Lance crowning King & Queen

The coronation program on the Humboldt Square at 7 p.m. Wednesday will open the four days of the 90th anniversary of the Richardson County Fair.

The coronation program theme is "There's No Place Like Home," and it will be highlighted by the crowning of the Fair's queen and king. Humboldt's Woman of the Year will be introduced.

The queen and king will be crowned by Lance Schwartz, the producer of the popular "Lance's Journal," which appears on KOLN/KGIN, Lincoln, at 6 p.m. on Mondays and Fridays. Lance, the son of Hank and Marcia Schwartz, of Falls City, is a graduate of Falls City High School (1983) and the University of Nebraska--Lincoln (1987), with a Bachelor's degree in Journalism.

Following graduation he worked at television stations in North Platte and Kearney, then worked at HuskerVision at UNL, operating one of the big screen cameras inside Memorial Stadium. He produced the psyched-up videos that were shown to the Cornhuskers before every game.

In 2002 Lance began working for Channel 10/11 in Lincoln as a videographer. In 2004 he began producing "Lance's Journal" and has written and edited over 550 editions of this feature. He also has choreographed more than 30 "Our Town" features on Channel 10/11.

The Nebraska State Supreme Court, more than a year and a half after Richardson County District Court Judge Daniel Bryan made his ruling in the case of David Leon Frederick against the City of Falls City and EDGE, last week heard arguments from both parties. Frederick sued Falls City and EDGE for correspondence and records related to the $23 million CGB grain-handling facility built south of Falls City. Frederick maintained the records were public in nature, as defined by the Nebraska Public Records Act, and Judge Bryan agreed. "The Public Records Act, which he wrote "does not permit public bodies to conceal public records by delegating their duties to a private party. Accepting EDGE's argument would mock the spirit of open government." Bryan found the City severally liable for attorney fees and costs of Relator in the amount of $17,109.59. The Supreme Court will make its ruling in the next 60-90 days.

Supreme Court finally hears 'Frederick v. Falls City, EDGE'

By Jason Schock

Lawyer Bonnie Boryca, of Erickson-Sederstrom's Omaha Office, spoke on behalf of Falls City Development and Growth Enterprises, Inc., and the City of Falls City last Thursday morning in front of the Supreme Court at the State Capitol Building in Lincoln.

"Can a person demand any and all records from a private corporation just because that corporation contracts with a public body to perform services related to economic development? The answer is 'no' because economic development services are not a government function or government responsibility," she said.

The suggestion that EDGE is a private corporation made another Omaha lawyer, Steve D. Mossman, of Mattson-Ricketts, attorney for David Leon Frederick, introduce "Pinocchio," in a select manner of speaking.

"The City of Falls City is like the puppeteer operating EDGE," Mossman said. "We're not dealing with money given to a private entity with no strings attached. The MOU (Memorandum of Understanding) entered into between Falls City and EDGE has 32 separate duties in it. For economic development, 30 of them fell on the EDGE side, two fell on the City's side. The two on the City's side were: Cooperate with EDGE and pay them money. There were 30 strings attached."

Yes, after nearly two years, "David Leon Frederick v. Falls City Development and Growth Enterprises, Inc., and City of Falls City" came back to life Thursday in front of the Supreme Court of Nebraska.

It's been 20 months or so since Richardson County District Court

Judge Daniel Bryan ruled that records Frederick requested — but was denied access to — from the City and EDGE are, indeed, public in nature, as defined by the Nebraska Public Records Act. Judge Bryan further found the City (the original suit was filed against the City, only, then later amended to include EDGE) liable for attorney fees and costs in the amount of $17,109.59. The ruling was made on Dec. 11, 2012 and the City filed its appeal about one month later. The Supreme Court will

Judge issues protection order against Lt. Gov.

A Johnson County judge has issued a domestic violence protection order against Nebraska Lt. Gov. Lavon Heidemann after his sister, Lois Bohling, accused him of being violent.

Bohling applied for the protection order Aug. 27, claiming that eight days prior, on Aug. 19, Heidemann arrived at their mother's home in Elk Creek and became angry, grabbing her wrists and "screaming at me with his face no more than six inches from my face."

She said he told her to stay away from their mother. Bohling stated the disagreement had to do with disbursement of farm property after their father's January 2013 death. Bohling said she was then pushed by her brother before she ran out of the house, got into her car and left.

"Had he stood at the foot of the bed and screamed at me, it would have been anger," Bohling said in the application for the protection order. "Had he just charged at me and stopped six inches from my face and screamed at me, it would have been intimidation. When he laid hands on me and forced me out the door, it became physical and now I am not just afraid, but terri-

with the comforts of today

It's finally here! The Richardson County fair in Humboldt starts tomorrow night with the crowing of the fair queen by Falls City's own Lance Schwartz. I'm not ashamed to admit how much I love the fair. It has always been a huge event in my family. It is the one time of year we all put everything else aside in our hectic lives and sit together, watch the parade and eat until we're almost sick.

As a kid, I counted the days until the fair would arrive. The sounds of the rides the smells of sweet cotton candy and caramel apples are comforting to me. Every year when the fair arrives in Richardson County I get excited for the new memories to be made and the new stories to be told in the upcoming years.

I don't go to the fair for the entertainment. I remember watching the free act with my parents and grandpa one year when they did Ray Stevens "Gitarzan." My grandpa loved Ray Stevens therefore my sister and I loved him and thought he was hilarious. To this day I think that show was one of the funniest things I had ever seen. Since then I don't really sit and enjoy the show like I should. I walk around and enjoy the people watching and catching up with a lot of my high school friends who I haven't seen since the year before.

I don't go to the fair for the rides, that's for darn sure. I get motion sickness from the swing set but for a long time I thought I could overcome that motion sickness, you know "mind over matter." Many years ago when I was little I rode the tilt-a-whirl with our family friend John Vaughn. I asked to ride and he bravely accepted the challenge. I think my parents knew what was about to happen while John had no idea what was coming. That's right I got sick, very sick and everywhere. A while back John and I made a pact to try it again but as I get older I realize how bad of an idea it would be. I get motion sickness worse now and I like to think I am wise enough not to chance it. John still calls me to this day to give me a hard time about that ill-fated trip.

Years after that horrific day at the fair I decided to brave a ride once again. This time I was about 15 and had a cute boy ask me to ride the Zipper with him. This ride is a small cage you get into that spins. This time unlike the Tilt-a-Whirl there is nowhere to go. You are stuck in a cage, even if you get sick, which I did. I got very sick and the man operating the ride didn't hear my scream or the boy with me yelling "Please stop now!" so we continued to ride for what felt like an eternity spinning vertically over and over again. Once we got off that boy never spoke to me again and I have never blamed him for it.

I go to the fair for the food. When Brian and I first started dating I was eager to take him to the fair. It seems quite a few people from Falls City don't get to the County Fair as often as someone from the western part of the County does. Brian didn't frequent the County Fair like I did but in turn I had never been to Cobblestone until I moved to Falls City. So I spoke for months about the chili, hamburgers and other delicacies that the fair has to offer. I was worried that my over hype of the food would leave him unimpressed but it didn't. Now he also gets excited weeks in advance for what I consider the greatest chili you can find on this planet. Pair that with funnel cakes, caramel apples and cotton candy and you have every junk food lovers dream all within feet of each other.

I go to the fair for the Bingo. The Humboldt Fire Fighters have a Bingo tent set up and it's the cheapest entertainment you can find. If you hit up the fair on Friday or Saturday you will more than likely find me at the Bingo tent. For a mere 25¢ a board you can win a decent chunk of change. Brian jokes that he has to hide all of his quarters from Alex and I this time of year. The money goes to a good cause too, it helps pay for the spectacular fireworks display that Humboldt holds every Fourth of July. So basically I am having fun for a good cause, right?

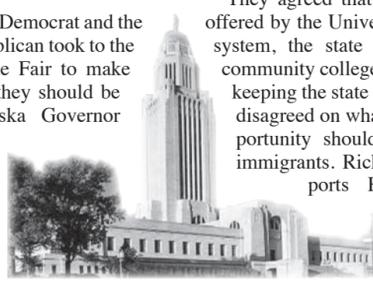

I really do enjoy the fair and all it has to offer. I am drawn to it like a moth to a flame. There is quite a bit to do and something for everyone. If you don't care for the rides, sit back and enjoy the free show. If you don't like the food (you're crazy) you can enjoy the parade or Bingo. I think this year theme is so fitting "There's No Place Like Home" and it's so true for me. The County Fair is so close to home for me that it sounds crazy but it's like a big family and class reunion that I look forward to every year. It's the family tradition that makes the County fair so special for so many. So this year get out to the Richardson County Fair and make some fun memories of your own!

Hassebrook, Ricketts square off at State Fair

Capitol View
By J.L. Schmidt
Statehouse Correspondent
Nebraska Press Association

The underdog Democrat and the millionaire Republican took to the stage of the State Fair to make their cases why they should be the next Nebraska Governor during an hour-long debate. As expected, the answers to the questions sounded well-scripted and partisan.

Democrat Chuck Hassebrook, former head of the Center for Rural Affairs in Lyons and a former University of Nebraska Regent is clearly underfunded in what some have called the most important governor's race in Nebraska since 1990. His opponent, millionaire Pete Ricketts is an executive with TD Ameritrade in Omaha, who bested a field of six in the bloody Republican primary which showcased some of the nastiest attack ads ever in a Nebraska race.

Ricketts said that he will "grow Nebraska" – a phrase he repeated over and over – while Hassebrook will just "grow government." He tried to paint the Democrat as an Obama supporter. When asked if Obama has been good for Nebraska, Hassebrook said he "doesn't blindly follow any political leader" and admitted that Obama's impact on Nebraska has been "a mixed bag."

Hassebrook touted the importance of early childhood education as part of the answer to a number of Nebraska problems ranging from prison reform to health and human services. He challenged Ricketts to prove that he and his family weren't behind the attack ads on Republican Jon Bruning in the primary and the anti-Hassebrook ones that have already run in this campaign.

Ricketts said he doesn't have any control over any third party organizations. Hassebrook said that Ricketts' dad, Joe, has already spent $4 million on races in Georgia and Michigan.

Both men said they support the death penalty and prison reform. Ricketts said he opposes building a new prison and would seek a statutory change to convert good time laws to earned time. Hassebrook said he thinks that alternative programs for non-violent offenders would reduce the need for a new prison, but everything must be on the table. He said the governor already has the power to change good time.

On the topic of Medicare expansion, an idea that current Governor Dave Heineman has rejected, Hassebrook said Ricketts' intent to oppose expansion is putting partisanship ahead of common sense. Ricketts said Hassebrook's support of the expansion shows his desire to grow government.

Both men said they opposed increased government regulation that has hampered entrepreneurial and small business development in the state. Both also spoke against unfunded mandates.

Asked about the events in Ferguson, Missouri, in specific and the status of race relations in general, Ricketts said he thinks that law enforcement needs to be more transparent and lauded Omaha's police chief for his recent handling of a shooting there. He said work on improving race relations needs to continue. Hassebrook said he couldn't speak to the way police in Ferguson handled their affairs and noted that the high poverty rate among black children in Omaha is a sign that race relations need to improve and early childhood education is key.

The candidates disagreed on the ballot issue, which will allow voters to decide if the state's minimum wage should be increased. Hassebrook said raising the minimum wage is good for the economy. Ricketts said there are better solutions such as improving worker skills.

They agreed that higher education offered by the University of Nebraska system, the state colleges and the community colleges are important to keeping the state competitive. They disagreed on what funding and opportunity should be provided to immigrants. Ricketts said he supports Heineman's anti-immigration policies. Hassebrook said he supports the so-called dreamers, children of illegal immigrants who have grown up here and want driver's licenses and assistance to attend college.

On a quirky question, Hassebrook said he and his family would live in the Governor's Mansion if he were elected. Omaha Ricketts ducked the question and said it's too early to know. Critics often chided former Governor Ben Nelson, also an Omaha resident, for spending more nights at his west Omaha home than in the mansion.

Hassebrook said the buck will stop with him if he is elected governor and he will take responsibility for fixing the broken prison system and getting Nebraskans to work together. "Nebraskans' votes aren't for sale and I'll earn your vote," he said.

Ricketts said the race boils down to a difference between growing Nebraska and growing government. "I want to create opportunity for all Nebraskans."

The candidates debate again in October.

HTRS School District Shows Improvement in 2013-2014 School Year

After analyzing the HTRS Nebraska State Assessment data the HTRS school district shows improvement in several areas. The NeSA-Math assessment results show third grade math scores improving from the 2012-2013 school year by an increase of 9%. Fifth grade also improved by 10%. The eleventh grade math proficiency scores dropped 2%. However, there was a significant increase in the number of students that exceeded the eleventh grade standard. Grades four, five, and six all show improvement in reading. This success is attributed to the implementation of the Rtl process at the middle school level.

The HTRS K-6 staff works very hard in assisting our students with reading interventions as well as enrichment programs. The eleventh grade reading scores increased 7%. NeSA Science is only administered in grades, five, eight, and eleven. This year the fifth grade class increased their proficiency percentage by 20%! This is a significant increase and definitely worth celebration. Eleventh grade students have also shown tremendous improvement in science with an increase of 12%. The HTRS District was very disappointed not to be able to share the eleventh grade NeSA writing data with the public as our students performed at a very high level.

The HTRS combined results as shown below, do not show as big of a gain as we would like to see in reading and math and will continue to address this deficit proactively. However, science has always been a strong area for us and we are committed exceeding that level of performance.

	Reading	Mathematics	Science	Writing
2010-2011	67%	64%
2011-2012	63%	62%	74%
2012-2013	66%	62%	69%	56%

HTRS continues to address deficits through the Rtl (Response to Intervention) process and is dedicated to providing staff development in all academic areas. We are very concerned about the results in the area of math and will approach this need for improvement proactively by using research-based strategies through the Rtl process. Third grade reading scores also continue to be an area of concern as the NeSA reflects a 16% decrease in proficiency. This can be attributed in part to a change in demographics as well as the increased needs of individual students. These deficits will continue to be addressed through the Rtl process.

Federal accountability shows that the HTRS school district needs improvement as we did not make the 100% AYP (Adequate Yearly Progress) goal in all areas. As a district we continue to strive for excellence by addressing the needs of our students individually. While the HTRS district did not meet AYP, we are very proud of the quality education we provide our students and the dedication of our staff. This commitment is apparent when evaluating the ACT college readiness scores. According to the ACT 2014 college readiness letter, HTRS scores are on target with the state average in English, mathematics and science; and slightly above the average in reading.

The HTRS school district shares commissioner Blomstedt's philosophy of "every child every day" and will continue to address in the individual needs of our students. We also recognize the importance in looking at the whole picture of our district in terms of success and the areas that need improvement. The goal of the HTRS school district is to provide a quality education for lifelong learning and to create pathways to facilitate academic growth in a global society. We will continue to strive for academic excellence and course rigor to meet the demands of high stakes testing.

Another Back to School Community Clothing Give-away was held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, 20th and Towle Street Aug. 28, 29 and 30. This was the 12th year for the project.

The clothing, infants through adult sizes, was sorted by 12 workers on Monday and Tuesday of that week.

One hundred ninety people took advantage of this community service, down considerably from previous years.

The remaining clothes were boxed on Saturday and the Brethren Church members picked them up for their Clothing Closet.

We were grateful for all the community support and all of the help from various churches in the area that helped sort and display the clothes, worked the days of the give-away and the cleanup on Saturday.

Community Medical Center cuts prices to help patients

Health care is expensive in the United States. Even with insurance, unexpected medical bills can be devastating to families. To respond to the needs of area families and individuals, the Administration and Board of Community Medical Center, CMC, has announced the first steps in a plan to help keep health care affordable. Among these steps is a 20% average reduction in the price charged for pharmaceutical drugs at CMC versus the same point last year. Additionally, CMC did not raise prices to patients for any services with its new budget year and is exploring additional ways to find savings that can be passed on to patients.

Ryan Larsen, CEO, explained, "The Board and administration have been increasingly concerned about the high cost of health care. Even though our costs increase each year, we want to do our part. For that reason, the board-approved budget, effective August 1, included no annual price increases and, in fact, included significant reductions in patient pharmacy charges."

"We focused on pharmacy for several reasons," said Larsen. "First, last year, the city partnered with us to make 340B discounts available on drugs for outpatient treatments. As we looked for ways to pass these savings on to our patients, we decided we had an even greater opportunity, and the price cuts we came up with ended up being over 10 times the value of the discounts we will receive through 340B. Our analysis identified various opportunities and our price cuts ranged from 3% to 48%, depending on the medication."

Larsen cited the work of CFO, Scott Sawyer and Pharmacist, Sue Rolfe for their contributions in putting the price reduction plan together and members of the local ministerial association that had helped bring this issue to the forefront. He also touted the commitment of the Board to consider the needs of the community. Larsen remembered one member of the Board Finance Committee saying, "No one is making us do this, but it's the right thing to do."

Larsen said that CMC was already in the 79th percentile of hospitals nationally for low patient charges (meaning 79 of 100 hospitals have higher prices), but that CMC wanted to stay in touch with local needs and expectations. CMC's strategic plan includes further efforts to identify savings opportunities to help keep medical care affordable.

Peru State dedicates new Oak Bowl Saturday

Mrs. Heidemann, SaraBeth Donovan, Lee Sapp, and Ilma Gottula dedicate the new Oak Bowl in front of a record crowd Saturday night.

Peru's first game ever at Oak Bowl? Against Falls City High School in 1901

Peru State College celebrated the dedication of its newly renovated Oak Bowl last Saturday in front of a record crowd of 2,400 fans. The dedication comes after nearly two years of construction. It was the first night game in the Oak Bowl in 31 years, all the excitement didn't result in a Bobcat victory, as Midland left with a 28-14 win.

The $9 million renovation of the Oak Bowl began after the final home game of the 2012 season. The renovation, which includes new lighting, concourse area, expanded seating, new artificial turf field, handicap-accessible restrooms and pedestrian access, was paid for through a combination of state funds and private donations.

The unveiling of a donor wall and ceremonial ribbon-cutting were held before the 7 p.m. game between Peru State and Midland University. The donor wall contains the names of individuals and organizations that donated $2,500 or more to the project.

The entrances were also dedicated to former Peru State football players Jim Krajccek and Jim Kanter. A plaque was unveiled in honor of the contribution of Lt. Gov. Heidemann, who helped secure the state appropriation for the renovation.

Nebraska State College System Chancellor Stan Carpenter noted during the unveiling ceremony that the first college football game in Nebraska was played at Peru State in 1885 and the Oak Bowl was built in 1901 — 22 years before Memorial Stadium in Lincoln. The first game in the Oak Bowl was played between Peru State, which at the time were known as the "Nebraska State Normal School" and Falls City High School, with "Normal State" winning 30-0.

Bobcat athletic director Steve Schneider said "Tailgating is a great tradition of college and another great reason to come out to the newly-renovated Oak Bowl on football game days. Because of this, the Peru State administration is supporting the opportunity for Bobcat families and fans to 'officially' tailgate prior to Bobcat football games."

Tailgating will be available for all Bobcat fans prior to home games. The Bobcat Tailgate Zone will be available in the AWAC East parking lot and in a small lot on the corner of 5th and Washington Sts. Groups, organizations, clubs, and individuals may reserve a single-game spot or season pass spots, which are approximately 16 by 17 feet or two parking stalls. Remaining spots will be available on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Schlicker reached an agreement with the County Attorney's Office and on June 24 plead guilty to attempted theft by unlawful taking, a Class IV Felony. He was originally charged with theft by unlawful taking, a Class III Felony. Schlicker was accused of taking a 2008 Jeep Wrangler for a test drive off the Armbruster used car lot at 16th and Harlan Streets and never returning the vehicle. The Jeep has not been recovered.

Zachary M. Blunt, Falls City, plead not guilty to three counts of burglary, all Class III Felonies, and a jury trial was set for Nov. 12.

Meagan Ivey, 32, of Shubert, revocation of probation hearing held. Case continued to Oct. 14.

Ivey on Sept. 3, 2013 was sentenced to serve 18 months probation for an amended charge of attempted possession of a controlled substance. She's accused of failing to meet the terms of that probation.

Ivey was originally charged with possession of a controlled substance and failure to appear in Court. She plead guilty to the lesser charge after entering an agreement with the Richardson County Attorney's Office.

Jessica L. Hayes, formerly known as Jessica L. Popejoy, 27, of Falls City, revocation of probation hearing held. Court found terms of two-year probation were violated and she is to be resentenced Oct. 14.

Hayes was sentenced in September 2013 for attempt of a Class IIIA Felony (possession of a controlled substance) following an Oct. 18, 2012 arrest. She was originally charged with possession of a controlled substance and plead guilty to the lesser charge after entering an agreement with the Richardson County Attorney's Office.

Andrew S. # Former FC man launches charity in the midst of his own cancer battle

Mark Meyer's cancer story began in March of 2012, when he visited the doctor for a routine physical. During this visit the doctors found a lump in his abdomen that turned out to be a 32-pound tumor.

Meyer, son of Dennis Meyer, of Falls City and Sharon Meyer, of Claremore, OK grew up in Falls City but moved as a child. Mark became a firefighter where he won the 2012 Tulsa Fireman of the Year Award and has since retired.

After discovering the tumor, Mark's long road to recovery led him from Tulsa, OK, to Houston, TX, where in the midst of his own cancer battle he had a revelation.

One day at M.D. Anderson Cancer Center in Houston, Meyer came across a small child who was also fighting for her life.

"It's not fair. The children battling cancer should have been out playing ball or participating in a dance recital. Instead, they were sick and spending time in the hospital undergoing chemo and other treatments," Meyer said.

As Meyer came across more and more children who were also fighting cancer he decided he wanted to find a way to help the youngsters but he wasn't sure how. Back in Tulsa, Mark contacted hospital personnel to ask them what cancer patients and their families really needed.

"I learned many of the families were struggling to pay for gasoline to get back and forth to the hospital or to pay other bills because they were spending money for prescriptions. It didn't seem right that these families couldn't even put gas in their car." One day while Mark was desperately trying to figure out how he could help, he was playing with a piece of jewelry around his deck. Hanging from his gold change was a fire hydrant, a symbol of his profession. That day "Hydrants of Hope" was born.

Fellow firefighters and many others have supported the "Hydrants of Hope" non-profit charity raising $38,000 so far. Every penny goes directly to the families with children battling cancer. Through the website www.hydrantsofhope.com the charity sells T-shirts, lapel pins, wristbands, jelly bracelets and key chains.

Meyer, a Falls City native, displays a "Hydrants of Hope" pin, one of several items he sells to help raise money for the charity he founded.

Next week, Meyer is hosting a golf tournament at Heritage Hills in Claremore, with all proceeds going to "Hydrants of Hope."

"My goal is to raise $50,000," he said.

Meyer is still in his own fight. He ventured to New York for surgery to remove the Stage 4 sarcoma. Unfortunately it metastasized, which led him to Germany twice for more surgery and more recently he is undergoing treatments at the Cyberknife cancer center in Tulsa. None of this has slowed Mark down though.

"I'm going to kick cancer's butt, but I want to do it while helping others." While back in Falls City Mark's aunt Della Meyer says "He is a walking miracle and my walking hero!"

The unbeaten Falls City Tigers will play its first home game - against undoubtedly its toughest opponent - of 2014 when last year's Class C1

Two lopsided Tiger victories — the latest, last Friday, a 52-20 drubbing of the Jeffs at Fairbury in which the varsity offense didn't take a single snap in the second half — sets up one of the, if not the, biggest game of the 2014 season for the Falls City High football team. The unbeaten Tigers take the home field for the first time this season when they host 2-0 Ashland-Green at Jug Brown Field. The Bluejays are coming off an impressive 28-13 win over Syracuse, though "impressive" has taken on a different meaning for these folks after what transpired a year ago. In 2013, A-G opened with a pedestrian 23-14 home win over the Tigers — in a game Falls City could've perhaps should've won — and played four regular season games decided by fewer than 10 points. It was a nice 7-1 season that turned into something much bigger when A-G beat Wilber-Clatonia 28-23 in the second round of the state playoffs. But it hardly stopped there, nor after the 33-13 beatdown of Lincoln Christian the next week. Then, after a 33-28 win over Columbus Lakeview, the Bluejays found themselves doing the tunnel walk in Memorial Stadium. The "Rocky" story didn't have a perfect ending - they lost decisively to state champ Cozad - and they aren't underdogs anymore, either.

The Bluejays had high hopes in 2013 - now they're expectations.

"They're a handful," FCHS Head Coach Darin Fritz said. "It'll be the best line we've seen, they have very good skill players, yeah, it's a tough, tough matchup.

"And they want to send a message that last year was no fluke."

Message delivered thus far. The team opened '14 with a 46-10 win at Wahoo. It was the first career start under center for senior QB Bryce Chudomelka, a converted receiver who threw for 137 yards and three scores in the game.

Sound familiar? It should. An absolute carbon-copy situation is playing out here at home, where receiver-turned-QB (sorta) Jack Hartman has more than delivered at his new position. A week after accounting for four touchdowns at Lincoln Lutheran, Hartman at Fairbury rushed for 142 on 10 carries and completed 2-of-3 throws for 50 yards and another score. He accounted for three two-point conversions. Four of his five pass completions ended in the end zone.

"High QB rating is up there," Fritz said. "We're extremely happy with what he's done. He's making very good decisions and running the ball efficiently."

The same can be said, really, about the entire offense - not to mention the coach, who made a good decision to sit the starters in the second half against Fairbury.

Half of senior Jordy Stoller's eight carries stopped in the end zone (TD runs of 18, 25, 55, 25 yds.) and he had 156 yards by intermission. FC led 52-12.

"I'd say we're executing at a high level right now," Fritz said.

The first half also saw a two-yard scoring run by Weston Witt, a one-yard plunge by Brenden Heckenlively and a 36-yard TD strike from Hartman to Heckenlively.

All news wasn't good in the half, though, as senior guard/defensive end Derek McCann was taken to the hospital after suffering a scary neck injury. The senior who has a history of back problems only suffered a "stinger," Fritz said and should be able to go 100 percent this week.

"Lane Lovenburg came in and played very well in his place," Fritz said.

Fritz also praised the play of his linemen, particularly Jeremy Zimmerman.

"He's stepped up and done an outstanding job. He's leading the team in pancake blocks. Jeremy's always had potential and now he's realizing that potential," Fritz said.

Now Falls City has an opportunity to make a statement and open eyes the same way Ashland did a year ago.

"If we play up to our ability and keep executing at a high level, we'll be tough to beat. It's time to see how good we are," he said.

Irish run roughshod over Meridian for first victory of season

The Class D2 No. 1 FC Sacred Heart Irish scored 38 points in the second quarter and captured its first victory of 2014 last Friday, defeating the Meridian Mustangs 58-12 at Jug Brown Stadium.

Sacred Heart, which lost its opener to North Andrew, MO, improves travels to Pawnee City this week to face the 1-0 Indians, who are coming off a 30-22 win over Sterling.

Meridian had a tough time slowing down the defending Class D2 State Champions Friday night. Senior QB Austin Malone rushed eight times for 185 yards and two scores and passed for another five touchdowns and another 207 yards in the win. He was 8-of-13 throwing the ball. That, after rushing for three TDs and passing for another, and accounting for more than 200 yards of offense in the opener.

Malone threw TD passes to Zavan Kirkendall (20 yards), Henry Arnold (21 yards), Logan Scheitel (20 yards), Sawyer Kean (40 yards) and Bailey Witt (26 yards). Malone also threw a couple PATs - to Scheitel and Witt.

The Irish have yet to score a single fourth-quarter point, yet are averaging 53 points and 391 yards of offense per game. Friday they finished with 491 yards of total offense, while holding Meridian to 132 total.

Meridian did take a brief lead, though, when they scored the first touchdown of the game. Ty Brakhage ran it 43 yards for a touchdown to give the Mustangs an early 6-0 lead. Meridian's only other touchdown came on Brandon Jackson's 65-yard kickoff return in the second quarter.

The Irish answered early and then the floodgates opened in the second quarter, as FCSH scored on five consecutive drives with a grand total of 12 snaps.

Defensively, Ben Mullins recorded three sacks and four total tackles behind the line of scrimmage for 22 yards in losses. Kean and Kirkendall each recovered fumbles and Scheitel had a team-high five unassisted tackles. Bryant Jom and Austin Ahern had sacks in the game, as well.

New Oak Boal, Top 25 ranking create exciting atmosphere for PSC

The 2014 Peru State Bobcats football team lost its opener to Midland Saturday, but there's still plenty of time to build off the success of their 2013 campaign, which saw the 'Cats finishing ranked 24th in the 2013 NAIA Football Coaches' Postseason Top 25 Poll. The Bobcats completed the season with a 7-4 overall record and were 5-4 in the Heart of America Conference (HAAC).

Although the 'Cats finished in the Top 25 in the final poll of the year, they peaked as high as ninth before finishing the season on a three-game losing streak. Three of the four losses came to eventual playoff teams, two of those losses came by a combined 11 points. Peru State will look to replace 18 seniors from last year's squad, many of whom played key roles for the Bobcats.

However, the success of the 2013 football team, combined with the completion of the renovated Oak Bowl, has sparked new interest in Peru State Football and allowed for a promising recruiting class. The future for the program is bright, as well as, the expectations.

HAAC 2014

The Bobcats will look to climb the mountain, so to speak, when taking on some of the NAIA's top competition within the HAAC. The conference had four teams in the Top 25 with three teams in the Top 10, who all made the playoffs. This year will be a great challenge with no easy road wins when traveling through Missouri, Iowa, and Kansas. The 'Cats look to continue to improve their record as they enter the fourth year in the conference. During their first three years in the HAAC, Peru State finished: 2011: 2-8, 2012: 5-6, and 2013: 7-4. Time will only tell if the Pale Blue and White can make a run at a playoff berth.

In 2015, the HAAC will solidify itself as the best football conference in the NAIA with two additions from Iowa, Grandview University in Des Moines and William Penn University in Oskaloosa. Grandview won the 2013 NAIA Football National Championship and William Penn has competed at a high level over recent years. Peru State is no stranger to either school beating Grandview in its program's first year of football in 2008 winning 18-17. PSC traded wins with William Penn in 2009 Peru won 20-12 and lost the following year 70-6.

Coaching Staff

The Bobcat football family is continuing to build upon the early successes of the 24th coach in program history. Entering his third year as the head coach of the Bobcats, Steve Schneider looks to lead a team with aspirations of another winning season. Continuing to build a strong program will allow Peru State to make a run at the playoffs and take back its rightful place as one of the NAIA powers.

Besides Schneider, there will still be plenty of familiar faces on the Bobcats sidelines. The defensive side of the ball will have co-defensive coordinators with Lou Varley (Cornerbacks) and Peru State alum and member of the Peru State Hall of Fame and Nebraska Football Hall of Fame, Chuck Mizerki (Defensive Line) in charge. Other defensive coaches include Derek Derr, 2010 Alumni, (Outside Linebackers); Jeff Reed, 1986 Alumni, (Safeties); Brian Maher, 2004 Alumni, (Inside Linebackers); and David Gregory (Defensive Line).

On offense, Schneider will continue his role of offensive coordina-

The Falls City High School cross country team opened the 2014 season ran at the Tecumseh Country Club Friday at the Johnson County Central Invite.

Medalist Lainey Larsen placed ninth to lead the Lady Tigers to a third place finish overall. She ran 22:58, followed by Krystal Samqua (18th, 24:23), Lauren Bierman (28th, 25:38), Cheyenne Dovel (35th, 26:17), Morgan Roberts (36th, 26:19) and Haley Liberty (40th, 26:57).

"We are trying to implement a different racing approach this year, so the girls are going to take a little time to adjust to my expectations," FCHS Coach Cody Hawley said. "We've got a few girls that are not at 100 percent right now. They are going to continue to improve and today took a step towards the end of their season goal. We can get better if we work on a few details during the week of preparation of practices."

Kyle Leafy led the Tiger boys, earning a medal with an eighth-place finish, running 18:31.

"He ran a great race," Hawley said.

Brandon Gibson (27th, 19:32), Anthony Baker (33rd, 20:09), Brett Black (52nd, 21:31), Blake Vitale (66th, 23:27) and Christian Bennett (67th, 23:29) helped the Tigers finish ninth out of 11 teams.

"The boys will continue to get better throughout the season. We were missing one of our top four scorers today, so our score was a little more inflated than what we would have hoped for," Hawley said.

Zach Petry (23rd, 24:01), Jake Craig (25th, 24:21), Mary Patnode (14th, 30:22) and Elizabeth Oliver (15th, 30:50) competed for the Tiger JV, while Brody Bindle (27th, 12:31) ran for the FC Middle School.

The FCHS and FCMS cross-country teams travel to Fairbury Thursday.

The Schedule

The Bobcats look to welcome fans, alumni, and guests to the newly-renovated Oak Bowl. The 'Cats will host six more home games this season. Last Friday was the first night game in the Oak Bowl since the early 80's.

Peru State's second game will be a matchup between the Heart of America Conference (HAAC) and Kansas Collegiate Athletic Conference (KCAC) called the HAAC vs. KCAC Challenge. This challenge pairs up teams from each conference based on their respective finish from the 2013 season. This year's HAAC/KCAC Challenge will match up the HAAC's #4 team Peru State versus KCAC's #4 team Friends University from Wichita, Kan. During halftime, the Swenson Presentation will be made to the top Peru State male and female athletes from the 2013-2014 season. Last season the Bobcats represented the HAAC well in the HAAC vs. KCAC Challenge with a 44-21 win over Southwestern College from Winfield, Kan.

The following two weeks will be tough tests for the 'Cats as conference play begins. Last season both games resulted in a loss. The first conference game will be against Missouri Valley on Sept. 20 in Marshall, Mo. Last season the Vikings took a late fourth quarter lead with a 57-yard touchdown to take a 21-14 advantage and held on for the win. This will be followed by followed by Evangel University on Sept. 27 in the Oak Bowl.

October will start with Homecoming on Oct. 4 at 2:00 p.m. versus Baker University. The rest of the Bobcats' schedule will see all games with a 1:00 p.m. kick-off. On October 11, the Bobcats will face Graceland University at home. Peru State will then hit the road for two weeks by traveling to Atchison, Kan., to face Benedictine College. The following week, the 'Cats will be in Kansas City, Mo., to take on Avila University.

During the month of November, the 'Cats will host MidAmerica Nazarene University on the first day of the month. The Bobcats then travel to Culver-Stockton College in Canton, Mo., on Nov. 8, and then will host Senior Day on Nov. 15 against Central Methodist University.

Voter registration in state increasing

Voter registration in Nebraska has been on a steady increase since the May primary. It's a trend that Secretary of State John Gale hopes will continue heading into the general election.

September has been designated as National Voter Registration Month.

"Since May, voter registration has increased by more than 2,000. That's a good start and momentum should continue to build until toward Election Day," said Gale. Currently, there are 1,154,748 registered voters in the state.

"We want people to be thinking about voter registration now, because we're also in that time frame when people can request an early voting ballot be mailed to them," Gale continued. Those ballots will be mailed out starting September 29.

Registration forms are available at the county election offices. Voter registrations can also be updated at motor vehicle offices.

Gale said the most common way people update their voter registration is by printing out and completing a voter registration form online. The forms, in English and Spanish, can be found on the Secretary of State's website at: www.sos.ne.gov. By visiting the website, registered voters can also check their registration status and polling place location.

Anyone who has moved from one county to another county must reregister to vote. In addition, anyone who has moved within the same county should update their registration. Doing so will avoid delays at the polling site due to additional paperwork.

"Voting on a regular basis is part of being a good citizen," Gale noted. "The U.S. system of representative democracy works best when we have at least a majority of voters turning out at all elections."

People with questions about voter registration can contact their county election office or the Secretary of State's office toll free at (888) 727-0007.

World-renowned Russian pianist performing at Brownville Sept. 21

The Brownville Concert Series is thrilled to bring world-renowned Russian concert pianist, Rustem Hayroudinoff. He will perform a 2 p.m. Sunday (Sept. 21) concert. Mr. Hayroudinoff is a member of the faculty of the Royal Academy of Music and comes from London to play in Brownville. We give special thanks to Richard Holland and Carl and Jane Rohman for helping to sponsor this concert.

Described by London's Classic FM Magazine as a "sensationally gifted" musician of "stunning artistry," Rustem Hayroudinoff is an equally charismatic communicator. Like Leonard Bernstein before him, he demystifies the world of classical music by engaging his audience in a light and humorous, yet informative rhetoric about the works he performs.

Rustem Hayroudinoff has recorded for NAMI Records (Japan), Decca and Chandos. His recordings of Shostakovich's Theatre Music and the Dvorák Piano Concerto with the BBC Philharmonic were greeted with universal acclaim, garnering praise such as 'dazzling and ... electrically compelling' (Gramophone) and 'utterly magical' (Classic FM), and were selected among the CDs of the Year by both BBC Music and Gramophone magazines.

His CD of the complete Rachmaninoff Preludes was selected by Classic FM magazine as part of its 'Essential Rachmaninoff Collection' alongside the recordings of Arthur Rubinstein and André Previn, and the recording of the complete Études-Tableaux by Rachmaninoff was hailed as a 'benchmark recording' and selected as Instrumental Choice of the Month by BBC Music magazine, as well as being nominated for the Best Instrumental CD of the Year award.

Among the orchestras Rustem Hayroudinoff has performed with are the Tokyo Symphony, Osaka Century, Czech Philharmonic, Czech National Symphony, BBC Philharmonic, London Philharmonic and Bournemouth Symphony orchestras.

Hayroudinoff's performances have been broadcast on most major classical radio stations around the world. He recently appeared in the documentary 'The Unknown Shostakovich' alongside Vladimir Ashkenazy, Valery Gergiev and Maxim Shostakovich.

Rustem Hayroudinoff studied with Lev Naumov at the Moscow Conservatory and with Christopher Elton at the Royal Academy of Music, where he is now one of the youngest Professors of Piano. For more information, please visit www.hayroudinoff.com.

Concert tickets are $19 ($15 for students). To purchase tickets online go to www.brownvilleconcertseries.com or call 402-825-3331. Stay overnight at the River Inn Resort and get a 10% discount on tickets. This Series is a program of the Brownville Fine Arts Association. The Nebraska Arts Council (www.nebraskaartscouncil.org), a state agency, supports this program through a matching grant funded by the Nebraska Legislature, the National Endowment for the Arts and the Nebraska Cultural Endowment.

Appeal

render its decision in the next "60 to 90" days.

Boryca and City Attorney Mike Dunn worked in concert on behalf of the City/EDGE.

"We have to protect the confidential nature of certain private entities' records," Boryca said. "Here EDGE engages in economic development business not for the City but for all of its hundreds of investors in Falls City and its businesses there, like CGB. Many of its records are confidential. Economic development is highly competitive and so that's the policy that EDGE is asking this court to consider. EDGE is a private company; it's a non-profit private corporation. The parties don't dispute that. The district found that it certainly was," she said.

Dunn said the City had, in fact, delivered everything requested.

"The record is clear that the City of Falls City in this case delivered all the documents that it had in its possession. This suit is about a request made to the City for records that the City did not possess and had no real way to possess. Everything we had from them EDGE has been produced. Out of the 21-member EDGE board, we have the mayor and a city councilman on the EDGE board.

The "records" in this case refers to unspecified information shared between EDGE Director Beckie Cromer and/or the City and Consolidated Grain & Barge Co., one of the largest shippers of grain in the world. The agricultural giant is owned by the Itochu Corporation, Japan's third-largest, and ZEN-NOH, a federation of ag cooperatives in Japan that in 2013 reported $46.5 billion in earnings during the month of March. When CGB corresponded with Cromer in the early stages regarding potential expansion in southeast Nebraska, word traveled quickly, particularly among those in the business, namely Salem Grain, which is co-owned by David Leon Frederick. While enticing CGB to invest here and ultimately build what has become a bustling $23 million skyline-dominating facility was and has been a triumph for EDGE, it was naturally not cause for celebration to any smaller competitors, those who perhaps don't have in the budget 100 acres at $16,500 a pop, etc.

Intent notwithstanding, Frederick and Salem Grain requested access to all documentation related to EDGE's recruitment of CGB, but were admittedly denied certain company financial information. Cromer said conversations held in confidence is par for the course and companies often prefer some private facts remain private. To negate any private talks would likely turn off prospective clients and unduly hinder EDGE's ability to recruit against similar economic bodies. EDGE and the City of Falls City argue that some records are not public records or are exempt from disclosure.

Frederick says they're public record, and Judge Bryan agreed, however, he also ruled that EDGE did not waive its right to claim statutory privileges by failing to provide "at least the following information: A description of the contents of the records withheld and a statement of the specific reasons for the denial; and the name of the public official or employee responsible for the decision to deny the request." The Nebraska law also says "each public body shall maintain a file of all letters of denial of requests for records. This file shall be made available to any person on request."

Frederick filed a Cross-Appeal of that ruling by Judge Bryan.

The City has provided $120,000 annually and Richardson County $20,000 each year for the operation of EDGE. Bryan concluded that 64% of EDGE's "resources come from public entities" and City reps are on the EDGE board.

"Based upon the structural makeup of EDGE it is unlikely that it is a private separate entity," Judge Bryan wrote in his decision. "With the public officers that are included on its board of directors based upon their status as public officials it would seem ludicrous to accept EDGE's claim that it does not have to provide any of its most confidential documents to the City. The City has direct access to these records and documents through their very officers being on EDGE's board of directors as representatives of the city."

He continued, citing a section of the Public Records Act, which he wrote "does not permit public bodies to conceal public records by delegating their duties to a private party. Accepting EDGE's argument would mock the spirit of open government."

EDGE is, for all practical purposes, a government organization, Mossman argued last Thursday.

"The City of Falls City no longer has an economic development staff," Mossman said. "They had an economic development body - that was eliminated. They voted to enter the MOU with EDGE and then EDGE was incorporated within days. The timing of this shows they shipped everything off to EDGE. The City of Falls City website the trademark is held by EDGE.

"Edge is an entity created to serve Falls City," Mossman said.

Judge Bryan found that "the records held by EDGE are public records and subject to disclosure... EDGE did not comply with the requirements" established by Nebraska Statutes. However, he also ruled that EDGE did not waive its right to claim statutory privileges by failing to provide "at least the following information: A description of the contents of the records withheld and a statement of the specific reasons for the denial; and the name of the public official or employee responsible for the decision to deny the request." The Nebraska law also says "each public body shall maintain a file of all letters of denial of requests for records. This file shall be made available to any person on request."

Frederick filed a Cross-Appeal of that ruling by Judge Bryan.

In January 2013, the judge's decision in Frederick's favor was appealed. The Court, according to EDGE and the City of Falls City, erred in finding that EDGE's records are public record, there was a clear duty existing on the part of the City to provide the records of EDGE to Frederick, EDGE prepared records under the City's delegation of authority, the City was entitled to possess the materials to monitor EDGE performance, the records of EDGE are used by the City to make a decision affecting public interest, as well as, of course, the $17,109.59.

Nearing the end of the hearing, Mossman was asked, by a Court Justice: "Why does your client want all the records from EDGE?"

"It doesn't matter," the lawyer said.

Deadlines Approaching to Apply for Resource Conservation Funds

LINCOLN – Sept. 5, 2014 – Farmers and ranchers interested in soil, water and wildlife conservation are encouraged to sign up now for the Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP). EQIP is available from the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service. Those interested in applying are encouraged to sign up before Oct. 17, 2014.

EQIP is a voluntary conservation program available to private landowners and operators. Through EQIP, farmers and ranchers may receive financial and technical help to install conservation practices on agricultural land.

According to Craig Derickson, NRCS State Conservationist, there are several options available to producers through EQIP.

“EQIP is one of our most versatile programs. It offers cost share and technical assistance to apply conservation measures on cropland and rangeland, as well as for animal feeding operations and establishing or enhancing wildlife habitat. There are many opportunities available, and NRCS staff can help landowners and operators sort out their EQIP options,” Derickson said.

The Environmental Quality Incentives Program has become one of the most widely applied conservation programs in Nebraska; enrolling over 600,000 acres last year with more than 8 million acres currently under contract statewide. The goal of EQIP is to provide a financial incentive to encourage landowners to install conservation practices that protect natural resources, resulting in cleaner air and water, healthy soil and more wildlife habitat. Individuals interested in entering into an EQIP agreement may file an application at any time, but the ranking of applications on hand to receive funding will begin Oct. 17, 2014. The first step is to visit your local NRCS field office and complete an application.

NRCS is also reminding producers who first participated in the Conservation Stewardship Program (CSP) in 2009 that they have until Sept. 12, 2014, to renew their contracts.

The Conservation Stewardship Program helps agricultural producers maintain and improve their existing conservation systems and adopt additional conservation practices. The program provides farmers and ranchers who are already established conservation stewards financial and technical assistance to further improve water quality, soil health and wildlife habitat on their farming and ranching operations. About 20,000 CSP contracts nationwide are reaching the end of their initial five-year contract period. In Nebraska, there are 1,057 contracts that may be renewed for an additional five years where participants agree to install additional conservation measures.

“This program allows landowners to reach the next level of conservation and opens the door to trying new conservation activities,” Derickson said. For more than 75 years, the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) has helped agricultural producers with conservation plans. NRCS Conservationists work with landowners on their farm or ranch to develop a conservation plan based on resource goals. Conservation planning assistance is free and does not require participation in financial programs.

For more information about the Environmental Quality Incentives Program, the Conservation Stewardship Program and other conservation programs, visit your local NRCS field office or HYPERLINK “http://www.ne.nrcs.usda.gov” www.ne.nrcs.usda.gov.

Our Constitution 227 Years Old!

After the Declaration of Independence was signed, the states in America were “united” by a weak central government. Each state had its own strong government which created many problems among the states.

In 1787 almost all of the 13 states sent their wisest men to Philadelphia for a meeting. They were to work out the problems with trade, taxes and other matters. In Independence Hall they studied, argued, talked, voted and wrote. They were laying the groundwork for a strong central government. Some wanted no part of this. Wasn't this like the British rule they had just broken away from?

The central government was to be headed by a leader (President) chosen and elected by the people. There was to be a court of law (Supreme Court) and a body to make laws (Senate and House of Representatives).

All of these ideas formed the Constitution of the United States. It has worked well for 227 years!

It is still used by courts to uphold laws and the rights of people. You can see the Constitution in the National Archives in Washington, D.C.

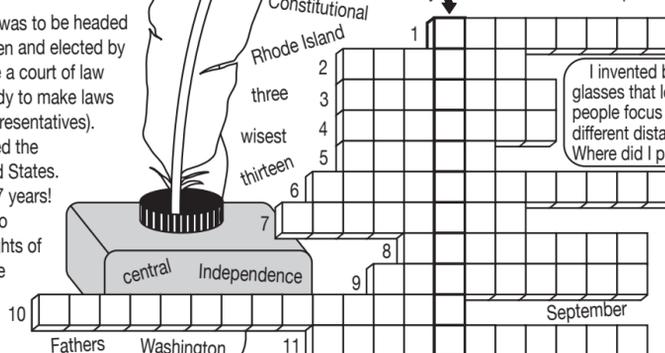

So this is how it was formed!

Wow! You can read the Constitution on your computer.

I read that there are 4,543 words in the Constitution.

- The first three words of the U.S. Constitution tell who is behind the making of our government. Fill in the puzzle below and these first three words will be spelled out under the arrow.
- General _____ – who became our first President
  - _____ men (from many fields of work) were sent to Philadelphia
  - some people were afraid a strong _____ government would take power away from the states
  - the men who helped to write the Constitution were thought of as the Founding _____
  - number of branches the new government would have
  - Hall where the meetings took place to write the Constitution
  - number of states in 1787
  - checks and balances keep each branch from becoming too _____
  - Constitution was signed on the 17th of this month
  - the special meetings in 1787; the _____ Convention
  - the only _____ state that never took part in the meetings

Constitution State

Which state is known as the “Constitution State”? It has its nickname printed on its license plates. To find out, color in the puzzle using the color key.

Then find 11 letters and unscramble them to spell the name of the “Constitution State.” A dot (•) is in the upper-left corner of each letter. Use only the letters that are all one color.

Congress Takes a Vote

Did you know that there are 2 senators from each state, for a total of 100 senators in the U.S. Senate? The Senate is taking a vote today on a new law. Count the number of “Y” votes for “Yes”.

The Constitution Quiz

- The Constitution is the weakest law of the United States. T F
- It tells us the way our government works. T F
- Our country's written constitution is the world's longest and newest. T F
- Some people wanted basic rights to protect individuals added to the Constitution. So, 10 statements called the “Bill of Rights” were added. T F
- Additions, called “Amendments,” protect freedom of religion, speech, voting rights, etc. T F

Put on your thinking cap and sharpen your pencil! Ask Mom or Dad to help! T = True, F = False.

- We have 3 branches of government, formed to balance each other in power. T F
- The first is the Legislative Branch that:
  - makes the laws by writing bills and voting on them. T F
  - includes our Senate and House of Representatives. T F
- The second is the Executive Branch that:
  - upholds the laws to make them work. T F
  - lets the President serve a 7- year term. T F
- The third is the Judicial Branch that:
  - has our Supreme Court, the highest in the country, which needs to have 27 judges. T F
  - decides if laws are fair and being used in the right way. T F

In Memory

Remembering Edward Eckwert Jr. who passed away Sept. 12, 2013 is easy. We do it everyday but there's an ache within our hearts that will never go away. The moment that you died our hearts were torn in two. One side filled with heartache, the other died with you. We hold you tightly within our hearts and there will remain until the joyous day arrives that we will meet again.

Community Medical Center receives 2014 Excellence in Patient Care Award

Community Medical Center (CMC) was honored with a 2014 Excellence in Patient Care Award at the Studer Group's "What's Right in Healthcare" Conference in Chicago in August. The Studer Group is a nationally known, outcomes-based healthcare improvement firm with more than 800 hospital clients. Its notification letter stated that it was recognizing Community Medical Center for "outstanding performance in patient care." The letter also cited CMC's improvements in all eight major components of the HCAHPS surveys on patient experience reported through the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid. CMC now typically ranks above the 90th percentile nationally regarding patient experience.

Regarding the award, Ryan Larsen, CEO, said, "We are pleased to receive this recognition. The nurses, technicians, aides, housekeepers, kitchen workers, therapists, clerks and others all work very hard to make this a place families can feel comfortable to bring their loved ones. While we still find areas to improve every day, it is nice for staff to see that their commitment to service is appreciated. We thank all of our patients for giving us the feedback we need to get better."

Four employees accepted the award in Chicago, which was presented on the same night as the hospital's board meeting. They were Jina Santo, Teresa Mackey, Shana Haynes and Amy Behrends. These employees also attended conference sessions on ideas to further improve patient safety, quality and experience. Mary Davis, a Studer Group representative later flew to Nebraska and attended a meeting of CMC managers on August 28 to congratulate the organization. In her remarks, she talked about the importance of health care in people's lives. Staff discussion afterwards talked about how providing excellent care to the majority of patients still can fail to meet the needs of the few patients for whom communication problems or inefficiencies cause bad experiences. One staff member emphasized the need to "reach for 'Zero' problems or errors, no matter how well we're doing overall."

Saturday Evening Post cover campaign a success

Through the vision and support of a former Falls City native and the local Rotary Club members, another successful fundraiser is moving along nicely for the John Philip Falter Museum. Fred Otto, of Park Ridge, IL, a Falter fan, grew up in the Falls City area and has been Past District Governor for the Illinois Rotary District 6450. Otto supplied information to our local Rotary Club, suggesting a grant may be available that could support the museum. Local Rotarians Glenda Nelson and Merle Veigel, on behalf of the Falls City Rotary Club, applied for the $1,500 matching grant from the Rotary Foundation District 5650. The Falls City club raised $1,700 for a total pledge of $3,200.

Donations from Falls City Rotary Club members: Ted and Mona Godemann, Rod Knaup, Ryan and Catherine Larsen, Gale Marsh Family, Jill Meyer, Gary and Glenda Nelson, Msgr. Robert Roh, Susan and William Sipple, Rod Vandenberg, Merle and Sara Veigel, Mary Jane Weinert and Paul Weinert

The grant monies will be used to frame some of Falter's 129 Saturday Evening Post magazine covers for exhibit at the new museum.

Still, there remained more than 100 covers left to frame. So Falter fans were invited to "adopt a cover." Seventy covers have been "adopted" for $200 apiece. Each cover will be framed with museum-quality glass by David Clark Framing in Lincoln, and will be adorned with a commemorative plaque bearing the donor's name.

The remaining 30 covers can be adopted at the library or by contacting Dobby (Falter) Haws at dobby.haws@gmail.com. "Many thanks to the library staff for helping and supporting this project (Hope, Pat, Kathy and Dianne)," Haws said.

Covers have been adopted by the following donors: Falls

City Rotary Club, Rotary Foundation District 5650, Harold Boswell, Donna Campbell and Lee Frantz, Jay and Joy Callahan, Diane Collet, Gay and Ron Cima, Evelyn Davidson, Larry and Faye Darling, Falls City Chamber of Commerce/Main Street, Cathy Falter, Jeff Falter, Cindy Farmer, Leslie and Martin Fattig, Dick and Mary Jane Gist;

Bill and Barb Gorga, Esther and Richard Halbert, Mike Hall, Butch and Dobby Falter Haws, Vicki and Larry Hedlund, Deb Hood, Sharon and Norm Horn, Lisa Langan, Tom Langan, Dave and Thelma Lunsford, Scott and Joan Magdanz, Kevin and Janet Malone, John Martin, Kathy Martin, Nancy Merz, Rodger and Diann Merz, John and Jean Metzger, Della Meyer, Dennis Meyer;

Matt Morehouse, Fred Morehouse, John Morehouse, Katy Morehouse, Mike and Maile Morehouse, Larry and Charlotte Nedrow, Gary and Glenda Nelson, Bruce and Judy Nissen, Laurie Obbink, Diana Orton, Fred Otto, Tony and Connie Peterson, Cody, Sarah and Brayden Pope, Rotary Club of Chicago O'Hare Foundation, Rod Rudolph, Hope Schawang, Scott Schock, Alyce Scott, Jim and Diane Seffried, Randy and Beth Sichel, Garry and Linda Watzke, John and Loralee Weaver, Mary Jane Weinert, Paul Weinert, Madelyn Keller Wilhelm, Rachel Witt, Merle and Sarah Veigel, Jim and Ellen Yoder, Sally Yoder and Joan Zoeller.

The Falter Museum is scheduled to open Thanksgiving weekend, in conjunction with the anticipated arrival of Santa Claus. Three of Falter's Saturday Evening Post covers, perhaps, are already on display, albeit on the walls of Falter's biggest fans and highest bidders: Falls City Chamber of Commerce/Main Street (Downtown Falls City at Christmas, 1946), Cindy Farmer (Harry Helicopter) and Anonymous (Lover's Lane).

Sister says she's 'terrified' of Lt. Gov. Heidemann

fied of him. I don't know to what level he will take his anger at me next."

Following a hearing in Tecumseh yesterday morning, a protection order was granted for a period of one year, prohibiting Heidemann from having any contact with his sister, visiting her home or being at his mother's home in Elk Creek when Bohling is present there.

In the application for the protection order, Bohling said that while discussing family property in October 2013, Heidemann ended up shouting at her husband, Mark Bohling. Later, during a November phone call, she said her brother got angry with her when she asked him to provide some values for some items their father owned at the time of his death. Heidemann allegedly got angry at her again in December during a family meeting and shouted, but didn't touch her, according to the court documents. Bohling said in the request that she avoided her brother at social events and at their mother's house as to not provoke him.

Heidemann, 55, is a candidate for lieutenant governor with Pete Ricketts, who is running for governor. At this point, it is too late for Heidemann to be removed from November's general election ballot. Laura Strimple, communications director in Secretary of State John Gale's office, told the Lincoln Journal Star, "the only thing the statute provides is removal of candidate by death."

In a statement issued by his office, Lt. Gov. Heidemann said he "disputes much of my sister's claims," but didn't specify.

"This is a private, legal family matter regarding disagreements resulting from my dad's estate, as well as the best possible medical treatment for my mom. I dispute much of my sister's claims. My immediate family has great support from the rest of our family, our church and our friends -- we appreciate that support so very much in this difficult time, as we work toward a full resolution."

A spokesperson for Gov. Dave Heineman told JoAnne Young of the Lincoln Journal Star that he is aware of the situation with his lieutenant governor, and is gathering and reviewing the facts. "He is not going to rush to judgment on the lieutenant governor's family situation. He recognizes this is a difficult and trying matter for the lieutenant governor and his family," Heineman's spokesman said.

No citations or criminal charges have been filed against Heidemann.
