"Keeping the Farm in the Family" assists local families facing the transition of passing the farm to the next generation. Participants in the workshop learn to protect their assets today and in the future, identify and overcome transition obstacles and develop a plan to smoothly transition their business and maintain family harmony.

"A lot is at stake in the delicate handoff of passing the farm down through generations," says Stoller. "'Keeping the Farm in the Family' helps ease that change while maintaining a successful business."

To register for this free workshop, call Thrivent Financial's local office at 402-245-3346 or email Steven.Stoller@thrivent.com. The reservation deadline is Wednesday, Dec. 5.

Saturday evening classmates met at the Elks Club for dinner and reminiscing. Tables were decorated in orange and black, with autumn accents. A display in memory of deceased classmates held a memorial photo frame, candle and Tiger.

BOARD OF REGENTS PROFILE WHAT THE DAILY NEWSPAPERS FAILED TO REPORT
 The background of both candidates has not been written by the Omaha World Herald and the Lincoln Journal Star.
 In order to govern the University of Nebraska Systems composed of the Medical Center, the Omaha, Kearney and Lincoln campuses, qualifications are necessary to make Regental decisions affecting business and academic decisions.
 Senator LaVon Heidemann has had no academic or professional higher education training. The Nebraska Blue Book, which chronicles all details of a State Senator's past confirms his lack of academic or professional training. State Senators make no academic decisions and act only on an entire budget from the University of Nebraska. There is no scrutiny of academic and professional programs or academic department budgets.
 Would you have a hack hammer operator do a dental root canal?
 The Nebraska Farm Bureau has endorsed Senator Heidemann but did not mention that he was a member of that organization and presented support for their priorities.
 The Pro-Life organization endorsed Senator Heidemann who gave that organization a strong pro-life leaning. Yet, this was the state senator as head of the Appropriations Committee that steered budgetary considerations for embryonic research at the University Of Nebraska Medical Center through out his legislative career. He never stated any public opposition to this appropriation. His past record and his current stand in order to obtain the Pro-Life vote are conflicting. Shades of Regent James McClurg in his stand to the Pro-Life votes and his Regental voting record on the subject.
 Governor Heidemann's endorsement conflicts with what the Governors stand on qualifications. Did the Governor listen to University lobbyists? President Milliken. His endorsement by Lincoln Regent Tim Clare's indicates support of his position of unbridled University spending and budgetary increases.
 Mike Jones had an integrity question that caused the Pro-Life organization to initially endorse him and then had to withdraw that endorsement. His answers to the Omaha World Herald questionnaire and his response to the Pro-Life inquiry were not made in a truthful manner. A question of integrity immediately raises its ugly head. This may mean he would tell the Regent district electorate one position while he was taking another opposite position.
 His intentional forgetfulness in his background information concerning the position he held, as Grand Master of Nebraska Masons appears to be an attempt to garner the strong Catholic vote in the district. His actions after finishing his term were not covered by the press voice of Nebraska. Through his complaint and influence, Davit Watts was denied the Grand Master's position after spending seven years in the line for governance of the Masons. The basis of rejection was a legal accusation, which never came to trial as far as information obtained from court records. The verdict was guilty by accusation. It raises the question, is this how Jones will handle University faculty and student accusations which come to the Board for review.
 Not only have the daily newspapers ignored the candidates background, they've intentionally attempted to influence the electorate in voting for Nebraska's Wall Street's candidates enabling that group obtain finical gain from university business.

Honor vets - Vote!

By John Gale
Secretary of State

While Nebraskans are hard-working, independent-minded, and liberty-loving citizens, we nevertheless seem rather lackluster at times about exercising a precious and hard-earned right -- the right to vote. We are now approaching a hotly contested presidential race and a U.S. Senate race in Nebraska. How do we intend to respond?

In the last two presidential elections, Nebraska set records for the number of voters. The 2004 election saw 792,906 voters (68.3% of registered voters), and the 2008 general election topped that with 811,923 voters (70.2% of registered voters).

Will we set a record in the November election? It's hard to tell. I hope so. Nebraska voting numbers are not as encouraging when a presidential race is not on the ballot.

It's never just the federal candidates at the top of the ballot who are impacted by low turnout. Low turnout also affects many races on the ballot for state, county and local elections. Those races matter as well and impact us in a very real way.

With the approach of Veterans Day on November 12, we are reminded of the monumental sacrifices made by millions of Americans who have served in the military. Their sacrifices have resulted in the freedoms which we enjoy today, one of which includes the right to vote.

Each year, my office encourages Nebraska schools to take part in a program called, "Honor a Veteran," which celebrates our nation and the veterans who have defended it. As part of those events, the National Guard furnishes Honor Guards where possible, and speakers for the schools.

Not only is this a unique opportunity for the students, it's an emotional one for the veterans as well. At one such event, a WWII veteran came up and shook my hand with tears in his eyes, and said he had never been so warmly thanked for his service until that day. Yes, that is what he said, "had never before been so warmly thanked".

So before they can even vote our young people are learning the lesson that - freedom isn't free. It comes with sacrifice. But what is the lesson for the rest of us? Maybe it's the same.

The Constitution begins with the thrilling words, "We, The People of the United States of America, in order to form a more perfect Union..." Yes, we are still "The People." It wasn't just our forefathers back in 1777.

We should remember what others, generation after generation, have done since then to also ensure our freedom and liberties today; which we enjoy day after day without fear of tomorrow. Should we take those freedoms for granted? Or can we be counted on to be one of "The People" and honor our country's veterans by casting a ballot in this presidential election?

ELECTION PREVIEW

EDITOR'S NOTE

Nebraskans will be voting on four issues when they go to the General Election polls on November 6. So that voters can better understand these important proposed changes to the state Constitution, the Nebraska Press Association in cooperation with this newspaper has prepared this report. This report briefly defines each issue, explaining its purpose.

AMENDMENT 1

Candidates for office who commit a misdemeanor in pursuit of the elected position would be subject to impeachment if voters adopt this proposed amendment to the Nebraska Constitution. Lawmakers approved LR19CA to bring this matter to the voters in the aftermath of a highly controversial University of Nebraska Board of Regents race eight years ago. Current law allows for the impeachment of an elected official only for misdemeanors performed while in office. After newly elected Regent David Hergert was seated in 2004, it was discovered that he violated campaign finance laws by not reporting his spending in time to trigger automatic public funding for his opponent, incumbent Don Blank of McCook. A vote for this amendment would allow for impeachment for acts committed in pursuit of the office. A vote against would not authorize such impeachment.

AMENDMENT 2

Hunting, fishing and trapping would become protected rights for Nebraskans if voters approve this proposed amendment to the state Constitution. The Legislature passed LR40CA to place the matter on the ballot. Proponents said it would help preserve the heritage of such activity for Nebraskans and serve as a viable means of managing and controlling wildlife. To answer critics, they pointed out that the measure would not modify any provisions of law dealing with property rights or trespass and would also be subject to other restrictions as prescribed by existing law. A vote for Proposed Amendment 2 would set forth a constitutional right to hunt, to fish and to harvest wildlife as a management tool. A vote against the proposal would result in the activities not being recognized in the Constitution of Nebraska.

Donations bring iPads to North School

'The Degeneration of the Family Farm'

The Stalder Gallery is pleased to announce the opening of the exhibition "The Degeneration of the Family Farm" by Peru State College Professor of Art Randy Waln. Professor Waln came to Peru State College in 2002. He holds an MFA in printmaking from the University of Wyoming. His most recent work is in the area of digital printmaking.

According to Waln, "Most families have a photographic history like the one seen here, and many families have ties to a place that is special to them. That place is still a farm for many. Over time, many small farmsteads have made the very same passage from vitality to abandonment and decay as the one made present by this exhibition. The story here is not of one farm family, but the passing of the small family farm.

"As its people passed and generations moved away, this family farmstead, like so many others, lost its reason for being.

It also passed, and with it, a way of life is quietly past," Waln said.

Professor Waln combines large-scale interpretive digital printmaking with historical black and white photographs of the people who "are the thread that stitch the exhibit together."

Waln's exhibit will open on Friday, Nov. 2, in the Stalder Gallery inside the Falls City Library and Arts Center. The doors will open at 6 p.m. and a gallery talk will be given by Professor Waln at 7 p.m. This event is sponsored by the Richardson County Arts and Humanities Council along with the Nebraska Arts Council.

Waln's work can also be viewed in a book he has published at <http://www.blurb.com/books/3363004>.

Thanks to a generous donation from the Falls City High School Class of 1962, the north school students can begin using iPads in their classrooms.

The iPad is a line of tablet computers designed and marketed by Apple Inc., primarily as a platform for audio-visual media including books, periodicals, movies, music, games, apps and web content. Its size and weight fall between those of contemporary smartphones and laptop computers.

The K-2 building has a set of 15 iPads stored in a cart that allows them to be charged and synced simultaneously. The sync/charge cart was purchased with funds donated to the district by the local ShopKo. Using a Google shared calendar, teachers check out the number of iPads they wish to use on any given day. This method of check out is also being utilized for the mobile laptop cart at North School. The iPads are taken back to the cart and stored overnight. To assist students with our School Improvement Goals of Reading and Math, age appropriate math and reading apps were downloaded to the iPads.

Claire Poppe, a senior standout for the Falls City High softball team, was honored over the weekend by both the Omaha World Herald and Lincoln Journal Star for her accomplishments on the diamond. Poppe, was a first-team all-state selection in Class C by the LJS and was a honorable mention selection by the OWH. Poppe helped lead the Lady Tigers to a school-record 21 wins leaves as one of the best players to ever play at Falls City High. Poppe set single-season records in 2012 in batting average (.489), runs scored (41), hits (46), doubles (11), homeruns (9), on-base percentage (.560) and RBIs (38). Poppe was also the Lady Tigers ace on the mound and set a new single-season mark for wins with 21 and finished just three strikeouts (104) shy of Laura Jones 2005 total.
